

MORRISON, MORRIS CAGE TEAMS WIN

Wildcats Upset Dope In Defeating Favored Methodists 39 to 35

Displaying a complete reversal of form from that shown in the Omaha game here Tuesday night, the Wayne State Teachers college hard court artists out-manuevered a classy Nebraska Wesleyan university team to win Friday night game 39 to 35.

The score changed 20 times with Wesleyan taking the lead on 8 occasions and the Wildcats leading 7 times. The score was knotted five times during the hectic contest.

Both teams passed and shot with precision and the game moved at top speed from start to finish and had a large crowd on their toes most of the time.

Whitmore who was high point man, scored with 7 baskets and two free throws for a total of 16 points, Burrows of the visitors tallied 3 baskets and 4 free tosses to lead his team mates with 10 points.

Burrows opened the scoring on a pair of gift shots on Rembold's foul. Burrows added another on Bradford's foul and then went under the basket for a set-up to give the Methodists a 5 to 0 lead.

Wayne had missed a dozen shots during this time and it looked as if their shooting form was still absent. Marshall, Rembold and Whitmore counted in quick succession to put the Wildcats in the running with a 6 to 5 lead. From this point on the score was tied and shifted to a small lead from team to team no less than 18 times.

With two minutes left in the first half the Methodists were leading 19 to 17, Wayne missed three set-ups as Wesleyan retained their two-point lead at the intermission.

With five minutes gone in the second half Wesleyan was leading 29 to 23 their greatest lead of the game. Marshall counted twice with difficult hurried shots and Burrows banged one, Whitmore hit twice in rapid succession to knot the count at 31 all. There were 7 minutes left in the ball game.

Some baskets and free tosses by Souders, Marshall, Statin and Whitmore had the count tied at 35 with 2 minutes to go. Bradford and Marshall counted to put the game on ice and the gun sounded following a double foul called on Huntimer and Statin. Score, Wayne State, 39, Wesleyan 35.

In defeating the capital aggregation the Wildcats took a lusty kick at the dope bucket as they were figured on the short end of the count most any way one looked at it. The Methodists have the same team which won the Nebraska College Conference championship last year. A few weeks ago they were defeated by one point by Augustana, conquerors of Wayne, Hastings and St. Thomas. In defeating Wesleyan the Wayne team demonstrated they have real potential strength and with improvement should give any team a real battle. Wesleyan was one of the 32 teams invited to the National Tournament at Kansas City last year.

BLUE AND WHITE SHOW CLASS IN 34-20 TRIUMPH OVER CREIGHTON HI

That Coach Morris of Wayne High School has another powerful basketball team this year was proven Friday night when the blue and white romped over Creighton Hi 34 to 20.

The first half ended in an 8 to 8 tie and the half 22 to 11. During the third period Wayne extended their score to 30 while holding the invaders scoreless and the score board stood 30 to 11 at the opening of the fourth quarter when Coach Morris gave all his boys a chance to play otherwise the score would have probably ended in a 4 to 1 ratio.

Gardner opened the scoring for Creighton on Fitch's foul with a pair of free throws. Grandquist tied the count. A free shot made it 3 to 2 for Wayne but Gardner again counted and Creighton took a 4-3 lead. Berry put Wayne ahead with a beautiful set-up. Burt tallied for Creighton and again the lead sea-sawed.

Fitch broke the deadlock of 8 to 8 at the opening of the second quarter and the Blue and White were off not to be overtaken. Fitch, Grandquist, Peterson, Berry and Seymour connected with goals and free throws to give Wayne a 22 to 11 advantage at the half.

In the third period Fitch, Seymour and Grandquist scored field goals and Fitch with a pair of free tosses advanced Wayne's scoring to 30 while Creighton failed to tally.

With Morris' reserves carrying the blunt of the attack in the final quarter Creighton scored 9 points while the reserves garnered 4. Fitch led the scoring with five field goals and 4 free throws for a total of 14 points. His play was outstanding, in fact all of the Wayne regulars displayed a fine brand of ball handling, shooting and their defensive play improved as the game progressed.

Will Hold Free School for Wiring

A farm wiring school will be held in Wayne in the old city hall on Jan. 17, 18 and 19. This school will be conducted by the Wayne County Rural Public Power District through the cooperation of the state department of fire prevention and vocational education. The school will be free and it is very essential that all persons interested in rural wiring be present to familiarize themselves with REA requirements and electric codes.

Actual rural electric line construction will begin in Wayne County in two months, predicted Henry Moeding, superintendent of the Wayne County Rural Public Power District in a letter to customers along the proposed lines.

The original allotment for this project was $197,000. The REA has given preliminary consideration to an application for an additional loan of $100,000 to extend the lines proposed under the first allotment for 100 miles to serve some 250 additional farms. Farmers desiring to be reached by the second allotment should contact the district immediately.

Work on '39 Farm Program Gets Underway

Farm Representatives From 8 Counties Convene Here

Fifty representatives from eight Northeast Nebraska counties met in the city hall Friday with state and county executives of the farm program in the initial school outlining the 1939 agricultural program.

Following this conference of farm leaders a compilation of crop data will be made in the next few days. When this work is completed forms NCR 312 and NCR 312A comprising a notification of allotments and yields will be sent out. When this is completed there will be meetings involving the schooling of committees covering such important matter as the making up of the 1939 farm plans. The next step will be the educational meeting within the precincts.

With this routine work accomplished it is the plan to complete the sign-up program by March 15.

Instructors present for Friday's meeting were Elton Lux from the Agricultural College and the Farm and Field representative F. W. Busse, also Robin Spence District Extension agent from the Agricultural College. Ralph Roberts spoke on phases of the aerial photography. Roberts is general supervisor for Nebraska in this department.

Omaha AAU Official Favors Wayne as Ideal District Center

Legion Defers Affiliating Basket Ball With AAU Tournament For Present

American Legion held their regular meeting at the hall Wednesday night. Plans were made for the basket ball tournament to be held Feb. 6, 7, 8 and 9. Pamphlets on the Flag of the United States and how to display and to respect it were purchased by the Legion to be distributed to all rural schools through Superintendent F. Decker. An executive committee of the Legion will be held tomorrow evening to make plans for the year's work.

It was decided to defer affiliation with the Amateur Athletic Union for the present, in the promotion of the annual American Legion Basket Ball tournament at a meeting of the local organization last week. The action was taken after discussing the pros and cons of the step when members concluded current plans had progressed too far to make the necessary changes in organization.

It was the opinion of the group however, to present the proposition impartially to teams competing in the local tournament and secure their wishes in the matter.

Dr. E. E. Benson of Omaha who is secretary of the Mid-Western Division has for some time endeavored to secure the cooperation of Wayne in the holding of both boxing and basket ball under Union affiliation.

The following letter together with the 1939 rules of the Amateur Athletic Union convey the advantages and the nature of the affiliation:

Wayne, Nebr.
"You'll recall our conversation about basketball at the dinner table in Sioux City and my promise to get in touch with you.

I feel that the sponsors of the Wayne basket ball tournament could well afford to investigate the possibilities of holding a sanctioned meet this year and that they would find it to their advantage to become associated with the A. A. U. in basket ball. In 1938 we sent the winning team from the Mid-Western tourney to the Nationals at Denver, all expenses paid, and from that team Don Kristofek of Crete, Nebr., was chosen to play on the United States team that has been touring S. America for the past three months. Again this year we will send a team to the Nationals at Denver in March. The Wayne tournament could easily be made into a sectional or district tournament the only thing required being a sanction from the A. A. U. at $10.00 and allowing only registered players to compete. Registering a player costs the player 25 cents, this fee the player pays. Any profit from the tourney belongs to the sponsor. Most districts allow as first prize to the winner a certain amount as expenses to the Mid-West tourney, given only if the team competes in the Mid-Western. If the sponsor wanted to they could allow two teams to enter the Mid-Western. However, no team from the district where a tournament is held could enter the Mid-Western without first having competed in the district.

