COULD TALK SPANISH

An Italian man came on to the language in the Joe Country. A few days since a stranger from the unconverted wilds of the west, who mugwumpier was born and tenderfoot attain their highest state of sensitiveness, came out to Albuquerque to visit a friend, says the Albuquerque (New Mexico) newspaper. While walking along Railroad avenue he said to his friend:

"There goes a man I met up at La Junta giving the J. E. natural pronunciation."

"You mean La Hanta," the friend replied. "That is a Spanish name, and in that language it takes the sound of 'J.'"

"Is that so? Well, I must try to catch on that."

A few straggling along a short distance further he asked:

"Where are those James springs, of which I see so much in the papers?"

"You should say Haymes springs; they are over here in the mountains about sixty miles."

"That the language—it breaks me all up. That's a pretty nice house over there, that Armo house isn't it?" and again he gave the J. E. proper pronunciation.

"You mean the Armo house, yes it's a good one too."

"Darnicks way of abusing the English alphabet. I reckon, then, that must be the Ha's Brothers store down the street, isn't it?"

"No, that is not a Spanish name. I think it is French. However, it is pronounced as spelled."

"Well, how in Santa Fe is a fellow going to tell what's Spanish and what isn't? Why wouldn't they build their language according to the original plans?"

"Oh, you'll soon catch on. You will find it the safest to give the Spanish pronunciation to nearly everything here."

An hour later they sat down at the table of the San Felipe hotel, and after scanning the bill of fare, the stranger said to his waiter:

"You may bring me a nice, juicy piece of roast beef, some pig's haw with caper sauce, some friednecked rabbit, some pork with apple belly, some potatoes with the backbones on—unskin, you know—some currant jam, and, oh, some—"

At this point the waiter swooned and the guests in the room let out a roar of laughter that gave the chandelers the chills and fever. This made the stranger more than he hoped to his feet like a crazy man, tore off his coat and threw it down on the floor, and stamped on it and howled:

"You fellows are trying to play me for a sucker, but by the eternal, you've struck the wrong snag! Whoopie! (and he jumped up and slapped his fists) I'm a destroyer cyclone from Illinois, an' I win lick the hinterwoods? Spanish? I'm ailing, more Spanish, I'm a holy mackerel than Montezuma could be a year. Kin I'll Well I should chuckle that I kin! Let some idiot pull off his jacket and lump onto me, and the first time I hit 'em I'll think he has got the huns hams Spanish? Oh, I guess not! My name's Jeremi—I mean Hezemiah Hones, from Hackensville, Illinois, an' when my dander's up I'm a ravin' hyena. You played me for a sucker, but you mustn't hudge a man by his looks. Whoop some the hables. Somebody come out and face me. Let some himewer gallant come to the front and criticize my Spanish hargrove."

His friends got hold of him and took him from the room, and as he went the door he remarked:

"I kin take a hoke, but, by Hesus, it makes me mad for a lot of huckabees to try and play me for a greeny."

ADDITIONAL LOCALS.

The first National bank building has been given a coat of paint.

The Meats boiling on upper Main street is being finished up.

Last Saturday was our quiet day, as the farmers were all busy getting up hay.

Last Saturday was examination day and Capt. Hake had five applicants on the neighborhood. John Lawrence quitted the rear-disturber with liberal dose of all the next morning.

A number of wagons took a large number of children to the union Sabbath school picnic in Hunter's grove yesterday. A big time is reported by the little folks.

The wind mill on the H.R. company's water tank got out of gear Friday and all night squealed and screeched to the infinite annoyance of everyone in the neighborhood. John Lawrence quitted the rear-disturber with liberal dose of all the next morning.

The settlers on the reservation in Wayne county have formed a protective association, and deal summarily with land jumpers. A young man from the east having jumped the claim of a member of the association, the settlers turned out in a force last week, tore down the intruder's house and drove him away. A part of the lumber taken from the house was put into a ledge and the remainder was donated to the original claimant of the land.

While he was undoubtedly a lawless one it was tempered by a spirit of justice, and constitutes an offense which it is difficult to successfully prosecute before a jury—Winnipeg Times.

That first, longest feeling, with loss of ambition and strength, is caused by rapid blood and poor circulation, suggests blood Purifier and Blood Maker will cleanse the blood, create a new supply and restore health and vigor. Our numbered doses for one dollar and warranted by Dr. Love, Druggist.

