

The best Nebraska political guns of both major parties will go hunting for ballots in Wayne this week and next.

More entries are needed for Wayne county's corn husking contest. It was expected that the excellent prizes offered this year would attract ample entries but only five had signed up with Mayor Martin Ringer Monday and a total of 18 may be accommodated.

Next big event on Wayne's calendar, if you do not include the registration for conscription which this town shares with the rest of the nation Wednesday, is the annual Homecoming at Wayne State Teachers college on Saturday, Oct. 26.

Wayne county's 4-H clubs are due a vote of thanks from this county for breaking all records at the Ak-Sar-Ben when Leland Herman's calf was pronounced the grand champion of the Baby Beef.

A little less mud hurling in this political campaign would be approved by a vast majority of the voters. Certainly the attack on Wendell Willkie's German ancestry in pamphlets, alleged circulated by the colored division of the democratic committee, is to be deplored as is also an advertisement carried in a Nebraska metropolitan daily, which has devoted most of its news to assailing democrats for the past many weeks.

Series Of Political Talks Being Broadcast

Senator James F. Byrnes is delivering a series of informative and forceful radio addresses under the sponsorship of the democratic party which are being broadcast by Station WOW.

Bankers To Hold Meeting In Wayne Tonight

More than a hundred bankers representing 29 banks in the ten northeast Nebraska counties which comprise the regional clearing house association, will meet at the Stratton hotel in Wayne tonight (Tuesday) for their annual dinner and business session.

Champion 'Gift' Calf Brings $853

Leland Herman Gets Dollar A Pound For Max

Leland Herman, 18-year-old Wayne county youth, is $853.60 wealthier today due to the gift on his seventeenth birthday last November, from Max Wolf, Albia, Nebr., of a calf which was born in New Mexico.

The calf, Max, won for his owner the grand championship baby beef award last week and sold at the Ak-Sar-Ben sale which followed at one dollar a pound, the same price which the grand champion brought at the show last year.

While Max tipped the scales at 880 pounds, there is a small percentage reduction allowed for shrinkage; hence the difference in the price paid and the total weight.

The calf came from the T. O. ranch at Raton, N. M., and had been raised on the same feeding schedule which Leland's father, Walter Herman, Wayne county farmer and cattleman who buys from Mr. Wolfe, employs. Mr. Herman is feeding about 450 cattle at the present time.

The award has resulted in much excellent publicity for Wayne county, which has won this same honor several times in the past. Lester Lutt, who showed the reserve champion at the county fair this year, has twice captured grand championship prizes at the Ak-Sar-Ben.

Men's Scouts Troop Seen

Series Of Meetings Begins Thursday Evening

Men of Northeast Nebraska will have the opportunity to become boys again at a series of meetings on troop operation, the first of which will be held Thursday evening at 7:30 at the gymnasium of the Wayne State Teachers college.

FUND DRIVE PRESSED

About 40 men are expected to attend a breakfast at 7:30 Thursday morning at Hotel Stratton at which time the general campaign for Scouting funds will be discussed.

By actually participating in the activities required of Boy Scouts, the men will see just how a troop ought to be conducted, what to do at troop meetings, how to teach scouting by the play method, how boys teach boys and how boys lead boys.

The group may decide to hold the meetings in a different town each week upon the invitation from the towns. The Logan Valley District towns to be represented at these meetings are Allen, Belding, Carroll, Concord, Dixon, Hoskins, Jackson, Laurel, Martinsburg, Maskell, Newcastle, Ponca, Randolph, Wakefield, Waterbury, Winslow and Wayne.

About 30 men have already signified their intention of attending.

College Poll Gives Willkie Wide Margin

The poll of students at Wayne State Teachers college, which was conducted last Thursday, revealed that virtually 60 per cent of the student body favors Wendell Willkie, the republican nominee, and the remaining 40 per cent is supporting President Roosevelt.

