

Baseball as it is played today versus baseball in the good old days when it seems that it usually supplied only the preliminary of a free-for-all was the coffee sipping subject, Saturday last when Carroll Orr, Linn McClure, Al Kern, J. M. Strahan, Phil March, Armand Hixcox and P. A. Pawelski all contributed their bit while enjoying their favorite indoor sport.

Both the present Wayne City team and the Legion Juniors came in for their share of the praise but interest centered on such outstanding diamond battles as the 19-inning scoreless tie in which a Wayne and Madison team engaged several years ago. It seems that it was the custom of the times to wager considerable on the outcome of those old time baseball frays and then hire a professional hurler for mound duty as sensible insurance for the family treasury. Often, however, the pros failed to deliver or the home team found itself baffled by the curves of the opposing team's pro. On many occasions, sportsmanship took a holiday when two bitter rivals clashed and tripping, holding and several other rule violations became the rule rather than the exception.

Speaking of sports, your Wayne Advertiser will offer you an entirely different type of contest in this week's issue, one of the hot weather variety which requires little energy for participation and more chuckles than a Hitler promise. They'll be prizes for the winners, so watch for your copy and join in the fun Friday.

While we have never believed the parking problem was extremely serious in Wayne since a two or three block walk is just a bit of good exercise, the solution should be easy. If Wayne's merchants and clerks would leave their cars at home or park them on side-streets instead of leaving them throughout the day and evening in the heart of the business district, there would probably be enough room for our visitors even on Saturdays. A check of cars in the business district, however, reveals that a large percentage in the most popular parking spaces belong to merchants or their clerks, who benefit most by having ample parking space available for customers. It might be worth a trial on Saturdays in the future; other days, there is usually sufficient parking space.

Among the recent building projects worthy of comment is the construction of a large warehouse at the rear of the Coryell Auto Oil Company station and to be used to house the company's supplies. Mrs. M. E. Way owns this property and is also planning to build a fence on the south and east of the lot, which will be a creditable improvement to the property, leased by the oil company.

Extension Agent Chester Walters continues to be greatly exercised over the possibility that the grasshoppers will prove to be a greater menace to crops than most farmers expect. Admitting that if the rains continue to arrive as needed and provide plenty of vegetation on which the hoppers may feast they are not likely to invade fields, he warns that we may still have much dry, hot weather and adds that he has found enough hoppers in the fields to blast hopes that the heavy rains recently had washed out the menace.

If you want to go to church and keep your mind completely off the services, which you probably do not, we have the answer if you have the youngster. We decided that it was time a Sunday or so ago to take out two-year old daughter along to services with us, trusting that she would be on her best behavior amid those celestial surroundings. So, dressed in her Sunday best and carefully cautioned about maintaining strict silence, off to church went the family, not without misgivings. The first few minutes, the experiment looked like a great success; she was apparently impressed by the crowd and the surroundings. But, not for long. Hard church seats became increasingly uncomfortable especially when the services are far beyond your comprehension and you would much rather be hurling sand at Billy in the backyard. So it was with Babs. Then, she started climbing, first up on the seat, then down on the floor, then

Rebekahs Pick Heads; 100 Attend

Four assembly officers were present. They were: president Agnes E. Jewett, Norfolk; Fanny DeBow, Coleridge, assembly treasurer; Evelyn Lane, Fremont, assembly warden, and Pearl Martin, Fremont, assembly chaplain. Freda Swanson, president of the district, and Anna Lerner, vice president, were also present.

New Parking Plan Tried

Pearl Street Marked Off For Diagonal Parking

Diagonal parking on Pearl street from First to Fourth streets was started last week in an effort to solve Wayne's parking problem.

Saturday evening gave the new parking arrangement its first real test as farmers, busy in their fields during the day, came to Wayne in large numbers that night. Most motorists observed the new parking markers on the streets and it is believed that the new arrangement will prove at least a partial solution to the problem.

The Chamber of Commerce has been working on the parking problem for sometime and it was at the suggestion of the committee in charge that the new arrangement was adopted by the city council.

Many towns help solve their parking difficulties through the co-operation of merchants and their clerks in leaving their cars at home on Saturday or parking them outside the crowded business district. It is likely that a similar campaign will be launched here.

Additional parking space is also being provided back of Kirkman's, Ahern's and Fritts' stores and in the block back of the Peoples' Natural Gas office, Cudy's, Johnson's and Fitch's which are being graded and graveled. Lights will also be installed in these new parking spaces.

All Women In County Invited To Demonstration

Women living in any town in Wayne county as well as all farm women are cordially invited to attend the canning demonstration to be given at the old City Hall in Wayne at 1:30 Wednesday afternoon, according to Extension Agent Chet Walters.

Mrs. Carol Clark Theim, canning expert, will present the latest and best methods of canning fruits and vegetables to homemakers throughout the country at this meeting. The lecture and demonstration, which will be given, has been highly praised elsewhere in the state.

As only a limited number of these demonstrations can be given this year by the canning expert, who is connected with the state extension service, Mr. Walters believes that this county is particularly fortunate in being able to arrange for one and hopes that a large number of women will take advantage of this opportunity.

WPA Project For College Is Approved

Additional $11,614. Provided For Varied Work

Approval of a WPA project for the Wayne State Teachers college amounting to $11,614 by President Roosevelt was reported to The News by Senator Edward R. Burke Monday. The fund provides for the continuance of the WPA work which has been underway for several months on the college campus.

