County Quota For October Also Filled

Induction papers were mailed Friday afternoon to fifteen Wayne county registrants to report to the county Selective Service board at Wayne at 7:30 a. m. Monday morning, December 1.

The 15 registrants selected include one volunteer, Richard Alexander Wallace, and the remaining 14 were chosen from the Selective Service rolls on the basis of their order numbers.

Men Chosen Since under new regulations, exemptions and deferments are not granted after notification has been mailed a registrant as to the date he is to report, no changes in this list are anticipated.

Order numbers and registrants who will report to the county board December 1 follow:

Win All Games The football trophy has not been awarded to the local school but action of conference officials removes all doubt that Wayne is to receive it.

Eight Students Trained Here Now In Air Corps

Four Others In Naval Reserve And Six In Defense Work; Study Reveals Occupations And Location Of All 69

Sixty-nine students have taken the Civilian Pilot Training course at Wayne college during the past year or rather since the summer of 1940, when it was first offered.

Several of these students are continuing with their flying, it was revealed in a study completed by college authorities, who co-operated with the Wayne Chamber of Commerce and the City of Wayne in obtaining this CPT course in Wayne.

The study, which was just completed, covers the summer of 1940 and three other sessions of CPT training, the fall of 1940, spring of 1941 and summer of 1941. It reveals the present occupation and residence of all 69 students who took the training prior to class now being trained.

Eight in Army Eight of these students are now in the Army Air corps: Douglas Canning, Hamilton Field, Calif.; Jack Durrie, King City, Calif.; Merle Hamilton, Mather Field, Calif.; George Lamson, Taft, Calif.; Tommy Lott, Scott Field, Ill.; Floyd Martin, Rantoul, Ill.; Fred Miner, Rantoul; and Walter Thompson, Kelly Field, Tex. Four others are awaiting call to the Army Air corps: Beverly Canning, Wayne; Allan Mitchell, Rogers; John O'Gara, Long Beach, Calif.; and Gerald Wright, Jackson, Mich.

Wayne High Awarded Title, Land 3 Men On All Conference Team

Kessler, Stull, Johnson Chosen; Stull Leads Scoring

Wayne High school was designated as the football champions of 1941 of the Northeast Nebraska High School conference at a meeting of conference officials at Randolph last week and three members of the Wayne Blues were named on the all-conference team.

Blues selected for the conference eleven are Joe Kessler, Bob Stull and Rex Johnson. Two of their team-mates, Don Harvey and Don Greenwald, won berths on the all-conference second team.

Honorable mention was given four other Wayne gridiron stars: Ray Murray, DeWayne Tilton, Donald McPherran and Bob Harlison.

Stull Leads The three Wayne players who won places on the all-conference team and Saloum, Creighton back, were the only four players to receive the votes of all the coaches who selected the all-conference team.

Stull of Wayne captured conference scoring honors with a total of 86 points to his credit in conference games alone and Joe Kessler placed fourth in conference scoring with a total of 43 points. Stull piled up the impressive total of 123 points for Wayne during the entire season while Kessler was second among the Blues with 66.

The football trophy has not been awarded to the local school but action of conference officials removes all doubt that Wayne is to receive it. This past football season was the second successive year that the Wayne High team, coached by Frank Sullivan, has won all its games. In fact, the team had a perfect season in 1940, not only winning all its games but keeping its opponents scoreless. However, Wayne was not awarded the championship last year because it did not have a sufficient number of conference games scheduled to qualify.

Northeast Nebraska All-Conference Team

The Northeast Nebraska All-Conference team selected by the coaches of the teams at a meeting last week follows:

- Center-Garvin, Hartington High. Guards-Bruner, Bloomfield High, and Hyens, Creighton High. Tackles-Johnson, Wayne High, and C. Newton, Bloomfield. Ends-Walters, Bloomfield High, and Calhoun, Hartington High. Backs-Saloum, Creighton High, Wilson, Bloomfield High, Stull and Kessler, both of Wayne High.

Business will halt throughout the day in Wayne as Thanksgiving is one of the five holidays observed by local business firms during the year. Local schools will close for the Thanksgiving holiday at the end of classes Wednesday afternoon until Monday.

The regular deliveries will be made on the rural routes, whose carriers enjoyed their turkey last Thursday, but only one light mail delivery will be made in Wayne Thanksgiving Day, according to J. M. Strahan, postmaster. The local postoffice force remained on duty last Thursday so will observe the holiday this week.

Nominees Being Picked

Seven Directors For C. Of C. To Be Chosen On Dec. 2

Plans for the annual election of directors for the Wayne Chamber of Commerce at a membership meeting at the Municipal auditorium Tuesday evening of next week are progressing and tentative arrangement for a prominent speaker have been made.

Carl Wright, Rollie Ley and Jim Ahern, comprise the nominating committee which will name two members for each of the seven places on the board to be filled this year. Eight members of the present board have another year to serve.

