Masons Lay Stone For New Building

Bishop Gives Oration; Many Records In Box

Only a small crowd attended the laying of the corner-stone of the student-faculty building at the Wayne State Teachers college Thursday afternoon. The ceremony was conducted by the Nebraska Grand Lodge A. F. & A. M. with Grand Master Walter R. Raecke of Central City officiating.

Bishop George Allen Beecker of Hastings, grand chaplain, was the orator. He voiced the fear that religion is being neglected in the home and not stressed sufficiently in the schools. He pointed out that while the state provides for character education, it neglects religious training and he stressed the need for prayer and reverence.

Officers Attend

Grand officers of the lodge who participated in the ceremony include in addition to Mr. Raecke and Bishop Beecher Grand Marshall George Kurk of Lincoln, Grand Custodian Lute M. Savage, Grand Secretary Lewis E. Smith, and Grand Senior Deacon William B. Wanner.

The program opened with a processional march, following which Dr. J. T. Anderson, president of the college, made a brief talk pointing out that the college through its payment plan, has given the state new buildings, valued at $600,000 which were paid for and which had not cost the taxpayers a cent.

Contents Listed

Acting Grand Chaplain read the scripture and led the group in prayer, following which the acting grand treasurer, Professor George W. Costerisan, reported the prepared copper box containing papers and records of recent date was ready and the grand secretary, Lewis E. Smith of Omaha read the list of contents, which follows:

The Holy Bible; constitution of the United States; proceedings of the Grand Lodge A.F. and A.M., 1938; proceedings Grand Chapter, R.A.M., 1938; proceedings Grand Commander, K.T., 1938; proceedings Order of the Eastern Star Home; annual report of the Masonic-Eastern Star home; record of the annual meeting of the stockholders and the board of trustees; list of regular lodges, trial code, roster of Nebraska Veteran Freemasons, ceremony for Jordan Medal and 50-year button, a list of the present officers of the Wayne Lodge No. 120 A.F. & A.M., a list of the officers Wayne Chapter No. 194 O.E.S., a copy of the Wayne News, a copy of the Nebraska State Journal, a copy of the Omaha World-Herald, a copy of the 1938-39 catalog of Wayne State Teachers college, a copy of the 1939 summer bulletin of Wayne State Teachers college, a copy of the History of Wayne County by Dorothy Huse Nyberg.

The stone was lowered by thirds and the flag was raised by thirds to music by the choir. Masonic grand honors followed and flower girls placed wreaths on the stone which was proclaimed properly laid by buglers from the brass choir. Dr. Walter Bentzack introduced Bishop Beecher who delivered the oration.

Poppy Sale Funds Hiked In Final Report

Final reports on the annual poppy sale in Wayne increased the total reported contributed in last Monday's News to $121.90. The funds are used by the Legion Auxiliary, which sponsors the campaign throughout the country, for welfare work.

The veterans in hospitals make the poppies and they receive 2½¢ apiece for the flowers and use this money for their dependents. The rest of the sum is divided equally between the state and local units and all of the amount is used for welfare work among the veterans and their families.

Wayne unit had 2,000 poppies. Those not sold were made into wreaths for decorating graves of veterans on Memorial day.

Mrs. E. R. Love was sole chairwoman this year and was assisted by 22 women of the Auxiliary and girl scouts.

Depends On Youth

In his commencement address, Dr. E. F. Henzliz, dean of the Teachers College at the University of Nebraska, speaking on "Education And Culture", emphasized the fact that America is the bulwark of democracy and its future depends on the youth of today. He reviewed the unrest throughout the world today and the opportunities for service which the graduates face.

The exercises opened with the academic procession of seniors and faculty on the campus with the processional played by the symphony orchestra, followed by "Alma Mater" and an overture. Invocation was given by the Rev. W. C. Heidenreich, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church, followed by selection by the mixed octet.

The address of Dr. Henzliz followed and Dr. J. T. Anderson, president of the college, conferred the degrees. Benediction by the Rev. Father William Kearns and Rev. James A. Whitman pronounced the invocation and benediction.

Miss Beulah Rundle, class sponsor, presented the class and Dean H. H. Hahn gave the diplomas. Prof. A. F. Gulliver presented the scholarship awards. Rev. William Kearns and Rev. James A. Whitman pronounced the invocation and benediction.

Man Fined For Driving Without License

Donald Denbeck was fined $3 and costs of action, taxed at $4.69, in the county court by Judge Cherry Wednesday on a charge of operating a motor vehicle without an operator's license. Denbeck entered a plea of guilty to the charge and Burr Davis, county attorney, represented the state in the case.

Summer Term Opens On Monday

Students Are Expected To Arrive Sunday

Preparations are being rapidly completed for the opening of the summer session at the Nebraska State Teachers college next Monday.

Dormitories which have been closed to regular term students since commencement exercises last week will reopen Sunday to admit some of the summer students. Only a nine weeks course is being offered this summer instead of twelve weeks as last year.

Registration begins Monday morning and classes will open the following day.

Courses Offered

Special courses being offered during this summer's term are: Rural Education conference, with Dr. W. B. Townsend lecturing, June 29 to 30; Marionette instruction with Catharine Troy in charge; an extensive health education program; safety education; and Red Cross First Aid under Dr. Ward who handled the course last summer.

Another series of entertainments has been planned for those attending the June-August term. The students will be favored with an illustrated lecture on Alaska by Edgar C. Raine, Alaskan and Siberian explorer.

The Coffee-Millers Players will be on hand July 18 to present the play, "This Freedom", which depicts an incident in the life of Benjamin Franklin. Songs and spirituals will be sung by the celebrated Fisk University Jubilee singers at the college auditorium July 27.