I suggest that you folks get together and outline on a map what you think would be a workable district and send it to me and we'll get together on the territory to be covered. I am enclosing a letter that was sent out and according to my mailing list. The dates for the Mid-Western will probably be the 6, 7, 8, 13, 14 and 15. I would like to hear from you folks on this matter as soon as possible as time draws short and these districts should hold their tourneys in February at the latest."

Respectfully yours,
E. E. Benson

A Mid-Western tournament will be held in early March in Omaha and will again be sponsored by the Omaha World-Herald.

Teams planning to enter the Mid-Western tournament at Omaha in March should keep in mind the following rules on eligibility:

A player or team that competes with a professional team is ineligible.

A player or team competing against a traveling unsanctioned team is ineligible.

A player or team competing against a traveling unsanctioned team is ineligible.

A player or team competing against a traveling unsanctioned team is ineligible.

Doc Graham's Carroll Hi Team Defeats McLean 35-16

Coach Doc Graham's basket ball team thrilled Carroll fans Friday night when they romped over an invading McLean team 35 to 16. There was little question as to the outcome of the game from the start as a tight Carroll defense held the McLean sharpshooters at bay and a driving offense pierced through both lines of McLean's defense to score at will.

Beveler was high point man with 10 points and Hurlbert and

A player or team competing for money prizes is ineligible. Paid coaches and officials are ineligible.

All players must be registered with the A. A. U. To register a player must have resided in the team's home city for 90 days and in the Mid-Western association six months prior to registration.

College players are eligible if they present a written consent from their head of the school's athletic department to the chairman of basket ball.

A player may transfer from one team to another only if he obtains written consent from both team managers.

No transfer will be allowed after Feb. 1.

No basket ball team from the Mid-Western association may enter the National Tournament unless they have competed in the Mid-Western tournament.

There will be no entry fee for the Mid-Western tournament. No expenses will be allowed any team entering the Mid-Western tournament.

Any inquiries concerning basket ball in the Mid-Western association should be directed to the chairman and a prompt reply will be forthcoming.

Basket Ball Committee
Dr. E. E. Benson, Chairman
610 Brandeis Theatre Building,
Omaha, Nebraska.

The organization of districts for both the Golden Gloves tournament and Basket Ball have made rapid development during the past year. Officers of the A. A. U. look upon Wayne as the logical city in which to center a Northeast Nebraska district.

Under affiliation with the A. A. U. the amateur boxer or basket ball players participation is in line with the high standing of organized inter-scholastic or inter-collegiate competition.

Johnson tied for second place with 8 points each. Davis scored 7 points with 3 field goals and a free throw and Swanson caged one field goal.

Anderson topped McLean's scoring with two buckets and a gratis shot for 5 points and Eberhardt scored two buckets with Lienemann getting 2 free throws and a field goal.

In a previous game with Coleridge, Carroll was nosed out 15 to 13 when the former made good on their chances at the free throw line.

Attends National Commercial Convention

W. A. Wollenhaupt attended a National Commercial convention held at Chicago, Dec. 26. Mr. and Mrs. Wollenhaupt and family returned home Friday evening from Glenwood, Ia., where they had been spending the holidays with Mrs. Wollenhaupt's parents.

More Farms to be Served by REA

The Rural Electrification Administration has given preliminary consideration to an application of the Wayne County Rural Public Power District, Wayne, Nebraska, for an additional loan of $100,000 to extend its rural lines 100 miles to serve some 250 farms in Wayne, Thurston and Cedar counties, and has outlined the steps which must be completed before an allotment of funds can be made.

The original application covered 158 miles to serve 390 members. REA has already allotted $197,000 for this project.

It will be necessary for the project sponsors to obtain and submit signed applications for membership in the project as well as applications for electrical service from it; also obtain signed easements for the right-of-way for the power lines, and prepare and send to REA a detailed map of the proposed extension.

The same retail rate which has already been suggested for the first section of the project will probably apply on this new section. Under this rate, residential members would pay a minimum bill of $3.75 a month, for which they may receive 40 K. W. H. enough electricity to light the average size home adequately and operate several appliances such as a washing machine, iron, radio and water pump and $6.25 would pay for 100 K. W. H., enough for all these uses and one major appliance such as a refrigerator.

Speed in further development of this project depends in large measure upon a continuance of the community cooperation which is principally responsible for the success of the project so far. If the information about this proposed addition is satisfactory, REA expects to be able to allot money to meet the entire construction costs. No money will be lent to pay for rights-of-way.

Old Mill Once Produced 50 Barrels, is Being Wrecked

Building Built in Pioneer Days Being Razed—Original Cost $25,000

Workmen are busily engaged in tearing down one of Wayne's oldest early day business structures, it being the Wayne Roller Mill built in 1885 by the three Weber brothers, Will, Emil and Walter. The approximate cost being $25,000 for the 50-barrel mill.

The passing of this structure means much to Mr. Anton Lerner, who hauled the lumber for the entire building in the spring of 1885. The same fall Mr. Lerner was employed by the Weber brothers as engineer in which capacity he served 40 years until the mill closed in 1926.

The timber found in the structure is not to be seen in modern construction work. The studdings are 4"x6", other heavy timbers to be seen are 2"x12" s.

During war days this old mill played its part, a special corn grinding machine was installed to provide the 10-lb. bag of meal that was compulsory ingredient for "war bread."

Pallbearers were E. E. Fleetwood, L. B. McClure, W. S. Bressler, G. A. Wade, Ora Martin and Carlos Martin.

Should We Free Drug Addicts And Think Nothing Of It?

When three drug addicts were arrested for petty larceny and lodged in jail for 10 days and later released before the sentence expired this community came face to face with one of the most damnable defects in our social order. Here and now let's make clear that local officials were powerless to do otherwise. In releasing the three prisoners with a ticket out of town, our local officials did just what others had previously done and what others will subsequently do with this trio and their like.

To have kept these men in jail for 10 days would run up a bill for morphine which no tax payer would justify. To have sent them to a state institution for a cure would have cost this county a bill that no taxpayer would tolerate. If the federal officials were notified they would have demanded evidence of the sale of narcotics before they would have prosecuted the men. And here is where the defect in our social order exists. There is seemingly no way to equitably handle this type of case.

In the opinion of one of the local officials, this particular incident should be sufficient reason for people of this community to bring before their congressmen this defect. No county or state is in a position to handle drug addicts. The federal government has whatever adequate facilities exist for this purpose, but one of its outstanding defects lays specifically in this situation. As this local official explained it is a crime to turn drug addicts loose without doing everything possible to rid them of their habit.

To knowingly let them run loose is for the law itself to inflict danger upon society. Only a few days ago the daily papers carried a story of an Iowa doctor being slugged and severely beaten by a dope fiend to whom he refused morphine. Some time ago a drug addict who committed rape and murder at Sioux Falls, S. D., is alleged to have passed through Wayne on his way to Sioux Falls. Should it happen that one of the three of the dope fiends turned loose here a few days ago commit a similar crime it would be to the everlasting shame of the good people of Wayne county that we allowed these men their freedom. Yet under the present conditions there was little else to do.

