Governor Lauds Farm Program; Accepts Challenge

Reports on the success of pheasant hunters and the ease with which one might bag his limit differed with almost every group.

Returning to the political phase of hunting, politicians have been coming in rapid succession to Wayne during the past few days as the battle for ballots neared fever heat.

Whether you like it or not, you'll find it's virtually impossible to tune in anything except political speakers on your radios.

Wayne State Teachers college is preparing for one of the largest crowds in its history at the Homecoming event Saturday.

Air Will Be Filled With Politics

The air will be filled with politics during a major portion of the time from now until election day, schedules of political broadcasts of the two major parties indicate.

President Franklin Roosevelt is scheduled to return to the blasts which Wendell Willkie and his aides have been firing at him for the past many weeks.

Here's the schedule of talks by President Roosevelt and his running mate, Henry Wallace, which are being broadcast:

Tonight (Tuesday) — 9 to 9:30 p. m. Mr. Wallace from Madison, Wis., NBC, regional to cover Wisconsin, Minnesota and Iowa.

35 Years On School Board

Luther Anderson Holds Record With Ulrich, Second

Luther Anderson, School District 74, Wayne county, has served 35 consecutive years as a school board member, a record for the county.

These figures were recently compiled by Supt. F. B. Decker in a Wayne county survey.

The report includes every person in Wayne county who is now or has been a member of school boards. The following list contains only the names of present board members who have served 10 years or more and gives their district and number of years served.

Carpenter To Speak In City Today

Griswold Points Out Several Needs

Wayne county voters, who had an opportunity to hear Dwight Griswold, republican gubernatorial candidate who delivered a campaign address at the Wayne Auditorium Thursday night, will be given a view of the other side of the picture early this afternoon when Terry Carpenter, democrat for governor, speaks at the City Hall.

"I believe that Nebraska should be more of a livestock state than it is," Mr. Griswold declared in his Wayne talk.

Emphasizing the importance of the development of irrigation in Nebraska, he pointed out that we still have rich soil in this state but need more moisture.

Praises People Praising the people in the middle western country as having the finest viewpoint on life and public affairs and said that if there are any danger spots in our nation today, they are in the conception of voters in large industrial centers.

City School Fire Removed With Shovels

The City school of Wayne had a Mt. Vesuvius all of its own last week — in the coal bin next to the furnace room. It erupted smoke and gas several days last week and threatened to remain an active volcano until workmen removed the burning coal with shovels.

It is believed the pressure from the six or seven tons of coal, combined with dripping water from a leaky pipe, caused instantaneous combustion near the bottom of the pile.

The gas which this fire created became so strong in several rooms of the building that instructors were unable to hold classes there.

1,129 Register In County For Service

93 Signed At College; 231 In City

A total of 1,129 men between the ages of 21 and 35 inclusive registered for selective service Wednesday in Wayne county. Ninety-three of these men were students and faculty men at the college. These were the figures furnished by County Clerk L. W. Needham, who organized the registration in Wayne county.

Some of those who registered in this county live in some other county and some residents of Wayne county found it necessary to register in other counties. Those who were unable to register Wednesday because of illness or other good reasons are asked to contact the county draft board as soon as possible.

Wayne county led all precincts with a registration of 231 men and Leslie precinct had the fewest number, 40 men. E. J. Huntermer was the chief registrar in the city of Wayne and W. A. Gerdes in Leslie precinct.

Other precincts, their registration and chief registrars follow: Winside, 41, E. T. Warnemunde; Garfield, 71, Erwin A. Ulrich; Deer Creek, 94, John Peterson; Strahan, 53, Arnold Vahlkamp; Hunter, 45, A. T. Claycomb; Chapman, 58, T. P. Roberts; Logan, 42, C. A. Bard; Brenna, 60, I. F. Kiwanians Enjoy Comedy; Agent Is Praised Miss Lenore Ramsey presented four college students in "Murder By Morning", a sophisticated comedy, for the entertainment of the Kiwanians at their meeting at Hotel Stratton Monday noon. Those taking part were Bill Hawkins, Jr., Bill Redburn, Ethel Gableman and Ellis McShannon.

A. V. Teed presided at the meeting in the absence of W. C. Coryell. R. K. Kirkman urged Kiwanians to support the proposal for county-financed Agricultural Extension Service in Wayne county and explained how small the cost to taxpayers would be.

C. M. Craven reviewed the history of the Extension Service and praised the work of the present agent, Chester Walters. Jim Steele also praised the county agent's work in a short talk.

