Two roving claps who said they had tramped from the west part of the state, wanted work but week or said they did. They found no trouble in getting a job husking corn, but after trying it a short time concluded that it was not the kind of work they were looking for and they tramped on.

There will be a poultry farm established at St. Helena the coming summer. The gentlemen interested in the enterprise inform us that they intend making a specialty of breeding the very best breed of chickens, turkeys and geese, for the local demand and also raise early chickens for the home market. The enterprise, we think, will prove a paying investment.—Hartington News.

R. F. Feather was wearing his eye in a sling last week. He didn't say what the trouble was, but it is supposed to be a white filling somebody's chamber with shavings.

Does't forget that the union services will be held in the Presbyterian church this morning at 11 o'clock and don't forget to attend. Rev. H. G. Pittenger will deliver the sermon.

We are informed that there is nothing in the rumor that the passenger is to be taken off this end of the branch. It is much more probable that as we coach will be added to the present train, so the business is steadily increasing.

Two roving claps who said they had tramped from the west part of the state, wanted work but week or said they did. They found no trouble in getting a job husking corn, but after trying it a short time concluded that it was not the kind of work they were looking for and they tramped on.

A Remarkable Escape
Mrs. Mary A. Hadden of Tunkhannock, Pa., writes that she was a passenger on the Atlantic and Pacific, during which time the best physicians could give no relief. She was a lawyer's wife and until last October she procured a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery. She has remained well ever since by continuing its use for a short time. She was completely cured, gaining in flesh in a few months.

Free trial bottles of this certain cure of all throat and lung disease at all drug stores. Large bottles $1.00.

As Others See Us.

A correspondent of the Lincoln Journal was through this section of Nebraska and gives in that paper his views of the country and towns he visited. From his remarks on land speculators, which we give below, it will be seen that he makes what is really a draw-bow to the country, a much more serious evil than it is in reality. The correspondent draws a long bow in many respects. As an instance, in his description of Wakefield he says it is a better town than Wayne and that it has a better school, but which will only amuse those who are acquainted with the facts in the case.

"In no part of Nebraska does the speculative flourish as in this northeast section, and his heaviest censure has been poured out upon Wayne, Cedar, Dixon and Dakota counties. For example take Wayne county. One of the best agricultural districts in Nebraska, a days drive from Sioux City, Iowa, markets to most parts of it, settled in most places before Lincoln was born. It contains no little more than 400 people and has less than one-tenth of its land under cultivation. Nearly all the rest is held by speculators and some of it in immense tracts. Its Representative last candidate for governor of Nebraska was a farmer in a body, an eastern family whose name I did not learn holds title to a township, while the number of men who hold amounts ranging from a quarter section to two or three times the fingers on a person's two hands. All these lands are held high, and the land holder who finances a piece and makes an offer of $10 or $12 an acre is shortly informed by an agent of the eastern holder that that particular chunk of dirt is not on the market.

It is the three year old county seat of Wayne county is nicely laid out on the rolling ground south of the south branch of the Logan creek, has grown to be a good town since the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha railroad built into that territory in the summer of 1862.

It is situated near the center of the county, and is backed on three sides by well settled farming communities. Every branch of business is carried on here by industry and enterprise. Business men and the town people to make it boom is a cross line of railroad and the county over generally will improve. Its churches and schools the town is well fixed, three hundred feet of the former already built and a fifth under contract. The school is first class and well attended. A new roller mill has just been completed by W. H. Brown at a cost of $10,000 while the question of water works is being talked by citizens as one that needs attention. And it does as there are not many brick buildings in the place, new as the frame and such structures as would burn down in twenty minutes with a started fire and far wind. About the best brick in the place is occupied by R. K. Taylor with the Citizens Bank on the first floor. This is a strong financial institution, and Mr. Taylor is making it pay for himself and for his customers.

A. F. Childs now runs the Gazette up stairs in this building, and his brother A. N. Childs, practices law from the same office. A. A. Welch reads law and disposes of the same to quarrying agents. A row on the hall in front, Jas. Britton, one of the best lawyers in North Nebraska, deals in justice.