A slightly smaller percentage of the students who are of voting age prefer the republican hopeful to the President. Sixty-five of those who will be able to cast a ballot next month favor Mr. Willkie at the present time compared with 47 who are supporting President Roosevelt.

The early entries include Lorense Fisher, Wakefield; Fred Cross, Wayne; Herbert Neitzke, Hoskins; Emil Swanson and Harold Andersen, both of Winslow. Mr. Neitzke won the championship award in the last corn husking contest held in this county which was in 1938.

Prizes include a first award of $15 plus transportation to the state contest which is being held at Dakota City, Oct. 24. Second prize is $10 and third prize is $5.

Notables Attend Club

Talks on education and banking by authorities on each subject featured the regular luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis club Monday when the club was host to many distinguished guests.

Notables attend These included Dr. John G. Neihardt, poet laureate of Nebraska, and Mrs. Neihardt; Leland Herman, who recently exhibited the grand champion Hereford calf at the Ak-Sar-Ben livestock show; and Leland's father, Walter Herman; State Normal board members, Charles W. Taylor of Lincoln, state superintendent of schools; Edwin D. Crites, Chadron; Dr. Walter Benthack, Wayne; Comptroller Fred W. Anderson, Lincoln; presidents of Nebraska state teachers colleges, W. R. Pate, Peru; H. L. Cushing, Kearney; E. L. Rouse, Chadron and J. T. Anderson, Wayne; J. M. Sorenson, executive vice president of Stephenson National Bank of Fremont; Henry Ley, and Mayor Martin Ringer, Wayne; Mr. Belefieff, of Denver.

Mr. Crites, who was introduced by Dr. Anderson, spoke briefly on the purpose of the present meeting of the board at Wayne and praised the local college as having the best equipped buildings of the Nebraska state teachers colleges.

Mr. Sorenson, introduced by Mr. Ley, discussed banking as a necessary institution in a modern world. He briefly traced the history of money - the barter system, the crude first forms of exchange such as sticks, feathers, rocks, birdheads and string, the introduction of gold and silver and present day forms of exchange.

He outlined the development of banks from the early day counters and money changers of the temples to modern banks operated by bankers whose responsibility it is to guard the deposits in his keeping. He told of the value and convenience of checking accounts and the risk bankers face in lending money.

One hundred per cent of the retail merchants are eliminated every seven years, Mr. Sorenson said. One hundred per cent of the automobile dealers are eliminated every four years and of farmers every 10 years.

Five Enter Corn Picking Contest Here

Champ Of '38 To Compete, More Entries Expected

With the county corn picking contest scheduled for next Monday afternoon, entries were expected to pour into Mayor Martin Ringer's office rapidly today and tomorrow.

The early entries include Lorense Fisher, Wakefield; Fred Cross, Wayne; Herbert Neitzke, Hoskins; Emil Swanson and Harold Andersen, both of Winslow. Mr. Neitzke won the championship award in the last corn husking contest held in this county which was in 1938.

Prizes include a first award of $15 plus transportation to the state contest which is being held at Dakota City, Oct. 24.

The contest will be held on the Moses Brothers farm, southeast of Winslow, in an excellent field of corn, one believed to be ideal for speedy picking.

Benefits Of AAA Listed

More Than 100 Women At Farm-Urban Tea

More than a hundred women attended the Rural-Urban tea, sponsored by the county committee and the AAA fieldwomen and held in the Woman's club rooms in the Wayne City Auditorium last Wednesday.

Highlights of an interesting program included an address by state AAA fieldwoman, Mrs. Mau on "How The Need of AAA Fieldwomen Originated" in which she explained the need and benefits of the AAA program.

Mrs. Mau pointed out that the press at first printed stories about idle acres, land which in reality was included in the conservation program, and complained that farmers were paid for these idle acres.

Farm Program Adopted "There was over-production on the farm, yet the farm program was criticized for cutting down this over-production and establishing a parity to bring a balance between producer and consumer," she declared.