H. E. Siman read a letter from the Kiwanians of Sioux City inviting the Wayne Kiwanians club to attend their 20th anniversary celebration, which will be ladies night, on Oct. 24.

Johnson Is Improving

Clarence Johnson, who was seriously injured Oct. 11 while moving pork halves in the vestibule of the cold storage rooms of the Graham Ice Cream company of which he is local manager, was reported improved at a local hospital Monday.

Mr. Johnson was in critical condition several days last week following an operation on Tuesday night.

Boxcar Blaze Is Extinguished

An old boxcar which had served its day and reputedly was being wrecked for junk, caught early Monday evening and gave members of the Wayne Volunteer fire department a little exercise. The blaze had gained considerable headway when the department reached there but the loss will be slight.

The Luther League of St. Paul's Lutheran church meets this Thursday instead of Oct. 21, at 8 p. m. Choir rehearsal is Thursday instead of Saturday this week at 7 p. m.

Fred Ellis is improving in a local hospital following major surgery on Monday of last week.

CITY SCHOOL
Troupe number 48 of the National Thespians, the Wayne High School dramatics club, held a regular meeting Thursday, October 17 at 7:30 p. m. The group listened to the six Raymond Massey recordings based on Robert Sherwood's Pulitzer Prize play, "Abe Lincoln in Illinois". Miss Clara Chilson, sponsor of the organization, detailed the background necessary to an understanding of the records. After discussing the development of Lincoln's ability to control an audience, and Massey's masterful reproduction of the character, the members had lunch and the meeting adjourned.

The biology class has been busy establishing its balanced aquaria. Laurence Lass has contributed the latest specimens which were two frogs. Donald Greenwald supplied the class with the plants necessary for the aquaria and Fred Potras brought four fish.

Sophomore English students are studying and practicing how to carry on good conversations. One section of the Junior English class has begun work in the new English composition books.

The general mathematics class has been computing the height of the school building using the principle of proportionate lines.

The pep club held a rally Friday morning for the game at Allen.

Bob Haas has been elected president of Mr. K. D. Hanson's home room. Art Lingren is vice president and Shirley Powers, secretary.

Paul Harrington has been elected president of Miss Theodora Carlson's home room. Edna Martins is vice president and Betty Foster is secretary.

The election of a representative to the student council will be taken up at the next meeting.

Kindergarten
The kindergarteners have been busy getting ready to dramatize a pioneer Halloween story. They each have made an Indian hat and several have their Indian rattles made.

An interest in various kinds of seeds and their distribution has been developed from discussion of seed and seed pods which the children brought. They now have seeds which are carried by the wind, carried on animals fur, those which roll to new places and those planted by people. Eddie Kurrelmeyer enrolled Thursday and is attending morning kindergarten.

First Grade
Reba Beckner's grandparents have invited the class to be their guests on the farm soon and the children are planning to go out and observe corn husking.

Friday afternoon was spent making brown prints of different kinds of leaves. Much interest has been shown in leaf study and different class members are now able to identify many kinds.

Fifth Grade
DeeVee Reikofski, Kurt Otte, Richard Reese, Shirley Jones, Carol McIntosh and Donald Franzen gave reports on the Hawaiian Islands. They showed many pictures of the Islands and told of interesting facts about the people and the land.

The fifth graders had a picnic at the fair grounds Friday.

Sixth Grade
Betty Ann Petersen and Stanley Stratton have been chosen chairmen of the play committees.

The children gave special reports and wrote stories about the ways in which mail can be carried. Six of the children read their stories to the fourth grade. Some of the ways were also pantomimed.

Cancellation of fractions has been taking up the arithmetic period.

Eighth Grade
The eighth grade elected the following officers for the second six weeks period: president, Alice Smolky; vice president, Lois Zeplin; secretary, Irmagaard Otte; treasurer, Fred Ellis; councilmen, Billy Allen, Jacqueline Wightman and Gene Hockom.

Each student has chosen a special project for individual research in history. Several are studying the lives of leaders of today. Some are making maps of this changing world. Others are tracing the development of transportation, the growth and changes of the constitution and the growth of education.

TRAINING SCHOOL
The Training High school students were addressed on Wednesday by Dr. Blake Smith and on Monday of last week by Dr. John G. Neihardt.