Among the guests at the Pacific Hotel Tuesday there were two that excited a great deal of interest. One of them was Mrs. Sally Mallory, aged 102 years, and a stepson, M. H. D. G. Squires, over eighty years of age. This aged couple came in from Alameda, which place they have been living on a homestead. Mrs. Mallory is still in possession of her faculties and was able to write her name on the register. Her husband was a fine soldier, was in a revolutionary war and an aide on Gen. Washington's staff. Mrs. Mallory recalls some of the events of that period and remembers to have seen Gen. Washington. Mr. Squires was in the war of 1812, in the Mexican war, the war of the rebellion, and since that time he has fought the Indians. Mrs. Mallory draws a pension of $30 a month. That these old people should go out and take a homestead ought to put in blush some younger folks who lack the ambition to secure a home of some of Uncle Sam's fields.—Norfolk Journal.

Followed up by her mother to find that the man who goes about the neighborhood of real estate finds himself compelled to go back home landless or pay his waiter for a beautiful equivalent.

Nebbraska land is the best in the world, and the man who lands in his children, forty acres of it will do a good thing for them, and his grandchildren will bless him.

Linn Bros. Toys. Two WINDMILLS—His child is more like a windmill that stands over a man in the Hay at the Factory lot. It was long ago disconnected from the well, but it still turns around and creates and makes a big pretense of usefulness, but it accomplishes nothing.

Bro. Clark was for a long time the secret neighbor of the windmill which may account for his actions.

Taylor's Addition is the newest acquisition to Wayne. It consists of thirty acres between a continuation of 2d street and the road running along the south side of the cemetery.

The addition is laid off in two acre lots and will doubtless be very popular with those who wish to be in reach of business and still have a few acres of ground.

A snap fact visited Wayne recently and succeeded in relieving "greenness" of the same fellow passed through Wasser, and only succeeded in taking in $5.00 by his sharp claims.—Winner times.

Mrs. K. M. Smith. Wm. Dyer has put down a sidewalk in front of his residence lots on Main street that it would pay any one intending to build a side walk to look at. It's the best finished one in town.

Mr. Dyer says it cost a trifle more than an ordinary one.

The writer spent a couple of hours visiting the schools this week, and from what he could see on such a brief visit they seem to be running very well, both teachers and pupils.

Nothing hard. The teachers are complaining, and no doubt justify that the parents do not take sufficient interest in the schools.

Millions of flying ants appeared in the air Saturday and filled it in every direction. They were everywhere and made it very annoying to persons who were compelled to be out of doors, by lighting on them by hundreds.

Where they came from is a mystery, and what they are good for is unexplained. They are black in color, and of ordinary size, have well developed wings, and is capable of flying an length of time.—Pierce Times.

The following letter from the state auditor in response to an inquiry explains itself.

W. H. McNeal Esq. Wayne Nat. Dear Sir: In reply to your favor of the 14th in regard to the "American Life Ins Co. of Minneapolis" would say that the company is not authorized to transact business in Nebraska.

Very Respectfully, H. A. Holbeck, Auditor.

The Presbytery of Nebraska will meet in the Presbyterian church of Wayne on Tuesday evening of next week and will continue in session three evenings and two days.

On Tuesday evening there will be preaching by Rev. John Martin, on Wednesday evening addresses on Home and Foreign Missionary work and Thursday evening will be devoted to the subject of Temperance.

A prayer meeting will be held from 8 to 9 o'clock each morning, and the hours of the day will be devoted to educational business. All are cordially invited to attend the morning and evening services.

The members of Wayne are particularly invited to attend at any time.

The attention of the merchants is called to the fact that over by the Wayne county line and just in the edge of Wayne county there has been considerable settlements late.

It is 2 1/2 miles to Wayne and 13 to Pierce on direct roads. The Wayne county commissioners have furnished their good bridges over a naturally bad road to Wayne. The road to Pierce is good, but requires some bridges.

In conversation with a couple of these new settlers they said they would rather settle at Pierce than Wayne on account of the difference in distance, but they can not get to Pierce without making the distance fully as great as to Wayne. It might be that a grade or two that the commissioners of the county have accepted and which put the road in for worse condition than they ever saw before, could just as well be left out and a few good bridges built.—Pierce Times.