The President's approval assures the project since it had previously been approved by the state WPA officials. The project is for the improvement of buildings, grounds and facilities at the college. Work includes such a variety of jobs as placing veneer, shingling, painting, placing floors, constructing sidewalks, drives, curbs, gutters, retaining walls, game courts and manholes. It also provides for installing drain tile, grading, seeding, sodding and landscaping and performing incidental and appurtenant work.

The projects included are such that they will require considerable labor and furnish additional employment for WPA workers.

Dr. J. T. Anderson, president of the college, explained the nature of the projects and stated that the funds will permit a continuance of much of the work started on the college campus under previous WPA appropriations.

Little Damage Reported But Many Hoppers Seen

There are large numbers of grasshoppers in Wayne county, but the heavy growth of all kinds of vegetation due to recent rains keeps their damage from being apparent, Extension Agent Chester Walters warned as he urged farmers to continue to battle the hoppers.

Along many roadsides and in weed patches, alfalfa or sweet clover fields, they are plentiful, Walters pointed out.

May Be Slight

"If the rains continue and the vegetation continues its present rate of growth, it is quite possible that the hopper damage will not be severe," he added. "On the other hand, if the season should turn dry, there are enough hoppers to cause a great deal of damage."

"Thus far, the hoppers have not infested all parts of the farm, but it would seem highly advisable as a safety measure to poison the hoppers and control them in the best manner possible. A poisoned hopper cannot eat nor can he increase egg infestation."

Bait Available

Hopper bait is available at the coal bins of the Wright Lumber company in Wayne and will be obtained at other points in the county as demand justifies the added expense of additional distribution points. Any group of farmers, who combine their orders so that they order a truckload, may arrange with the county agent to have it delivered where desired.

Boy's Tour Of West Ends Here Saturday

A trip that started as a western tour ended in Wayne Saturday for Wilford Devins, 14, who left his home in Mankato, Minn., last week.

Ray Larson, depot agent, notified the boy at the railroad station and notified Chief of Police William Stewart. County Attorney Burr Davis, upon investigation, identified him and notified the police department at Mankato.

Frank Korff kept Wilford at his home until the arrival of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Devins, who took him back with them Saturday night.

Hangar Being Erected At New City Airport; 19 Pass Examinations

Work On Landing Field, Runways Also Being Speeded By City So Instruction In Flight Course May Begin Thursday

With two crews of workers on the job, one preparing the aviation field and runway for use and the other speedily erecting a hangar, 50 feet by 50 feet, at the new Wayne Municipal Airport, everything was being made ready to launch the summer flight training unit here Thursday.

Although the plan to erect a hangar was approved at a special session of the city council only last Friday evening, the framework for the corrugated iron building was being rapidly completed Monday by a crew of men working under Frank Thielman. Work was launched Saturday morning, continued Sunday and it is expected that the project will be completed Thursday, date of the opening of the flight training course. The hangar, which will cost in the neighborhood of $1,000, will be large enough to house six small planes. It is being built in the southwest section of the field and will face the east.

While only one unit of 15 members is slated to participate in the summer course here, additional applications have been received and there is still a possibility that a second unit will be obtained. Two planes and one approved flight instructor are ready.

Trains Back On Schedule

Service Being Resumed As Repairs Completed

Train service, which was disrupted throughout this section of the state due to flood waters two weeks ago which washed out tracks on both sides of Winside and in the Wakefield area, is virtually back to normal.

The repairs on this line were rushed by large crews of workers and service has been resumed. Damage to the line connecting with Omaha was also being repaired, according to R. R. Larson, C. St. P. M. and O. agent here, with work scheduled to be completed sometime Monday.

Several cities including Wayne have been forced to depend on bus and truck service since the flood until the damage caused by the washouts could be repaired. However, with the Omaha line repairs probably completed Monday, normal services will be resumed.

Meanwhile most farmers of the county have been making good use of the dry weather during the past week to make repairs necessitated by the floods and heavy rains and to replant some of their fields which were washed badly. The majority reported, however, that in most cases the damage will not be as heavy as was first anticipated.

Repair work on county highways is also being speeded although it will require months, perhaps years, to get many of them back in the same condition as they were before the flood.

Road Work Progressing Rapidly Now

Favorable weather enabled workmen to virtually complete grading the four-mile sector of Highway 15, north of Wayne, last week and hard surfacing of this route is underway at the north end near Laurel. Work on this was delayed considerably by the recent high water.

The new highway is being surfaced with an oil base composition similar to that on Highway 15 from Wayne south to the Wisner-Norfolk route.

J. N. Einung of Wayne recently was awarded the following re-graveling contracts in Wayne county: the Norfolk-Winside road; Wayne-Altona-Wisner road and the Pierce-Wayne-Carroll road.

Seven Are Injured In Car Crashes

Accidents Claim Heavy Toll In Wayne

Three members of the George Bressler family are in bed with painful injuries, two other members of the family are injured, Franklin Perkins, son of E. C. Perkins of Wayne and Alvin Meyer, son of William Meyer of Wayne, are nursing painful injuries, all due to two automobile accidents occurring over the weekend.

The accident involving the Bressler family took place Sunday morning about 10:30, 8 1/2 miles south of Wakefield on highway 92. George Bressler's brother, Lynn Bressler, of Wakefield, was taking the Bressler family and Franklin Perkins in his car to visit their old home place south of Wakefield. They were making a left turn into the driveway of the place when a car driven by John Michel of Omaha sped over a small hill.