Other gentlemen whom I met were those teachers A. McNeal, who makes the Herald-Tribune a good paper; D. C. Patterson of the First National bank; Geo. E. Sebald, the best barber that has scraped my hardened cheek since I left Lincoln; Frank Fuller, a good lawyer; his brother, as I know it, J. W. Wolcott, general merchant and a rattling business man; P. Miller, leading grocer of the place; County clerk, who was a good fellow; Dr. W. A. Love, who practices medicine and deals in drugs, paints and oils, and is not least by considerable. A. H. Ellis, who runs the Royal hotel and makes all one of the very best hotels to be met with in any section. Mr. Ellis used to be, and about here, but for two years past he has been where I found him and making money.

As this was my first and may want to see again, will not tell all that I know in a few months.

represents in every protest in the county. In no other way can it be made a thoroughly representative newspaper. We will endeavor to make our correspondence mutually profitable to our readers, our correspondents and ourselves.

A Very Narrow Escape.
"Yes, I had a very narrow escape," said a prominent citizen in a firm, "I was obliged to go for my father and my friends gave me up for a competitor's grave, until I began using Kemel's for the throat and lungs and level I am now and healthy." "You will find it for sale by Adams & Dutcher. Price 25c and 50c."

"A million dollars brings more misery than happiness to a man," says a writer. Perhaps it does, but if the writer has a million dollars to spare we are willing to run the risk of being made miserable for the rest of our miserable existence.

"That tired, languid feeling, with loss of ambition and strength is caused by impure blood and poor circulation. Dr. Ross' Blood Purifier and Blood Maker will cleanse the blood, create new strength and restore health and vigor. One hundred doses for one dollar and warranted by Dr. Ross, Druggist."

"Why are two buttons put on the back of a man's coat?" asks a writer. They are put on for the same reason that about two hundred fifty buttons are put on the front of a woman's dress—of course everybody knows why a lady's dress is thus garnished.

Backen's Starved Nerve.

458-17 For sale by all Druggists
A Berks county woman has no faith in the "hot water cure." She poured a kettle of boiling hot water over her back and neck, and the result was a decided case of boils. Three nights afterward he came home about forty times more intoxicated than he ever did before.

The Impending Danger.
"The recent statistics of the number of deaths show that a large majority of the consumptions. This disease may commence with an apparently harmless cough which can be cured instantly by Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs, which is guaranteed to cure consumptions. All sizes Price 30 cents and 50c. Trial size free. For sale by Adams & Dutcher."

ST. NICHOLAS

An illustrated monthly periodical for boys and girls, appearing on the 25th of each month. Edited by Mary Gamble. Twelve, Price 25 cents a number, or $3.00 a year in advance. Bookbinders, news-vendors, post-offices, and the publishers take subscriptions, which should begin with the November number, the first of the Christmas season.

ST. NICHOLAS aims both to satisfy and to develop the best interests of its readers, and is so revised for the past 15 years, during which it has always stood at the head of the best periodicals for boys and girls. It is a sufficient warrant for its excellence during the coming season. The editors announce the following as among the LEADING FEATURES FOR 1885-86.

A serial story by Frances Hodgson Burnett. The long running story she has written for children.

A Christmas Story by W. D. Howells. With humorous pictures by his little daughter.

"George Washington," by Horace E. Scudder. A novel and stirring historical serial.

Short Stories for Girls by Louisa M. Short. "The Tale of the Giant's Castle" by H. H. T. The series form a grand and stirring memorial of a child-loving and a child-helping soul.

Stories on illustrated English Schools. Rugby and girls. Illustrated by Joseph Pennell.

Another serial story, by J. T. Toxbridge, will be life-like, vigorous, and useful.

London Boarding House, serial by James H. H. Dealing with news-boy and newspaper.

Frank H. Stockton will contribute several of his humorous and fanciful stories.

By John Preston True. A capital school story for boys.

The Boyhood of Shakespeare, by Rose Angley. With illustrations by Alfred Parsons.

Short stories by scores of prominent writers, including Susan Coolidge, H. H. Brown, Nora Perry, T. A. Janvier, Washington, H. H. Johnston, Joseph Miller, Sophie May, Henkiah Butler, W. O. Stoddard, Harriet Prentiss, Spickard, and many others.

Entertaining Sketches by Allen W. Rodden, Charles G. Leland, Henry Eckstein, Lindesay, and others.

Oysters in bulk at Wilson's, Saturday night. R. L. Oxford has built an addition to his residence. Mrs. Dr. Crawford has been quite sick for the past week.