Describing the desperate situation in which many farmers found themselves and pointing out that many farmers, producers of food and clothing, did not have the necessities of life, she said that the farmers could see no future for themselves and the outlook for their children was hopeless.

"This condition prevailed even though the farmer had more farm products than he could use and they were almost worthless on the market because the business man could not afford to buy them. The expense of getting the products from producer to consumer was too great and resulted in a huge increase in price after the products left the producer."

Wayne Men To Sign Up At Old City Hall

The machinery to register all Wayne county men between the ages of 21 and 35 years Wednesday as the first step in the national conscription law was ready to function, following a general instructions meeting of election board officials who volunteered their services at the Wayne county courthouse, Saturday afternoon.

Official notice by L. W. Needham, county clerk, published elsewhere in this edition of The News, states that all persons residing in Wayne will register at the old City Hall. College students, whose permanent residence is not Wayne, will register at the college. Both Deer Creek and Carroll residents will register at the fire station in Carroll. All other residents of the county will register at their usual voting places.

It was planned at first to have more than one registration place in Wayne but officials decided later that one would be sufficient with a large board serving there so there will be little delay in handling them.

Registration will be between the hours of 7 a. m. and 9 p. m. as specified in the provisions of the Selective Service law.

Officials in charge of registration in Wayne are E. J. Hunter, chief registrar; Rev. W. F. Most, Rev. Walter Brackensick, W. P. Thomas, B. W. Wright, William R. McEachey, Paul Harrington.

Education And Democracy Will Save Civilization

"If democracy fails, if education fails, civilization itself will fail. The influence of our free schools and our good homes will prevent the crumble of our civilization," declared Dr. J. T. Anderson, president of Wayne State Teachers college. He was addressing the rural service group at Lincoln Friday morning, on the closing day of the Nebraska PTA convention.

Dr. Anderson recommended co-operation between home and school for the removal of misunderstanding between the two factors.

"Good habits established in the home go a long way toward helping the child to be a success in school and the life to follow. Ideals are more potent than reality in improving an individual or a nation," he said.

There was a discussion of high school service work and Mrs. R. N. Gould, leader, recommended the participation of high school students in PTA board work and programs.

In the assembly the new officers and the retiring officers were installed by Mrs. M. D. Wilkerson, national vice president. It was announced that the national president, Mrs. William Kletzer, plans to visit all the state congresses of PTA during her three year term. She expects to be in Nebraska next year. An invitation from Norfolk as the convention city next year was read. The convention closed its three day session with a prayer for peace and the unison singing of "God Bless America". Registration of 431 delegates marked the highest record of a Nebraska state convention. A post-convention luncheon followed.

Drouth Aid Is Assured

Cochran Gets Liberalized FSA Program

Governor Cochran and John Misko of Ord, chairman of the committee representing the drought counties, returned from Washington Friday morning with the announcement that the Farm Security Administration gave them definite assurance that a greatly liberalized program of assistance will be put into effect in those counties seriously affected by drought.

The governor and Misko stated that, in line with the understanding agreed upon in conference with C. B. Baldwin, FSA administrator, the FSA will:

1. Make emergency feed loans to those farm families who require assistance to carry foundation livestock which cannot be handled under the present emergency grant program.

2. Liberalize its security requirements for emergency feed loans. Heretofore under FSA emergency feed loans the government has required a first mortgage on the livestock to be fed. Under the liberalization agreed to in Washington the government will reduce the amount of security required for feed loans.

Baldwin advised the governor and Misko that he will forward to Cal Ward, regional FSA director, and L. A. White, Nebraska FSA director, details for putting the plan into effect without delay.

Both Governor Cochran and Misko stated that the liberalized program will enable drought distressed farmers to carry foundation herds of livestock up to 25 animal units through the winter, thus relieving the present acute situation and permitting the farmers to carry on next spring.