Car Crash

Before Mr. Bressler could speed up enough to get his car off the highway, the Omaha car and his auto collided, overturning the Bressler car several times and causing it to land in a 12 foot ditch. The Omaha car remained on the road but is a total wreck, according to Sheriff Jim Pile who hurried to the scene of the accident. The Bressler car which was badly wrecked was towed to Wisner.

Dr. S. A. Lutgen and a nurse were called from Wayne to care for the injured Bressler family. After giving them first aid, using their shirts for slings, he brought them home. George Bressler and son, Franklin, who were in the front seat with Lynn, were both unconscious for some time. They both suffered a broken collar bone and numerous bruises. Mr. Bressler also has four broken ribs and Franklin a cracked nose. Mrs. Bressler has four broken ribs, cuts about the head and legs and many bruises. Lynn, Mary Lou and Donna Beth Bressler all received bruises. Franklin Perkins sustained a black eye and head bruises.

The occupants of the Omaha car were taken to Wakefield and treated by Drs. Coe and Coe at the hospital. John Michel, driver of the car, received a fractured nose and bruises. With him was Virginia Long, the extent of whose injuries was not known Monday. She remained unconscious until Monday morning and

Buddy Will Carry Route For Injured Boy

Neighbors' misfortunes often cause us to ponder on the "It might have been I" angle and bring out the best in us. Little Franklin Perkins probably realizes his good fortune in getting out of the Bressler car wreck so luckily Sunday. Franklin has long been a buddy to Franklin Bressler who was more severely injured in the accident than he was. He has been by Franklin's bedside ever since he was brought home.

When Franklin B. pointed out the fact that all his fingers were cut and "the worst of it is, all my fingernails are broken off and just after I stopped biting them too", Franklin P. consoled him with, "You don't have to worry about your paper route. I'll take care of that for you".

Mr. Decker also reported that a large number had signed teachers this year at an increase in salary.

Floods Kill Many Birds

Waters Claim Nest Of Pheasants; Fishing Notes

Recent floods took a toll among the wildlife of Nebraska, but not very serious, according to an estimate by the State Game commission. The biggest losses were suffered in the Elkhorn river, Plum creek and Omaha creek valleys where the floods were heaviest. Nests of many pheasants were destroyed and many of the recently hatched birds were drowned. Most of the adult birds, it is believed, escaped and the commission experts figure that they will not be great. There also was a considerable loss in rabbits. Minor damage was suffered at the state game farm in Madison county where nine inches of rain fell. A transformer on the power line supplying electricity to the farm was burned out by lightning and could not be repaired for eight hours. This cut off the heat in the brooder houses causing the death of several hundred young chicks. As there was between eight and ten thousand chicks in the brooder, the loss can be considered as small. The new recreation grounds near Scribner in the Elkhorn Valley was flooded, but the damage was small and can be easily repaired. New Game Farm Another state game farm is to be constructed this year so as to be ready for operation next spring. It will be near Benkelman in Dundy county where the State Game commission now has a fish hatchery. The commission has found that the smallness of the springs there is making the fish hatchery unprofitable so part of the land will be used for a game farm, making a combination hatchery and game farm of the project. Pens will be built and equipment installed this summer and fall so as to be ready for the 1941 season. This will be the third game farm the commission is operating. Fishing Notes Good catches of crappies have been reported during the past week in Rock Creek Lake near Benkelman in Dundy county. Trout and bass also are being caught there. Many large catfish have been taken from the Elkhorn river during the flood. Crappie fishing has been very good at the Hastings Recreation Grounds in Adams county. Good strings of crappies and a large number of bullheads have been taken from Pierce Lake in Pierce county in the past week.

City Baseball Team Beats Wakefield, 1-0, And Randolph, 7-6

Close Games Won Friday And Sunday

The Wayne City team added two one-run victories to its season's record by shutting out Wakefield, 1 to 0, at Wakefield Friday and then nosing out the fast Randolph nine, 7 to 6, here Sunday. A fair crowd attended Sunday's fray which was marked by more scoring than in previous games. It was closely contested throughout with the wildness of the visiting team's hurler being offset by several errors by the local team. Hits were evenly divided with six credited to each team, but Sommers, who pitched for Wayne, failed to receive as good support in the field as in past games. Wayne took the lead in the opening inning by chalking up two scores. In the first of the second, Randolph made its first counter and then in the following inning pushed four men across homeplate to take a five to two lead. It looked like a defeat for Wayne until the last of the sixth when the local team bunched walks and hits to add four runs to its score and drive Malliard out of the box. The margin was increased to two scores in the last of the eighth and Randolph threatened again in its half of the ninth but was able to score only one run on a wild throw to third by Terry. The only score in the Wakefield fray Friday, one of the best played this season, was scored by Wayne in the fifth inning. Both Wakefield and Wayne threatened to score in other innings and played good defensive games but were weak at the plate. Wayne journeys to Winslow next Sunday, returning here to meet Laurel the following Sunday.

Congress

As Seen by KARL STEFAN

Talk Of War

War is the number one subject for discussion here these days. Before Germany went into France, Holland and Belgium, the leaders of both parties were aiming all their ammunition toward the two big party conventions. Now they are talking nothing but national defense and why we haven't been building weapons which are the equal of those now being used by potential enemies. They are telling each other that we in America must let the dictator countries know that so far as democracy is concerned there is no difference of opinion among democrats and republicans and that members of both parties are united against anything that would in any way make even a dent in our American democracy.