Perhaps if local organizations and individuals were to contact our congressmen there might be far reaching results secured which would make it possible for any city or county official to turn over drug addicts to the federal government for cure and restoration; or nothing at all might result from the effort; nevertheless there would be the satisfaction that at least one community did not let the opportunity slip past to register their condemnation of a serious defect which is a menace to all people.

Motives and Qualification of Normal Board Appointment

Very soon now an appointment will be made to the State Normal Board which rightly concerns people in this community. During the past few days a number of persons interested in the appointment of some particular individual have been working in his behalf.

There seems to be quite a variety of qualifications among these possible appointees and also a considerable difference in motives among those who favor certain individuals for the appointment.

It seems to us that the primary motive and qualification should be the best interests of the College and the ability of the candidate to see that Wayne State Teachers College receives every possible advantage in fulfilling its obligations as a Teacher Training Institution.

Occupying as it does a strategic location and in possession of the first chance to serve a wide field, it is of paramount importance that the best qualified person should receive appointment in the interest of the college.

One person with whom we have talked was convinced that the enrollment and demand for Wayne State Teachers could be doubled in the next ten years providing reasonable progress could be obtained.

We are convinced that in an instance or two neither the motive of sponsors or the qualifications of the board candidate are what they should be. This is no time to square some pet peeve or to seek some selfish ambition at the cost of an institution which is bigger than any individual.

Hurray for Howard Jones, and Three Lusty Boos for His Critics

The dame who controls the fate of football coaches must have made a New Year's Resolution this year in behalf of these much victimized deans of American Sportsmanship.

Coach Howard Jones Trojans wound up a season in a glorious manner when the good Methodists of Southern California University prepared a wide exit for the wily mentor.

"He's lost his stuff," "Jones is too old," "We've got to hire a new coach," etc., were typical comments emanating from the campus of Southern California. Now Jones is tops and there must be a lot of red faces at the Methodist school untanned by the California sun.

Badly as we hated to see that splendid record of those fine Duke players shattered it is equally gratifying to observe the comeback of Howard Jones. Having defeated both Notre Dame and Duke it is reasonable to suppose the Trojans might also defeat any other of the nations unbeaten football greats. This being the case the calamity howlers were about ready to fire the leading coach of the nation because he couldn't produce a winning team which would be somewhat of a paradoxical record.

We often wonder what sort of coaches of sports and sportsmanship these critics would make who are the first to criticize a coach who now and then drops a game. Here's a big hurrah for Howard Jones and three lusty boos for his critics.

Kate Smith's Creed As An American

More and more, those who have the attention of millions are keenly realizing their responsibility to the society which has made this opportunity possible. A good citizen anxious to do her part in these troubled days, Kate Smith had this to say on one of her noonday broadcasts:

"Briefly, my creed as an American is this: I am proud to be an American. . . I believe in the Constitution of the United States. . . I believe in our Democratic form of Government. . ."

"I never cease thanking God that I was born and brought up. . . in the finest country in the world—where we enjoy freedom from tyranny, freedom of thought, and freedom to follow whatever form of religious worship means most to us individuals. I believe that the scrap of paper guarded so carefully down in the Library of Congress at Washington is more precious to the men, women, and children of the United States than anything else on earth. To rich and poor; high and low; Protestant, Jew, and Catholic—to the people of all creeds and races who are citizens of this country—it means everything. It is the only document of its kind in the world—THE CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES."

"Ever since those lines were written, the American people have been enjoying the benefits planned by the founders of our Nation."

"Much has happened since those early days. There have been problems. . . wars. . . depressions. There are those who have criticized our Constitution, those who believe it can not be made to apply to our changed methods of living. . . But its precepts and its guidance have preserved our unity, our democracy, our country, and our flag for the past century and a half."

"Much has been said about the dangers of various agitators working in our midst. But it may be—unwittingly—their propagandists are doing the American people a favor. . . Perhaps their activities will make all good Americans wake up to the fact that they have been paying too much attention to foreign affairs—and too little to the preservation of American traditions, policies and ideals."

A Plan to Benefit Merchants

It is every retail merchant's dream that some day he will be in a business in which his customers pay up their bills every month. The uncertainty of payment has always been a problem. In the mining towns in the early days, the only way in which the keeper of the general store could do business was to "grab stake" the prospectors, hoping that those who returned rich would pay liberally.

Those days are almost forgotten, but even today its a lucky merchant whose customers' incomes are regularly distributed throughout the year. In most industrial communities, payrolls are fairly regular, although when factories are forced to shut down, merchants find they have to carry some of their customers until the factories resume operations. Every merchant in a farm area knows that he will be asked to let the account run until the crops are sold.

A trend toward greater stability of incomes of wage earners, in which all retail merchants will be particularly interested, was evidenced in the recent General Motors announcement of new employee benefit plans. This plan is not a guaranteed annual wage, but it provides that whenever the eligible employee's weekly income falls below a certain proportion of a full week's pay, the difference will be advanced to him. It is repayable only through an opportunity to work. The merchants in the many cities throughout the country in which this concern conducts its operations have expressed their enthusiastic approval.

Other merchants throughout the country will watch the working of the plan with keen interest.

Responsibility Of Congress

Several grave questions that concern peace and war have become the responsibility of the new Congress that will meet next month. The international situation can be described in the single word—BAD. It offers a challenge to statesmanship, and not a test of lung power to convince the public that America has to be ruled by high-pressure political appeals.

Senate Leader McNary for the Republican says that "responsibility for legislation still rests with the Democrats," which is all right so far as recognizing the power of the majority party, but Mr. McNary is mistaken if he is suggesting an alibi for the minorities. War, or peace is not the responsibility of political parties—not at all!

In the present day legislators of both the old parties are warned that great difficulties will be found in the paths ahead unless the annual government deficits are reduced. Obviously the only way to reduce them is to cut down running expenses. This condition turns the national spotlight on relief.

The Federal government commenced administering relief to flood sufferers, and unfortunates in other disasters more than 20 years ago, and in order to meet grave emergencies the New Deal assumed full authority and made relief a national business. There are strong trends in both parties to pass administration of relief back to the state. Congress will undoubtedly agree to continue Federal backing, but a fight seems certain over the issue of continuing the government agencies.

Court Declares Its Independence

The Supreme Court of the United States serves notice on the Administration that it will submit its own recommendations to congress for appropriations, and for new judges in districts where congestion of business exists.

In the "late unpleasantness" resulting from attempts of President Roosevelt to reorganize the Supreme Court the Attorney General claimed that the business of the court was far behind, and that more younger judges were needed to clear the calendars. Chief Justice Hughes denied that congestion was general.

Supreme Court Roberts says that "stereotyped inquiries" have constituted the practice of the Department of Justice in making recommendations for the Supreme Court budget in the past. Apparently it all worked out satisfactorily until Attorney General Cummings began to "tell the Court where to get off at," and rearrange its business. In the most polite judicial language the Court tells the Department of Justice to mind its own business, and Cummings agrees.

Radio Monopolies

It is difficult for laymen to understand how radio broadcasting could exist without being a monopoly. The government is investigating—trying to find out whether this business is a monopoly.

The association of broadcasters will frame a "code," so that they will all do the same thing—and if that isn't a monopoly David Sarnoff ought to be made to eat his hat. Everybody knows that "codes" were the favorite-prescription in NRA days, when monopolies were all the style.

"Censorship" of radio is the matter of a twist of the wrist. Government censorship is unnecessary.

TVA Quarrels

The administration of the Tennessee Valley Authority is challenged in the investigations before the Senate Committee, and in part the Government performs in operating a great power and light service in competition to privately-owned utilities, is a constant reservoir of quarrels.

