BEST WISHES For a HAPPY NEW YEAR

Mixed Emotions Characterize Student Sentiment as Notice of Bond Issue Appeal is Made

Students Fear of Being Gyped Out of Vacation And School Building Too

Four hundred eighty-five boys and girls attending the Wayne City school will trek back to their classes tomorrow following the shortest Christmas vacation in their school experience. When the brief vacation was announced some time ago there was an immediate burst of not too mild resentment on the part of many students, however, after due consideration it was commonly agreed among them that perhaps the cause was worth the price.
"I don't mind the short vacation if it means a nice school build ing will be ready for school next fall," said one student, which statement seemed to express the feeling of the majority.

Generally, classes on the day before vacation, be it ever so brief, are full of controlled merriment, but not so last Friday The news had broken that once The news had broken, that once more the prospects of a modernized school building was to run the gauntlet of another court procedure. This time it is the State Supreme Court and the purpose is to secure a reversal of decision over that of the District Court a few weeks ago when the standing of the school a mood mingled with disgust and apprehension. "What if we get gyped out of our vacation and school building too," remarked an upper classman.

So to the quest of those hundreds of students whose query, "What causes all of the legal technicalities," is submitted this notice of appeal, taken from the clerk of courts record.

They were in possession of a 1934 LaSalle sedan with a Runace county license No. 38-2962 registered under the name of Arthur Neville. Morgan cialined ownership of the car stating he had purchased it from Neville who was now in California. All three men claimed they had been addicted to the drug since about 1920. At first, under the questioning of the county attorney they claimed a desire to take a cure but pleaded to be allowed to continue on their journey to Madison, S. D., where they had friends. After Judge Cherry sentenced them to 10 days in jail one by one they each admitted there was a slight prevarication in their former stories. Morgan said he had once taken a cure at Wilmer, Minn, Flaherty and Larkin admitted they were once in a state institution for a cure in Nebraska but that it was ineffective.
