Congress

As Seen by KARL STEFAN

The protest against the construction of a $600,000 temporary information bureau building here has not abated. Eight federal agencies can furnish to business men the same factual information that this new facility proposes to give them. Besides that, there are a lot of private bureaus here that specialize in the distribution of the same information. The rising demand is that in the interest of both efficiency and economy these overlapping agencies be superseded by a consolidation unit.

The Surgeon General of the Army has issued an order stating that a man who has lost one leg, provided it is below the juncture of the middle and lower thirds of the thigh, and has a good artificial limb, may be considered acceptable for limited duty in the Supply Service of the Army.

The six per cent profit limitation placed in the new supplemental defense appropriation bill is not favored by some treasury officials. They say they will catch the profiteers with an excess profits tax.

Pacific Coast members fear another attack on Hawaii and also on some parts of Alaska. These members want all Japanese moved from the coast because they fear sabotage. The government is moving the Japanese from the coast as rapidly as possible.

Charles Sheeler who used to run a drug store in Norfolk, is very ill at his home in California. Sheeler is a veteran of the war with Spain. Before his illness, he made efforts to get back into the army.

Blackout practice in Washington is said by officials to have been very successful. A new alarm system has been installed. New practice blackouts are on the program. Nearly every building is equipped with carts containing sand and shovels with which to extinguish incendiary bombs. Anti-aircraft crews do regular duty on the roofs of many buildings here.

Tourists visiting the Capitol are searched by guards. Excepting the regular business of the day, Capitol Hill employees must show identification cards to enter the Capitol, Senate and House office buildings and visitors must have passes. Permit cards to the House and Senate galleries are now limited and each member is told that these cards must be issued to only those visitors who are definitely known.

Some day, Col. Starling who guards the President and his family, will write a book. He has made many notes. Starling has guarded the lives of six presidents.

Hearings on the proposed manufacture of grain alcohol in plants in the midwest continue. Some special corporations have been formed in the states. Money may be available from the F. F. C. The principal trouble is due to the War Production board with-holding the essential priority ratings on copper and steel without which the plants cannot be built. Some distilleries and breweries are planning to convert their facilities to the production of industrial alcohol.

Prohibition may not come during this war but there may be some action on several bills which have been introduced, designed to prohibit the sale of liquor to men in uniform and to stop sale of all alcoholic beverages in or near army camps.

There is such a multiplicity of questions relating to war activities and preparations are of such volume that they cannot be enumerated in limited space.

MEN OF WAR

General Electric men and women—thousands of them! Four typical scenes show the spirit with which they are tackling the grim job of producing for war!

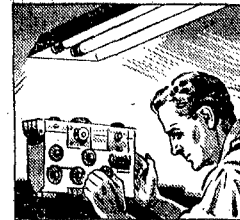

1. Thousands of employees, only ten days after war declaration, gathered in mass meetings in most major G-E plants to pledge all-out war effort!

2. Almost 85 per cent of all General Electric employees signed up to buy U. S. Defense Savings Bonds totalling more than $20,000,000 a year!

3. A sign chalked by a G-E workman on a big machine being built for war. The sign carried this challenge to fellow workers: "Remember Wake Island!"

4. And day and night—around the clock—G-E workmen keep steadily at the most important job of building weapons and supplies for U.S. fighting men!

General Electric believes that its first duty as a good citizen is to be a good soldier.

WHO IS THE "V-GIRL"?

... BLONDE?

... BRUNETTE?

OR REDHEAD?

County winners will be selected in each participating county in Iowa, Nebraska, South Dakota, Wyoming, Colorado and New Mexico. Each county winner will receive a $100 Defense Stamp plus a beautiful gold "V"-pin, and five girls will be selected from the county winners in each state to compete in the state contest. Each state winner will receive a $25.00 Defense Bond and will complete for the "V-Girl" title in the grand contest.

The "V-Girl" contest was designed as a means of emphasizing to the public the importance of health and nutrition in winning the war. Early in the Selective Service program it became apparent that four out of every ten men drafted for the army were being rejected, many because of physical defects due to poor diets.