Enrollment Figures

The catalog issue of the college bulletin for 1938 and 1939 offers an interesting set of figures in its summary of enrollment. The total year enrollment for men, including college and training school students, amounted to 398; the number of women enrolled was 659, making a total of 1,057, according to the Feb. 6, 1938 compilation. During the summer of 1937, the total number enrolled was 992, 209 of whom were men, and 783 were women. The net enrollment was as follows: men, 491; women, 1,259; total, 1,750.

Seniors Have High Average

Commencement For College High Is Held

Speaking on "A Young Man's Fight For Success", Dr. Charles Durden of Omaha delivered an inspirational address at the college high commencement Tuesday evening in the college auditorium.

The average for the class of graduates was 87 per cent with eight members having a high average of between 90 and 93 per cent. Glenn Giese captured the scholarship honors and so received the normal school award.

Katherine Kyl was second, getting the certificate of the Nebraska Association of Christian Colleges, and Homer Seace of the university regent's scholarship.

The speaker gave an interesting talk in which he stressed the importance of this period in history.

Miss Beulah Rundle, class sponsor, presented the class and Dean H. H. Hahn gave the diplomas. Prof. A. F. Gulliver presented the scholarship awards. Rev. William Kearns and Rev. James A. Whitman pronounced the invocation and benediction.

Musical selections for the exercises were furnished by the training school orchestra, girls' sextet and the mixed chorus.

Many New Teachers In County Seen

Shortage Of Experienced Instructors Seen

While the majority of the rural schools of Wayne county have employed their teachers for the coming year, there is still a shortage of experienced instructors available, County Superintendent F. B. Decker said in listing teachers recently elected by thirty districts.

An unusually large number of changes in the rural school teachers next year has been reported. Several schools will have new teachers; some teachers are shifting from one district to another, and several have been married and are not seeking schools. The superintendent estimated that from 40 to 50 per cent of the teachers would be new for that particular district.

Meanwhile, school districts throughout the county will hold their annual meeting Tuesday, June 16, at which time officers will be elected and the reports prepared. The school census is underway at present and data on it will be submitted along with the reports after the annual meeting.

Soil Erosion Work To Begin Early In July

About 110 members of the CCC are now at work in Winside on the new camp with an additional 90 youths expected to arrive soon. Officers are hopeful of getting the camp established so that soil erosion work may be started the first of July.

The soil erosion program to be conducted by the CCC camp located at Winside was explained Monday evening to 85 who met at Carroll hall. New applications for the soils work were received.

County Agent Chester Walters presided. M. J. Hankins, Glenn L. Ellithorpe, and M. L. Hazelrigg, officials of the soil program bids recently. Work will be rushed as rapidly as possible to avert delay in the opening of school this fall.

The path was cleared to begin construction work on the addition and school remodeling program Wednesday night when Fred Berry, school board attorney, notified members they could sign the contract with the Kingery Construction company of Lincoln.

PWA Approves
Previously word was received by Dr. Walter Bentzack, president of the board, that the Public Works Administration which is co-operating with the district in the project, had approved the contract.

Present plans are to press remodeling work as rapidly as possible so that the opening of the school term in the fall will not be delayed. The remodeled building will then be utilized until the addition is completed which will probably require additional time.

Two Sets Of Bids
Litigation over the bond issue for the project resulted in some delay and it was also necessary to obtain two sets of bids due to the fact that the first group submitted exceeded the sum available. Some alterations in plans were necessary and the Kingery company was the low and successful bidder at the second letting.

Hartington Group Beaten In Tennis Matches
Wayne netmen defeated a group of Hartington tennis players, 4 to 2, in a series of both singles and doubles matches on the Wayne City Tennis club courts Monday.

John Thomann of Hartington opened the single matches at 10 o'clock Monday morning by defeating John Berry of Wayne, 7-5, 2-6 and 6-0. Bus Ellis of Wayne won over Jerry Hirschman of Hartington, 8-6, 8-6. Ray Larson of Wayne lost to Bob Thielen of Hartington, 6-2 and 13-11 and Wayne McMaster beat Bill Lubely, 6-2 and 6-1.

In the doubles matches, Berry and Larson of Wayne defeated Thomann and Thielen, 6-2 and 6-3 and Bus Ellis and W. McMaster defeated Jerry Hirschman and Bill Lubely, 6-2 and 6-4.

4-H Club Work

With the employment of a county agent in Wayne county interest in 4-H club work has increased rapidly and indications are that several additional clubs will be organized soon.

The value of the training which 4-H club projects provide can hardly be overemphasized and each new club will contribute something in the form of instruction for its members which will aid agriculture in this county. The work helps both the girls and boys to create better farm homes and become more valuable citizens of the towns and counties in which they reside.

County Agent Chester Waiters should be congratulated on the interest he has shown in the work of the clubs and the manner in which he is encouraging expansion of this phase of agricultural development.

More Rain

Northeastern Nebraska is finally receiving the rain, which combined with the fertility of the soil in this section of the state and the energy and ability of its farmers, will assure good crops. Good yields, combined with fair prices, will restore prosperity to this section of the country far more effectively than any laws which congress or the legislature may enact.

The outlook at present is greatly improved over that of less than two weeks ago when everyone in this section was worried about the failure to receive needed moisture. Give northeastern Nebraska farmers an even chance and they will produce good crops. The recent rains are providing that chance and prospects are they will continue.

Work Underway

With all barriers cleared from the school remodeling and addition construction program, work is slated to get underway this week. Next fall, students of the Wayne City school will be housed in a fireproof building, one with modern facilities which will enable teachers to accomplish more than has been possible in the past.