Slips, which were mailed to each member to suggest nominees for directors, are being returned now to the Chamber of Commerce office and will help guide the committee in making its selection. Nominations may be made from the floor and every member is urged to attend and have a voice in selecting the directors. The seven directors whose terms expire are not eligible for re-election so the board, which maps the general policies of the organization, will have seven new members.

Few County Fields Top 100 Bushels

Bressler Field Of 45 Acres Has 106 Average

The most corn I've ever seen and more than I ever expect to see again in one field" is the way John Bressler describes the yield of his field on the old Country Club road, east of Wayne. The field which includes 45 and a fraction acres, had an average yield of a fraction over 106 bushels to the acre.

Mr. Bressler recalled that recently when a representative of a seed company viewed the field, the seed man predicted it would make around 100 bushels but the owner was inclined to believe that the average would be nearer 75 bushels.

Austin Wins Trophy "It's the first time I've seen 100 bushel corn and probably the last", Mr. Bressler added.

But the Bressler yield is not the only one in the county which passed the 100 mark. A yield of 110.47 bushels per acre won the corn growing grand champion of the county for Adin N. Austin of Wayne in the 1941 Nation DeKalb hybrid corn growing contest. Officials of the biggest corn yield competition also report that over 10,000 farmers from 13 principal corn producing states were entered.

Such yields are all the more remarkable when it is borne in mind that the national average this year is only 31.1 bushels per acre, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Other Winners Mr. Austin, who lives about 5 miles southeast of Wayne is being presented with a trophy. His yield was certified for production competition by two farmer neighbors. Other Wayne county winners who were runnersup in the contest and received prizes are Maunso Ulrich, Otto Saks, Arthur Young, all of Wayne and George Langenberg of Hoskins.

Bressler To Head Region

Seven Counties Are Included In This District

John T. Bressler, jr., of Wayne, was named Thursday by Governor Dwight Griswold as regional defense district chairman for District Number 3. Chairman for 11 of the 12 other districts in the state were selected at the same time.

Mr. Bressler will have the responsibility of heading up localized defense activity. Seven counties, Cedar, Dixon, Dakota, Wayne, Thurston, Cuming and Burt, are included in this district.

The first district was set up some time ago with headquarters in Omaha and is headed by W. C. Frazier.

Committee members to serve under the chairman appointed will be named soon, Governor Griswold said. An organization meeting was held in Wayne county recently at which plans to co-operate to the fullest extent in defense activities were mapped. The program involves many phases, only a part of which will be included in this region's activities.

Wayne is slated to serve as headquarters for District 3, it was indicated at the regional meeting here.

Corn Sealing Price Hiked To 72 Cents A Bushel

The 1941 sealing price for corn in Wayne county has been set at 72 cents a bushel, according to word received last week by Tommy Roberts, county AAA chairman. The new price for corn is an increase of 7 cents a bushel over the previous sealing price. The new price will also apply to old corn and farmers having corn sealed on their farms under the old price may buy it back from the government at the old price plus interest and seal new corn in its place at the higher price, thus making an additional amount due to the increase.

Orpheo Club Wins Award

Large Crowd Attends Stunt Night Program

The Orpheo club won first prize in the annual Stunt Night program sponsored by the senior class at Wayne State Teachers college auditorium last Friday evening. The auditorium was crowded and the funds raised from the 10-cent admission charge will be applied to the student loan fund, which is administered by a faculty committee.

Other Winners The "W" club captured second honors and the Sigma Tau Delta's stunt placed third.

The Orpheo club, sponsored by Prof. Russel Anderson, presented a patriotic scene with the Statue of Liberty welcoming the oppressed of other lands to America. "America" was sung during the stunt.

The "W" club used its stunt to explain why the Wildcats were beaten so decisively by Kearney in the closing game of the season. Participants were garbed as sissies and "We Will Be Strong" was the theme of the stunt. The third place winners presented a stunt similar to ra-

Optimism Is Reflected

Highlights Of A.C.O.S Meeting Reviewed

Far more optimism about the future of business than would be expected under present conditions was reflected by prominent speakers at the convention of the Nebraska Association of Commercial Organization Secretaries at Columbus last Thursday and Friday. Win Swett, executive secretary of the Wayne Chamber, was program chairman and represented the local organization at the meeting.

Particularly was this optimistic outlook reflected in the address of Prof. F. C. Blood of the University of Nebraska school of business administration, who predicted that retail store sales volume in 1942 will be about the same as in 1941 with an increase more likely than a decrease.

Pointing out that while farm income is increasing steadily, next year will see the supply of consumers goods curtailed to some extent by defense priority. This, coupled with somewhat higher consumer prices, will balance the increased income and tend to hold retail sales on a normal line. He observed that during the national emergency, retail stores in the smaller cities and towns will be able to offer their customers a wider variety of goods, especially in foodstuffs, than big city stores.