Scouts Join In New Plan

Program Adopted By Northeastern Nebraska Council

Prompt and enthusiastic acceptance of the new "program of action developed by the Boy Scouts of America for strengthening and invigorating Democracy" and announced recently by Dr. James E. West, chief scout executive, is reported by scout officials of the Covered Wagon Council which has jurisdiction for the Scout Movement in 26 counties in north-east Nebraska, including Antelope, Boone, Boyd, Brown, Burt, Cedar, Cherry, Colfax, Cuming, Dakota, Dixon, Dodge, Douglas, Holt, Keyapaha, Knox, Madison, Nance, Pierce, Platte, Rock, Sarpy, Saunders, Stanton, Thurston, Washington and Wayne, with an accompanying pledge of complete and immediate co-operation.

Hailed as "efficient", "practical" and "stirring", the plan involves growth by every troop, cub pack and senior scouting unit in preparation for service opportunities. New groups are being organized to enable more boys to become scouts, increasing the number of those trained for service. Surveys through the years have shown that three out of every four boys of scout age want to become scouts.

In Emergencies

Scouts have been particularly effective in emergencies because they are able to assemble speedily. All Troops, it is expected, will develop mobilization plans, including those that can be used when ordinary lines of communication are disrupted. Such mobilizations show how many trained hands could be had for emergency service in comparatively little time. The executive board, at its last meeting held in Wayne on September 19, authorized participation of the local council in the program, and empowered the president, Mr. Max Miller, to appoint a committee to study the plan, and adopt procedures for putting it into action in the council.

Special Training

The essential features of the program include a Roll Call of all scouts and scouters, intensified training of volunteer leaders, and an intensified camping program for all scouts.

Dr. West feels it is the responsibility of everyone in scouting, especially in times of a national emergency, to be prepared to meet every opportunity for service. This, he pointed out, is expected not only because of the pledge each scout and leader takes to "do his duty to his country" but because of the special training which scouting gives boys in patrols and troops and through the development of leadership qualities in older boys and scout leaders.

Reputation
THE BACKBONE OF BANKING

You can't build a reputation over night . . . or even in a few years. Certainly not a reputation in the field of banking, where people judge integrity by records that go back through decades. This bank is old enough to have established a long and honorable record of reliability — yet young enough to be completely in tune with the times and fully aware of every modern banking need.

More Power, per Gallon

WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE BUILT BUICK WILL BUILD THEM

YOU'LL like the size of this trim new Buick SPECIAL for '41—its room, its softer ride, its Permi-firm steering, its fresh smart style and all that.

But what you'll go for is what happens under that broad bonnet—the thrill and the thrift you get from that husky, big, 115-hp. Buick FIREBALL® Eight.

For in each flame-packed cylinder of that silk-smooth power plant a flaring ball of fire is set off with each spark-leap.

Packed to higher compression than ever before, fuel gives up more power and more mileage — power when you need it, economy throughout the whole driving range.

Indeed, so great is the power at your command that at 30 you use only one-eighth of the energy at your disposal. All the rest is there waiting for pick-up, hill-climb and sudden getaway.

Even at 50 you use less than one-quarter of your available power, and at 75 still have nearly half "on call" for emergency use.

More than that, to this engine you can likewise add Compound Carburetion—and step up both power output and your mileage. At 30 you'll get nearly one and one-half more miles per gallon, at 50 almost two, and at 70 an extra mile and one-fifth.

But that's just one side of the story—the facts side. Only one thing will give you the stirring feel of Buick's thrill-packed behavior on the road: That's a demonstration — and it's yours for the asking. When will you be in to ask for it?

GOP's Poll

In a desperate effort to stimulate the rapidly dying hopes of a republican victory at the polls this fall among their own followers, the republicans have unearthed a poll - the Dunn variety - which Mr. Dunn admits is more accurate than the Gallup poll.