On account of all the dissatisfaction, there will be bitter fights in Congress to prevent the building of more Government power plants in other parts of the country.

Germany and Italy

Ambassador Wilson was recalled from Germany because our Government is out of patience, and out of sympathy with Germany. So long as Germany leaves us alone, we will treat that Government the same way. But, it is certain that all this preparedness movement is due, almost entirely, to distrust of the German Government.

Ambassador Phillips returns to his post at Rome. Mussolini may not be running his government our way, but the United States does not feel apprehensive about Italy.

Relief for 'Riters

The Federal Writers Project was a life-line for indigent-writers and regardless of what the intentions of the WPA were—its series of guide books for different parts of the country included a "mess" of material.

Nonsense

Talk of a truce between the President and big business is merely another "breathing spell." The chips will be flying by the time Congress convenes, as differences between those leaning to the right, and those leaning to the left, are as wide as ever.

The Nation's Leading Letter by J. E. Jones, Washington, D. C.

If the United States stops the machinery of inter-national law in dealing with major Latin-American affairs as proposed by the Lima conference it will mean a long waiting period for a special report from a commission of experts on international law and the permanent codification commission to the next Pan-American conference. Under such circumstances the so-called Good Neighbor policy would automatically become a one-way street with everything going out and nothing coming in until the next

United States the governments of Argentine and Mexico stacked the cards at Lima to substitute municipal laws for international law.

Conceivably many Latin-American courts could not be counted upon to render impartial justice in the case of seizures dictated by the ruling powers and therefore the last vestige of protection of American property rights in Latin-American countries would be destroyed by the acceptance of these dangerous doctrines.

However, failure to fight this important principal out once and for all means that the issue now will be made a political one in Latin-American countries. Undoubtedly several of them will join together and resist the United States in its earnest desire to protect legitimate investments abroad. In other words, the shelving of the problem does not solve the basic question in any way, shape or form The New York Times dispatch, in commenting on the speech of Ambassador Castillo Najera of Mexico, made after the matter was referred to the commission, indicates that he is now advocating the appointment of a special commission to study this whole matter.

This would indicate that Mexico wants to make it a matter of constant agitation during the time that will elapse between the present and the next conference. It is reasonable to expect, therefore, that the clouds of confiscation throughout Latin-America have not been dissipated by the Lima Conference, and the problem will arise in the future to harass us until we take definite action in Mexico to stop confiscation and compel the restoration of property seized by that government.

Apparently what is happening in Mexico follows about the same course as that which happened in Germany. It is of recent history that Germany was bankrupt, and was financed and built up by British loans.

Mexico is being built up on silver purchases. Meanwhile she is using American oils that she confiscated last March in bartering fast and loose in commerce and political sympathies with Communists and Nazis, and cultivating trade and friendly relations with Japan.

Those being the facts what's to prevent Mexico from developing into a formidable enemy in the advancement of European isms throughout Latin-America while being financed by the United States—just as Germany has become a military menace to England after having been financed by the British?

The United States is being forced into a position where either it must stop Mexico or suffer irreparable damages in prestige. It would not be surprising if we heard more about this problem from Secretary of State

Hull when he returns with the delegation that accompanied him to Lima.

Four Billions for Truck Drivers!

How big a business highway transportation has become in the United States may be realized from the fact that truck drivers alone earn and spend over four billion dollars annually.

According to information released by the Automobile Manufacturers association, there are 3,109,508 truck drivers in the United States, based on an estimate of one full time driver per truck exclusive of farm trucks. As a number of the large farms regularly employ truck drivers and many trucks carry two drivers this is on the conservative side. The infant giant has far National Industries Service 2 outstripped its older rival, the railway.

According to the records of the Interstate Commerce Commission at the end of 1936, there were 1,086,405 railway employees. The number of truck drivers in the United States exceeds the total number of railway employees on a ratio of almost 3 to 1. The average railway employee including executives received at the end of 1936, $1,734.79 per year. During that year railway employees earned $1,878,810,393.

Based on an average earning power of $1,300 per year the truck drivers of the United States earned $1,042,360,400.

This figure, of course, does not include anything at all on the tremendous personnel behind the drivers employed in maintaining the vehicles, driver's helpers which are necessary on many types of runs and suppliers of fuel oil etc., along the route.

An analysis of all of those directly and indirectly employed in the business of highway transportation gives an interesting viewpoint on the importance in our national life of the motor truck. All of this has come about during the last 30 years and has radically influenced our mode of living and the actual geographic distribution of our population. Many communities depend on highway transportation alone for all of their food as well as other supplies.

In no other country in the world has such a complete system been built. The Highway Transportation industry is a big factor in our national prosperity and in time of war is a mighty contribution toward our national defense.

The Security Program

An old age insurance plan has been outlined by a special government committee of the senate and the social security board. After a 14-month study this group, the advisory council on social security, finds that 42 million persons are now included in the existing plan, and by 1940, 14,800,000 additional persons would be added if congress approves its recommendations.

The cost of the revised system of benefit payments would involve financing from all sources of an annual disbursement of from 10 to 12 per cent of the pay rolls, by 1980, when persons now in their twenties would reach the retirement age.

The method outlined will include all members of the family. Aged wives are to be given special attention. The council recommends that the wife should receive a supplementary allowance equal to 50 per cent of her husband's benefit. All anybody will have to do is to kick-in employers and employees. Pensions will begin at 65.

Thus, for the first time, the issue of old age pensions has been put into shape so that there is a definite basis for a start. As one senator expressed it, the report is a "vital contribution to the study of essential changes in the social security act." The council seems to have evolved a plan that can be worked out.

It isn't plain just how much any one will get each month, but it is quite certain that the agents of the government have started on a course to give everyone as much as possible.

Time Through the Ages

We are pleasantly reminded by Miss Elisabeth Achells, president of the World Calendar association, that Christmas is a festival season with special significance to any student of the calendar.

This outstanding leader in the movement for a practical revision of the 12-months calendar (keeping it a 12-month calendar) reminds us that "the most important festivals of pre-historic time were sun-festivals, one in mid-summer and the other in winter." Christmas-time, was to primitive man an important and critical period when the days were getting shorter and the nights longer. So men lighted bonfires of logs to give the sun strength and bring him back to life again. Of course their efforts were crowned with success—they soon noticed that the days were growing longer and rejoiced because the sun had been reborn and was coming back in glory and splendor. Those were sun-festival periods for the Egyptians, Chinese, and other people.

Ancient rulers and gods were honored by these festivals. Eventually the fathers of the church decided to fix a date to celebrate the birth of Christ, and wisely chose that day so firmly fixed in the minds of the people. And so we see that the exact date of Christmas was fixed by the sun. There is a beautiful Christmas thought for you.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Davis and Delmar left Sunday of last week for Harrisville, Mo., where they will make their home. Mr. Davis has leased a filling station at Harrisville.

Cardinals Defeat Wildcats 33 to 30

Every One Off Form, Even Spectators, Too Much Turkey

A typical vacation type of basket ball was dished out to a typical vacation crowd of spectators in the city auditorium Tuesday when the Wayne Wildcats tangled with the Omaha University Cardinals.

Coordinated team play showed up in both lineups intermittently as a sort of overfed crowd witnessed a see-saw score with little indication of a preference being shown as to which team lead.

