Selectees Are Honored At Dance Monday

Wayne county's largest group to leave for selective service is scheduled to gather at the selective service headquarters here about 5 o'clock Wednesday morning and leave in special buses a half hour later for Fort Crook, Omaha, the induction center. Names will be announced following their departure.

Those who have not already taken their final physical examinations are expected to receive them at Fort Crook and then the entire group will be sent to Fort Leavenworth. There, they will be assigned to various camps for training.

Guests At Dance
The "selectees," who number more than eighty, were guests Monday evening at a farewell dance in their honor at the Wayne Auditorium. The dance was sponsored by the local chapter of the Legion Auxiliary and invitations were mailed all the selectees to attend. Auxiliary members at first considered giving baskets to the boys but decided that a dance would be more popular.

Several of the selectees, originally scheduled to go with this group, enlisted in the navy or some other branch of the service and some of the delegation, those who were not included in (Continued on Back Page)

Funeral For Early Settler
Conducted Thursday

Funeral services for Mrs. E. A. Surber, 78, early settler of Wayne county who died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. E. E. Gailley, early last Tuesday morning, were held Thursday afternoon in the Gailley home, Rev. W. F. Dierking conducted the services with the Beckenhauer Service in charge. Burial was in Greenwood cemetery.

Mrs. Surber, who had visited with her family here Monday evening, passed away about 2 o'clock Tuesday morning after suffering a heart attack.

In Covered Wagon
Mrs. Surber, whose maiden name was Mirnie Rath, was born at Davenport, Ia., October 27, 1863 and was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rath. When 15 years old, she moved with her parents to western Iowa and later to a farm near Council Bluffs. She became the bride of E. A. Surber at Council Bluffs, December 27, 1883, and the couple observed their golden wedding anniversary in Wayne in 1933.

In April, 1884, Mr. and Mrs. Surber came by covered wagon to land which Mr. Surber had bought four miles northwest of Wayne. That summer, the wagon was their home but by fall they had erected a one-room frame home on their land.

Mr. Surber died December 4, 1937, and since then Mrs. Surber resided most of the time at the home of her daughter here.

Survivors Listed
Survivors include two daughters and a son, Maude, now Mrs. Gailley, Aulda, now Mrs. Percy Bergquist of Madison and Louis Surber of Wayne. Two children preceded her in death. There are three grandchildren, Doc M. Surber of Houston, Texas, Lloyd Surber of Wayne and Linda Resseguie of Madison and two great grandchildren, Sonia Surber of Houston and Gary Surber of Wayne. She is also survived by five sisters and a brother, Mrs. Agnes Hartz and Mrs. Myrtle Harvey of Carson, Ia., Mrs. Cora Goos of Mineola, Ia., Mrs. Lirza Goos of Macedonia, Ia., Mrs. Ida Hammer of Council Bluffs and Will Rath of Treynor, Ia.

Mrs. Surber was baptized in the Methodist church but was associated with the Presbyterian church here. Pallbearers were A. L. Swan, Paul Mines, Frank Heine, Floyd Conger, Lloyd Fitch and L. W. Ellis.

Stratton Buys Large Hotel At Pendleton, Ore.

Otto Stratton, who built and operated the Hotel Stratton in Wayne until about a year ago when he opened the $700,000 New Florence hotel in Missoula, Mont., has purchased the lease, furnishings and fixtures of the Pendleton hotel at Pendleton, Ore., and will assume proprietorship May 1. The hotel was purchased from W. A. Rhodes, proprietor of the Pendleton hotel for the past ten years.

The Pendleton hotel, which includes five floors with 100 rooms, dining room, coffee shop and four private dining rooms, recently underwent remodeling and complete renovation.

Mr. Stratton sold his interest in the Missoula hotel in February.

Mrs. Stratton will be associated with Mr. Stratton in managing the hotel and their daughter Marilyn and son, Stanley, who remained at Missoula while negotiations were underway, are returning with their parents to Pendleton this week.

Talk Slated

All Invited To Address By
Leo Christensen

A glimpse of the future market which may be opened for Nebraska farm crops through the development of new industries will be given those who attend the address by Leo M. Christensen, Nebraska chemurgy specialist, at the Wayne auditorium at 8 o'clock Thursday night. The general public is invited and the meeting will be of special interest to farmers.

Mr. Christensen, research executive for the University of Nebraska, is an outstanding authority in his field and the Wayne Men's club, which is sponsoring his address here, was particularly fortunate in arranging for his address here.

Everyone is cordially invited to attend this lecture, which is being held at the auditorium rather than the hotel dining room, where the club meets regularly, to accommodate the crowd.

The war has speeded efforts to perfect scientific processes for the making of synthetic rubber, alcohol and other needed products using some farm products and much progress has been made in these fields. New markets would be opened for corn and some other crops produced in this section of the country if plants were constructed to make use of these products on a large scale.

Efforts have been underway for some time through the Wayne Chamber of Commerce to land one of the plants planned for construction to convert grain into alcohol and Mr. Christensen will explain this process in his lecture.

Kiwanis Club

Dr. Gilbert, Fremont pastor, delivered an interesting address at the regular luncheon meeting of the Wayne Kiwanis club Monday in which he discussed the importance of winning both the war and the peace which will follow it.

John Hansen, lieutenant governor of this Kiwanis district, also attended the luncheon and made a brief talk to the local club.

County

The two youths, accompanied by County Superintendent F. E. Decker, will leave for Grand Island Friday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Mildner accompanied Mr. Mildner's brother, Ted Mildner to Lincoln Friday where he enlisted in the army. They returned to Wayne Saturday.

Sugar Rationing
Plans For County
Are Completed

ABC Of Rationing
Stamp Plan

Many consumers have asked for more detailed information concerning use of the stamps. In the following series, typical questions are answered:

Q—How much sugar can I get with each stamp?

A—You may buy 1 pound of sugar with each of the first four stamps.

Q—Can I get the same amount of sugar with each stamp?