The addition to the building will provide space which is needed and should answer the needs of this community for some years to come. With the improvement of highways continuing, more students are driving considerable distances to attend schools which offer them the best facilities for training, so that an increase in enrollment from outside the city limits may be expected.

This outside enrollment is a distinct contribution to the city of Wayne since it brings the farm families who have children in school in closer touch with the city. Wayne becomes their city and both the farm families and city residents benefit by the friendship and co-operation which results.

What Editors Say---

Death's Holiday

It is anomalous and is not entirely understandable. A day set apart as a memorial for those who sacrificed their lives for their country becomes a holiday. Holiday entertainment features, such as travel and racing, boating and swimming, and other strenuous sports add to the number of the dead for whom we mourn.

Memorial day has become a day of tragedy. The death rolls are increasing. In a period of three days the national loss of life through accident and crime grows to disturbing proportions.

But despite accident and death a great number of people strew flowers on the graves of our soldier dead and recount what they did for the country they loved so well. Graves are decorated and programs designed to perpetuate memories of heroic deeds are given the attention deserved. But the fact remains that days when work generally is suspended the day is devoted to sports and travel, to recreation and entertainment. The national headache follows as we scan the holiday death list and mourn for the lost.

We are a recreation loving people. We devote much of our time to the pleasures of life. We work seriously and to good effect, and after that we play vigorously and without serious thought of the cost. On the eve of our holidays we warn each other and then go ahead without heeding our own warnings that might save life and minimize the sorrow that follows celebrations. Our calendar makers print the holiday dates in red but we do not catch the subtle significance.

The remedy for a situation we all regret? The remedy is difficult to apply, but it would seem to lie in greater education and agitation for care, elimination of dangerous sports, education of young and old concerning the perils of holidays, and a greater individual observance and more rigid general enforcement of law. ## WHERE THEY BELONG

National Industries Weekly Review

The Nation's Leading Letter by J. E. Jones, Washington, D. C.

Washington, D. C., June 6—Senator Burton K. Wheeler is chairman of the Interstate Commerce Committee and the recognized leader in the senate upon railroad problems and relief. He states that at the present time one-third of our entire railroad mileage is in acute financial distress. "The simple statistics run into boxcar numbers", he says, revealing the fact that the indebtedness and stock of these bankrupt railroads exceed 5½ billion dollars. That amount was sufficient to run the government of the United States for 5 years 40 years ago.

For years railroads have been going into bankruptcy or receivership for the avowed purpose of restoring their financial structures, but as time has gone on their "acute-itis" has increased. According to Senator Wheeler there are groups among them that represent "selfish interests" who says "are inspiring propaganda campaign" against bills worked out by congress in the interests of the public and the railroads.

Senator Wheeler and the railroads explain the aims of the new railway relief proposals as being a result of government studies and recommendations of the President's committee. Four bills to change the makeshift systems of reorganization, and stabilize the railroads are being whipped in shape in the senate Interstate Commerce Committee.

The King And The Queen

Former Secretary of Commerce Daniel Roper has been designated as minister to Canada with the expectation that he will lead the procession for the United States in welcoming the King and Queen of Great Britain. When the Royal Pair get to Washington they will find everything all "dotted up" for their coming—providing that they look at the new gloss of glory and decorations at the Union Station, made at the expense of the United States taxpayers. Even the White House has undergone changes to improve it as a hospitable place for the King and Queen.

George VI will do a lot for us. He will lay a wreath at the tomb of George Washington, the American boy who made good and licked the stuffin's out of George III.

But Great Britain is a democracy and nothing will be left out in the welcoming ceremonies.

Spring Is In Blossom

It's springtime, the season for professional baseball, for the blossoms. It is the morning of the year, and all nature is awake. Visitors to Washington are coming up through the beautiful Shenandoah Valley, or around by Williamsburg, Richmond and other historic regions of our Southland. Their cars are likely to head northward and many will stop at Atlantic City for a few days of genuine comfort at Haddon Hall, for strolls and chair rides on the Broadwalk, where policy to steer clear of permanent alliances with any portion of the foreign world". Jefferson advised "entangling alliances with none". Today's makers of our foreign policy cannot ignore those historic commitments. James Monroe, the fifth President, laid down the Doctrine to which the United States continues to commit itself on every possible occasion.

Government was new on this continent in Monroe's time. The Elders of those days, believing that democracy would grow up respectfully, resolved to protect and nourish their ideals on the Western Hemisphere.

Cuba, Venezuela, Brazil, Columbia and the Caribbean countries recognize the value of close trade and commercial relations with the United States. But this is not yet unanimous, and much remains to be done. No one, for example, ever dreamed that changes of the years would convert Argentina to European dollar-diplomacy, or that Mexico and Bolivia would be outstanding as the black sheep of the flock.

For more than a century while our nation grew great, the constructive foreign policy of our forefathers was expressed in three main objectives, namely, to eschew European bickerings and entangling alliances, to encourage and advance cultural and trade relationships with the young nations of the Western World, and to encourage respect for human and property rights, treaties and economic obligations.

Then came the World War which embroiled us in Europe's perennial quarrel. In time our strong nation freed itself of the Old World's entangling alliances and with fresh vigor renewed its efforts to strengthen the import, and natural friendships between the republics of the New World.

Today the European call for help rings afresh in our ears. Will the lamp of experience guide our feet in the new crisis and help us keep out of European entanglements? Will we see that our destiny lies to the south of us? Will we cultivate and strengthen an all-American foreign policy which seeks to prevent false European ideologies from being transplanted in this hemisphere?