Believe it or not, Uncle Sam is building the latest type of airplanes now. Members are assured that these new planes are equipped with self-sealing gasoline tanks and also with armor plate which will protect both machine and pilot against ordinary machine gun bullets. Whether our new planes are equipped with larger calibre guns is not known but some secrets have been hinted, which members hope are indicative of the fact that Uncle Sam is abreast, if not setting the pace, in the construction of modern fighting machines.

J. Edgar Hoover, who runs the G-men has told members of congress that he is opposed to a "witch hunt" and he can be depended upon to fight against any self-appointed spy hunters who may endeavor to exploit patriotism through persecution of any American citizen during these days of war excitement. The F. B. I. is mighty popular with congress and while the organization may have made a few minor mistakes, there is a great respect for its work in both houses on Capitol Hill.

The house passed the 1941 work relief and relief bill with very little opposition. The bill calls for over a billion dollars. Several important amendments were added from the floor. One of them puts congress on record in acknowledgement of drought as a major catastrophe. A ruling came recently from one of the departments to the effect that drought could not be called a major catastrophe. This puts the departments on notice that so far as congress is concerned, it feels that drought is just as much of a catastrophe as a flood or a tornado. An effort to earmark funds for tree planting failed, but members are told that the WPA has always made about two million dollars available for this purpose and this program may be continued. The plan to make some of the money available immediately in order to halt layoffs in WPA failed, but an amendment to exempt men over 45 years of age with dependents, from furloughs following eighteen months assignment was passed. The seasonal layoffs are to continue, members are told, and some officials here feel that the larger expenditures for national defense which are being approved by both houses at a rapid rate now, should absorb a large number of unemployed people.

May Adjourn Soon

There are many members of congress who are stating openly that congress should remain in session until the present crisis has passed. A resolution to that effect has already been drawn up and may be presented for a vote before the adjournment motion appears. Leaders admit that the Chief Executive wants congress to hurry up and adjourn early in June. The date is tentatively set for from June 8 to June 14.

The only matters deferring adjournment are the appropriations for national defense; the action of the senate on the relief bill, and the last deficiency appropriation bill, which is already in the making. If a tax bill to pay for the expenditures is decided upon, congress will remain here all summer. The guess is that there may not be a new tax bill.

Much interest was aroused here the other day when a group of plains states congressmen were discussing ways and means of continuing the farm forestry program in their respective states. They were told that more than 25,000 people would celebrate the planting of trees in Nebraska on Sunday, June 16, when the Forestry Field Day and Picnic is to be held. Many prominent people are planning to attend that celebration. Many of the shelterbelt or farm forestry projects, which are so popular throughout the Third Congressional district, will be visited. Some of the successful shelterbelts which have been played up in many pictures that have been exhibited to the house and senate recently, and which are located in Antelope county, will be visited by the people attending this picnic.

A petition is being circulated in some states to put the communist party on the ballot this fall. If the effort does not fail some members are asking their state legislators to pass legislation to prevent the communist party from appearing on the official ballot. Some fourteen other states have done, on the grounds that the communist party is not a political party in the sense that the republican, democratic, prohibition or labor parties are. They charge that the communist party is nothing more than an avowed agency of the Russian Soviet government, and its official organ is registered with the Department of State as a foreign agent. High communist officials, including Earl Browder, testified before the Dies committee that the American communist party is a section of the Third International of Russia and acknowledges allegiance to the Soviet union. The testimony shows that the communist party of America gets its orders direct from Joseph Stalin, who is head of the Third International and dictator of all Russia.

Young Tenor To Sing Here

William Horne Is Coming To College Thursday

William Horne, young American tenor, who will sing at the State Teachers college, on Thursday, at 8 p. m., was born in New York City, and has received all his musical education in the United States. His outstanding talents and remarkable voice enabled him to win many awards and scholarships. His New York debut was under the auspices of Walter W. Naumburg Musical Foundation this past winter, and was one of the sensations of the New York musical season.

One of his first major appearances as soloist was at the wedding of Franklin D. Roosevelt, jr., when Hilda Emery Davis asked him to appear with her husband, Meyer Davis and his orchestra, to sing the song she had written particularly for the wedding. Following that, he sang in the American premiere of the C. P. E. Bach "Magnificat" in Philadelphia under the direction of Earl McDonald. He has appeared recently in Baltimore, Md., Westminster, Md., Washington, D. C., Philadelphia, Pa., and appeared there in many oratorios.

By the time Mr. Horne applied for the Naumburg Award, he had had somewhat more concert experience than the average applicant, and his appearance in Town Hall was assured of great success due to that.

That Nagging Backache

May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action

Modern life with its hurry and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking—its lack of exposure and inactivity—brings heavy strain on the work of the kidneys. They are apt to become over-taxed and fall to filter acids and other impurities from the life-giving blood.

You may suffer nagging backache, headache, dizziness, getting up at night, leg pains, swelling—feel constantly tired, nervous, all worn out. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

Try Doan's Pills. Doan's help the kidneys to pass off harmful excess body waste. They have had more than half a century of public approval. Are recommended by grateful users everywhere. Ask your neighbor!

Embarrassing

When Acid Indigestion, Gas on Stomach or Heartburn make you feel uncomfortable or embarrass you, try Alka-Seltzer, which contains alkalizing buffers and so helps counteract the associated Excess Stomach Acidity.

But the relief of these minor stomach upsets is only a small part of what you can expect Alka-Seltzer to do for you. You will find it effective for Pain Relief in Headache, Neuralgia, Colds and Muscular Aches and Pains. It contains an analgesic, (sodium acetyl salicylate), made more prompt and effective in its pain-relieving action by alkaline buffer salts.