Great Defense Progress

William E. Langdon of the 7th corps public relations section told the secretaries that the construction division of this area has carried on the greatest construction program in history and pointed out that huge soldier cities with all the facilities of any modern city have been built to accommodate the combined populations of Kansas City, Omaha, Los Moines, St. Paul and Minneapolis in this corps area. In addition it is building factories and plants to provide the bombs, shells and small arms ammunition, hospitals and ordnance proving grounds for our defense army.

Frank G. Arnold, president of the Nebraska Federation Taxpayers League, warned that national socialism will result from heavy spending and declared that unless federal spending is held within constructive lines, his organization will train its guns on Washington. Arnold blasted away at the wage-hour law and declared that federal spending is a threat to our democracy more real and destructive than any outside force we face. He charged the federal government with subsidizing communities with federal work funds, branding them "hush money".

Val Peterson, secretary to Gov. Dwight Griswold, revealed the technique to be used to get the best results from a visit to the governor, emphasizing the fact that visitors should not be overawed by the governor, try to bluff or try to highpressure an appointment with him.

One of the highlights of the convention was an address by Marvin S. Hurley, manager of the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce, who declared that the personality of a community is made up by the attitude of the people in that community.

Mr. Hurley declared that no city can build a wall around itself and expect to grow, or even hold its own. A city grows from within and must reach out to give as much as it receives.

Things that are most likely to keep a city from steady growth, he said and which should be constantly guarded against, include: civic egotism, apathy, factionalism, group control, hindrance and rashness.

Mr. Swett said that the convention was almost constantly in session during the two days and that interesting talks on a variety of subjects were enjoyed.

PTA Of City Schools Holds Interesting Meeting

An interesting program featured the Parent-Teachers Association meeting at the Wayne City school Monday evening of last week when the Seventh grade class was awarded the attendance banner for having the largest percentage of parents present.

The program opened with singing of the Star Spangled Banner and a business meeting conducted by Mrs. L. F. Perry, president. Mrs. J. M. Pile discussed "The Home and Its Problems"; "To Market We Go" from the Parent-Teachers Magazine was presented by Miss Hackenberg. Rev. W. F. Dierking spoke on "The Home—Is It Dwindling?" and Herman Baehr spoke on "The Home, A Working Democracy in Itself". A Question Box discussion followed and was summarized by Superintendent J. W. Litherland. Mrs. J. M. Pile was in charge of novelty entertainment and refreshments were served by the Fourth grade parents with Mrs. Ed Bahe, chairman.

Next month's meeting will be held on December 15 with "Need for Spiritual Education" as its theme. Mrs. Vint Huffman will be in charge of the program and the Eighth grade parents will be hostesses with Mrs. George Bressler, chairman.

Safe Driving Rules Given

Patrol Presses Drive To Cut State Accident Toll

"Between now and the first of the year, all Nebraska and the Highway Safety Patrol are faced with the task of saving 18 lives if this year's traffic record is to be as good as that of 1940", Captain C. J. Sanders of the patrol, said Monday.

"During the first ten months of this year, 205 persons lost their lives in Nebraska traffic accidents, compared with 187 for the same months last year. The complete toll for 1940 was 248 killed, and of this total 61 died as the result of accidents occurring during November and December—an average of one a day.

"As far as the patrol is concerned", Captain Sanders said, "we know from our records where the accident congested areas are, and the patrolmen have already been instructed to give these spots careful attention.

Warning Issued

"These last two months of the year are bad from the traffic standpoint because they belong to winter. Drivers from now on can expect slippery pavements and highways, poor vision and snow. These factors are not encouraging safety signs. Moreover, bad driving weather in some sections of the state, particularly around the Martin Bomber Plant near Omaha and the proposed bomb loading plant near Wahoo, won't stop traffic movements. "As the national defense effort swings into gear in these sections", he said, "snow and ice must be no excuse for traffic tie-ups and skidding accidents.

"One way in which every motorist can help in the job of traffic life saving", Captain Sanders said, "is to observe these seven rules for safe winter driving:

Rules Listed

"1. Exercise more caution generally. The necessity for sudden stops should be avoided on snow and ice. It takes 3 to 11 times the normal distance to stop on snow and ice.

"2. Check brakes for simultaneous gripping. Unequalized brakes start skids.

"3. Good tire treads are safe on wet pavement, but on snow and ice tire chains should be used when needed.

"4. Make sure windshield wipers and defrosters are working and that lighting equipment is adequate for longer hours of darkness, snow, fog and sleet.

"5. Reduce speed on snow or ice—don't throw away the safety margin provided by chains because chains skid at high speeds. Watch out for children on sleds.

"6. Leave more room between you and the car ahead, and don't try to pass on hills or curves—it's dangerous and unlawful. Approach icy curves slowly.