Mexico and Bolivia prevent the realization of these great objectives on which the good neighbor policy rests if Secretary Hull was right when he said:

"The surest way of breaking up the good neighbor policy would be to allow the impression that it permits the disregard of the just rights of the nationals of one country owning property in another country".

The Pot Boils

The lines are tightly drawn these days between the political factions which are generally described as the New Deal vs. the Conservatives of the democratic and republican parties. As May merges into June the opponents of the Administration are making tremendous efforts to prove to the country that President Roosevelt's economic methods were accepted and financed as "Experiments" in 1933.

Inasmuch as the annual deficits have run the national debt up to more than 40 billion dollars the conservatives say it is time to call a halt. Involved in the debates are the subjects of unemployment, letting up on big business, taxation, etc. None of the informed news men in Washington were at all surprised at the tenor of President Roosevelt's speech to the forum of the American Retail Federation.

He defended the pump-priming. In short he stood pat on the position that he has taken ever since he has been in office.

In consequence the issues have been clarified to such an extent that one may well imagine that the political campaign of 1940 has begun. Whether Mr. Roosevelt will be a candidate for a third term or not is something that no one can report.

But the old fight has been resumed, and the lines are drawn plain to all. The New Deal asks to be continued. Public opinion will decide.

Still, it may be expected that the relations between the White House and Capitol Hill will be kept in fairly reasonable working order. No radical upsets are to be expected immediately, inasmuch as the war hysteria has quieted down. The economy drive is more on paper than a matter of record. The senate increase of the Administration farm bill by 382 million dollars is inconsistent of congress as long as it is attacking pump-priming by the New Deal.

In the absence of tight political lines separating New Dealers and Conservatives on Capitol Hill no very startling legislative changes may be looked for. Farmers might just as well think less about Washington and more about getting in the crops; employers and employees may find an opportunity to help themselves and their country by building up more and better business during the coming weeks and months—before the political pot boils over.

The Royal Guests

Royalty will be entertained in Washington in truly royal ways. The democratic United States hasn't made much fuss over the Royal House of Britain since the time the English troops came here and burned the White House. But President James Madison didn't have much of a military force to show the British a century and a quarter ago.

President Roosevelt is going to let the King and Queen look over our military and naval forces, including tanks and airplanes, as a part of the royal welcome. They will be surprised when they find out how forgiving and nice we Americans are.

War Debts

There are persistent efforts that Great Britain will soon make a token-payment on its war debt. We have been hearing about that for the past year—and no one need believe it until Great Britain makes the offer.

Old Age Pensions

It is estimated that there will be an increase of $1,200,000,000 in old age benefit payments during the next five years, and some of our big statesmen claim to have discovered that eventually the United States will get on a pay-as-you-go system of old age benefits.

Within the next two and a half years widows, orphans and aged persons will be included in benefit payments according to authentic opinions held in Washington. But when you ask if it will be the Townsend plan the answer is sure to be "no". The idea is to have legislation worked out that will conform to the Social Security Act. But none of the wise men of the Washington Administration seem to have formulated definite plans that furnish any certainty that these popular visions will come through.

Trend Of Business

The best possible estimates of the national business situation show modern increases in about 30 states, with 18 states showing less favorable conditions than earlier in the year. There are many sources from which these reports are compiled, including the Federal Reserve Board. Seven states west of the Mississippi and 6 east of the Mississippi, including New York State, show business to be below the national average.

Isolationists and Internationalists

The reaction of the American people to European war threats gives additional proof that they are political isolationists. Almost as a unit they want to keep out of Europe's quarrel. But at the same time, in the same breath, even, they express approval of economic internationalism.

"Wars", they say, "are one thing. So are political beliefs and practices. Let the people of Germany be Nazis, of Italy fascists, of Russia communistic, and of Mexico a combination of the worst quality of all three of these philosophies if they wish. And let them fight over it, if they want to. That's their business. But whether they fight or not, we want to do a little business with them".

This is all very well on the face of it but any business dealings we have with any such nations will be conducted by American citizens either as individuals or acting as corporations. Inevitably these American citizens will be gyped by the outlaw nations. What will Uncle Sam do when they are gyped? Will he take it lying down or win he demand protection for his nationals as provided by the principles of international law?

Is This More "Smeared"?

The Dies committee has been in the limelight again, with a lot of explosive testimony, that has not been convincing, that some of the accused persons have violated rules of good citizenship. Prominent attention has been given to one or two witnesses whose testimony indicated that they were harmless, or cranks.

The finger of suspicion has pointed towards other persons of prominence. Men like General Moseley and John Hamilton do not need certificates of character from a committee that is supposed to be investigating un-American activities.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wright motored to Blackwell, Okla., Saturday to attend a family reunion. They were planning to return within the next two or three days.

Behind The Scenes In American Business

By John Craddock

New York, June 3—BUSINESS—Retailers last week had cause to rejoice. President Roosevelt virtually guaranteed continuance of government spending to maintain consumer purchasing power; while trade revival on the grand scale was envisioned by Otto Lorenz, management engineer, who told a National Retail Dry-goods Association convention that installment selling is paving the way for the greatest expansion of credit this country has ever seen. It is noteworthy that more consumers today are using installment financing to buy the relatively higher priced merchandise in which industry has invested millions to create exceptional standards of safety and service. The amount of protection against blow-outs and skidding afforded by cheaper auto tires, for example, cannot be compared to that afforded by truly scientifically designed first-line tires.

With average worker salary below $30 a week, the proper expansion of budget buying is becoming recognized as a socially and economically justified prerequisite for the mass market's purchase of industry's acc products, whether they be tires, radios, autos, refrigerators or other merchandise. This trend is also viewed as a powerful force for reemployment.