A—Not necessarily. The ration of sugar may be changed from time to time according to the total supply of sugar in the country. The ration for each stamp will be publicly announced by the Government.

Q—How long is each stamp good for?

A—Each stamp will be good for the period to be announced by the Office of Public Administration. Stamp No. 1 will be valid from May 5 to 16, stamp No. 2, May 17 to 30, stamp No. 3, May 31 to June 13 and No. 4, June 14 to 27.

Q—Can I save up the stamps and get all my sugar at one time?

A—No. Each stamp is good for only the announced period.

Q—Do we each have to take our War Ration Book in person to the store in order to buy sugar?

A—No. Anyone may take your War Ration Book to buy sugar provided they are buying sugar for you. The mother or the father, or any one of the children, or anyone connected with a family may take some or all the War Ration Books to the grocer to buy the entire household's supply of sugar.

Q—Suppose I do not buy sugar at all?

A—There is no occasion for you to buy sugar except as you need it. But keep your War Ration Book carefully. It may, at a later time, be necessary to use it for other commodities if they are rationed.

Q—May I tear out a stamp and take it to the store to buy sugar?

A—No. You must take the War Ration Book with you and tear out the stamp in the presence of the storekeeper or his employees.

Q—Suppose I order sugar by telephone?

A—Before the person making the delivery can give you the sugar you must show him the War Ration Book, or the family's Ration Books, and in his presence tear out enough stamps—not more than one from each (Continued on Page 2)

Trade Users
Register Today;
Consumers, Monday

Arrangements have been completed for the registration of all Wayne county rural residents for sugar rationing on Monday, May 4, first day of the rationing registration. Registration in the towns of the county will be next Monday and Tuesday.

For Wayne Residents

Consumer registration for sugar rationing will be held at the two Wayne schools, Wayne City and Wayne Prep, on both next Monday and Tuesday. Because of the large number who must register on these two days, the grade classes at the Wayne City Schools will be dismissed both days to permit teachers to handle the registration. Superintendent J. W. Litherland said Monday. It is likely that the same policy will be followed at the Wayne Prep school but a definite decision hadn't been reached Monday afternoon. Since the college students must also register for sugar ration cards, it is estimated that nearly 3,500 cards will have to be made out at the two city schools.

In the other towns of the county registration of consumers will also be at the grade schools on Monday and Tuesday with the teachers in charge.

Classes at rural schools will be dismissed for the day and the school buildings will be open from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m. All families in each district are urged to send a representative to register for their ration books on that date and teachers will be on duty throughout the day.

Teachers Meet Here Saturday
All teachers of the county are urged to meet with the county rationing board at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon in the district courtroom at the courthouse here to receive their instructions and supplies.

Consumers, who will register and obtain their ration books in elementary schools throughout the county on May 4, 5, 6 or 7, may purchase one pound of sugar with each one of the first four stamps in their ration books. Stamp No. 1 will be valid from May 5 to May 16, stamp No. 2 from May 17 to May 30, stamp No. 3 from May 31 until June 13, and stamp No. 4 from June 14 to June 27. This amounts to a half pound per person a week.

Restaurants and other food services will be able to obtain fifty per cent of the amount of sugar used during the corresponding month last year, or of the amount of sugar used during the month of March, 1942, while bakers, manufacturers of confectionery, ice cream, dairy products, preserves, bottled beverages (Continued on Page 2)

Budgets And Expenses In Wayne, Dixon, Cedar Counties

Budget reports made in 14 Nebraska counties including Wayne and its neighboring counties are published in detailed form in the April issue of the Nebraska Taxpayer, published by the Nebraska Federation of County Taxpayers Leagues.

Some interesting facts are revealed by comparing the budgets of Wayne and these other 13 counties, only summarized figures for Wayne, Dixon and Cedar counties from which are reprinted here.

For purposes of comparison, it is well to keep in mind that Wayne county has a population of 9,880 and 450 square miles; Dixon county has a population of 10,413 and 472 square miles and Cedar county has a population of 15,126 and 735 square miles.

A Word From The Mayor Elect

In a few days, the newly elected council and mayor, with the council members holding over from former elections, will take over the duties entrusted with them of safeguarding the business and welfare of the City of Wayne. The co-operation of every citizen is desired. As you know, we all consider this as the finest little city in Nebraska, and we want to keep it so.

We all know that it is easy to sit on the sidelines and criticize the acts of your city officials. If you were in their places, you, too, would be unable to please everyone, but would do what you thought best. Therefore, let's all work with them and not against them.

In these troublesome times, you may be asked to perform some duties to your country, state or city and we hope you will perform them gladly without question. Our young men are giving their all and we must do our full against any obstacle. Therefore, Team work will win for us, let's work together.

Many Appear
Before Senate
Group In Wayne

Nearly a score of persons, the majority of them from Wayne but including a few from Wakefield, Allen and other nearby towns, participated in the public hearing on taxation and assessment held at the college administration building Saturday afternoon by a sub-committee of the legislative council.

Senator Walter R. Raecke of Central City, Senator L. M. Jeppesen of Hubbard and Senator Elmer Rakow of Neligh made up the committee and were assisted by Senator W. A. Crossland of Wayne.

The meeting was a most successful one and continued throughout the afternoon with many excellent suggestions concerning tax matters being discussed. Everyone who appeared before the committee was given an opportunity to make suggestions, which were discussed.

Members of the sub-committee were entertained at lunch at the college cafeteria. A similar meeting was conducted by the committee at Norfolk Saturday morning.

Wayne County Has Quota Of $150 In Navy Drive

Wayne county has been assigned a quota of $150 in the Navy Relief Society campaign, which opened Monday of this week and will continue until May 4. Nebraska's quota in this nation-wide campaign is $32,268.

Fred Berry of Wayne, a member of the state committee in charge, is supervisor of District 15 in this campaign. This district includes Wayne, Thurston, Stanton, Cuming and Burt counties.

Kenneth L. Johnson of Wayne is chairman of the campaign in this county and Mrs. Clarke Wilson of Wakefield is vice-chairman.