"7. Slow down in gear and 'pump' brakes on and off when speed must be cut. This guards against wheel-lock skids. Remember chains won't duplicate dry pavement stopping, but they will cut stopping distances 40 to 50 per cent under snow and ice conditions."

The faculty also presented a special stunt as an added attraction which did not compete for the prizes offered. The faculty stunt was a scene from 1890 with the participants dressed in appropriate costumes and it included both singing and jokes.

Other organizations which presented stunts are Pile Hall, Katz club, Goldenrod, Physical Science club, Social Science club, Neiharadt Hall and K.M.K.

Judges were Miss Theodora Carlson, Herman Baehr and Rev. C. L. Eads.

Thanksgiving Thoughts

Thanksgiving in 1941 gives us many reasons to be grateful, and yet fewer words to say the things we mean. We're grateful this year that we live in this land of the free—grateful that our homes and our stores, our friends and our customers are all governed in the democratic way. We're grateful that we are given the right to defend our way of living, and we pledge ourselves to that cause. And, we're thankful, too, that all of you feel as we do, and that we'll be seeing you a lot this coming year.

Motorists Facing Tax

$2.09 Must Be Paid In January; $5.00 Per Year

Preparations are being made in Nebraska for collection of the new federal stamp tax on motor vehicles. In scope, though not in revenue, it's just about the biggest tax job Uncle Sam has tackled.

The tax is at the rate of $5 per year. Due to a peculiarity of the law, however, the first collection will be $2.09 to cover the period from Feb. 1 to July 1, 1942. Then in July another collection will be made. This one will be $5 and will cover the period from July 1, 1942 to July 1, 1943.

Then new stamp tax will be collected by mail. It is one of Uncle Sam's new levies to raise money for defense. It is entirely separate from the state tax for auto licenses. It is also separate from the excise tax levied when a person buys a new car. The stamp tax rate for all motor vehicles is the same regardless of size.

A Lot Of Typing

Collection will be made by the office of George O'Malley, Nebraska collector of internal revenue, at Omaha. A huge force of clerks and stenographers in O'Malley's office is now copying out the registrations of all of Nebraska's 420,000 motor vehicles.

In January, 1942 the owners of motor vehicles will get a dun in the mail from Uncle Sam. It will be for $2.09. A duplicate of this dun is kept in O'Malley's office. The motor vehicle owner must then put a money order, certified check or cash in an envelope and mail it to O'Malley. Personal checks will not be accepted. O'Malley's office will then mail out a stamp which must be pasted

Power To Prosecute

The tax must be paid by January 31, 1942. If it isn't, 10-days notice is given following which the government has the power to prosecute. The law provides a fine of up to $1,000 for violations.

In the January billing, Uncle Sam stands to collect upwards of $800,000 from Nebraska motorists. The July billing should bring in over two million dollars.

The tax will follow the car, not the person. If you pay the tax in January and sell your car in March for example, the person who buys the car won't have to buy a stamp until July.

There is also a new stamp tax on motor boats. It is more complicated and ranges from $5 for boats between 16 and 28 feet long up to $200 for boats over 200 feet long. Motor boat owners will probably hear about that.

More Families Eligible For FSA Loans Now

Changes in the outlook, tenure situations and other conditions affecting farm families who, for various reasons, may not have been originally qualified to take advantage of U.S. Department of Agriculture rehabilitation loans, may now have removed former obstacles so they can obtain Farm Security loans, according to Mr. F. Irving Moses, chairman of Wayne county's FSA Advisory committee.

"Eligibility requirements for rehabilitation loans have not changed," Mr. Moses said. "FSA standard loans are, as they always have been, based on a family's willingness to plan farming operations to provide most assurance of lasting self-support. Another requirement is adequate land or use of land, and at least a reasonable assurance that the family will not be without land to farm before it has a chance to get back on its feet."

The "food for freedom" campaign of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, with its supported prices for livestock and products, has called renewed attention to diversified farming of the type emphasized in the FSA rehabilitation program. Mr. Moses believes this may develop a basis for additional FSA loans in this county.

Mr. Moses outlined basic qualifications for FSA loans. Applicant must be a farmer, owning or able to rent adequate land—and, if possible, the FSA supervisor will help locate suitable farms. If a renter, the applicant must attempt to get a written lease for the period of the loan and farm plan. He is to be willing to work out sound farm and home plans based on diversification and home production of family subsistence. Applicants should see the county FSA supervisor, Mr. Ray L. Verzal, whose office days, in his office at Wayne, at the courthouse are Saturday morning of each week.

Lynn Wyatts are moving to one of Dr. E. H. Dotson's new houses in the east part of town and the Floyd Haight are moving to the house vacated by the Wyatts.

Strikes

At long last, congress is apparently about to bestir itself and do something about these strikes in defense industries. Much has been said and written recently and the changing trends complicate the whole labor picture.

