J. D. Slater and S. D. Relya are building the final hall at the fair grounds. It is to be 36 feet square with four gables, 12 foot posts, well framed and painted.

The premium lists for the fair are ready for distribution. Get out and look over it, and see if you haven't something that you can enter for a premium. A combined effort by all the people in the county will make the fair something to be proud of.

Mr. H. Smith says his three hundred acres of wheat will average 10 bushels to the acre. Mr. Smith intends to break up another half section of land next spring. This is the kind of a farmer we like to see come into a new county—Concord Correspondent to Wakefield Republican.

The Emerson Era has evidently been taking lessons from the owl in the fable. It has a big idea of its own importance. Hear it:

To judge a new paper by the size of the sheet on which it is printed is like judging a man by the clothes he wears. The Emerson Era, though one of the smallest, is publishing more Northern Nebraska news than any other paper.

Last week we credited Mr. L. D. Clay with getting up the exception from Strayer that landed so many land hunters here, but he informed us that the credit should have been given to Messrs. Sweet and Ferguson. Mr. Ferguson, by the way, is so well pleased with the town and country that he is so enthusiastic about it as to say, "if it is not located in Wayne in a few weeks we will be greatly surprised."

Including the portions of the reservation not yet opened there are over 275,000 acres of land in Wayne county that have never been plowed, and they are as good as the West can show. Just think what a tremendous corn crop we would have if that was all in corn. At the average yield this year it would make from twelve to fourteen million bushels of corn, worth about $1,000,000 car loads. We want immigration.

We have several times referred to the fact that Wayne taking large amount of trade or amount of the condition of the roads a few miles southeast of town there is a large number in portions of Logan and Phon Creek precincts, whose trade would come to Wayne if the roads were such that loaded wagons could be drawn over them, but as it is a number of unimproved sloughs make it almost impossible for this to be done except in the most favorable weather. As a result the trade is principally diverted to Wakefield and Waverly, to both of which towns the roads are well improved and the streams supplied with good bridges. C. A. Kilgus of Leslie, brought a load of grain here last week, but told us that it was nearly impossible to get here with it than to Wakefield, and that though the residents of his neighborhood would prefer to do their trading in Wayne they could not wait to do it under the circumstances. Some day should be taken by the board men of Wayne to see that the trouble is remedied, and we would suggest that the commissioners also investigate the matter and see to what extent the county can assist in bridging the sloughs and improving the roads.

The so called Facts.

The best blood purifier and system regulator ever placed within the reach of suffering humanity, truly is Electric Bitters. Inactivity of the liver, biliousness, jaundice, constipation, weak kidneys, or any disease of the urinary organs, of whatever nature an aperient, tonic or mild stimulant, will always find Electric Bitters the best and only certain cure known. They act surely and quickly, every bottle guaranteed give entire satisfaction. A money refunded, sold at fifty cents a bottle by all druggists.

THURSDAY, SEPT. 17, 1893.

Wayne Precinct Primary.
The Republican electors of Wayne precinct are requested to meet at primary school at the court house in Wayne on Saturday, Oct. 10th, 1893, at 1 o'clock P. M. for the purpose of selecting delegates to the county convention, appointing a precinct committee of three, and of transacting such other business as may come before the meeting.
The polls will be open from 2 to 4 P. M.
The Central Committee recommended that the Republican electors of the several precincts meet in convention Saturday, October 10th, 1893, to elect their delegates and on their behalf to delegate express also their claims for candidates for the respective offices, and that the delegates elected be thereby instructed to support the person receiving a majority of all votes cast for a particular office. Should no person receive such a majority (thereby of the delegates) in securing candidates to be presented among the voters of the precinct.
J. N. HARR, Chairman.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for County Clerk, subject to the decision of the Republican County Convention.
TOM J. STEELE.

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the office of Register of Deeds, subject to the decision of the Republican County Convention.
R. F. FEATHER.

The Omaha Herald and Republican are giving their country contains a few illustrations as to how a newspaper row should be carried on.

In the first of the series of races for the "America" trophy the American yacht, Puritan, very handsomely beat the Gemma, the English cut'er.

Emory A. Storrs, the noted lawyer, orator and politician died very suddenly at Ottawa, Ill., Saturday morning of paralysis of the heart.

Bro Childs devotes a good deal of space to whacks at us that he fondly imagines are stingers. Whack away honey, it seems to amuse you and don't hurt us.