When hard work or strenuous exercise make you feel tired and dragged out, enjoy the refreshing effect of a glass of sparkling, tangy Alka-Seltzer.

War Facts

While many questions about the future remain unanswered in these critical times, some of the results of the conflict are already apparent.

First, it is obvious that regardless of how the war ends, it will be a changed world in which we live. That Germany will win the war now appears likely, even though it is deemed wise for us to gamble that we may be able to get sufficient supplies to Britain and France to halt the Nazis. Public opinion in this country at the present time obviously favors doing everything possible to aid them short of sending troops abroad. Even those who favor immediate entry into the conflict as a belligerent must admit that our aid as such could hardly be much more beneficial to the allies than that which we are able to give at present.

If the war is prolonged, the chances of this country becoming involved will increase along with the chances for an eventual victory for the Allies. At present, however, United States is acting along three great fronts: first, it is rushing all available supplies to the Allies; second, it is speeding its preparedness for war both to be of the greatest aid to the Allies and also to prepare for a German invasion of the western hemisphere or our eventual entry into the war; third, a drive against any fifth column activities in this country is being pushed.

It is obvious also that the huge amount of money required for this country's preparedness program will require not only the tax increases already proposed but also some additional ones. Even though taxes are increased materially, hopes of a balanced budget within the next few years appear far less bright.

If major industries equip their plants to manufacture armaments, airplanes and other war materials and supplies, these will furnish additional employment and probably subtract somewhat from the relief burden. Just how long this program will continue, however, depends upon the outcome of the conflict.

These are the major trends today in a constantly shifting picture of world affairs. The outlook may be far different within the next few months. The picture has both bright and dark spots and there is not a great deal which can be done to change it beyond the measures already undertaken or contemplated.

Many Americans are asking themselves what they, as individuals, may do to aid their nation in this emergency. The answer, it appears to us, is that we should be good citizens, observe the laws, pay our taxes and not become people stricken or allow our emotions to sway our judgment to any great extent. The United States remains in the safest position of the major powers and need not sacrifice its liberty and democratic ideals to satisfy the needs of the time.

Wayne's Welcome

While Wayne's Chamber of Commerce Boosters were contributing their bit to the success of Norfolk's Auditorium dedication celebration Thursday, this city was host to a group of Wakefield boosters, who were advertising a two-day program there.

Such friendly visits build good will and Wayne, thanks largely to Ed Seymour, has won the reputation of being an excellent host. It has been Ed's custom to treat such visiting delegations, large and small, to ice cream bars. Hundreds have been handed out to these visiting groups in the last few years until today most of the delegations hurry to the Wayne Creamery to get their treats as soon as they broadcast their welcome and advertising messages.

Such a gesture is long remembered especially by the boys and girls who are included in the delegations and appreciated as one of the high points of the entire trip. Thus, both Mr. Seymour and Wayne share the benefits of the good will. It is sometimes the little things which count the most in the life of a city and so Wayne owes Ed Seymour a vote of thanks.

Selecting Nominee

The republicans are gathering at Philadelphia to select the Maine and Vermont candidate for the presidency. Probably a great effort will be made to arouse enthusiasm for the entry of their choice but with Thomas Dewey still far in the lead but slipping rather rapidly, it is going to require a vast amount of ballyhoo to accomplish it.

With so many pledges of support, it will be difficult for party leaders to shove Mr. Dewey aside even though they realize he has been losing rather than gaining popular support during the past few weeks. Perhaps, however, under more able guidance, Mr. Dewey will succeed in striking a more popular chord in his future speeches if and after he is nominated. Certainly, he doesn't have the nomination clinched and it might prove an easier task to build up a comparatively unknown than to guide Mr. Dewey over the political rocks on which he has been stumbling since his campaign was launched under most favorable circumstances.

At any rate the candidate nominated will be honored in that he will be the nominee of a major political party for the highest office in the land even though defeat virtually eliminates him from making the race in the future. A good example is Alf M. Landon of Kansas.

Losses Reduced

A majority of Wayne county farmers, who at first believed they had suffered considerable damage from the 4-inch downpour which drenched this section of the state recently, agree now that their losses were less than anticipated. Given a reasonable amount of moisture during July and August, county farmers should have yields of which they may be proud for the first time in many years.

ANOTHER ARMISTICE WANTED IN EUROPE

National Industries Weekly Review

The Nation's Leading Letter by J. E. Jones, Washington, D. C.

FOR DEFENSE, OR FOR WAR?

Washington, D. C., June 17—The United States government is actually preparing for war. The President and members of his administration and both houses of congress have been proceeding along exactly the same lines in making these preparations. There is no important show of politics in proceedings. On the contrary the President has asked for billions of dollars for preparedness against invasion, and congress has approved those recommendations with relatively unimportant changes.

The Hitler machine unleashed its terrors on a half dozen helpless neutral nations as part of its campaigns to crush Britain, which Hitler declares he intends to dominate. Your government feels that it must be prepared for invasion of the United States or some part of the Western Hemisphere in case Hitler is victorious and captures the British navy.

A resolution in congress declares that the United States would not "recognize any transfer and would not acquiesce in any attempt to transfer any geographical region of the western hemisphere from one non-American power to any other non-American state". That means that the United States forbids the transfer or capture of islands and colonies now under British, French and Dutch sovereignty, such as Jamaica, British Honduras, French Guiana, Dutch Guiana and British Guiana. In direct relation there is actual fear that some Latin-American territory, or the Panama canal might be invaded by a victorious Hitler.