The cast of "Ghost Town", Wayne Training school junior class play to be presented Nov. 15 under the direction of Miss Virginia Stroh includes Erville Buck as Bert Roper, the father; Ruthjean Phipps, Daisy Roper, the mother; Evelyn Griffith, Lorna Roper, the oldest daughter; Warren Noakes, Roy Roper, the son; Jacqueline Helleberg, Gall Roper, the youngest daughter; Bill Orr, Charlie White, a colored boy; Finley Helleberg, Dave Shannon, a stranger to the Ropers; Jimmy Golder; Brady Evans, a stranger; Frances Ahern, Sally Fleming, a newspaper woman; Jean Banister, Netta Vasbert, a mysterious old woman.

The production staff chairmen are: Stage, Walter Decker; electricians, Warren Finn and Marvin Smith; art, Evelyn Golder; property, Robert Parke; costume, Mildred Hattig; press, Richard Gifford; publicity, Cletus Shaner; house, Betty Warren.

Sixth grade students having 100 per cent in spelling once or more this year are Alan Daniels, Myra Alderson, Janice Johnson, Marvin Harms, Bill Martin, DeLores Myers, John Neely, Nettie Lou Reibold, Lois Wesseloh.

Kindergarten children washed and dried some corn last week. They put it through a coffee grinder. Donnie Hamm and Ruth Mae Beeks did most of the grinding. The children cooked and served their own corn meal mush on Monday.

RURAL SCHOOL
Interesting bulletins have been received in the office of Supt. F. B. Decker and these are to be distributed among rural teachers if they request them. The names of the bulletins are "Commercial Pan America", which deals with commercial problems of our neighbor to the South; "Foreign Trade Series", dealing with trade problems of South America; "American City Series", in which the most important cities of South America are described; "Commodities of Commerce Series", containing important information concerning South American industries created by manufacture of commodities; and the "Bulletin of the Pan American Union".

New books enjoyed by the pupils of District 69 are "Children of Lapland", "Indians", "Children of Japan", "Jack Pumpkinhead and the Sawhorse of Oz", "If I Were Going", "Enchanting Stories", "Play Days", "Paddy Paws", "Baby Animals", "Playing Together", "Children of Switzerland", "Honey Bunch and Her First Garden".

The third and fourth graders of District 69 made Columbus Day booklets containing stories, maps and pictures about Columbus and his life.

Pupils of District 72 participated in a Columbus Day program for opening exercises. This included singing of "America", flag salute, a play entitled "Columbus", song, "Christopher Columbus", reading of the poem, "Columbus", by Paul Petersen and singing of "God Bless America".

A woven wire fence, recently placed around the school yard isolates the children's playground from the public right-of-way, thus lessening the danger of accidents and making a safer place for play.

the local college's Homecoming fray Saturday, they will be battling the undefeated leader of the Nebraska College teams. Dope will favor the Bobcats but the game should be one of the best of the season.

Coach Jim Morrison's team upset the dope bucket Friday night by blanking the Hastings Broncos, preseason favorites, in convincing fashion, 13 to 0. The game was Hastings' Homecoming tilt.

Show More Power
 Meanwhile Kearney rolled over Nebraska Wesleyan, 25 to 7, and Chadron came from behind to nose out Midland, 14 to 13.

The Wildcats showed considerably more power in defeating Hastings than in their early season games and their lead was never seriously threatened. The way to the two touchdowns was paved by Hastings fumbles, which the Wildcats converted into scores.

Best and Kelly battered their way through the Hastings line in the first period after recovering a fumble on Hastings' 12 yard line. Kelly carried the ball across.

Protect Lead
 A muffed pass from center by Hastings on its own 20 yard line was recovered by Wayne in the final minute and converted into a second touchdown. The Wildcats played a defensive game most of the second half, protecting their lead.

Cochran Asks Opponent To Take Stand

party representing Nebraska in congress thought so little of his (Butler's) plan that they did not even bother to introduce a bill to carry it out.

Keeps Pledges
 Governor Cochran pointed out that during his many years of public service, he has kept his pledges. He also pointed to the fact that Nebraska is the only state which is both free from debt and has not adopted some of the new forms of taxation such as the sales and income tax, which he opposed. He explained his opposition to the sales tax as due to the fact that it falls on those least able to pay and stated that the income tax field has already been taken over by the federal government.

Estimating that this state has saved more than $40,000,000 by operating on a 'Pay As You Go' basis through both the saving of interest on the debt which would have been created otherwise and keeping pace with the automotive industry in the building of roads rather than going ahead of it and wasting funds on expensive highway construction before the less expensive forms of construction had been discovered.