Farmers To Inspect Top Guernsey Herds

Nebraska farmers will have an opportunity to inspect some of the best Guernsey dairy herds in the state at tours this week in Douglas and Lancaster counties, sponsored by the Nebraska Guernsey Breeders association.

Herd improvement through a feeding-weeding-breeding program will feature the combined tour and picnic in Douglas county June 7 and in Lancaster county June 9. During the Douglas county tour Wednesday, R. L. Holden, field representative of the American Guernsey Cattle club will talk on "Making the Dairy Herd Pay", and George Trimbacher, dairy herdsman from the University of Nebraska college of agriculture, will discuss, "Feeding and Management of the Dairy Herd".

WPA Hopper Control Project Wins Approval

W. P. Canning advised County Agent Chester Walters that the W.P.A. project for Grasshopper Control had been approved. It will now be possible to have sufficient help to keep poisoned bait available at all times.

There are three distributing points in the county at the present time. They are located at Wayne, Winside, and Carroll. The bait is available at Carroll and Winside on Wednesdays, and Saturdays of each week. Mr. Walter is anxious to have poison spread on every farm.

The "hatch" is nearly complete and if poison is spread now it will be much more satisfactory than where the hoppers are grown and spread over the entire fields. A great many hoppers have wings at the present time.

"Everything That Wears Feathers" Will Be at World's Poultry Congress

Housed in the Hall of Live Poultry at the Seventh World's Poultry Congress and Exposition in Cleveland, Ohio, July 28 to August 7, 1939, will be probably the most comprehensive display of all breeds and varieties of poultry ever gathered under one roof. It is the purpose of Congress officials to gather and display here representative specimens of every known breed and variety. Asked what the word "poultry" denoted as applied to this exposition, one official has replied—"Everything that wears feathers." Here the visitor will see every breed of chicken from the familiar breeds of our neighboring farm yards to rare and exotic varieties from out of the way corners of the world. There will be ducks and geese and turkeys, pigeons, water fowl and other types of common and rare feather bearing specimens. Here before the eye will range a vision of color and graceful line that would surpass any "beauty parade" for interest. Even the most experienced poultryman will find himself confronted by surprise after surprise as he encounters many of our lesser known breeds, colorful fowl from the tropics, rare breeds from far off Asia and little known varieties from the out-of-the-way corners of the world. To Congress visitors the Hall of Live Poultry will be a source of new-found interest and pleasure—and a most worth-while educational feature.

Impressive Memorial Day Services Conducted

Interesting View Of World Today Presented

Impressive Memorial Day services, which were climaxed with an interesting address by Dr. Charles Durden, minister of Omaha's First Baptist church, marked Wayne's observance of the day. Wayne Legion was in charge of the service, the college co-operating. Auxiliary had charge of the decoration of the graves.

Dr. Durden emphasized the necessity for peace and tolerance in the world today in his address Tuesday morning of last week at the college willow bowl.

The importance of persons paying tribute to those who have sacrificed—for them was also stressed as the speaker lauded real appreciation and recalled experiences in his past life when he officiated with a Catholic priest when the first St. Louis boys sacrificed their lives for their country.

Real America'

Dr. Durden termed the middle west "real America" today. This section, devoid of dangerous accents and foreign thoughts heard on either coast, "will be the last stand of American principle and spirit, if there needs to be when the odds are against him, be a last stand".

The speaker commended the way Canada and the United States lived together peacefully only an imaginary line between them. The batteries at eastern and western harbors in Canada are turned toward the sea never southward. "This can be done where the spirit of democracy prevails and it is the only place on earth it can be done," stated Dr. Durden.

World conditions were outlined briefly by the speaker who stated that it is now a certainty that the war in Spain was a deliberate attempt of totalitarian states to start a world war which was prevented only by excessive patience of democracies. The end of that Spanish war is not yet here, Dr. Durden warned. The Nazi are stronger and the far east is within their view.

Hitler, not Chamberlain, lost at Munich, the speaker added. For Hitler then passed up the opportunity to win world war. Paris, London, in fact Europe was at the mercy of Hitler at the time of the Munich conference. Hitler was prepared and the democracies were not. Since then defenses have been strengthened until they are adequate to hold back the "mad men", Hitler and Mussolini. Hitler will never fight the last stand of American principle and spirit, if there needs to be when the odds are against him,

Nebraska Leads Again

Nebraska, known everywhere for its social and economic leadership, became the testing ground one year ago for an experiment unique in the history of American industry—the self-regulatory program of the Nebraska Brewers and Beer Distributors Committee.

Organized to shut off the beer supply from outlets operating against the public welfare and to the detriment of the large majority of law-abiding retailers, our program won the instant approval of state, county and municipal officials, community leaders and the public press.

No longer an experiment but a proved success, thanks to the cooperation and efficiency of the Nebraska Liquor Control Commission, this plan for self-regulation has been used as the model for other state self-regulatory programs under the sponsorship of the United Brewers Industrial Foundation. Similar programs are now functioning in Kansas, Alabama, Tennessee, North Carolina and Maine. The Foundation plans to extend this work gradually, as facilities permit, throughout the country.

The announcement of our program on June 5, 1938, was widely hailed in Nebraska as our definite pledge to work shoulder-to-shoulder with law-enforcement authorities on behalf of the public interest.

Now, as our second year begins, we renew our pledge to assist the forces of law and order in eliminating anti-social conditions surrounding the sale of beer.

Nebraska Brewers and Beer Distributors Committee

Charles E. Sandall, State Director

710 First National Bank Bldg., Lincoln, Nebr.

Dr. Durden thinks, and this will probably prevent a world war.