John L. Lewis and lesser imitators among labor leaders have challenged the President and congress in the fashion of dictators. Congressman Wesley Disney recently inquired why Hitler's ocean dictatorship should be fought while we have dictators of coal, railways and other great industries.

"Roosevelt's administration has done more for labor than all previous ones", he declared. "Yet, Lewis now would strike all coal mines, tie up industry, because the mediation board hasn't gone all the way he thinks it should in one case".

The President has been more tolerant. Only radical labor leaders believe that he has not gone too far with labor but the time for drastic action has arrived and he must act now not only to rescue the defense program but also to preserve labor's gains and the people's confidence.

When John L. Lewis boasted that American soldiers would not shoot at his striking coal miners, he assumed our soldiers love him too much to obey orders. He is mistaken on both counts. The trainees who are getting $21 a month while miners refuse to work for the fat wages being paid would probably relish a little target practice on men who would obey Lewis without regard for the country's welfare.

No one hates a traitor more than a soldier and treason covers a lot of things.

It is to be hoped, of course, that bloodshed is kept to the minimum. It is almost unbelievable that workers would force such drastic action on an administration which has been responsible for the greatest strides labor has made in its history. President Roosevelt can hesitate no longer; action is overdue today.

Senator Norris

Senator George Norris has indicated definitely that he does not wish to be re-elected despite the fact that he is being urged by state and national leaders to reconsider. His statement left no doubt of his sincerity. It wasn't the statement of one who leaves the door wide open for popular demand to force him to accept the candidacy. Such candidates do not say that they are too old to be of the greatest service to their state.

But both Nebraska and America need Senator Norris on the job at Washington. He is in a position to be of far greater service to both than half a dozen potential candidates of both major parties. That has been well demonstrated during the brief period Senator Butler has served as the junior senator from this state. We hope that the veteran statesman reconsiders although it is true that he has served his nation and state well, deserves retirement as few men do and will probably not consent to re-election.

You're Invited

Wayne's elaborate Christmas season program of activities will be launched appropriately Friday night when local business firms will attractively display their stocks of Yuletide and gift merchandise for your inspection. Stores will remain open for two hours in the evening not to sell but to permit inspection of what the 1941 Santa Claus will have in his bag this year.

The business district will be decorated for the occasion in holiday garb and the Christmas lights will be turned on for the first time. Merchants will also hand out tickets to all visitors admitting them to a dance at the Wayne Municipal Auditorium without charge; the dance will follow Open House, beginning at 9 o'clock.

Everyone's invited. The affair is the first of a series of special holiday events sponsored by the Wayne Chamber of Commerce as a courtesy to all residents of Wayne's Greater Territory.

Wayne county residents are responding generously to the annual Red Cross drive as was expected, according to reports of workers. Both the need and the response this year are great. Such organizations as the Red Cross represent democracy at its best.

Three shift operations of plants making propellers, bomb sights, torpedoes, are now possible with artificial light comparable to daylight. Again electricity provides the eyes for close clearances and watch-accuracy assembly.

Electricity moves the cranes and booms which swing into place plates for bulkheads, engines for tanks and planes, tubes for barrels of giant guns. Myriads of motors fed by electric energy, by means of their whirling armatures safely and surely bring together these vital parts of our arsenal of defense. Electricity hauls coal from the mines, limestone from the quarries, coke from the ovens, to do their part in all-out aid.

These few examples, Mr. Purdy points out, indicate the importance of electrical energy and the need for men who can design, operate, and repair these electrical giants of American power, so vital to our all-out effort in the plan to which American energy and ingenuity are pledged.

A Condition And Not A Theory

There are many democrats in the administration and in congress who admit their inability to solve the questions of price control and inflation.

The indications that they have had "a bear by the tail" in recent weeks have pointed toward an "all-out" fight between those who want a bill that will cover all segments of the price structure, and those who want to exempt agriculture and labor and possibly other groups from the terms of a measure which congress has been asked to enact.

Leon Henderson, administrator of price control, and other staunch administrationists, have inveighed against ceilings on wages and agricultural commodities. The difficult political puzzle at the national capital is how to change the situation and provide for ceilings on all prices.

Secretary of Agriculture Wickard recently expressed his opinion that most well informed farmers who are familiar with the subject favor a price ceiling at 110 per cent of parity, which he says will take care of the farmers "pretty well". Mr. Wickard believes that "it has taken us a long time to sell the country on the idea of equality for the farmers", and advises, "Let's keep it so".

The new agriculture secretary is making a mark for himself in Washington, and he doesn't hesitate to bring the farm problems right down to date. In his opinion the chief worry of farmers is not farm prices today, but farm prices tomorrow.

"They want to produce", he declares, "but they know what surpluses did to their income in the past. They are wondering what will happen after the defense effort is over".