It seems that the Gallup poll now gives Wendell Willkie only six states and President Roosevelt the other forty-two. Of course, the Gallup poll was an excellent one a few months ago before Mr. Willkie launched his campaign of errors but at that time, returns showed the former utilities chief was leading in enough states to assure a victory. Since that picture has been changed, the Gallup poll has lost all appeal for the minority party.

Something had to be done, so what could be better than to unearth another poll which would show Mr. Willkie was leading. The republicans found a man by the name of Dunn, whom it now appears has a much more accurate poll; reason, it shows Mr. Willkie still ahead in enough states to indicate that he might be elected if the present trend could only be halted. It is to be hoped that the Dunn poll doesn't follow the lead of the Gallup poll in the same pattern as Mr. Willkie's support has given a repeat performance of Mr. Alf Landon's rise and fall. If it does, however, surely another poll may be unearthed to further complicate the picture.

The College Poll

The poll conducted among Wayne State Teachers college students of voting age Thursday tends to substantiate the poll conducted thus far in Nebraska by the National Institute of Public Opinion, better known as the Gallup poll. It showed 65 students of voting age favor Wendell Willkie while 47 prefer President Roosevelt, giving Mr. Willkie 58 per cent of the votes.

A similar poll of the faculty, however, revealed that 37 members favor Willkie and only nine are supporting President Roosevelt, which would give Willkie slightly over 80 per cent of the votes there.

Many conclusions may be drawn from this poll. No doubt republicans will see in it proof that the educators, who undoubtedly have studied the relative merits of the two candidates for the high office of President and their past accomplishments, are the best judges of what is best for the country. However, it proves a few other things; it proves, for example, that during the present democratic administration, politics has not invaded the state's educational institutions and the vast improvements made in the building facilities of the college have not influenced their votes. This is exactly as it should be and is indirectly a great compliment to Governor Cochran and the state normal board, whose members he appoints.

The educational institutions of the state should be as free of political influence as they are of religious favoritism.

Congratulations

Leland Herman deserves the congratulations of the entire county on showing the grand champion baby beef at the Ak-Sar-Ben this year and its selection for this honor is a compliment to the judges at the Wayne county fair, where it also won first place.

In past years, this county won the reputation of raising some of the best cattle in the country. Lester Lutt showed the grand champion two years at the Ak-Sar-Ben. Then the drought struck, making it necessary to purchase high priced feed and gradually the herds were reduced. This year, however, the trend is being reversed and farmers are again building up their herds. It is encouraging that this honor should be won again by a Wayne county boy.

While he deserves the credit and was well rewarded when his calf, Max, brought a dollar a pound at the Ak-Sar-Ben sale, Wayne county has also received excellent publicity from this honor. It is the type of publicity which is most valuable to any county and the kind which money cannot buy.

Politics In Wayne

The political war now reaching fever heat will be brought to Wayne by the leading candidates of both parties during the next few days. Dwight Griswold, republican candidate for governor, will speak at a republican rally at the municipal auditorium Thursday evening, following a dinner at the Hotel Stratton.

Governor Cochran, democratic candidate for the senate, will carry his campaign to this county the following day, Friday, arriving in time for a noon luncheon meeting. Governor Cochran has a host of friends among both parties who will welcome him here and who are supporting him for the senate, so that Nebraska may continue to benefit by his past experience. He has made an outstanding record as governor and his friends point out that he has kept his pledges to the voters in the past and so merits their continued confidence. With his election, Nebraska will have two able senators in Washington, representatives of which this state may be proud.

Terry Carpenter, democratic candidate for governor, will arrive the following Tuesday, a week from today, and will speak at a noon luncheon and possibly at a meeting later in the afternoon. Mr. Carpenter is reported to have gained substantially throughout Nebraska in recent weeks and voters will have an opportunity to compare the two candidates for this important office. He made a most favorable impression when he appeared before a crowd at the county fair here recently and pledged his support of efforts to retain and even expand the educational facilities and opportunities offered northeast Nebraska students at the Wayne State Teachers college. He has also stressed the need of higher standards of education in this state and more adequate remuneration for Nebraska teachers, both issues in which county residents are vitally interested.