Danger Spots

In the east China lies at the mercy of a well-organized military machine, Dr. Durden believes. Japs are hiring Chinese to assassinate their own people. They are breaking down the morale of the Chinese home.

War would break out in Africa before it would in Europe and even before it would spread from China, in Dr. Durden's opinion. Hitler is prepared to turn his African colony into an airplane port and from there to South America is the shortest hop across the ocean. And South America is the shortest hop across the ocean. And South America is being stirred to an economic war led by Hitler.

World conditions were outlined briefly by the speaker who stated that it is now a certainty that the war in Spain was a deliberate attempt of totalitarian states to start a world war which was prevented only by excessive patience of democracies. The end of that Spanish war is not yet here, Dr. Durden warned. The Nazi are stronger and the far east is within their view.

1100 Head Of Sheep Dipped Near Carroll

Program Also Is Presented At Morris Farm

Early Thursday morning the dipping procedure started at the farm of C. H. Morris near Carroll. Truck loads of sheep were moving toward Morris farm from all parts of the county.

When the last load was finished, the total number dipped was well over 1100 head. At noon the dipping was stopped and baskets, heaped with food, were taken out of the many cars in the yard of Mr. Morris's farmstead. There was an abundance of potato salad, baked beans, sausage, sandwiches, weiners, pickels, fruitsalad, pie, cake, coffee and iced tea.

Following the lunch a short program was given by the pupils of school district 44, under the direction of Miss Evelyn Morris.

Wayne municipal band, directed by Prof. F. C. Reed, played at the services, and Rev. Wm. Kearns gave the invocation. G. A. Renard presided. Ex-service men attended in a group and comprised the color guard leading the procession to Greenwood cemetery where G.A.R. ritual was conducted at the veterans' plot. Flower girls decorated the graves of veterans with flowers and poppy wreaths.

Wayne County Delegation To Homemakers Meet

Wayne county will be well represented at the state homemaker's convention at Fremont Thursday, Friday and Saturday as many have signified they will attend.

This county's delegation will include Mrs. A. G. Sydow, Mrs. Ralph Austin, Mrs. Oscar Peterson, Mrs. Laurence Ring, Mrs. R. H. Thompson, Mrs. Valerius Munne, Mrs. Basil Osburn and Mrs. Harry Baird.

Several prominent speakers will appear on the program and variety of entertainment including picnics, banquets and other features has been arranged.

Opera For Fair Visitors
New York—For the first time in its long musical history, New York will hear grand opera during the summer. The occasion is the New York World's Fair. The Wagnerian cycle at the Metropolitan Opera House will open May 2 with "Lohengrin".

The last speaker on the program was Professor M. A. Alexander from the college of agriculture. All demonstrational and experimental work with sheep in the state of Nebraska is under the supervision of Mr. Alexander.

The use of sorghums for sheep feed was discussed by Professor Alexander, who was made available for this program by the agricultural extension service and the Wayne county Farm Bureau. Feeding, disease control as well as marketing was discussed.

County Agent Chester Walters helped with the "dipping", introduced the speakers and gave out bulletins on sheep production. This bulletin, No. 48, is available at the Farm Bureau office at no charge.

The last feature on the program was a sheep worming demonstration given by Dean Owens and Stanley Morris. The boys showed how to prepare the Copper Sulphate Solution and the proper method of drenching the animals. Richard Link who is also a member of the "Golden Fleece" Sheep Club showed how the necessary equipment can be made available on every farm. Mr. C. H. Morris is the leader of the "Golden Fleece" 4-H club.

Limited Profits From Lambs Seen

With "normal conditions", production of lambs during the coming season may be at least a profitable enterprise although indications do not point toward extremely high profits. That is the word passed on to Wayne county farmers this week concerning the sheep and lamb outlook.

Lamb production in 1939, says Arthur George of the Nebraska college of agriculture is likely to be less than that of 1938. Drought conditions in Texas will probably cause a reduction in the lamb crop there. In addition, weather and feed conditions are not as favorable as a year ago in several important sheep areas which will be factors tending to limit the lamb crop somewhat. Marketing of early lambs in general will probably be later than last year due to unfavorable moisture conditions in Texas and the Pacific Northwest which will mean a delay in the marketing of their lambs until a later date. They may then come to market as feeder rather than as fat lambs.

This delay probably indicates that marketings will increase over a year ago after June or July when late lambs are usually coming on the markets. Consumer demand for lambs is more active than a year ago but is not expected to become any more active than at present throughout the remainder of this year.

New York—The largest number of trained male voices ever assembled into a chorus in this country, consisting of between 4,500 and 5,000 men will be heard in two free concerts in the Court of Peace at the New York World's Fair 1939. The Associated Glee Clubs of America will present the program.

Crops - Soils Field Day To Be June 21

The annual Crops-Soils Field day at the Nebraska college of agriculture will come this year on Wednesday, June 21, it was announced this week. Usually several hundred farmers from all parts of the state attend. Dr. F. D. Kelm, chairman of the Agronomy department at the college, says the program is now being planned and final arrangements will be announced soon.

The meeting will again feature a morning speaking session and an afternoon tour of experimental crop work being done on the agronomy farm, east of Lincoln. Visitors on the campus will also have an opportunity to visit the extensive grass nurseries.

County Agent Chester Walters expressed the opinion that this program would be well worth attending. Anyone willing to drive a car who wants passengers to share the expenses should notify Mr. Walters. If all persons who are interested will contact the County Agent, he will help make the arrangements.

Soils With Organic Material Suffer Least

Soils that suffer the smallest amount of damage due to water erosion when torrential rains fall will be those that contain most organic material, H. E. Engstrom, state coordinator for the Soil Conservation Service, said this week.