Any attempt to interfere with any colonies, or territory, in the western hemisphere, will be regarded by congress and the administration as a challenge to the Monroe Doctrine. And if Hitler should seek to violate the Monroe Doctrine there can be but one result — war with the United States.

In 1915 and 1916 the administration and congress prepared against possibilities that could not be foreseen. We said then, as we are saying now, that it was all being done for defense against invasion. In 1917, the United States did the invading. Right now powerful voices are being lifted to demand help for the Allies, even to the point of lending them money and giving them arms, food and ammunition. A very few are talking about going "Over There". Forces of the Army, Navy and the Air are being increased as they were before the former war, and previous to the draft. Now we are for defense. Every one hopes that the remedies prescribed by the government will stop Hitler from coming into our ward. If he loses, then there will be nothing for America to fear.

A Peculiar Question
Television is in its infancy, and the new apparatus and machinery for broadcasting are rather crude. On the whole it is a great improvement over radio in the days when we knew the "cat's whisker", and in later periods of huge and expensive cabinets for clumsy receiving sets.

The Federal Communications Commission demands better television sets, and standardization of television transmission by different manufacturers.

"Even if it were supported by sound technical sense, which it is not", says the New York Times in an editorial, the position of the Federal Communications Commission, would constitute "an alarming expression of tyranny and an unwarranted interference with the free development of a great art".

The Times also asserts that "for the first time in the industrial development of this country a government agency decides whether or not an invention has reached such a stage that it may be offered to the public".

It seems that big radio man David Sarnoff made the unfortunate statement that "we thrive on obsolescence". The commission immediately took steps to prevent too much "obsolescence".

Okoh Eleanor
Mrs. Franklin Delano Roosevelt observes: "We must remember that the worst thing that can happen to people is to live their lives in fear and hate".

Rumors Scotched By Facts

A Detroit writer reports that the effect of the rumor that the 1941 models for automobiles might be discontinued "caused a minor earthquake from one end of the industry to the other". Investigations in Washington indicate that the chap who wrote the story that the 1942 series of cars would be "postponed" must also have recorded a peculiar dream.

The total vehicle registration in the United States now runs above 30 million a year. The first three months of 1940 was a record in automobile outputs and sales. The picture furnished in the records of the Buick car shows that it has reached top production and sales in recent months. As an illustration the Buick figures show that in the first eight months of its 1940 model its output established a new and all-time production record for any single model year when it reached the assembly of its 250,117th 1940 model car. Harlow H. Curdick, president and general manager, gives a very hopeful account in which he says that our "constant goal has been to stabilize employment and eliminate the peaks and valleys of the production season", and he adds one of the cheeriest notes that has come from any industrial leader during these unsettled days, in saying that "we are nearer that goal this year than at any time in our experience". During the past seven months his company's production has been sufficient to give continued employment with practically no lost time to nearly 16 thousand persons. Besides, it is important to learn that in the past seven years this popular American car has maintained its position because its directing heads had the vision and courage to spend more than 50 million dollars in rearrangement and rehabilitation of their plants.

The Fifth Column

What is meant by the term "Fifth Column"? Apparently it represents the activities of individuals and organizations such as communists that are trying to weaken the power of our national government.

This Fifth Column "takes in nuts" but applies more especially to traitors, and other classes of conspirators.

Martin Dies, a congressman from Texas, has been telling the people of our country for more than two years that there are groups within our borders seeking the destruction of their government. Even President Roosevelt scoffed at the Dies committee and suggested to congress that it refuse appropriations to continue the congressional investigation. But the President has recently received evidence from the Dies committee that has convinced him that Fifth Column activity exists in the United States.

The Department of Justice is preparing to take over the Immigration Service and the Hoover G-men will be assigned to the job of watching and checking up on aliens, all of whom are to be fingerprinted.

In Spain, Norway, Holland, Belgium and other countries their "Fifth Column" civilians showed up to help the German invaders. The name of "Fifth Column" arose out of an incident in the Spanish civil war, when traitors turned the tides of battles.

Our own so-called Fifth Column consists mostly of groups who sympathize with forms of government that are not democracies—such, for instance as the pro-Nazis found here and there in most communities, or in groups of persons fomenting Jewish hatreds and other racial disturbances among the negroes.

The federal authorities look upon our Fifth Column as filled with persons anxious for opportunities that may turn up "to create confusion of counsel, public indecision, political paralysis and, eventually, a state of panic", which is the way the President recently described the movement.

Medicine Is A Trade

American medical associations were prosecuted as trusts within the meaning of the Sherman Act, and found guilty. A recent decision of the supreme court of the United States refused to review a decision of the lower court, and that means, according to law, that medicine is a "trade".

Of course the medical profession will say that is wrong, but apparently their objection will go about as far as the objection against the dictionaries because those books spell so many words different from stenographers.

The Debt Limit

It seems to be a settled fact that our famous "debt limit" will be raised 4 billion dollars as the first step of congress to get more war money. The present "possible" one billion dollars yearly increase for national defense taxes is likely to be "probable" in a few days; and "certain" before the present month is over.

Roosevelt Is Their Man

The powerful democratic leaders in Washington will insist on the nomination and re-election of Roosevelt for a third term. That seems to be definite even though the President should make a statement to the contrary.

Leading democrats are now interested in picking a new vice-president who would be strong enough to succeed President

Roosevelt — the theory being that he might resign after the war emergency is over.