There was a reunion of Smiths in New Jersey recently, and the local newspapers are speaking of it as a complete failure because only four thousand Smiths were present.

Grand Island thinks it will have two more railroads soon; the Rock Island and the Northwestern; and in anticipation is already taking up its song at Hastings.

Henry Ward Beecher is in favor of a high license plank in the New York Republican platform and declares that prohibition is simply a visionary idea.

The town of Ord is unfortunately this year. A few weeks ago it was visited by a very heavy hail storm that did a great deal of damage. Friday night it was visited by a wind storm that blew down a number of buildings.

It may not be generally known here at home that "Our Val" is a rising candidate for Governor next fall, but such is the case. A well informed gentleman, whose opinions interested take him to every quarter of the state, tells us that the tide is setting in that way, and that he would not be astonished if Mr. Valentine received the nomination by acclamation.—West Point Progress.

A county seat election took place in Sheridan county on the 8th, and it will doubtless be a surprise to many of our readers to know that 1,200 votes were cast. The contesting towns were Rushville, Gordon and Hay Springs. The population of the county in June was 2,726. The present population, indicated by the vote is about 6,000, not a bad showing of growth for three months.

The announcements of T. J. Steele for Clerk, and B. F. Feather for Register of Deeds, appear in this issue. Of Mr. Steele we have had so much to say in the past few weeks that it is unnecessary to add anything at this time. Mr. Feather is exceptionally well qualified for the office for which he is a candidate. He is a good man, and a careful and accurate copyist, and the county records under his care would be kept in first-class condition. That he would be a pleasant obliging official none who know him would question, and we can heartily commend him to the Republican voters at the coming convention as worthy their support.

The most important office to be filled at the coming election is the one that is receiving the least attention, and that is the commissionarship. It matters little to the people of the county who shall fill the other offices, providing only that they shall be capable men, but too great care can not be exercised in the selection of a commissioner. The district from which a commissioner must be chosen comprises Logan, Leslie and Plum Creek precincts, and sixteen sections of the eastern part of Wayne. There are many men in that district who would make excellent officers. We understand that the southern and eastern portions of the district expect to urge their claims upon the convention, as the present commissioner, Mr. Orsine lives in the extreme north-eastern portion. We have not learned whether Mr. Crane will be a candidate for re-election, nor whether Logan precinct will present a candidate at all. In Leslie, James Mack is mentioned as an available candidate, and he would be an excellent man for the place if he could be induced to accept. Plum Creek will undoubtedly present the name of Charles Erxleben one of the oldest settlers in the county, and who has had previous experience in the office. That he would make a good commissioner no one who is acquainted with him doubts.

From the number of persons who have told us they intend making exhibits at the fair we believe there will be a big display.

We have been adding new names to our subscription list lately at a gratifying rate. We have still room for more, however.

By our Northside correspondence it will be seen that Northside has been given another black eye by the removal of the section house.

The unfavorable weather during the hayting season cut the hay crop and will not only make a good hay rather scarce before spring.

J. H. Ashley, who recently came here from Norfolk, has purchased two acres of ground west of Taylor & Wachob's addition and is building a residence.

As will be seen by notice in this issue the fair will be continued over Saturday, making four days, and on Sunday, if there will be a general public sale.

C. H. Johnson has made arrangements to go to Norfolk where he will engage in the furniture business in partnership with David Rees, formerly of this city.

The Wakefield fair last week was quite successful, notwithstanding the unfavorable weather with which it had to contend. The exhibits in nearly all departments were numerous and well displayed.

We hope to see the weather more favorable of the weather bureau next year.

Speaking of a marriage in that town recently the Alexandria News gets off the following:
"Edith has given birth to the child of our young friend with one of the fairest and sweetest flowers that bloom in the parterre of beauty who fragrance will impregnate with redness every impulse of his generous heart."

Strange to say, the couple still live and the editor is able to be around.

Monday evening the regular train for Norfolk was dethatched at the new side track near Northside by a misplaced switch. The engine and six cars left the track, the engine being partially over and the cars being badly wrecked. The engineer, Dan Murphy, was slightly injured, but no one else was hurt. A track around the wreck was laid and the remainder of the train taken through.

The following is the list of petit jurors drawn for the ensuing term of court. No grand jurors were summoned.