Coaches Stuart Baller and Jim Morrison almost over worked trying to secure a combination of players that could demonstrate their superiority. Unless you're satisfied that a three-point margin is sufficient to establish a team's superiority neither coach accomplished that purpose. The complex of the game changed no less than 19 times. Six times the Wildcats, who were really wild, took command, eight times the score was tied and five times the Cardinals took the lead. And the Omahans were in the lead when the pay-off came. Ordinarily two or three shifts in the score board will create enough noise to bring down the rafters but Tuesday night with Christmas and New Years Turkey still stifling emotions it was not until around the 16th or 17th shift on the score board that the crowd aroused its inertia. It became evident that it was the home team which drew preference. Whitmore's bucket brought the score within one point of a tie at 31 to 30 with a minute to go as the crowd went wild. Then Pfalsler literally stole the ball from a Wildcat, dribbled in for a set up to clinch the game 33 to 31.

Whitmore, Rembold, Marshall and Ahern did the Wayne scoring with 1, 4, 4, 4, buckets in order. Bradford was decidedly off form. His shots simply would not hit. On the other hand his ball handling was terrifying. Three times Pfalsler snatched the ball from him to dribble in and score unassisted. With 11 points he was high scorer. Kersebrook, Donahue and Marks each got 3 buckets. Wayne counted 5 times in 11 gift tries while the Omahans made good 5 times in 10 tries.

Pfalsler and Ahern stood out and were the most consistent players on the floor. Both teams were badly off form with the Wildcats having the edge. Time after time they would work the ball in for what looked like a sure set-up only to have the ball spin around and bound back at them.

Additional 75 to 80,000 Homes Will Be Started

Washington, D. C.—More than 20,000 low-income families who formerly dwell in slum tenements and shacks today are residing in decent, safe and sanitary living quarters in public housing projects administered by the United States Housing Authority, according to a year-end recapitulation made public today by Nathan Straus, USHA administrator. In 1939 thousands more will migrate from the slums into decent low-rent homes.

At present, twelve large low-rent housing projects to provide about 9,000 new homes, are under construction contracts and during 1939, it is estimated that construction will be started on between 75,000 and 80,000 additional homes.

This building program will provide millions of man-hours of labor for a veritable army of workers and will provide new homes for thousands of underprivileged families whose average annual incomes will range from $1,100 down to $450 a year. Shelter rentals in the new projects will range from $8 per month for a dwelling unit in the South to $20 per month in the larger northern industrial cities.

Mr. Straus pointed to the increase in the number of local housing authorities during the year just closed as indicative of the enthusiasm with which the National slum-clearance and rehousing program is being received from coast to coast.

A year ago, there were 46 local public housing agencies; today there are 221.

To date, 140 low-rent housing projects in 73 cities and two counties in 22 States, the District of Columbia and the Territory of Hawaii are under contract for USHA loans totaling $320,986,000. These loans represent 90 per cent of the cost of the projects. In addition, 123 communities have received ear-markings of $328,803,000, making a grand total of $649,789,000 so far committed by the USHA.

The demand of local housing authorities for USHA financial aid in clearing their slums and rehousing families of low income has been so great that all USHA loan funds have been committed and there is great unfilled demand for more funds and more projects.

To date, Administrator Straus has approved construction contracts totalling $28,964,621 for 12 projects inaugurated under the USHA program in eight cities to be built at a total estimated development cost of $45,384,201.

tion during the past year at the Randolph high school as shown by an enrollment that has almost doubled is probably one of the best indicators of what the Randolph department of vocational agriculture will accomplish during the coming year.

An attractive and interesting program of instruction in agriculture, farm mechanics and farm management has been a big drawing card to farm boys who, without it, probably would not have finished their high school education. The project program, that consists of pure-bred live stock for breeding purposes along with crops of improved varieties, is giving the department a bright outlook for 1939.

The voc. ag. students are a most progressive group of young men and are fast becoming believers in the practical idea that farming can be a success only by extending their best efforts toward the production of the best quality products.

As an added interest for the 1939 program, the students have formed associations for the production of three breeds of hogs, that consists of 72 pure-bred sows and gilts. Carrying pedigrees of the best breeding in the country, the three breeds are Duroc Jersey, Spotted Poland and Hampshire. A number of the boys are raising beef and dairy heifers from which they plan to raise their own herds of cattle. A number of others are feeding out baby beeves for the experience they will obtain for the future.

Instructor G. F. Heady has announced that there will be a slight decrease in the number of baby beeves shown at the next annual Junior Fair, however there promises to be a record exhibit of hogs and breeding heifers. At present these future farmers are making tentative plans to exhibit their stock at the surrounding county fairs and at the state fair in 1939.

During the past year the boys won over $300 in prizes in exhibiting their stock which represented probably only about 10 per cent of what the students will exhibit this year.

The prospects for judging teams for 1939 can not be definitely determined. The stronger competitors evidently used up their eligibility the past year on teams they were most fitted for.—Randolph-Times Enterprise.

Winside Councilman Nips Criticism In the Bud

Winside—The issue arose when a competitor dealer made the complaint at a recent meeting of the Community Club that he saw no reason why the town should pay 20c a gal. for gas when nearly all other dealers were selling gas for 19c. Mr. Benshoof at that time promised to make the refund.

Mr. Benshoof referred to the criticism at that particular meeting as "the rottenest thing I have ever heard of," and defended his selling of the gas that the town has been using in connection with the auditorium construction on the ground that he has been using his own personal bank roll to make purchases for the town.

Mr. Benshoof stated that he used between $600 and $700 of his own money to pay cash for auditorium equipment because, as he puts it, he could make a better deal. He also stated that he permitted the town to use two of his buildings free of charge for storing cement and that he made no charge for storing the town truck. Board member Wm. Fleer suggested that none of the board members had complained to which Mr. Benshoof readily agreed and said he appreciated the way the board had been treating him. The chairman added that he was getting tired of all this criticism and that it was entirely uncalled for.

In behalf of the Winside Fire Department, Fire Chief Etsel Wilson, addressed a letter to the board, asking that the fire department be given the rent-free privilege of using the new auditorium each New Year's eve for the holding of a New Year's Ball. The board took no action on the request.

The chairman reported that a complaint had been made to him by Foreman Thorvald Jacobson, that children were proving a problem around the auditorium project and that a rubber hose had been cut in two by a group of boys. He asked that they be kept out. After some discussion it was decided that H. E. Siman be given the assignment of talking to the young folks at school, among whom were the main offenders and arrangements for the talk were made with Supt. E. P. Wendt.

The main objection for the presence of children and older folks as well, was the danger of getting too close to machinery and construction work and the possibility that they might suffer injury.

Force will be used if necessary to keep trespassers away where they might be in danger or in the way of workmen.—Winside Tribune.

Board Makes One-Fifth Slash in All Electric Rates

Wisner—The city council met on Monday evening in a regular meeting and in addition to the routine of the month's business they also enacted an ordinance which very materially reduces the light and heat rates for the city's electric current.

Schedule A is designated for lighting purposes and the new rate is 6 cents per kilowatt up to 75 kilowatt hours, and additional kilowatt hours are charged at the rate of 4 cents. Also in this schedule there is a minimum charge for city users of $1.00 and the minimum for out side city users is $2.00.

Schedule B comprises all heat and power energy used and a separate meter from light and the kilowatt hour charge for this service is 3 cents per kilowatt hour.

The estimated saving on the average bill which contains both light and power ordinarily above the minimum will be reduced 20 per cent. Users of electric current in Wisner will welcome this change in rates. Wisner now can be classed in the lower 15 per cent bracket of rate averages.

Though Wisner has been up to now right around the middle of the state's light averages we have to say the service is way above the average with very few stops during the year.