In emphasizing the value of organic matter in soils, Engstrom explained that plowing under plant residue is a practice recommended for use by farmers on all areas where erosion control demonstration work is being done. The soil that has plant material has been burned or removed.

Farmers who visit erosion control demonstrations areas this year will be shown just how important the addition of organic matter is to the soil. Demonstration projects are located at Albion, Ralston and Syracuse. Civilian Conservation Corps camps doing erosion control work on a demonstration basis are located at Winside, Blair, Columbus, Denton, Franklin, Hebron, Madison, Pawnee City, and Weeping Water.

Golden Fleece Club Meets

The Golden Fleece Ewe and Lamb club met Tuesday evening, May 23, at the home of Lloyd Morris, west of Carroll. A business meeting was held and material was handed out. County Agent Chester Walters attended. The club has a membership of thirteen.

The next meeting will be held at W. F. Bierman home, three miles east and half a mile north of Altona, on Tuesday, June 20.

New Directors Of Men's Club Are Selected

Paul Mines, Carl Nicholaisen and Clarence Wright were elected as new directors of the Wayne Men's club Wednesday night at the closing meeting of that organization until fall.

Dean Allen Cook completed his successful term as president of the club and turned over the duties of that office to John Keith, who moved up from the vice-presidency.

The club also voted to act as a clearing house for uniform closing arrangements for local business houses on national holidays and to arrange for posters to be placed in the various places of business signifying the dates on which the stores will close. This will be a convenience to both shoppers and business men since both will have ample notice of arrangements in advance.

The organization also voted to have a resolution prepared expressing its appreciation for the excellent work of Gus Renard in behalf of the club and the community. Mr. Renard and his family are leaving Wayne soon for California.

The R. R. club met Thursday with Mrs. Walter Phipps. There were no guests, and the meeting was social.

SYNOPSIS: Cora Jordan is engaged to Joe Milton. He is attractive, reliable, and has the same social background as hers. But excitement is lacking. She sends him away for the third time and confesses to her father that she's like the man who'd take her breath away. Jordan, not having forgotten his own youth, sends her off on the search for adventure with his blessing. Next morning, Cora tackles the employment agencies. On a park bench that evening she meets jobless Bill Overton. They borrow fifty cents from a policeman, eat at a cafeteria, win sixty cents more on a slot machine and are now on their way to a penny roulette game.

Chapter Three

The Play Palace was going full blast when Cora and Bill stepped through the door. A dance band blared louder than Gabriel's horn. An ambitious little fellow was running around the place with hot dogs and in each corner a Jap gambling game was in progress. On the platform, preparations were being made to raffle off a sedan car.

The instrument of chance was purring on the other side of the room. Since this was consider life, and death they rushed to it. "Fifty cents worth," Bill bawled.

Cora slammed down her wealth of dimes. "All red."

The dealer had swallowed a quince in his early youth and besides, he had a headache at the moment. "What's the matter with blue?"

"The lady says red," Bill retorted firmly.

"All right, all right, keep your shirt on."

"We intend to," Bill put the chips in Cora's hand, and closed her fingers over them. Then he said fervently, "Shine, lucky star."

She had just placed her bet when the announcer broke from the platform. "Ladies and gentlemen! The dancing stopped. Everyone turned to listen. "Those of you who have not yet bought a two-dollar ticket for this magnificent car have five minutes left to do so before we have the drawing. Then the winnah will be announced—and he drives away in it tonight."

Cora thought this over. There were four or five cars out in the Long Island garage, an auto on the spot would come in handy. "Do we want it? It's our home. We can't sit out in the office all night, can we?"

"Office? Office?"

What was the matter with this girl? Didn't she understand English? "The Park."

"Oh I'll have to find a room, Bill."

"Hey Cora, will you believe me once and for all, if I tell you something?"

"What's that?"

"Will you let me do the thinking after this?" Her eyes tilted almond-wise. "Well?"

"Well—don't talk any more about leaving me tonight. It just wouldn't be romantic."

She turned this over gravely. What was he getting at? Was this the business? It had been nice and pally up till now. Gee, it would be awful if Bill turned out to be just another sappy chick with a girl-and-boy complex. "And tell me please what you think he will?"

He gestured impatiently. "Just roar around town all night and win dough."

She breathed easier. Nope. She'd been wrong. "Oh, that's all right. And in our new car."

"Well, what do you think I'm saying?"

The doctor sang out, "thirty-four and red."

They swung around. Second time in a row, Cora laughed abandonedly. "That's us again."

Quickly Bill made his way to the platform and purchased a raffle ticket.

Cora's number had come up for the sixth time when again the announced spoke. Standing alongside him was the cigaret girl, blindfolded. "The little lady will now draw a number from the hat." He nodded to the drummer. "All right, Sam, let's have it."

A thunderous roll filled the room.

Jammed up against one another Bill and Cora clutched hands. "We are crazy." Cora just had time to murmur when the announcer held up the winning ticket.

"Ladies and gentlemen, No. 668 wins the sedan." A murmur ran

"Cora is getting more adventure than she bargained for. Even have for an encounter with a dangerous gunman. Can they escape this new peril? Don't miss the next exciting episode."

A number of other people strive to mislead citizens by saying they are a branch of the Salvation army or that they do a work similar to the Salvation Army. The public is warned against giving to these organizations that misrepresent themselves. If you desire to give to the Salvation Army be sure the Red Shield is upon the truck or upon the card.

State Relief Will Cost Over Million

Budget To Provide $7,027,710 For Assistance

The basis of $8,400,000 for state relief for the coming biennium is estimated to leave $7,027,710 for assistance proper after all administration, certification, and surplus commodity costs are met. Director Vandemoer of the state assistance division computed Saturday.