Sweet Girl Graduates

Washington has more private schools than any other American city and hundreds of sweet girl graduates have had their pictures in the papers of the national capital and their own home towns, especially if they are fortunate enough to be daughters or cabinet officers, senators, or congressmen, who are partial to the highest type of educational institutions like Holton-Arms, or which Mrs. Jessie Moon Holton, founder 40 years ago, is the beloved principal. All these strong, forceful young people that one sees coming out of American schools and colleges as 1940 graduates inspire the hope among us oldsters that this generation will be able to solve the national problems of our present times more competently than those of us who think we are doing such important work the present mid-summer.

Grover Whelan

The New York World's Fair ditched Grover Whelan, the man who made the 1939 Fair. Now there is a demand for his recall to head the glamor-business of the great show, and Whelan appears to be staging a come back.

The Wrong Thing

If government finds a way to cut red tape and do things they are likely to be things you prefer it wouldn't do.—Topeka Journal.

Congress has not yet given up the hope that adjournment this summer might be possible, but the hope is fading rapidly. Congressmen are interested in the national conventions and in their own political campaigns. They want to further whatever chance they may have at the convention and then, failing to be nominated, want to get busy on the job of being re-elected to congress. The country's business promises to interfere with both these projects. The demand comes from all over the nation that congress stay on the job.—Nebraska State Journal.

Weekly Farm Review

By Chester Walters
Wayne County Extension Agent

Farm Hillites Broadcast

Kenneth King, county agent of Rock county, Minn., will arrange a special feature for the regular weekly Farm Hillites broadcast from Yankton Saturday, June 22, between 1 and 2 o'clock. Rock county farm people will be featured in a discussion of the plan for promoting the sale of more pork and pork products. E. C. Juhl, president of the Minnesota organization for this promotion and a farmer near Lyvorne, will appear with Mr. King to summarize the action taken under the plan.

Other special features will include a report on Rock county farming by County Agent King, a homemaker's period, Triple A comments, farm news of events around the Midwest and a March of Agriculture dramatization on 4-H club work in the midwest states.

The following week, Monona county, Iowa, will take the spotlight when O. I. Carlson, county agent, brings farm people along for the program.

Creep Feeding Calves

Creep feeding of beef calves seems to be gaining popularity in Nebraska.

E. W. Janike, assistant extension husbandman at the College of Agriculture, this week pointed out that many farmers co-operating in the Pasture-Forage-Livestock program are finding this an efficient way of feeding. And, the 1940 spring calves are getting to the point where they will start eating a little grain while nursing the cows.

Farmers who have had experience with creep feeding maintain they get twice as many pounds of beef from a bushel of grain fed to a calf nursing the cow as compared with dry-lot feeding. John Swenson, Buffalo farmer, is an old standby when it comes to creep feeding. Swenson follows the practice with both his purebred herd and grade calves. He recommends that creeps be placed near places where calves are inclined to "loaf". He also believes in keeping the feed clean and protecting it from the weather so it will appear more appetizing to the calves.

In addition, creep-fed calves not only make more efficient use of the grain but they may be weaned earlier and as a result the cow herd is kept in better condition.

Cultivate Young Trees

People who have planted young trees this spring should keep them cultivated and free from weeds. Now during the busy season with corn plowing, haying, and replanting, trees are apt to be neglected. Cultivation after every rain will preserve the moisture, keep them clean, and increase the rate of growth.

Livestock should not be allowed to get near the young trees.

Freezing Vegetables

Freezing as a means of preserving vegetables has much to recommend it, homemakers are reminded this week as vegetables from the garden become more abundant. The practice saves freshness of color, flavor and texture more than any other kind of preserving.

Vegetables which are to be frozen, however, should be used when in prime condition. They need to be thoroughly cleaned and then scalded or blanched and cooled at once. The purpose of the scalding or blanching is to stop enzyme action, preventing ripening processes which impair color and flavor.

Miss Mabel Dormus, extension food specialist at the Nebraska college of agriculture, advises dipping the vegetables in boiling water to scald them. To blanch, the vegetables should be dipped in water that is very hot but below the boiling temperature. Asparagus, string beans and lima beans are scalded. Sweet corn is blanched 7 minutes and peas 2 to 3 minutes. Vegetables frozen as soon after picking as possible are the better product.

The vegetables may be packed dry or in a brine solution, usually in the proportion of one teaspoon of salt to one cup of water. An effective container must be moisture proof and air proof. Glass, tin and fibre board containers are recommended. The vegetables are packed into the containers with or without brine solution, taken to the cold storage plant and frozen at 10 degrees below zero. Especially desired for vegetables is a storage room at zero degrees F. If temperatures fluctuate, flavor and quality are impaired.

Farmers Wives Club Will Carry Project Work

The enrollment in Wayne county project club was increased this week by 15 members. The Farmers Wives club in the Hoskins vicinity is planning to take the project work. This club has previously been carrying the Extension study club work. Both the study clubs and the project clubs are carried in co-operation with the Agricultural Extension Service. Any other clubs or groups interested in project work should contact this office in the near future. The minimum number of women required to start a project club is 7. Of course, in most cases the number exceeds the minimum.

Word was received this week from Lincoln that the leaders' training meeting for women's project clubs in Wayne, Pierce and Cedar counties will be held in Wayne on July 19.

Extension specialists from the Home Economics department at the College of Agriculture will give leaders training, meeting for six lessons. These meetings will be held at Wayne and Winside in each instance. The meetings will include the following lessons: 1. Read for Facts and Sing for Fun; 2. Healthful Living; 3. Home Production; 4. House Changes; 5. Curtains, 6. Happy Family Relationships.