Vitamin B Needed by Americans Government health authorities found especially important the fact that the diets of many Americans were deficient in vitamins of the vitamin B complex. They urged flour millers to enrich their flour with two important B-vitamins and the food mineral iron. The Omar mills were among the very first to follow the government suggestion by announcing Vitamin - Enriched Omar Wonder Flour at no increase in price. That was over a year ago, but many flours are still not enriched.

Known as the nerve or morale vitamin, Vitamin B is necessary to the health of the nervous system. It is the vitamin which has helped the people of London and the British Isles to stand the shock of bombing after bombing. Most people even in normal daily life need more Vitamin B. It must be in our meals every day, for it is not stored in the body.

How Contest Is Judged

The "V-Girl" Contest is primarily a health and vitality contest, not a beauty contest though beauty comes from radiant health. Judging will be on the basis of health, vitality, charm and personality. County winners will be selected from their photographs and the information on their entry blanks. Judging in state and final contests will be in public appearances, dates and places for which will be announced later. Travelling expenses for participants will be paid by the makers of Vitamin-Enriched Omar Wonder Flour.

Contest Closes May 25

Entries for the "V-Girl" contest close at midnight, Monday, May 25. Entry blanks and snapshots may be entered by mailing or handing them to the "V-Girl"

Contest Editor of this newspaper or by mailing them direct to "V-Girl" Contest, Omar Incorporated, Omaha, Nebraska.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Mau and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Dumkiau were supper guests Tuesday evening in the Willard Blecke home.

VICTORY - VITAMINS
VIM - VIGOR - VITALITY

You can help win the war. There's a part for every man, woman and child in America's Victory campaign. Your health, your energy — yes, and your beauty and charm — can help win the war on the home front.

Yet millions of us who are "not quite up to par" — not quite physically fit — hold back and slow down all America. There are many reasons why most of us are not in top physical condition, but U. S. Government and other health authorities say that a lack of essential food factors in our diets explains a startling amount of our unfitness.

That's why our Government is urging you and me to eat foods baked from enriched flour, because enriched flour supplies two important B-vitamins and iron — the vitamins which help keep our nerves steady and sound, the iron which keeps our blood healthy.

To promote better health and a stronger America, the makers of Vitamin-Enriched Omar Wonder Flour and this newspaper are looking for the Midwest's V-Girl — the living symbol of energy and health.

New High in Ship Production

Liberty ships being fitted out at a Bethlehem yard preparatory to sea service. The yard is producing a continuous stream of vessels of this type.

Bethlehem ship production this year will represent the greatest all-round shipbuilding output by any company in the history of the country.

Speed, speed and more speed is the constant objective; and always speed with quality, for a jerry-built ship is virtually useless in the grim tasks of maritime war.

The first Liberty ship which recently discharged supplies at a Red Sea port was built in a yard that was virtually nonexistent a year ago. A tanker was delivered in 100 days from laying of keel. A battleship will be delivered 14 months ahead of schedule.

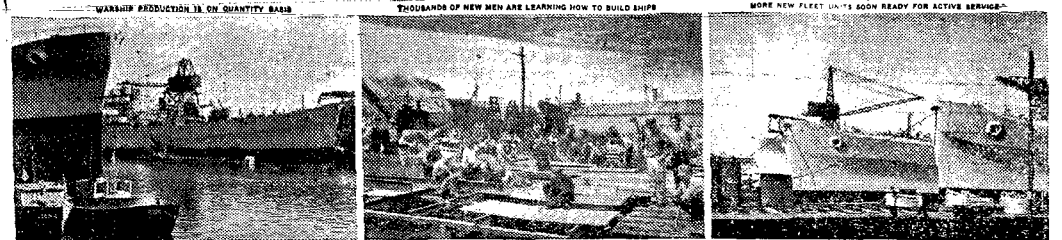

Cargo ships are being built in less than one-half the time required in the first World War. Comparable speeding up has been achieved on other types of ships and the schedule is being constantly stepped-up.

Expanding old yards, building new ones, tripling employment in a year's time, training thousands of new men, putting every effective facility to use, adopting pre-assembly and mass production methods—all these spell tonnage and more tonnage, a steadily-mounting output of ships from Bethlehem yards.

All hands are doing their utmost for Victory, working to achieve the maximum for the U. S. Navy and the U. S. Maritime Commission, so that the "bridge of ships" shall be maintained and steadily enlarged.