What Editors Say---

Joe Martin's Obsession

Cagy boy is Joe Martin, chairman of the republican national committee. At what he regards as a ripe hour he builds another scarecrow. He sees the destruction of the free press. It's a secret which Mr. Martin would share, but only in part. He hints darkly at something about to happen but omits the details. The details are unimportant. Just take Mr. Martin's word for it. There is a frightful tragedy just around the corner. We may never get to that corner but what difference does it make? The thing is there all right and Mr. Martin has seen it in his sleep.

Now any organization that can father some of the literature which has been drifting into the hands of people under the guise of campaign material need not worry a great deal about freedom. Some of that literature being put out fairly stinks in its viciousness and its attack on the press.

Wayne High Wins Fourth Grid Clash

Wakefield Is Beaten, 6-0; Still Undefeated

The Wayne High eleven added its old bitter rivals, the Wakefield team, to its growing list of defeated gridiron foes here Friday afternoon by a score of 6 to 0.

While the two teams battled on fairly even terms most of the game, Wayne threatened on two other occasions but was unable to convert the threats into touchdowns.

The high school team journeys to Allen for another non-conference tilt next Friday and will return home to meet the Pezder eleven here on the following Wednesday, Oct. 23.

produce it. Then came the fight not to sell below the cost of production and we had the farm holiday. The standard of living of rural residents was lowered as the expense of farming increased and farmers were included on the rolls of the unemployed.

"The AAA brought about the storing of grain in time of plenty in order that we may have grain during drought periods. It also brought crop insurance to assure an income in a year of crop failure so that the farmer may go on tilling the soil.

Other interesting and enlightening addresses were made by Mrs. Detlef Kai, jr., who stressed the importance of the soil as the base for the life of both the farmer and business man and Mrs. Grace Lutgen who discussed the duties of farm and urban women as homemakers.

The program opened with a piano duet by Mrs. C. F. Sandahl and Mrs. Lloyd Hugelman, followed by group singing led by Mrs. Lloyd Morris. Greetings were extended by Mrs. Thomas P. Roberts, chairman of the Wayne county A. C. A. and the visiting fieldwomen introduced by Mrs. Gladys Roberts, Wayne county AAA fieldwoman.

Wildcats Defeated By Chadron, 0-6

Victory Record Of Morrison Men Is Broken Friday

After threatening to score on three different occasions without success, the Wayne State Teachers Wildcats were defeated, 6 to 0, in a closely contested game at Chadron Friday night.

The Wildcats and Chadron battled on fairly even terms in the first half with the local team making the only scoring threats. Again in the third quarter, the Wildcats pushed the ball down to the Eagles, 6-yard line only to be held there.

Only Counter

The only counter of the game came in the third quarter when the Eagles completed a lateral forward pass, the scoring play being from McGinnis to Bruer to Coleman, who raced 49 yards for a touchdown.

Meanwhile the unbeaten Peru team continued its victory march by trouncing Kearney, 20 to 6, in an NIAA contest. However, the Antelopes outplayed the winning Bobcats most of the second half, statistics revealed. The game was played at Kearney. Hastings staged a last period three-touchdown barrage to whip York, 28 to 0, there Friday night and Western Union took advantage of a break in the first quarter to conquer Midland college at Fremont, 7 to 0.

Invade Hastings

The Wildcats are scheduled to invade Hastings college Friday night and will return home the following week for their Homecoming tilt against the strong Peru Teachers here Saturday afternoon, Oct. 26. This should be the outstanding home game of the season since Peru is still unbeaten and will probably come here with a perfect record.

The sound film, "The River" was shown and the program closed with the group singing "God Bless America".