The fair this week are as fortunate in the matter of weather as those held last week were unfortunate.

Was that story of an affidavit a canard? If not why wasn't it produced last week when there was plenty of space?

From the amount of soap our grocers have been receiving lately it looks as though they thought the whole community needed washing.

A number of the street and alley crossings on Main street have been made level with the sidewalks, and pedestrianism is not so much a matter of ups and downs as it was.

If a local newspaper should print an article charging a man with half the crime he is probably committing, it is an experience meeting, what a circus there would be.—Ex.

The Wayne ball club were badly beaten in the game with the Wakefield club last Thursday, in consequence of a number of costly errors. The score stood 10 to 4 in the close of the game.

Many of our exchanges are saying that the political pot will soon begin to boil. In this county it has already been boiling so long that it has boiled over badly, and might not put out the fire.

We were a little too soon in giving to the moon theory advocates last week. We'll take all our admissions in that line back, and resume our former condition of unbelief. The moon is a hump, a wad, a soap man.

One of the circumstances which was here last week after looking over the county said that he wouldn't buy land here, and gave as his reason that he wouldn't live in a country where corn grew so large that stock couldn't eat it.

A private letter from Sup't Lane says that the mistake in the pamphlet issued by the census bureau, by which Wayne was credited with but 64 inhabitants was due to an oversight of one of the clerks, and will be corrected in the official report.

We are a little late this week on account of one of the various accidents that happen occasionally in printing offices. A galley of type slid down to the floor and made a first class article of "pil" out of a column of local.

Herb, of the Wakefield Republican, is puzzling over the quotation "Cleanliness is next to Godliness" comes from, and refers the matter to a number of his journalistic brethren. The writer is now searching over the origin of the expression, and hopes to make a personal application of the cleanliness part of the quotation he will do much to make up for his lack of the other article.

A. W. Taylor of a fine large watermelon and left it outside a short time in a few minutes he was invited to bring a crowd out melon, which invitation he accepted. [Taylor always accepts, he was fattened on watermelons.]

When the crowd had gone he discovered that he had unwittingly furnished the melon for the feast. He is watching for the crowd with a club, and they go home on the other side of the street.

Rev. Pittenger of Wayne was a welcome caller at this office on Saturday. He reports business good in Wayne—Ponca Advocate.

We don't know exactly what business Mr. Pittenger referred to, but presume it was the surprising market that he had his eye on, as he smilingly remarked that he had been ordered while at Ponca, and was now ready to tie the knot matrimonial in the most approved manner, and at the current rate.

An End to Bone Scraping.
Edward Shepherd, of Harrisburg, Pa., says: "Having received so much benefit from Electric Bitters, feel it my duty to let suffering humanity know it. I have had a running sore for eight years, and doctors told me I would have to have the bone scraped or let amputate. I used, instead, three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and my leg is now sound and well."

Electric Bitters are sold at fifty cents a bottle, and Bucklen's Arnica Salve at 25 cents per box by all druggists.

Prairie Chicken Supper.
The ladies of the Baptist church will give a prairie chicken supper at the church Saturday evening. There will be a good supper, proceeds for the benefit of the church. Everybody invited. Supper 25 cts.

Wakefield Items.
Cool and pleasant.
Base ball all the rage.

Several thousand people attended the fair on Thursday and had there not been so much rain there would undoubtedly have been as many more.

The races were well attended Monday after which the sporting men returned to their homes with the exception of some going to LeMars, Ia., to attend the races there.

Messrs Russell & Nichols of the Wakefield hotel, sold out to parties in Sioux City who will take charge at once.

The Wayne ball club says if it had not been for miffing those flies and groundies they could have beaten Wakefield. Same old dog story.

Mr. Rogers of the Bancroft Journal came up on Monday evening to take in the town. Wakefield is nearly, but not quite, as large as Chicago.

People are pretty well supplied with soap at this end of the line since the Wakefield here, as some brought $20.00 worth, each cake containing a $2.00 bill.

A mistake, neighbor, as far as you are concerned. It would be impossible to ignore on Nature in their respect—Gazette.

Some of them are reputed to be wealthy, and live in fine houses and this we presume is sufficient for the narrow minded editor of the H. T. who has always considered a certain class of the so called elite of the town—Gazette.

The persons have been so maliciously and unbecomingly insulted by the Gazette will note how well the following squib from the Boston Post tells why it does it.