Three percent will go for state and county administration; which is $252,000; $178,000 will be used for crippled children, child welfare services and boarding homes; and 8 percent, $637,800, will go to certification and surplus.

Total of these is $1,067,600 leaving $7,832,400. Four and 5 percent will be used for county administration or $305,600, leaving the total for relief. Douglas is the only county which may use 5 percent for administration.

Local Girl Among 100 To Attend Girls' State

Interesting Program Slated For Annual Camp

One hundred alert Nebraska girls are busily preparing this week for their participation in the first annual Cornhusker Girls' State to be held at Camp Kimball, June 10 to 15 inclusive.

Miss Marjorie Harrison, a junior at Wayne High, will represent this city at Girls' State. She was selected by a committee of three from this district from a group of four girls previously chosen by classroom vote from local schools. Two were selected from the high school and two from the training school with the following factors considered: Scholarship; citizenship; personality; sportsmanship and general health.

Miss Harrison will leave Wednesday for the opening of Girls' State. Members of the committee who selected her to represent this district were Mrs. James C. Miller, Mrs. Dierking and Paul Mines. Local sponsors are the American Legion Auxiliary, Woman's Club and Business and Professional Women of Wayne. Girls' State sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary, state department, is planned to bring to Nebraska girls a knowledge of American government.

Here, through personal experience in setting up their own city and state governments, electing their own officials from governor down, observing their own legislature, city council, courts and law enforcement agencies, these girls will learn to understand government. They will learn to respect it, to preserve it. Each girl should leave with the knowledge that government is just what she makes it.

Some of the problems to be considered during Girls' State are: Sales taxes, state civil service, state police, free text books, social security, jury service, health care, city taxes, city schools, parks, zoning laws, and traffic laws.

Booklet Prepared

Advance preparations of the girls include the study of a booklet entitled "Nebraska Government in Brief" prepared by John E. Curtiss, Hugo Srb, Robert Van Pelt, Judge Edward F. Carter, Prof. Lane W. Lancaster, Charles F. Dienst, deputy state superintendent of public instruction, Barlow NYC, Roger V. Shumate, director of research, Nebraska legislative council and T. S. Robe, superintendent of schools, Columbus, O.

Other matters which must be attended to in advance are the assemblage of proper clothing and a medical examination by local physician. The list of what to bring to camp includes such items as shirts, shorts, extra shoes, bathing suit, pajamas and bathrobe. Also, bath towels, blankets and soap and if desired, Kodak, flashlight and musical instruments.

Girls' State will officially open Saturday, June 10. Girls will report to Camp Kiwanis at 1 o'clock that day. The first meal for the girls will be served that evening. Camp will continue until Thursday afternoon, June 15, the last meal to be served at noon that day. All foods will be prepared under the direction of a skilled dietician.

The health of the girls is to be carefully checked — each girl bringing with her a statement from her local physician. On Saturday, June 10, soon after arrival, there will be a physical check-up by Dr. Mary Bitner, Fullerton, assisted by Mrs. Clyde Krause, Albion.

Upon arrival, the girls will be divided into three cities named after the first three department presidents, Penneycenter, Warnerville, Ackerman City; all comprising one county to be known as McGlasson county, named for Mrs. C. E. McGlasson, state hospital and poppy director.

Although Girls' State is primarily a place for instruction, plenty of time will be provided for recreation of various kinds. Special evening programs are being arranged. Swimming, boating, picnics, campfires will also be featured events.

Sponsors, parents and friends will be welcome during the entire period. They are especially urged to attend the evening programs. Many will also wish to visit during the day when actual governmental work is in progress.

Sunday morning at 9 there will be a religious service at which Mrs. Herbert Brownell, who this year received the Kiwanis award for distinguished service, will address the girls.

Monday evening, when the Girls' State governor is to be inaugurated, will be of interest to the public. Featured on this program will be Governor and Mrs. R. L. Cochran. Of special interest also will be the awarding of diplomas, presentation of honors group and farewell address of Girls' State governor on Thursday afternoon from 1:30 to 2.

A summary of the daily program follows:

Saturday, June 10—Examination on Nebraska government, assignment to political parties. Sunday—Religious services and primary filings and in the afternoon primary election. Evening, speeches by political candidates.

Monday—Party conventions and caucuses, general election. Legislature organized. Evening, inauguration of Girls' State governor and addresses.

Tuesday—Supreme Court in session. Police court. Legislature in session.

Wednesday—Organization of city governments. Talk on state capitol. Trip to state capitol and university.

Thursday—Courts and city council in final session. Award of diplomas. Present honors group. Girls' State governor farewell address.

The day begins at 6:20 when the girls rise. The girls make their own beds and clean cabins. Breakfast is at 7; dinner at 12; and supper at 6. There is some form of recreation every day followed by an evening program. For Tuesday evening, a river rip and outdoor supper is scheduled. Camp will be broken Thursday afternoon from 2 to 3.

Girls' State will be headed by Mrs. Robert G. Simmons, Girls' State president. She will be assisted by Mrs. O. L. Webb, vice-president; Mrs. W. J. McVicker, secretary; Mrs. O. W. Hahn, educational director; Dr. Mary Bitner, medical director; and Mrs. Fred Putney, recreational director. Mrs. J. A. Kucera, department president of American Legion Auxiliary, will spend much time at Girls' State. Mrs. Maude E. Peters is treasurer of Girls' State; Mrs. H. R. Ball, publicity director, and Mrs. R. L. Cochran, chairman of patronesses.