A New Branch In Co-ordination

President Roosevelt states as his reason for appointing Harold Ickes as co-ordinator of solid fuels as due to the fact that the Interior Department has access to limitless information concerning solid fuels. Hence Ickes is the logical person to do the co-ordinating. The head of the same department co-ordinated petroleum and made a spectacular failure of the job.

The New York Tribune makes about the best summing-up of the matter we have seen in print. It observes that the President's method of reasoning is simply that Mr. Ickes is "the Pooch-Bah on whom this comprehensive lot hath fallen—in other words it is a good letter sent to the wrong address".

Non-Defense Economies

In summing up results of efforts and successes by the government to prevent inflation the New York Times observes that the recent revenue act is about the only substantial forward-step of either the administration or congress, and that this was "largely due to the pressure of public opinion, and the initiative of the senate". The Times says the administration attempted to "frighten congress", and it expresses the opinion that the treasury's latest tax proposal is so confusing that the house ways and means committee quickly decided that the suggestion for a 15 per cent withholding tax and higher social security taxes was too drastic to be considered.

"Before additional taxes of this magnitude are even suggested, congress and the administration should be able to show a better record on the other things that should be done to control inflation," continues the Times. After discussing the different phases of taxation and their effect upon inflation the editors demand a cut of $1,000,000,000 in non-defense, and its editorial winds up with the following snapper: "It is time for the President to assert his leadership. He should lead the way in demanding non-defense economies. He should demonstrate that he has a definite and aggressive program for the control of inflation such as will justify an active appeal to the public to support defense savings. When these things are done it will be time enough to consider what next taxes may be needed to make the program complete".

Atlantic City Airport

There have been gatherings of government officials, state officials and highway experts from all over the country at the Chalfonte-Haddon Hall in Atlantic City who have been discussing proposals for defense and super coast-to-coast highways with Atlantic City as the eastern terminal.

Vice President Henry A. Wallace and several leading senators have concerned themselves with details arranging the new Atlantic City giant airport that is estimated to cost $1,300,000.

Atlantic City has won the race among all the resorts of the east coast in gathering in satisfied clients, many from official and non-official groups of the National Capital.

How Do We Get That Way?

The reception at the Soviet Embassy in Washington, on the twenty-fourth anniversary of "The Great October Revolution", was attended by 3,000 persons. Even the Japanese ambassador was there. There was plenty of vodka, champagne and caviar.

Ambassador Litvinov was very popular when he was here before, and he will be welcomed back. He gave better parties than any other ambassador and Stalin certainly picked the right man to send to Washington. He is smart, and a go-getter.

Income Of Nebraska Citizens Shows Increase

Income of Nebraska citizens in 1940 totaled 585 million dollars, larger than the amount reported for 1939 and 1938 by 35 and 67 million dollars respectively, according to the University of Nebraska business research department in the College of Business Administration.

The figures are from reports of the U.S. department of commerce. Although indicating a steady increase during the last three years, the 1940 state income is just equal to the amount reported for 1937 and is 19 million dollars short of the 1939 income. According to this comparison, the people of Nebraska during the last four years have not enjoyed an income comparable to that of 1936 which was the peak year for Nebraska income since 1930.

The present year of 1941 is very promising, however, according to O. F. Litterer, university statistician. Monthly income payments are now available through the month of July for the United States as a whole, and there has been a steady increase during these seven months. Since January 1, non-agricultural income has increased 10.2 per cent, while agricultural income has increased 15.1 per cent.

County Fund Estimate Cut

Reduction In Expenditures In 1942 Seen

Economy is apparently going to be stressed by the county commissioners, who obviously believe that the poor taxpayers will be burdened sufficiently by mounting federal tax levies. At any rate, a healthy slash in estimated expenditures of the county for 1942 reduced that total figure to $161,529.18. Last year's total was $173,906.40 and the estimate for last year was also higher, $163,536.82.

Hearing on the proposed budget, which is published in condensed form elsewhere in this edition of The News has been set for 2 o'clock the afternoon of December 8 at the courthouse.

The board anticipates receipts of $25,700 from the gasoline tax, $12,000 from auto licenses, $73,200 from 1942 tax levies, $10,400 from county officers' fees, and $4,200 for miscellaneous receipts. A balance of $36,029.18 will complete the total.

Expenditures will be as follows: $87,842 in general fund; $25,000 in bridge fund; $39,000 in road fund; $15,187.18 for road dragging; $10,000 for county relief; $2,000 for soldiers and sailors relief and $2,500 for the county fair.

Seal Sale Drive Opens

Campaign Will Continue Through Christmas

Nebraska's thirty-fifth annual Christmas Seal drive for funds to continue the year-round health program of the Nebraska Tuberculosis Association is now in full swing and will continue through Christmas.

The 1941 Christmas Seal depicts a lighthouse shedding its beam over the world—giving knowledge and enlightenment to the people against that dreaded disease tuberculosis which is still the leading cause of death in this country between the ages of 15 and 45. Every person in Nebraska should buy at least a few seals.