Governor Dwight Griswold has proclaimed this week as Navy Relief Week in Nebraska and urged citizens to assist the chairman with the campaign and to contribute liberally.

Because of the tire shortage and difficulty in arranging for transportation the Wayne college chapter will probably not be represented at the Mississippi Valley International Relations clubs conference at Minneapolis, May 1 and 2 according to Miss Verna Etferson, faculty adviser of the club.

Don Strahan was in Norfolk Monday.

Soil District
Extension
Is Defeated

89 'Yes' Votes
Slightly Under Margin Required

Although 89 county land owners voted in favor of making the Wayne County Soil Conservation district county-wide and only 35 voted against the proposition at the referendum Saturday, it failed to carry by the required 75 per cent margin. The 'yes' vote was only slightly more than 71 per cent of the total.

While a check had not been obtained Monday on the mail ballots, which were sent to Lincoln prior to the referendum here, leaders in campaign for extension believed so few ballots were cast in that manner that they would not change the defeat into victory. Majority of the votes cast against the proposition were cast at the Wayne polling places, apparently by land owners living in Wayne and vicinity.

Light Vote Cast

Considering the hundreds of land owners in the county not included in the present district and so eligible to cast ballots, the total vote indicated a lack of interest in either adoption or rejection of the county-wide extension proposal. Despite the fact that it was repeatedly explained in news stories and at farm meetings that approval of the proposition would neither obligate a farmer or land owner to contour his farm nor involve any expense on farmers who did not desire to participate in the benefits of the program, stories were circulated to the contrary which doubtless misled some voters.

Since an approval vote would have served only to have permitted farmers now outside the district and desiring to obtain the aid of soil conservation engineers who are working through the Soil Conservation district here to do so, it had been expected that the proposition would carry despite the heavy margin of votes required. Now, many county farmers living outside the district will be unable to obtain the benefits of this free service supplied by the Soil Conservation Service, headed in this district by Ed Stipakly.

Second Vote Possible
Another election on the proposition may be held after six months have elapsed if the demand for such a second referendum is sufficient to convince the state committee it is warranted. However, it is highly unlikely that it will be submitted again at the end of such a period.

Meanwhile, of course, the soil conservation work within the present district will be continued.

Men Between Ages Of 45 And
65 Years Register

The fourth national registration, which was for men between the ages of 45 and 65 years, was held between the hours of 7 a. m. and 9 p. m. yesterday, Monday. It was estimated that some 942 Wayne county men would register at the five places designated in the county but total figures on the actual registration were not immediately available when the registration period ended.

The largest number required to register did so at the Selective Service headquarters on the second floor of the First National bank building in Wayne, the only registration place in this city. Others were located at Winside, Carroll, Hoskins and Altona.

Those who registered Monday will not be called into military service and so no national lottery will be necessary, but the registration provides an inventory of the nation's manpower.

M'Cook Teachers
Married In Wayne

Arthur Barth, McCook teacher and Marjorie Genevieve Morris, also a McCook teacher were married in Wayne Saturday by Dr. Victor West.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Strahan visited at the G. A. Mittlestadt home in Winside Sunday.

Failure of the proposal to make the Wayne Soil Conservation District county-wide to carry by the required 75 per cent margin Saturday came as a surprise to the many progressive farmers of this county who favored the proposition. It was known, of course, that there was some opposition but it was believed that it was confined largely to those unfamiliar with the facts. Soil conservation and contour farming have made such progress in recent years that there is little doubt that within a period of a few years, a similar proposition will be approved by an overwhelming majority. They are practices which pay increasing dividends with the years and attempting to analyze reasons for the 'no' votes to the proposition as submitted is more than a little difficult.

Let's try it: First, you might say it was rejected because land owners who oppose contouring and many question its value feared they would be forced to adopt it if it carried. However, those supporting it assure us that such is not the case; the individual farm owner may adopt or reject it if his farm is in the district.

Second, the fear of expense to the owner if it carried. But, any expense is likewise optional and results only from work which a farmer wants done on his farm. He pays nothing for the surveys and aid of the Soil Conservation engineers.

Third, perhaps some oppose it because they believe the government is spending too much money on such agencies as the Soil Conservation Service and bring big hearted and patriotic they refused to take advantage of this free service. But it couldn't be that either, because there is already a district organized and functioning here with the necessary setup to handle a county setup with little additional expense. Uncle Sam saves little if anything and some other county will be only too happy to take advantage of the opportunity.

Maybe, there are other good and sufficient reasons for the 'no' votes, but we predict that one of these days, especially if the wind continues to carry away top soil like it was doing Monday and the heavy downpours take their annual toll, Wayne county residents are going to wake up wondering what became of northeast Nebraska's rich soil.

The above sounds a lot like moaning over a lost cause or attempting to lock the doors after the horse has fled and doubtless those who voted against the proposition felt as equally justified as those favoring it, but we would like to take them on a little tour of inspection in some other states where crops used to flourish but no more because old erosion has done his work well. In fact, there are a few samples to be seen without driving far enough to cause any material damage to precious tires.

Mayor Fleet Herman Lundberg in a brief message to the citizens of Wayne, who selected him as their leader, points out that we must all cooperate for the best interests of our city and that it is easy to criticize adversely those who are striving to serve as best they may. He wrote a great deal of truth there. In the difficult times ahead, we shouldn't waste our energy battling over minor differences. We will need all we have for tasks so let's give the new administration the support which the present one so richly deserved but didn't receive in full measure. Let's make all our criticisms constructive and let's get the facts straight before we start hurling rocks.

To keep this column from sounding like a series of sermons, we want to compliment the Legion Auxiliary on arranging the freedom dance for the young men who are leaving Wayne early Wednesday morning to help batter a bit of sanity into this crazy world in which we live. Several local civic organizations talked about doing something to honor our selectees but it remained for the Auxiliary to get into action and do the job. Seems that the Auxiliary in Wayne has a habit of getting things done; alert leaders and willing workers are a great combination. Our hats off to them.