Governor Cochran thanked Nebraskans for their confidence in him during the past. He added that during his administration he has co-operated with officials at Washington to obtain for Nebraska its full share of benefits available.

Mrs. Cochran made a brief talk at the luncheon thanking those attending.

Wayne High Retains Perfect Grid Record Beating Allen, 7-0

Game Rated As Best Of The Season

Wayne High's football team retained its unbeaten and unscored on record for the season Friday by defeating Allen, 7 to 0, in a closely contested game there. It was the first defeat of the season for the battling Allen team and was the fifth victory of the year for the Wayne team.

The teams battled on fairly even terms throughout the first half, neither seriously threatening to score and both depending on straight football.

Pass Plays
 The only pass of the game, which was from Powers to Stull in the third quarter, was responsible for the only touchdown of the game. Stull took the short pass and raced the remaining 25 yards to a touchdown. Stull booted the extra point after touchdown.

Wayne played, to retain its slim lead the remainder of the game and neither team threatened again. In fact, most of the game was played between the 30-yard lines of the opposing elevens.

Line Holds
 Allen's team chalked up four first downs during the tilt to three credited to Wayne.

Excellent kicking by Kessler and outstanding play by the Wayne line played major roles in the victory.

The local team is scheduled to clash with the Pender eleven Wednesday afternoon at the City Athletic Park, and will face Laurel here on November 1.

Getting The Most From Roughage
 A little extra protein and mineral may be worth far more than their cost, when feeding roughage — as many Wayne county stockman knows from experience.

Some additional suggestions along this line have come to our office from E. W. Janike, assistant extension livestockman at the Nebraska College of Agriculture.

Two tons of hay, three tons of fodder or six of silage, properly supplemented, will take care of a cow critter through the winter, Janike points out. Ordinarily this means six to seven months from the time pasture stops in the fall until it is available in the spring.

Alfalfa hay is still king of roughages and is "self-balanced" with respect to proteins and minerals, so far as ordinary farm livestock is concerned. However such forage crops as corn, Sudan, sorghums and other low protein roughages, either as fodder or silage, need additional proteins and minerals to provide an adequate winter ration.

Most farmers will save little or no alfalfa. Therefore it will be necessary to plan the use of proteins carefully so as to make the best use of roughages and bring livestock through the winter in top condition. The ordinary beef or stock cow should get one pound of protein per head daily. Younger cattle should have at least a pound and in some cases more depending upon what is being done with them. Where silage or fodder makes up the entire ration of the ewe on the farm she should get one-fourth pound of protein supplement daily. If limited alfalfa is available (say one pound per head daily) one-sixth pound of protein per head daily will meet her requirements.

Repeated tests have shown that the addition of protein supplements to low protein feeds will increase the rate of gain and the economy of gain as well as insuring that breeding stock will be in better condition in the spring. Quite often stock that are wintered on roughages alone will seem to do quite satisfactorily along through the winter months. But if an extreme cold spell or wet snowy weather occurs they will go to pieces quite rapidly. It seems as though those getting sufficient protein have enough reserve strength to pull through this kind of weather. Green pasture and alfalfa usually have sufficient minerals to meet ordinary requirements. When they are lacking the best thing we can do is to supply a simple mineral mixture consisting of two parts ground limestone, two parts steamed bone meal and one part of salt by weight. The mixture is inexpensive and may be self-fed without danger and with very little waste.

Sorghums are tops again in the state insofar as forage crops are concerned. They lend themselves readily to any roughage consuming animal including horses. When properly supplemented with proteins and minerals they can be depended upon to bring livestock through in good condition.

Benefits WORTH PRESERVING

LABOR TAX REVENUE

AS GOOD CITIZENS OF NEBRASKA you will unquestionably agree that these substantial economic benefits generated by the State's legal brewing industry are well worth retaining and protecting.

- Excise taxes received by State annually approximate $500,000.
- Brewers, distributors and retailers in Nebraska employ about 9,000 persons; their annual payroll is nearly $7,500,000.

The great majority of Nebraska's beer retailers obey the law and are co-operating in our program to wipe out the few "black sheep" dealers who abuse the licensed privilege of selling beer.

THE PUBLIC CAN HELP TO INSURE CONTINUANCE OF THESE IMPORTANT CONTRIBUTIONS FROM THE STATE'S BREWING INDUSTRY BY PATRONIZING ONLY LAW-ABIDING RETAILERS AND REPORTING VIOLATORS TO THE STATE LIQUOR CONTROL COMMISSION OR TO US.