Officials of the Nebraska Tuberculosis Association point out that the purchase of Christmas Seals is a form of "home defense" for "your family, your friends, and yourself". No home is safe from tuberculosis until all homes are safe—every tuberculosis death in Nebraska leaves a trail of nine active cases. Authorities estimate over 1500 active cases of tuberculosis in Nebraska at present.

The many activities of the Nebraska Tuberculosis Association throughout the state include: tuberculin skin tests and x-rays for the early discovery of tuberculosis in the schools... free literature and films to promote health education on the prevention of tuberculosis throughout the year... annual diagnosis campaign... nurses to arrange for and attend clinics and to follow up reactors... nursing supervision for persons suffering from tuberculosis... and many other health programs being carried on in communities all over Nebraska.

Ninety-five per cent of the Christmas Seal funds raised in Nebraska remains in the state to maintain the active health program of the Nebraska Tuberculosis Association. Only five per cent of the funds goes to the national association for educational and research work.

Congress

As Seen by KARL STEFAN
Neither military nor naval attaches of the six powers are now allowed to attend any of our maneuvers and they are no longer in any of our training camps. The exclusion, however, does not apply to military, naval or air attaches of certain other foreign governments such as the Central and South American governments and some of the allied European governments.

Over the six-day period, October 20 to 25, the army awarded contracts to five firms for more than a million dollars worth of human blood. Uncle Sam's medical corps is one of the important branches of our service during the war and even in peace time. Blood transfusions frequently save lives.

Many letters from home are reaching members asking about proposed changes in the Social Security Act to include state employees and perhaps farm laborers. Many of the letters express the fear that if the legislation passes it may take from the states the work they are now doing and in some way federalize entirely the social security program. One such bill has been introduced. The committee on ways and means will have charge of any bill of that nature that may be taken up for consideration. Members of that committee say that no legislation changing the act can be expected until next year. The administration favors some changes and the President is expected to send a special message to congress on this subject in the near future. In the meantime, congress will not deal with any legislation to amend the social security act.

The Japanese government sent a special ambassador to this country in a move to placate Secretary Cordell Hull, and arrange a settlement of the difficulties between the two countries. That would be an easy and simple matter, were our state department to sanction Japanese aggression in Asia, and yield to its bluff about attacking this country. For months it has held out its threat of war upon us. In fact, it has been blustering for years about making war on this country. Of late, its government and its newspapers in particular have been very bitter. Evidently prepared for any eventualities, our government has gone on adding restrictions to our exports to Japan and its sales in this country. Now the time has come when the Japs must "holler or fight". Hence the visit of the special ambassador. Calling the bluffs of foreign countries by stopping trade with them is a most effective weapon. It might lead to better relations with some countries nearer by, which continue to draw heavily upon our federal treasury for more millions as the price of their "good will" in this emergency. Purchased friendship never is anything to bet on.

The Treasury department experts have been working on still another new tax bill. It will be the third tax measure to be considered since this congress convened in January. The bill recently passed will add $3 1/2 billions to the revenues. The new bill will add $5 billions more. The two are expected to bring the annual government revenues to about $19 billions annually, or a per capita average of about $150.

Principal among the new taxes proposed are pay-roll taxes for increasing the Social Security funds. There is a surplus Social Security fund now of nearly $4 billions, paid in by employees and their employers. Federal bonds have been issued for such funds, and they have thus been turned into the general fund and used in the regular expenditures of the government. By adding 1 per cent for employees, and 1 per cent for employers to the Social Security taxes, it is expected that another $900 millions will be paid in each year. Then by adding another 1 per cent to the unemployment tax upon employers, another $450 millions may be obtained. Thus the Treasury experts figure that one-fourth the new taxes will be obtained from pay-roll levies.

The experts have more figures in the plan which will increase general income levies by 15 per cent. That increase also will apply to employers and employees whose incomes are above the exemptions. Secretary Morgenthau's figure experts state that the purpose of the scheme is not alone to raise more money for war and national defense purposes, but also to drain off the earnings of the people, compel them to buy less, and thus stave off inflation.

Still another feature of the proposed measure is a provision requiring self-employers, such as farmers and small business operators, to submit periodical reports and accompanying tax payments. Small farmers who have been exempt from federal income taxes, because of their limited incomes, are expected to be drawn into the income-tax class by the recently increased prices of their products. The ways and means committee has not given out further information as to the new treasury bill. It is presumed that it also includes further sales taxes, although generally it was not anticipated that the general sales tax would be proposed for several months to come, possibly not until after the 1942 elections.