Times Have Changed

There will be no chances this year for:
 The idler.
 The leaner.
 The coward.
 The wobbler.
 The ignorant.
 The weakling.
 The smatterer.
 The indifferent.
 The unprepared.
 The educated fool:
 The impractical theorist.
 Those who watch the clock.
 The slipshod and the careless.
 The young man who lacks backbone.
 The person who is afraid of obstacles.
 The man who has no iron in his blood.
 The person who tries to save on foundations.
 The boy who slips rotten hours into his schooling.
 The man who is always running to catch up with his business.
 The man who can do a little of everything and not much of anything.
 The man who wants to succeed but is not willing to pay the price.
 The one who tries to pick only the flowers out of his occupation avoiding the thorns. O. S. Marsden, Carroll News.

Watch Your Kidneys!

Help Them Cleanse the Blood of Harmful Body Waste
Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work - do not act as Nature intended - fail to remove impurities that, if retained, may poison the system and upset the whole body machinery.
Symptoms may be nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes - a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of strength.
Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder may be burning, scanty or too frequent urination.
There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. Doan's have been winning new friends for more than forty years. They have a nation-wide reputation. Are recommended by grateful people the country over. Ask your neighbor!

Make Hitler Harmless, Says H. G. Wells

In Great Britain when they want to foresee the future they immediately page the major prophet, H. G. Wells.

In America they watch for one of Dr. Gallup's uncannily accurate polls on the public pulse.

The editors of the February issue of Cosmopolitan Magazine have done both, and present sensational stories from both men.

"The immediate future of the hundreds of millions of people hangs upon the unchecked impulses of a mere handful of men," writes H. G. Wells. "You could pack the whole lot of them into an ordinary airplane. It would be a tumultuous load but, if you could contrive a crash for it, the alleviation of human trouble would be disproportionately vast."

"I write of the triumvirate with the freedom of a still unreturned Englishman," Mr. Wells says. "My friend, Mr. Winston Churchill, has spoken of Herr Hitler as a 'great man.' I agree, but I insist that he and his chief friends ought now dent's Supreme Court proposal. Barring some emergency like war, the pendulum may continue to swing toward the right next year because the public is no longer in a mood for experimentation to the degree that it was when the New Deal came to power.

"What we are witnessing, and will witness, is a public desire for 'levelling off' in the tempo of change brought about by the New Deal, a desire for consolidating the gains after a period of rapid social adjustment.

"The public acclaimed and supported many of the reforms of the New Deal, watched the administration win blanket powers from Congress, and according to the latest survey, is still for President Roosevelt by a fair-sized majority. But it wants to see the legislative power re-asserted. For example, while a third of the voters say they would have supported all of Roosevelt's measures if they had been sitting in Congress, two-thirds say they would have opposed many of these measures. An equally large majority, more than seven in every ten, think Congress should no longer give the President lump sums of money to spend as he wishes for relief and recovery. They want Congress to exercise greater control over how it is spent."

ESSIE

Here is Ann Miller, brilliant young dancer and recent screen 'discovery' who joyously trips her way through Frank Capra's 'You Can't Take It With You.' Essie is the younger of the two daughters of that slightly goofy Sycamore family in a sensational production which is now creating new box-office records all over the country.

HOLLYWOOD EVENING FASHIONS FEATURE CIRCULAR SKIRT

The circular skirt is being used extensively in screen fashions to give the note of elegance which is so important this season. Anne Shirley, selected a frost-blue shirred crepe dress with full skirt, square neckline and decolletage trim of gold oak leaves for Columbia's 'Girls' School.' An extra wide circular skirt and a shaped decolletage highlight the French powder blue moire frock displayed by Rita Hayworth in Columbia's 'Juvenile Court'; a double belt of dusky pink velvet accents the waistline. American beauty satin fashions the evening dress worn by Jacqueline Wells in Columbia's 'Flight to Fame.'

greatest single educational move yet undertaken by beef cattle improvers.

Beef cattle will enjoy the distinction of participating in the opening ceremonies of the World's Fair at San Francisco. Simultaneously, when the gates of the 'Pageant of the Pacific' officially swing open, steers of the three breeds will battle for supremacy in the new coliseum erected expressly for the live stock events and accommodating 8,500 visitors. The adjacent pavilion for the housing of World's Fair live stock will have a capacity of 2,000 head, measured in terms of cattle.

John C. Burns will come from Ft. Worth to place the steers. California has been distinctly honored by supplying the Hereford pudge, in the person of Alex McDonald of the University farm at Davis.

Prof. W. L. Blizzard of the Oklahoma A & M college at Stillwater, will place the Shorthorns. Judge Blizzard is recognized as one of America's foremost animal husbandry college heads, with his ability broadly respected and established throughout the realm of meat animals and draft horses.

The Angus breed will be led before the discerning eye of Dean H. H. Kildee of the Iowa State College at Ames.

The steer show will be limited to singles and groups, rather than a carlot show. The judging and sale events will be held according to the following schedule:

Saturday, Feb. 18—Judging of Hereford, Shorthorn and Angus Steers—9 A. M.

Monday, Feb. 20—Judging of Hereford, Shorthorn and Angus Breeding Cattle—9 A. M.

Cavalcade of Beef Breeds To Move On the Golden Gate

Early in the new year there will take place a mass formation of superlative herds of beef cattle for the march toward Treasure Island, the occasion being the World's Fair Beef Cattle Show as the pivotal point in a circuit involving five winter expositions. This mass formation will embrace Herefords, Shorthorns and Angus from all the beef producing areas of the country. In it will be found virtually every collection of show cattle that can add strength to the display of its breed and participate in distinctive winnings. No comparable movement has ever been undertaken in the history of improved live stock in America.

Through the cooperative effort of the various show managements harmonious dates have been arranged beginning at Denver on Jan. 28, from which point a number of herds will move to Ogden for the show opening there Feb. 7, and then all will converge on the Golden Gate for the Treasure Island show from Feb. 18 to 28 after which some will head in the direction of Tucson for the show there on March 3 and still more will make their way to Fort Worth for the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show opening on March 10.

Prizes offered the three breeds on this circuit total $100,287, with interest centering on the Treasure Island show with its $70,000 in prize money, a sum made possible through the generous attitude of the Golden Gate International officials and liberal appropriations by the three registry associations. The collective objective in breed promotion is to register a lasting impression upon the countless thousands of farm and ranch visitors to this series of shows in behalf of better cattle. In this sense it is the

'Think Safely' And Save Lives, Writes Noted Woman Author

By ADELA ROGERS ST. JOHNS

A LONG time ago, when I was a cub reporter on the Los Angeles Herald, I covered my first story of a child's death because of the wheels of an automobile.

The child's name I have forgotten. But I shall never forget the twisted little scooter called an Irish Mail, the small broken body, nor the mother's face as she looked down at them and said, 'But he was alive just a minute ago. I called him in for his supper.'

He was alive just a minute ago. Those are the words every mother has spoken over every child killed in the dreadful wreckage of modern traffic. The child born in radiant expectation and hope, loved and cared for in all the sweet intimacy of babyhood, his first words and steps treasured and his future so full of hope and wonder—he was alive just a minute ago and then everything is over, wasted, finished.

There are, no doubt, unavoidable accidents. But there are so very many that are avoidable. And it is the duty of every man and woman in this country today to unite in finding ways and means to stop those avoidable accidents. To concentrate upon helping in every way that can be pointed out.

I have just learned of a nationwide Safety Campaign which is being started as I write by the editors of Good Housekeeping Magazine. The drive will continue for one year and I cannot stress too greatly the need for active participation in it.