Potato And Garden Insects

Several people have made inquiries as to treatment of insects on their potatoes and in their gardens. Extension circulars are available and can be obtained by calling or writing the Farm Bureau office at Wayne.

Dainty Stitchers

The Dainty Stitchers 4-H club was reorganized last Tuesday afternoon at a meeting held in the Lloyd Morris home. Miss Myfanwy Rees was chosen leader with Mrs. T. P. Roberts as assistant leader. There are five girls enrolled and they will take the Summer Clothes project. Officers of the club are: president, Dorothy Rees; vice president, Jean Marie Rees; secretary, Ruth V. Roberts; news reporter, Margaret Woods. Eva Jones is the fifth member.

Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting by the hostesses Mary Joyce Morris and Jean Marie Rees.

4-H Clubs Organized

Two 4-H clubs were organized last Thursday evening at a meeting held in School District 26. A group of seven girls will take the Learn to Sew project and a boys' rope club has an enrollment of 6.

Mrs. Ed Caauwe was chosen leader of the girls' club with Mrs. Fremont Lubberstedt assisting. Officers of the club are: president, Mara Test; vice president, Verda Peters; secretary, Lois Lubberstedt; news reporter, Mildred Peters. Other members include Evelyn Test, Delores Peters and Marjorie Caauwe.

The boys' rope club will be called the "Rural Ropers". Mr. Ed Caauwe will be leader of this club with Fremont Lubberstedt, assistant leader. Officers elected were: president, Norman Lubberstedt; vice president, Bud Peters; secretary, Don Caauwe; news reporter, Orville Peters. Merlin Saul and Norman Peters are the other two club members.

Parents of 4-H club members and County Agent Walters were present for the meeting. The date of the next meeting has been tentatively set for Thursday, June 20, at the Ed Caauwe home. At the present time this is the only 4-H Rope club in the county.

ON A COOL SHADY PORCH

A hot day—a blazing sun—and then the cool freshness of a vine-shaded porch on the shady side of the house where there are comfortable chairs—and the music of tinkling ice announcing the arrival of a fruit drink. Doesn't that sound restful and refreshing? Just what are we going to put into those glasses of tinkling ice? Will live up to all these promises? Lemonade, perhaps. But we'd like to have it a distinctive and out-of-the-ordinary drink. So why not try a pineapple lemonade? It's wonderfully refreshing and delightful.

PINEAPPLE LEMONADE

2 quarts water (8 cups) 1 quart ice water (4 cups)
1 1/2 cups sugar 1 bunch fresh mint (1 sprig for each glass)
2 cups crushed pineapple Juice of 4 lemons
1 cup lemon juice

Combine 2 quarts of water and sugar in a saucepan. Boil for 10 minutes. Remove from heat. Add crushed pineapple and lemon juice. Chill thoroughly. Just before serving, add 1 quart ice water. Serve with ice and a garnish of mint. This will make 10 glasses.

Or perhaps you've decided to serve your lunch or supper out on the porch some sweltering night and you are going to serve iced tea for your beverage. Here is something a bit different in iced tea.

MINTED LEMON ICED TEA

2 quarts water 1 bunch fresh mint (1 sprig for each glass)
1 to 1 1/2 cups sugar Juice of 4 lemons
1/2 cup black tea

Combine 1 quart of the water and the sugar in a saucepan. Boil until it makes a nice syrup (about 10 minutes). Remove from heat. Add tea and mint. Let stand 15 minutes. Strain. Add the remaining 1 quart water and lemon juice. Cover, and set away to chill.

It "Keeps"

One of the nice things about this tea is that you can pour it into bottles and store it in the refrigerator. You'll find that it will keep for three or four days.

It makes iced tea to fill 8 large glasses.

And here is another delightful iced tea variation that we shall call Sparkling Iced Tea.

SPARKLING ICED TEA

Simply blend together 1 quart of gingerale and 2 quarts of iced tea. Pour into tall glasses partially filled with ice. Serve with sugar, generous slices of lemon and a sprig of mint.

GRAPE JUICE CRUSH

2 cups grape juice 1/2 cup sugar
1 cup orange juice 2 cups water
1/2 cup lemon juice 4 cups gingerale (1 quart)

Mix fruit juices, sugar and water and stir until sugar is dissolved. Add gingerale and serve immediately in glasses partially filled with cracked ice. This will make enough to fill 10 to 12 glasses.

back up again; at almost any moment we anticipated that she would take an unexpected plunge which might result in serious injury and would surely end in screaming which would disrupt services at least temporarily.

She would stand; we would make her sit. Then she wanted to play; we didn't. Naturally, being a lady, the urge to talk was too powerful an instinct to be so long repressed. Nothing tragic happened; we struggled through without injury to her, even without halting the services. But, if you think we had even the faintest idea of what the sermon was about, you are mistaken. So, if you don't like your pastor's topic some morning, just initiate your youngest in church services after he or she has reached the climbing, chattering age.

Our deepest sympathy to Howdy James, whose wife was claimed by death here last week. While it wasn't our privilege to know Mrs. James, we have always admired her husband, who found his physical handicap sufficient to keep him from holding down not one but two jobs and doing a good job of both of them. Sometimes, it seems that those who are needed the most on this earth are taken from it first. But, there is so much that we poor mortals are unable to understand — this senseless war, for example, with its tragedy piled high on tragedy. We can only extend our sympathy and perhaps help a little to ease the pain of those whose burden is most heavy.