The banking and currency committee in the house labored three months on the hearings on the Emergency Price Control bill, which, in the main, was the proposal of the price administrator, Leon Henderson. Scores of witnesses were heard, and the testimony fills more than 2,000 pages. Then the committee spent another week in almost continuous session endeavoring to perfect Mr. Henderson's bill. The rub was, and still is, that Mr. Henderson and his big staff of price fixing experts wanted to exempt ceiling on profits, wages and salaries, but did want a limit on what the farmers should receive for food products. The prices to be fixed upon industrial commodities were to be based on costs of production, including wages, materials, depreciation, and reasonable profits. But prices on farm products were to have a ceiling of not more than 10 per cent above so-called "parity", based on 1909-1914 prices of farm products and manufactured commodities, utterly regardless of the cost of production and reasonable profit to the farmers. None of the experts appearing before the committee explained why the farmers as well as industries should not obtain the costs of what they sell.

MATTRESS PROGRAM

More than a hundred mattresses have been completed by families who applied for them in Wayne county, using cotton and ticking supplied by the Surplus Commodities Corporation. The project is being handled through the county extension service of feed and applications are still being taken. Mattresses are being completed now at the rate of from six to seven daily.

Wayne residents as well as farm residents and those of neighboring towns may participate in this program. The families make their own mattresses and only a small fee is charged to defray necessary expenses. Application blanks may be obtained by calling or writing the county extension service office in Wayne.

MORE EGGS

Eggs are bringing a good price on the market today and are needed in the defense program. Even when eggs are high, it doesn't pay to keep hens that will not lay. At the same time every effort should be made by the flock owners to see that the flock management is good. Mr. Jack Ridditt, extension poultryman at the College of Agriculture in Lincoln, offers some advice which might be turned into eggs and cash.

First, do not house the layers in crowded quarters. Have the house clear, well lighted and free of draft. A straw loft helps to keep a hen house dry and warm. Hens should be allowed 3 to 3 1/2 square feet of room for each bird. There should be 7 or 8 inches or roost per hen with roosts placed 14 inches apart.

Second, have plenty of room at the feeders. The regular 4-foot feeder will accommodate 25 to 30 hens. Feed all the good laying mash the hens will eat. Many cattle feeders have said that a steer has to eat a lot of corn if he is going to get fat. The same is true of hens which make good layers.

Third, with hens the same as any animal, an abundance of good clean fresh water is a necessity if the hens are going to be healthy or layers. An egg is 80 per cent water.

Fourth, cull out the 'boarders'. Removal of the coarse fat hens from the flock will probably not decrease egg production and feed and housing space will be saved.

Fifth, if you have any question about the management of your flock, stop at your county extension office and ask for the bulletin on poultry. They are available on feeding, disease control equipment and other things in which the poultry producer is interested. If not convenient to call in person, send a card or call on the phone. The information is available without cost to anyone desiring it.

ALFALFA HAY FOR HENS

Green, leafy alfalfa hay of the 3rd and 4th cuttings is an excellent source of vitamins for breeding hens, say poultrymen at the Nebraska College of Agriculture. Many flock owners who have gotten a high hatchability have allowed their hens free access to this feedstuff. Green feed in the yards is better, of course, but for early season use before green pasture is available, green alfalfa hay is very useful. The leaf of the plant is the source of most of the vitamins.

LOANS TO FARM YOUNGSTERS

Farm boys and girls are being encouraged to increase supplies of foods needed for defense through pig, calf and chicken projects, the U.S. Department of Agriculture says.

Farm Credit and Farm Security Administrations are prepared to make loans to members of 4-H clubs and other rural youth groups—as well as unaffiliated farm youngsters with responsible sponsors—to help make more such projects possible than in the past. FSA will make loans to children of its borrowers where funds are otherwise unavailable and FCA will make loans through local production credit associations.

Many 4-H clubs and other rural youth groups have developed various food-raising projects in the past. Last year, for instance, 4-H members grew 237,000 home gardens, 44 club projects, 177,000 poultry; 13,000 raised pigs, and 74,000 had dairy cattle.

GRASSHOPPER CONTROL WORK

Grasshopper baiting in Nebraska is practically over for the year, according to Don Whelan, extension entomologist at the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture. Only a few counties are still selling the bait, and soon employees of the U.S. Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine will take an inventory of all remaining bait materials.

The annual grasshopper egg surveys are being made, and results should be ready for release early in December. It is Whelan's opinion that considerably less bait will be needed next year, since control work done during 1941 has proved to be very effective.

1941 WHEAT LOANS

The Commodity Credit Corporation made loans on 272 million, 117 thousand bushels of 1941 wheat, through October 25, 1941, according to a report from the U.S. Department of Agriculture. The loans amounted to $270,599. 944 loans to the same date last year had been made on 230 million bushels.

Included in the foregoing figures for 1941 were 8 million, 922 thousand bushels of wheat stored on Nebraska farms, and 8 million, 737 thousand bushels of wheat in Nebraska warehouses. Loans on this Nebraska wheat amounted to $17,541,715.