Elsewhere in this edition, you will find the essential facts regarding the sugar rationing registration in Wayne county. The retailers and trade users generally will sign up today at the local schools and the rest of us (Continued on Page 2) agoes, desserts and other specialties will be entitled to an allotment of 70 per cent of past use.

Although retailers, wholesalers, institutional and industrial users of sugar have two days—Tuesday (today) and Wednesday of this week—in which to register throughout the nation, all in Wayne county are being urged to register the first day, today.

Local retailers may register at the Wayne City Schools or at the Wayne Prep school. At both schools, hours of registration for trade users will be from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m. and at the City School, registration will be in the superintendent's office.

Under the regulations, one adult member of each family unit should register for all members of the family.

As it is estimated that it will require from four to five minutes to fill out each application card and one must be filled out for each member of every family, most of the teachers will require assistants to handle the applicants without great delay. Several assistants will be needed in schools with large enrollments.

Registration must be made at the school house in the district in which the family resides and applications for war ration books should be made by a member of the family unit—a group of two or more persons living together in the same household and related by blood, marriage or adoption.

Check Supply

Persons who have on hand more than two pounds of sugar but less than six pounds when the rationing books are issued will have stamps removed from their books equal to the excess of two pounds and those with more than six pounds on hand will not be issued a book at this time.

It is important that every family participate in the registration on May 4, since when the registration is completed, those who have failed to register will have to wait for two weeks before applying to their local rationing board for a sugar rationing book.

Any applicants who register away from home should appear before their local rationing board when they return and apply to have the file transferred to the local board.

Ration To Vary

The sugar ration will vary from time to time, depending on the amount of sugar available and the period for which a ration stamp is good will be announced by the Office of Price Administration as well as at the ration for each stamp. The books are so arranged also that the stamps may be used to ration other commodities as the need arises.

When sugar is purchased under the rationing system, the ration book and not the stamp must be taken to the grocery or market from which the purchase is made and if a ration book becomes lost or is stolen, book—to cover the amount of sugar you have ordered. He cannot give you more sugar than your stamps allow even if it has been sent. He would have to take the balance to the store. Give the person delivering the sugar the stamps you tear out of the War Ration Books.

Q—What if I need more sugar than I get with my War Rationing Book?

A—If it is absolutely necessary for you or your family to have more sugar for home canning, illness or some other special reason, you may go to your Local Rationing Board. They will decide whether you can have this sugar, and how much you can have. They may then issue to you a special certificate permitting you to buy a specified amount of sugar for a specified purpose. You will not need to use the War Ration Book or Books in buying sugar with this certificate.

Q—What do I do if my War Ration Book is lost, stolen, destroyed or mutilated?

A—Report the facts to the local Rationing Board at once.

Q—Can I send my War Ration Book home to my family to use?

A—No. Your War Ration Book is issued to be used by or for you. The sugar it permits you to buy is intended to be used by you or by the family of which you are a member and with whom you live.

Q—Do these War Ration Stamp entitle me to get sugar for nothing?

A—No. The War Ration Book gives you the right to buy certain amounts of sugar. If you do not need sugar do not buy it.

Q—If my family has enough stamps can we buy more than two pounds of sugar at a time?

A—Yes. You can buy as much sugar as your family's stamps entitle them to in the period during which these stamps are valid.

The fact should be reported to the local rationing board promptly.

The local rationing board will also serve as a board of appeals in case it is necessary for some family to have more sugar than is provided under the rationing system for any given period or periods.

The War Storm

Only a war, such as the present world-wide conflict, brings general and true appreciation of the benefits of peace. If this has been true in past wars, it is doubly true of the present one, which will demand greater and greater sacrifices from virtually every citizen until victory and precious peace are finally achieved.

Fortunately, America entered this war or rather was forced into it without any false notions of what was ahead. Nearly everyone realize that this wouldn't be any picnic—far from it—and those who did nurse false illusions about war boom prosperity are being rudely awakened.

The rationing of tires, sugar and a few other commodities are apparently only the beginning for general rationing of virtually every type of product. A few are only inconvenienced slightly at present but many are hit on many fronts. There is no such thing as business as usual although some lines of business naturally are suffering to a far greater degree than others. Auto, tire, electrical appliance, hardware and building material dealers are temporarily at least hardest hit by war regulations but all are directly or indirectly affected.

Those communities which have been awarded defense contracts will weather the storm better than those with nothing to offset shortages, rationing regulations and so on.

Those who are making the greatest personal sacrifices are the young men being called into military service, their families, and friends. Wednesday more than eighty of these selectees will leave for camp from Wayne county alone, which is indicative of the vast number now being called into service. They will make up this nation's war front and win for it and the home front the blessings of peace. They will make the greatest sacrifices and those on the home front, who are called upon to give, give and then give some more in sacrifice, in money, in time and effort, must shoulder their full share of the war's burden.

Purchase of bonds and stamps will likely be forced if sufficient response is not received to present appeals just as rationing of many lines of goods has been found necessary. Regulations to curb inflation must necessarily be drastic and painful—all forced on us by the war.

Our government has and doubtless will continue to make many blunders and force some needless sacrifices; these cannot be avoided in such a gigantic undertaking. We must remember before we start sympathizing too greatly with ourselves that with few exceptions, all of our citizens are suffering to some extent, that our government is not to blame and that winning the war is and must be our first duty to ourselves, our country and the future.

The war can last only a few years, perhaps only a few months and then victory will start this nation toward even better and brighter times than in the pre-war days.

Attention, Nebraska GOP

'As Maine goes, so goes the nation' has been found false in recent elections; but out of Maine's republican party convention came a pledge which might be adopted for the benefit of the nation by all republicans in every state. It would obviously require a major reversal of political tactics for some republican leaders of Nebraska—veterans of the hate-Roosevelt wars who are blinded to everything except accusations that the President is always wrong—but we've never known such about-face motions to bother such politicians.