Not long ago I was driving across 125th Street in New York City on my way to the Triborough bridge and home to Long Island. In front of us was a big truck and hanging on the back of it were three boys around the age of ten. They were hanging precariously at best and the traffic was very heavy. The driver, of course, didn't know that they were there. Now, like most people, I dislike making myself conspicuous. I dislike interfering and minding somebody else's business. But I had made up my mind some time ago that when it came to these traffic problems I was going to move right in. So I did. The kids were impudent and fresh. The drivers in other cars laughed at me and I don't like being laughed at any more than you do. But we tied up traffic for a few minutes and the driver got down and the kids got off.

What compensated me for a very hot and unpleasant few moments was the truck driver who said, 'Thanks a lot, lady. If you know how I worry sometimes and picture to myself one of them kids falling off and getting killed—say, it's the worst worry we have. If it ever happened to me I bet I'd never sleep another night.' There are a good many things that have been outlined by experts to help in the traffic problems and in cutting down the death rate for accidents.

Much heavier punishment for driving a car while under the influence of liquor is 'one.' The drunken driver is at every moment a potential and deliberate murderer. He should be dealt with accordingly.

Adela Rogers St. Johns with her youngest son, Dicky.

Traffic laws must be enforced—most of them now in operation are splendid and would solve many difficulties.

But the thing cuts deeper than that, as all laws do. They go back to spiritual fundamentals. To our own inner responsibility to humanity. To our obligation to the children of this nation.

We can warn our own children. We do. But children move quickly and they haven't developed automatic safety reflexes. A ball is kicked into the street, somebody yells at them, they see something—and they forget. And death lurks in some passing car.

We, the grown-ups, who drive cars and ride in them, are completely responsible for the safety of American children. And there are some simple, fundamental truths of all life and all human relationships that would help more than all laws to insure that our neighbor's children grow up strong and sound of limb and mind.

Courtesy and gentleness. Even just a little ordinary love for our neighbor, for instance. I am not able to explain to myself nor to you why it is that so often all courtesy disappears the moment a man or woman sits down behind the wheel of an automobile. People who are pretty decent and rather kindly folk when they're navigating on two feet become dictators and auto-crats when they move on four wheels.

The impulses of generosity, kindness, politeness, all seem to vanish. And to save three or four minutes, which aren't very important really, men and women take incredible chances with the lives of others.

Captain George Eyston, who holds the world's speed records in an automobile, told me only a few weeks ago that every boy should be carefully instructed in the handling of an automobile at a high rate of speed was work only for experts and took years of practice and preparation before it could be done safely. If, he said, boys could be shown that learning to drive well was a fine feat and that very few people accomplished it, they might regard it as a privilege.

All those things are helpful. But the main thing comes back again to 'Love Your Neighbor.' If you do, if you care about him and his children, you can't help being courteous and kind and—therefore automatically careful.

With care, with courtesy, with work to learn how to drive and drive well, with an honest willingness to obey traffic laws because they are made for the protection of our children instead of a strange inner desire to see how many of them you can beat—there won't be any mothers saying, 'Just a minute ago he was alive.'

Broken laws aren't funny—broken traffic laws aren't a feather in your cap—and broken bodies follow broken laws. It's our responsibility—our personal responsibility—to see that children are safe. Let's get down to it each in our own mind and heart, as a personal, special problem of our very own. So we will stand united for safety in our hearts. The rest will follow.

The Nation's Leading Letter by J. E. Jones, Washington, D. C.

Landon at Lima
When former Governor Alfred M. Landon was named by President Roosevelt as a member of the American delegation to Lima it was construed as a gesture to prove that the principles represented in the Monroe Doctrine were purely American and free from partisan-taint.

Secretary of State Hull was the leader of the delegation, and everyone had full confidence in him. That seemed to be all that was necessary.
Mr. Landon went along with the others. It turned out to be fortunate that he did. Differences of a serious nature arose in the conference. Mr. Landon became a tower of strength because of his independent position. He briefly sketched the objectives leading to a lack of unanimity among the Latin-American delegates in reference to continued solidarity.

"Let me say that anyone would be making a great blunder to mistake differences for disunity, for in the end we will always unite against outside aggressors," declared the Kansan.
"Agents of the totalitarian powers," he said, "are busy spreading propaganda all over Central and South America to the effect that these countries cannot count on the continuity of the policy of the United States. Let me say that there is one policy which the people of the United States have pursued for over a century, regardless of election results. That policy is that the United States will not tolerate any foreign government gaining a foothold on this continent. If I am any judge there is evidence here at this conference at Lima the same patriotic determination on the part of our fellow Americans down this way to maintain this independence."

The dictator governments were told straight from the shoulder that Pan-America could always be depended upon to present a united front against outside intervention in the Western World.
Governor Landon uncovered the opposition of Communism, Nazism and Fascism, in their vigorous campaigns to gain position of influence and control among the nations south of the Rio Grande. He let them have it "right between the eyes" when he defied their attempts and told them that "in this war many instruments are employed, propaganda for arousing of prejudices of particular groups, and sometimes the use of purposeful economic arrangements." Then, he added, "that these are the instruments instead of bayonets does not make it any less real and dangerous to democracies." He continued:

"Unless we in the United States have become so soft that we no longer are concerned as to whether other countries get a foothold in this hemisphere, the time has come when in common with other American republics we must take account of these activities in a serious and practical way. This means going beyond mere words and gestures."
Among other things Mr. Landon undoubtedly had in mind the news which leaked out on the opening day of the Pan-American conference that Mexico had concluded a vast new deal with Germany whereby oil seized by the Mexican government was to be bartered to Germany in return for goods formerly supplied by American manufacturers. Washington dispatches indicate that officials in the State department during Mr. Hull's absence are also seriously concerned over Mexico's action of fostering Nazi control of raw materials in direct contradiction of the whole purpose of the Lima conference, which is to build a wall against totalitarian penetration of Latin-America.

How the Cow Raised the Farm Income

The prices of farm products dropped about 25 per cent in the first half of 1938. Cash farm income including government payments to farmers in 1938 will be about $1,000,000 less than the corresponding combined totals for 1937, which will lower the total of the farmers' cash income for this year about 12 per cent. The Secretary of Agriculture reveals the foregoing facts in his annual report, fresh off the presses from the government printing office. Mr. Wallace says that all the important farm products shared in the decline with wheat and cotton suffering the greatest drops.
"Farmers often seem to be more concerned about prices than about income, and to get more satisfaction, for example, out of selling one dozen eggs at 60 cents than two dozen at 40 cents a dozen," is an observation by Secretary Wallace. That human interest sentence proves that he still has the "editorial-swing" of words. Thus eggs from the hen house are mentioned to furnish a side light on farmers' practices by the top man in American agriculture.

It is a coincidence that the report of the department and a report of National Dairy Products corporation to stockholders were issued at almost the same time. The latter unofficial communication shows the bright side of some of the gloomy facts that are recorded in the official review.

"As in the past, the cow proved to be the chief support of farm purchasing," says president Thomas H. McInerney, of National Dairy, and he tells the record of the closing year in which "amidst general declines, milk has continued to pour cash into farmers' pockets, undiminished in amount from last year. In fact, "he relates, "through October of 1938 milk had returned farmers 1,243 million dollars compared with 1,241 million dollars the year before. Not without reason has milk been called the mainstay of farm purchasing power," observes Mr. McInerney, and he adds: "But milk can be a mainstay only to the extent that a day in and day ### and the Worst IS Yet to Come

Economic Highlights

National and International Problems Are Inseparable

The United States government—unless there is unlooked for opposition in the forthcoming congress—has started to fight the dictator nations with their own weapons of government-subsidized trade and financial credits to needy friendly nations.

That, in the view of political experts, is the only deduction that can be made from two remarkable events which occurred during the week ending Dec. 17.