The weather has greatly favored building operations and corn gathering. De Leisinger has just received a very fine organ's operating chair of the best make. A party of hunters who were after deer last week saw two—and scared them awfully.

We get out our paper a few hours earlier this week in order to indulge in Thanksgiving. The board has not received any new music and is going to blow and pound it to pieces. For the old reliable Saly and Swab boot go to F. P. Taylor's.

Among the families stimulate the circulation, partly the board, leaving Mrs. S. S. Taylor. Rev. H. S. Pittenger will preach next Sunday at 10 o'clock P. M. at Chapin's school house. J. D. Slater has commenced building a residence on the lot recently purchased by Lane Bros.

A shooting match for Thanksgiving turkeys took place at the Star Grocery yesterday afternoon. There is a perfect dearth of hickory nut marriages this week, but more of both are promised for the next future. Ben Clark had the misfortune to get two of the fingers of his right hand badly lacerated in a fall from a tree.

There will be a student who comes to the Star Grocery next Sunday evening at the Presbyterian church commencing at 7 o'clock. A meeting round in the time of our winter "pump up" will be the burden of the songs sung by the boys next week. There will be the usual services at the M. E. church next Sunday morning and evening. Preaching by the pastor. All are welcome.

W. Taylor the Jeweler bought a very fine line of goods for the week. The Herald-Tribune is the largest and best advertising medium in the city and county. Big time at the Block to-night. A number of entertainments for the near future are being planned. Ben Frazier shipped a car load of hogs Tuesday, bought of E. J. Nangle and D. Cunningham.

We have a large number of sample copies of the Chicago weekly news. Call to see and get one. We wish to again repeat our invitation to our subscribers to call in and help themselves to our exchanges. The Willing Workers will give an entertainment at the Methodist church Friday evening December 4th. The proscriptions will be given next week.

The council tried to hold a meeting last night in consideration of the calling of a election to vote bonds for water work but could not get together. A nice line of Fat Cam at F. P. Taylor's. G. A. Colver sold his farm to Tom Taylor recently and expects to leave the county, as his many friends will be sorry to learn. He expects to go to Florida in about two weeks and will probably remain there all winter at least. He is tired of farming and will not engage in that any more.

A party of nine surveyors, comprising a part of the surveying corps of the U. S. P. M. & O. R. came in last evening and are quartering at the Star. They have secured the building adjoining Gaertner's store and are office for a month and are evidently going to work with us some time. They are sure to survey routes to the northwest from here, usually midway between the Hartington and Creighton branches. A line will also be surveyed to West Point and there is a strong probability that work will begin in both directions as soon as the surveyors are completely in. The company has no present need of additional lines in this section but the object of the present move is perfectly plain. It is simply for the purpose of killing the Omaha Northerners and it will do so. It will kill it dead as a snail, as least units some (two) of the North western lines hold it. Branches of this road are not what we set out, but while the other routes are being as it is taking measure to effectually shut out all others.

Personal. A. I. Howser was up from Hawkins Saturday. E. H. Aries of Hooper was in town Tuesday. Geo. Ford of Wakefield was in town Monday. J. H. Benn of Wakefield was in town Tuesday. C. F. Barber was in town Tuesday.

Wm. Fuller returned from Lincoln Tuesday evening. F. E. Driskell of Wakefield registered at the Royal Saturday. Warner Starr and J. M. Lindsay of Northside were in town Tuesday. J. W. Taylor was one of the North side people in town Saturday. W. W. Taylor of Logan precinct, was away on this office Monday.

Paul English left yesterday morning for Muskogee, Minnesota, and will put his Thanksgiving dinner there. Mrs. A. H. Reed of Takamahka, Neb., and Mr. J. Johnson of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, visited Mrs. Wm. Weber this week. A. T. Tuley and wife, formerly of Hartington, but now of Ames, Iowa, were over Sunday visitors with A. W. Dyer's.

F. P. Patterson was in Omaha this week and examined the papers closely to see if he got into trouble but apparently he did not. A. B. Slater and wife went to Omaha Monday to see Mrs. Slater's brother and family of St. Louis, where they go to spend the winter. A brother of Prof. J. S. Hake, with his wife, will make their home with Mrs. Dyer this winter. They arrived in Wayne Saturday evening from Iowa.