The republican party of Maine pledged its "whole-hearted support" to President Roosevelt "in a vigorous and efficient prosecution of the war."

Its platform stated: "The paramount duty of every American citizen is to take his full part in bringing about a decisive and complete military victory. In attaining this result, party politics, as such, have no place."

Such a statement contrasts sharply with the continued blasts at the administration, its conduct of the war included, that fills the hate-Roosevelt Republican press of Nebraska.

Leaving For Camp

Wednesday morning, more than eighty Wayne county young men will leave here at an early hour to begin their period of training in Uncle Sam's fighting forces.

Proposals for a special sendoff were discussed by various civic organizations but, unless some last minute plans are worked out, the boys will leave just as have other groups with only their relatives and friends to bid them goodbye. Naturally, a few will return within the week as not all of those sent to fill this county's quotas for April have taken their final physical examinations.

The special sendoff proposal was rejected for several reasons. Many believe that the men who are leaving would greatly prefer to go quietly with only their close friends about them. Others pointed out that the government is discouraging such sendoff celebrations; still others predict that in the future small groups will be leaving every few days, some of whom will return after taking their physical examinations, and that a proper celebration might not be possible each time. The boys know that their neighbors and friends here appreciate the sacrifice which entering the service demands just as greatly as any city or village even though no special celebration will be staged to honor them.

Information Service

In a bulletin issued recently by the Wayne Chamber of Commerce appeared the following paragraph, which we are reprinting because we believe more and more merchants will want to take advantage of this service.

"Information Service—We receive in the Chamber of Commerce office information from miscellaneous sources on priorities and other war-time government regulations. Also available to us on request is any information which we don't have. If there are any services that we can perform for you in this connection, please feel free to call on us at any time."

With new government regulations being adopted almost daily now, this service should be of great value to the business men of Wayne. You are urged to make full use of it.

RIGHT OUT OF THE AIR

By EARLE FERRIS

ALMOST as important as an Academy Award to motion picture stars is Hedda Hopper's "Hat's Off" salute to them on her program.

Many of the sound effects for radio programs are created synthetically by gadgets but there is one authentic effect on the Burns and Allen broadcasts which remains unaltered. It's a set of 12 wooden steps, built to represent the staircase in the Burns home.

The Poor Richard Club, Philadelphia advertising men's organization, May 5 will present to Raymond Gram Swing a citation of merit for the outstanding job he is doing as a radio commentator on world conditions.

Milton Berle, "Three Ring Time's" zany jester, maintains that with gas rationing going into effect soon, a fellow will be telling his gal the truth when his car happens to run out of fuel on a dark road.

Xavier Cugat, whose Latin-American rhythms are becoming increasingly popular on the Blue network Tuesday nights, with his "Rumba Revue," is also concentrating on making a movie these days.

Latest addition to glamour girl ranks is Julie Conway, pictured here, who was whisked from a college campus to be featured as a singer on Kay Kyser's "College of Musical Knowledge" over the NBC-Red network Wednesday nights.

Lovely Betty Winkler, the new "Joyce Jordan" star, always puts a chair between herself and the microphone when she's broadcasting. That's because she used to edge up too close to the mike during a tense scene and give her director the jitters.

Whenever radio has need of a music specialist Frank Black, pictured here, is usually called in. His latest assignment was to conduct the NBC-commissioned opera, "The Nightingale and the Rose" in its world premiere.

half of the American war effort.

"We know where we would hang a medal, if we were hanging medals.

"And you will never guess. "It would be on the chest of what too many of us had come to believe was a decrepit old veteran about ready to fall apart."

"The railroads of America. "All of us have been inclined to criticize them for what we considered their lack of efficiency and indifference, and gossip had it that they were outmoded and incapable of handling modern problems of traffic, both freight and passenger, and under emergency pressure, would collapse.

"What a mistaken idea that was! "Unsung, unacclaimed, without fanfare or boasting, they are doing the greatest transportation job ever known in the history of the world.

"They are moving troops and materials over mountains, across the plains and deserts, and tying coast lines together with an efficiency that is amazing. "At the same time, passenger traffic is moving with greater comfort and speed than ever before and non-war freight is being handled as though that's all there was.

"If there ever was an institution completely and thoroughly in step with the war effort and needs of the United States. "It is the railroads."

READY FOR ANY EVENTUALITY

"The indications are that the needs of the army, the navy, public health and civilian populations can be met by scientific planning and complete cooperation without any deterioration in the quality of medical education and medical service," said the Journal of the American Medical Association, recently.

War makes heavy demands on American medicine. Thousands of doctors are being called to duty with the military forces. Tens of thousands of doctors are giving a part of their working time to the Selective Service Boards and other military and quasi-military agencies. Workers in arms industries will work longer hours at strenuous labors, and will require more medical attention than was necessary in peacetime. But, despite all this, experts in the field are convinced that American medicine will meet the crisis with complete success.

That is a fine testimonial to our system of private medicine. Nowhere else in the world are doctors given such rigorous training. Nowhere else in the world are there so many doctors. Nowhere else in the world has such astonishing progress been made against the bacterial killers. The average American is healthier than the average citizen of any other country. He lives a longer, happier life. And you can give American medicine much of the credit for that.

The American hospital system has kept pace with medical progress. To meet wartime needs, increased hospital facilities are being planned in many regions. Those who guard this nation's health are doing a magnificent job—and they are ready for all eventualities.

THEY MEET COMPETITION

The Rexburg, Idaho, Journal made apt comment on retail competition when, in part, it said: "Merchants who are tempted to complain of the chain stores, might cast their eyes around the community and see what the successful independents are doing and figure it out for themselves why they seem to get along in the face of modern competition.

"The answer is not hard to find. These alert local merchants are on their toes, know their business, manage it themselves, serve the public, and give more for the money. They are pleasing their public through personal service, and the people go back for more. It is the only way to get, or keep, business. Most of them are believers in advertising, recognizing its service to modern merchandising. There is no reason that we know of why a merchant can't meet competition. He can do it if he will."