First, in a cautiously worded announcement, Secretary Morgenthau said that the treasury was studying a plan to use federal funds to help finance trade with South America. Coming on the heels of the Lima conference, in which the American delegates tried, with moderate success, to cement cracked Pan-American relations, the meaning of this is apparent. We have been steadily losing ground in South America.

Germany, with her blocked-market barter system, has been steadily gaining, as has Italy to a lesser degree. With foreign trade in its present state of doldrums, private capital is not in any position to fight a trade war in which the "enemy" has behind it the resources of a powerful government. Therefore, it is argued, this government must help American business in a way very similar to the way the Fascist and Nazi governments help their businesses.

Second, there was announced an extremely complicated plan which will give the hard pressed Chinese national government a sizable U. S. treasury credit. As Washington correspondents Alsop and Kintner write, "The high-ly involved form of the Chinese credit all but obscures the vital fact that it will bring desperately needed supplies to the tattered armies of Chiang Kai-Shek. But, however complex the method, supplying the Chinese patriots in an assault on the invading Jap-out market is provided for the output of the nation's 25,000,000 cows' factories, sales organizations, large financial resources and trained personnel are required to provide that market which converts milk in the pail to dollars in the farmer's pocket. Milk and dairy product companies are justly entitled to a measure of credit for this accomplishment."

During 1938 the retail prices of dairy products declined along with other foods. Probably the chief factor in bolstering dairy farmer's income amidst the general decline in farm income as a whole has been the public acceptance of milk, butter, cheese and other dairy products at low cost, health giving foods for the daily diet.

The Crop Control Program

The cotton growers are plainly on record in favor of the crop control program. But other branches of agriculture have shown a wide division of opinion. As a result of the farmers vote on marketing quotas the whole matter will come before the next congress, and the agricultural adjustment act will be made an issue.

It is defended at the outset by its principal sponsors, the President, and Secretary Wallace, who have not waived in their enthusiasm for an Ever Normal Granary.

inevitable that an ultimate Japanese victory is a certainty unless Chiang Kai-Shek is given what he needs. The treasury credit is apparently designed to help him solve that vital problem. The New International technique is to fight wars with the weapon of trade, before resorting to the weapons of physical violence. And it seems that the relentless press of events has at last forced us to adopt that course of action, if only to a limited extent, as yet.

The recent annual congress of the National Association of Manufacturers—representative organization of America's Grade A service and manufacturing industries—was principally publicized because of Anthony Eden's address on democracy and world affairs. But other addresses made there by business leaders, were notable, not only for what they said, but for the very moderate tone they took toward governmental-industrial differences and problems.

In the words of Time, "N.A.M. was obviously sincere in its belief that it is now meeting the New Deal and Labor at least half-way." Almost all of the speakers urged conciliation. Typical expression of opinion came from the association's retiring president, Charles R. Hook, when he said, "I believe in all sincerity that our activities during the past year have brought industry and government substantially closer to mutual understanding, respect and cooperation."

From the Month's Letters

District 58

Dear Miss Sewell:
Nearly three months of school have passed during which time nine pupils have been, neither absent nor tardy.

We presented a program on Oct. 28. Proceeds amount to $11.45. A recitation bench and a sandtable have already been purchased. The remainder of the money is to be used for a clock, thermometer, and playground equipment.

Dickie and Patsy Wert, Mary Lou Bates and Miss Prince treated their schoolmates to candy bars and cake in observance of their birthday's.

A town has been organized. The name chosen was Safety Town. Harlan Klueder was elected mayor with Arthur Rabe and Charles Jackson to serve as his town board. Other officers and committees were chosen also.

Patsy Wert brought several books to school which the other pupils have enjoyed reading.

The following have visited school: Arlene Boock, Marvin Prince, Evelyn Prince, Clifford Olson, Donald Misfeldt, and Audrey Farran.

School has been going nicely. The pupils had charge of the opening exercises Nov. 11. They presented an interesting little program in observance of Armistice day.

The mothers were invited to attend our reading party this Friday afternoon. We conducted a "voice of the children" broadcast at a make-believe microphone. National Book Week was the subject of the broadcast.

Sincerely,

Dear Miss Sewell:

We are all enjoying school, and find enjoyment in using the many text books that were purchased for us at the first of the year. A complete set of the "Alice and Jerry Readers," and a copy of "The Swiss Twins," have proved very interesting and entertaining. These are our new library books.

Each pupil had perfect attendance for the first three months of school. At the present time Dale Franzen is quite sick, but we all hope he will be back with us soon.
Raymond Greunke was the winner of our health contest which ended the day before Thanksgiving.

We have had several visitors so far this year, and we hope to have more in the future.

Randolph, Nebr., Nov. 29.

Dear Miss Sewell:

In looking back over the past three months of school we find that we have had very good daily attendance this year.

We are all enjoying school very much. Our school house had been cleaned and papered during the summer and was in good condition when school opened. We were fortunate in being able to secure all of the text books needed. We purchased a set of the "Alice and Jerry Readers," and "The Little Swiss Wood Carver," for our library books.

This fall we had several watermelon parties and celebrated four birthdays. The losing side in our health contest gave a party for the winning side the day before Thanksgiving. We are now conducting a Lifebuoy Clean Hands Contest.

Sincerely yours,
Betty Sellon, District 22

Randolph, Nebr., Nov. 30.

Dear Miss Sewell:

We are sorry that you could not attend our program but realized how busy you were. We had a nice evening and made $25.75.

On Tuesday, Nov. 29 we enjoyed a visit from Mr. Hanscom. He visited with us and helped us sing some Christmas Carols. We hope that he will come again, soon.

We have had several absences from school because of colds but are all back together again.

We are enjoying a Lifebuoy Clean Hands Campaign. We are all very interested and are trying hard to earn badges.

These cold days are bothering us but very little because we have our storm windows on.

We have enjoyed birthday treats from both of beginners, Ladonna Stamm and Delbert Isom.

Respectfully,
John Sellon, Dist. 77

Winside, Nebr., Nov. 29.

Dear Miss Sewell:

School was resumed on Monday morning after our short vacation last week for Thanksgiving.

During the several days, our schoolground was enlarged, and the storm windows were put on. A new Heatrola was installed in our schoolroom, also.

A large crowd attended our Thanksgiving program on Nov. 16. Twenty-five dollars were cleared, which will be used for playground equipment.

Our district has entered the Rural School Contest, we think it is very worthwhile. At our last Knighthood of Youth club meeting, we elected new officers. Bonnelle Milliken is president, Patty Milliken is vice-president, Herbert Jaeger is secretary, and Albert Milliken is vice secretary. Rosalie Hoeman was chosen as news reporter. Names were exchanged for Christmas gifts.

Sincerely,
Jessie M. Gemmell, Teacher

Hoskins, Nebr. Aug. 31.

Dear Miss Sewell:
Our school started Monday morning Aug. 29. Many happy faces met again to resume the work of the coming school year.

We found our schoolhouse very clean. The floor was oiled and the woodwork and desks were varnished. The curtains were nicely laundered. The improvement, which we enjoyed most, was a new furnace. The screens were also painted. The schoolyard was mowed.

We have an enrollment of 15 pupils. All are filled with enthusiasm for much success during the coming year.

Sincerely,
Frances Langenberg, Dist. 60.

Wakefield, Nebr.

Miss Pearl Sewell: Sept. 19, 1938

School began in District 13 Monday, Sept. 5.

Our enrollment is 16 with one beginner, Marland Erickson.

Sincerely yours,
Dorothy Mae Dutton, Teacher