The American independent merchant is not an incompetent, and the statistics prove it. According to government surveys, individual retailers did 74.7 per cent of the nation's total retail business in 1939, the last year for which official figures are available. That was a substantially larger proportion than they did in 1935 and 1933.

In big cities and little towns you see independent stores operating side by side with chain stores—with each prospering, each getting a fair share of the business. That is true of all retail lines—hardware, general merchandise, variety stores, food, clothing, etc. The intelligent, progressive merchant succeeds. The indolent, backward merchant fails. That rule applies to independents and chains with equal force.

FOOD FOR FREEDOM

The agriculture commission of the American Bankers Association has prepared an extensive plan whereby banks may assist in the "Food for Freedom" program.

The Secretary of Agriculture has asked farmers to turn out the greatest production in history. The people of this and other United Nations need more meat, milk, eggs, vegetables, fruits and oil crops. Foods, as he observed, "are munitions of war."

In this, the role of banking will be vital. To quote from the American Bankers Association plan, "The present situation makes it imperative that agriculture production shall not be handicapped by lack of adequate credit. . . . The commercial bank is in an excellent position to provide prompt, economical and intelligent credit service to farmers. Every farm in the country is in the trading area of some local bank."

Under the plan, the banks will do a thorough job. Each bank participating will appoint an officer, with a knowledge of farm problems and methods, to take charge of all matters pertaining to agriculture. The community's financial resources will be organized as far as possible. Every request for agriculture credit will be given the most careful consideration. And the banks will encourage all farmers in their areas to develop their properties to the fullest producing capacity for war needs.

Thus the banks are going to work for agriculture. And agriculture's own organizations are doing increasingly effective work in still other fields. The cooperative marketing organizations, for example, are doing an extremely important job in improving production methods, dealing with legislative problems stabilizing markets, etc. These organizations can aid in making the bank's new program operate with minimum speed and effectiveness. The "Food for Freedom" gains momentum fast.

A Swedish ship will arrive here soon. Sometime the last of this month it will take away the Axis diplomatic people who are now interned in a fashionable resort in West Virginia. The ship will unload the Axis people in Lisbon and take on the American diplomatic personnel and their families at Lisbon. The original arrangements were made through the Swiss Government. The Portuguese will guarantee safe conduct. All belligerent ships will know the name of the Swedish ship and its daily and nightly location. The same ship or another Swedish ship will later go to some port in Southern Europe and take on the American diplomatic employees who have been interned in Japan and China. These Americans must go around the world in these diplomatic exchanges. The waters of the entire Pacific are belligerent. There are no neutrals there. That is why the long trip is necessary. The case of the interned diplomatic employees in the Philippines is different. The Japanese figure that the Philippines are American territory and everybody they have interned there will probably have to stay until the war is over. That means we have to whip the Japs before we can get our people off those islands. But negotiations between the diplomats on the Philippine diplomatic internment question is continuing. For the information of those interested, the last word from Germany is that our people are interned at Bad Neuhelm; that they are reasonably well treated and that they are generally in good health. The American diplomats in Shanghai are interned in the Hotel Metropole.

A well-known jockey, Irving Anderson of Hoskins, Nebraska

Much discussion continues about synthetic rubber. It will continue to be a hot subject. Foreign experts who are here say we should have started making the synthetic rubber in 1936. They claim Russia and Germany have been and are making great quantities of it. Russians make it out of alcohol much of which is distilled from potatoes. They also make it from a weed which grows profusely in Russia. Germany makes it from carbon, coke and lime. These same experts say we have all the material necessary to be self-sufficient in rubber if we hurry and make it. Tires will become scarcer as the war is prolonged.

Eight Idaho baking potatoes bought in a Washington store a few days ago cost seventy cents.

In reply to questions about capital ships, Uncle Sam will finish several of the gigantic ships which are under construction. But emphasis in new ship construction is on the smaller, faster and less expensive fighting ships. The big ships are too big a target for fighting planes.

The new defense appropriation bill was passed without a roll call. Scarcely anyone in the house can comprehend eighteen billion dollars, but it is hoped to turn that money into munitions and the machines of war. Most of the money will go for aviation. With the amount included in this bill, the house has now in appropriations and contractual authorizations, made more than 160 billion dollars available for national defense for the fiscal years 1941, 1942 and 1943.

A bill for a national lottery to raise defense funds will be introduced in the House soon by one of the administration leaders. The idea is not new. It has been up many times.

W. O. Gilbert, who used to be a prominent lawyer in Omaha, died here recently. He was buried in Arlington National Cemetery. Among those attending the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. Gould Dietz of Omaha.

An organization with a highly patriotic sounding name was about to be formed here. A high ranking administration leader was ready to make a speech in the house about the value of the organization. Then he got a tip that some of the organizers were "too pink" and he tore up the speech. The organization may fold up.

Nearly every day, some member is asked to sponsor or join some new organization in Washington. Members have become so suspicious that they no longer are eager to sign on the dotted line.

In reply to questions: House members do not get free hair cuts, free shaves or free mineral water. The barbers in the house are carried on the payroll as janitors and custodians at about $100 a month. They do some clean-up work. They keep what they are paid for hair cuts and shaves. They charge 25 cents for a haircut but expect and do get tips which make haircuts cost about the same as in downtown barbershops. Most members pay around 50 cents for a haircut; 25 to 35 cents for a shave and 15 cents for a shoeshine. The house has no control over senate expenditures.

Complaints come to the Third District Office that men seeking jobs in defense plants are asked to pay as much as $35 to unions before they can get jobs. These matters are being referred to the proper departments for explanation.

Weekly Farm Review

By Chester Walters
Wayne County Extension Agent

BINDWEED AND SOIL EROSION

Soil erosion by wind and water is one of the greatest problems connected with the eradication of bindweed by the tillage method, Extension Agronomist, D. L. Gross of the Nebraska College of Agriculture states. Both types of erosion occur on rolling land, while wind erosion is serious on level land. In some cases, two years of clean tillage on sloping land has resulted in the loss of practically all the top soil in a big share of the tilled area. Sometimes, a single heavy rain has removed soil to the depth of tillage. The result is serious depletion of fertility which may take many years to replace. Often gullies are formed.

Water erosion under these conditions can be reduced in several ways. Terracing the field with broad base terraces before tillage operations get underway is one of the very best methods. The terraces used in a case of this kind must be very broad and well rounded, if the tillage machinery is to operate efficiently. Another method that looks very promising is use of a sub-surface tiller after a combined small grain crop or after the land has been covered with two to three tons of straw per acre. If the straw is kept on the surface and is well distributed, it will aid absorption of rainfall and reduce erosion. This method also will control wind erosion. A combination of subsurface tillage under straw, and use of the alternate wheat-fallow method of eradication seems to be most effective. Fall rye may be substituted for the wheat in this method.

PLAN FOR CANNING

Supplies for home canning will be available during 1942, but it will be necessary for homemakers to plan carefully how they will use their equipment, the War Production board has advised the office of Agricultural Defense Relations. That word reached Miss Helen Rocke, state house demonstration agent at the College of Agriculture this week. There will be substitutions in materials in some of the parts required for jar covers, but covers will be available for all common types of jars. Quality of rubber jar rings will be maintained. It looks as if it will be hard to buy a pressure cooker. No doubt some cookers will be manufactured, but probably the number will not be enough to meet demands.

Miss Rocke points out that storing, drying and bringing a larger share of the food that is conserved will reduce the strain on canning equipment. Another help is plantings of leafy and other hardy vegetables to supply food past the time when people ordinarily use such crops.

KILL THE CUTWORM

Cutworms in gardens can be killed with a poison bran bait, Associate Extension Entomologist Don Whelan said. He pointed out that the cutworm which works one to a plant and cuts it off near the surface is the type most Nebraskans have to contend with.

Grasshopper bait may be used. However, the sodium arsenite in it will kill any plant that it touches and it must be used carefully.

A much better bait can be made from one-quarter pound of white arsenic or paris green, thoroughly mixed into five pounds of dry bran. Two or three quarts of water, or enough to make the mixture wet and crumbly, is added. This amount of bait is enough to make two or three applications on a piece of garden lawn 50 by 100 feet. The mixture is broadcast thinly all over the garden, especially along the edges, early in the evening. A second application can be made three or four evenings later.

FOOD CONSERVATION PUBLICATIONS AVAILABLE

Several publications on long-used methods of food conservation, which may become more popular this year, are listed this week. EC9920, "Home Preservation by Freezing," EC9906, "Methods of Drying," and EC11-102 "Home Storage of Fruits and Vegetables" can be obtained through the county extension office.

CO49, which is a new circular on drying and brining issued by the Nebraska Extension Service, will be available for general distribution after May 15.

THE CHINCH BUG IS STILL IN NEBRASKA

Winter mortality of chinch bugs was not enough to have much effect on the potential chinch bug population for 1942, according to the annual spring survey in which the entomology department at the Nebraska College of Agriculture cooperated.

Nine or ten counties were classed as "quite serious" in their outlook for chinch bugs, following a previous survey. Included were the counties south and east of a line drawn through Dodge, Saunders, and Lancaster counties. Ten or eleven other counties, bordering on the area, continue to have a "threatening" outlook.

Actual size of the chinch bug population will depend upon the coming of rains during May and June, when the bugs are hatching out and beginning to feed on small grain, the entomologists say. No infestation of grasshoppers or chinch bugs is predicted for Wayne county.

HAVE PRESSURE COOKER GAUGE TESTED

Any housewife may have her pressure cooker gauge tested at the household equipment research laboratory, College of Agriculture, Lincoln, with no cost other than the postage for mailing.

Arnold E. Barager, director of the laboratory, states that food canned in a pressure cooker may spoil if the pressure gauge is inaccurate. If the actual processing pressure is lower than the reading indicated by the gauge pointer, the food may not be properly sterilized. Checking periodically with a master gauge, is the only way to tell whether a pressure cooker gauge is indicating the actual pressure. We will be glad to have gauges tested if they are left at the county extension office.

WEAPONS FROM WASTE

Any 4-H club or other organizations in Wayne county may take part in a Victory Weapon campaign announced last week by M. T. Caster, executive secretary for the Nebraska State Salvage committee.

Here is the plan. The following amounts of iron and steel scrap are required for making these weapons: 12 1/2 pounds, .30 caliber machine gun; 50 pounds, .50 caliber machine gun; 25 pounds, 100-pound aerial bomb; 125 pounds, 500-pound gun; 6,000 pounds, 3-inch anti-aircraft gun; 8 tons, 15-ton light tank; 18 tons 27-ton medium tank; 500 pounds 2,000-pound aerial bomb; 2,500 pounds, 37MM anti-aircraft gun.

The club may decide for which item it will obtain the scrap and advise the county salvage chairman, Phil March of its choice, also when the project has been completed and the material sold.

The State Salvage committee will give public recognition to each group that completes such a project.

80 County Men Leaving For Service

The group given physical examinations at Omaha last month, will probably be rejected and return within the next two or three days. Under the new examination setup, however, those passing will be inducted into the service immediately but may obtain permission to return home for a few days if necessary to complete necessary business arrangements.

Travel Light

Selectees have been instructed to take only enough clothing for three days including a few clothes, handkerchiefs, socks, towel and toilet articles as they will be issued equipment with little delay.

As provision has been made to allow men in the service to vote at coming elections, Nebraskans should apply to the county clerk in their home areas for absentee voters applications and instructions 30 days before the election.

Proposals for a special sendoff Wednesday morning were discussed by local civic organizations but rejected for several reasons. Many expressed the belief that most of the men would prefer having only their relatives and close friends about them when they leave. However, the dance in their honor sponsored by the Legion Auxiliary served a similar purpose.

Church Fined

Lyle Church entered a plea of guilty in County Judge J. M. Cherry's court Monday to a charge of operating a common carrier in interstate commerce without a certificate. He was fined $10 and costs which were taxed at $25.50.

County Wheat Farmers To Vote

Wayne county farmers will go to the polls Saturday to cast ballots in a nation-wide wheat marketing quota.

Approximately twelve Wayne county wheat growers and landlords are eligible to participate in the referendum, AAA Chairman Thomas Roberts said. Eligible voters are persons who have an interest in a planted wheat acreage or more than fifteen acres with a normal yield of not less than 200 bushels.

Manned by the county committee, the polling places in Wayne county will be open from 8 a. m. to 9 p. m. at the county AAA office.

Any person who will not be present on the day of the referendum in the county in which he is eligible to vote may obtain one ballot form, prior to or on the day of the referendum from the office of a county committee conveniently situated for him and cast his ballot by mail. All ballots voted by mail must, in order to be accepted, reach the county committee for the county in which the voter is eligible to vote by not later than the hour for closing the polls in the county for the day of the referendum.

Results of the referendum for farmers will be measured in terms of dollars and cents, Mr. Roberts explained. AAA wheat loans, which have stabilized the price of the tremendous U. S. wheat supply in recent years, cannot be made available to farmers if quotas are rejected.

World War II finds the United States well supplied with wheat, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture. As the chart above indicates, the supply is double that of 1917 when America entered the first World War. It is estimated that on July 1, the Nation's supply will be nearly 1 1/2 billion bushels, enough for two years of domestic use. Instead of plowing up new land and expanding wheat acreage, farmers are able to use land, labor and equipment in turning out other war commodities more vitally needed—such as dairy, poultry and meat products, vegetables and oil crops.

THE HOME FRONT

Victory News from the Nebraska Advisory Defense Committee, Compiled by the Nebraska WPA Writers' Project, Sponsored by the Nebraska Press Association.

The Nebraska Advisory Defense committee met in Lincoln April 17 to function as state zoning agency. Zoning Engineer J. E. Johnston reported progress in zoning war plant areas. The agency is helping towns and counties prepare building codes, trailer regulations and other measures, necessitated by influx of war workers. Four Nebraska Zoning districts were approved, namely: No. 2, Nebraska Ordnance Plant, Wahoo; No. 3, Cornhusker Ordnance Plant, Grand Island; No. 4, Sidney-Ordnance Depot; No. 5, Lincoln Air Base.

for 12 Nebraska Airport Zoning districts, as follows: No. 1, Grand Island; No. 2, McCook; No. 3, Fairbury; No. 4, Hebron; No. 5, Chadron; No. 6, Beatrice; No. 7, Norfolk; No. 8, Ainsworth; No. 9, Hastings; No. 10, Fremont; No. 11, North Platte; No. 12, Kearney.

Dancing and pie eating are legitimate war efforts. Here is proof. Nebraska City youngsters used scrap metal as admission to a recent high school dance. Enough was secured to make, when mixed with iron ore, a 2,000 pound aerial bomb and a 37 mm anti-aircraft gun. In Dund county the Parks extension club held a program and pie social and with the returns bought a $25 war bond.

These Nebraska Advisory Defense committee members attended the April 17 zoning meeting in Lincoln: Governor Dwight Criswood, chairman; Secretary-Coordinator Walter F. Roberts; C. E. Alter, Alma; Archer Burnham, Lincoln; Mrs. C. R. Caley, Springfield; D. L. Erickson, Lincoln; Mrs. Lorena Hahn, Omaha; Charles Kearney, Morrill; H. G. Keeney, Cowles; Mrs. Nell Krause, Albion; E. J. Lafferty, Omaha; W. L. Pierpoint, Omaha; Joe Seacrest, Lincoln; Morton Steinhart, Nebraska City; Charles Thompson and E. M. Von Seggern, West Point.

Phil Harper, Airport Engineer, State Aeronautics Commission, accompanied Zoning Engineer J. E. Johnston, R. F. "Bub" Weller, Assistant Construction Engineer, Highway Department, told briefly of his recent experiences in FBI traffic schools.

If the Japs start a peace offensive now we'll tell them to go to Hull with it.

Mrs. Mary B. Lakeman will return to her home in Lincoln on Wednesday for a three weeks visit with her daughter, Mrs. C. W. Campbell and family.

'V-Girl' Is Described

Contest Features Vim, Vigor, Vitality And Vitamins

Ever since the "V-Girl" contest sponsored jointly by this newspaper and the makers of Vitamin-Enriched Omar Wonder Flour was announced, people have been asking "What is a 'V-girl'?" It's pretty simple, really, yet it's pretty important when you know the full meaning.

"V" Stands for Victory. Have you realized that the letter "V" is probably the most important letter in the alphabet these days? First of all, it stands for "Victory," for which every American is devoutly planning, working and praying.

"V-Girl" is, therefore a Victory Girl! The letter "V" also stands for three typical American qualities, three characteristics we're going to need to win Victory. They are Vim, Vigor and Vitality.

The "V-Girl" is a Vim, Vigor and Vitality Girl!

"V" Stands for Vitamins. But that's not all. "V" also stands for another word, a word that's becoming more and more important to Americans every day—"Vitamins". Only plentiful vitamins in our daily meals can give us the vim, vigor and vitality we need to win victory.

And the "V-Girl" is a Vitamin Girl!

Vitamin Enriched Flour. Because so few Americans get all the vitamins they need for to enrich their flours with two important B-vitamins and the food mineral iron. One of the first to respond and, unfortunately, one of the relatively few, was Omar. Over a year ago the Omar mills brought out vitamin-enriched Omar Wonder Flour, and offered it to the public at no increase in price.

"V-Girl" Contest Prizes. Now, to put special emphasis on Vitamins and their important part in the Victory program "V-Girl" contest with this newspaper. The winner in each county will get a $1.00 Defense Savings Stamp, the State winner a $25 Defense Savings Bond and the Grand prize winner a $100.00 Defense Savings Bond plus a free all-expense trip to Washington, D.
