

The New Deal may be forgiven many things but just how its going to survive making all the fair ladies of the land reveal their age to obtain sugar rationing cards remains a mystery.

Two quick ways to become unpopular in any community today is to accept an appointment to either the Selective Service or the Rationing Board.

Judging from the rate they are inducing Wayne county men into the army, Uncle Sam is going to have ample men to fight in all sections of the world arid soon.

Speaking of the war, which is almost the only topic of conversation these days, Dr. Richard R. Stuart, biology authority at the college, has climbed way out on that oft mentioned limb where the prophets reside and predicts that before Santa Claus goes merrily tumbling down chimneys throughout the Christian world December 25 next, the war will be history and the Axis will have been crushed.

Graduation events are going to take place thick and fast now in Wayne with the eighth grade graduates leading the parade of Commencement marches on Saturday of this week.

Wayne finally has landed bus service to connect this city with the rest of the world to the south. However, the application of the Arrow Stage Lines company was granted only for a 90-day trial period to see whether or not there is sufficient demand for such service.

Interest in politics in these parts continues to lag but not so in Oklahoma, where it seems that even the war fever isn't sufficient to keep politicians from enjoying their sport in a big way.

If Wayne's civic organizations, influential citizens, politicians, educators and what-have-you would concentrate their ambitions for the future of this city on landing a commercial alcohol plant using grain as its raw material, we believe they could achieve success.

You're Always Welcome In Wayne.

2,656 Ration Books Issued In Wayne

Reports For All Towns In County Listed; Some Refuse

A total of 2,656 rationing books were issued and 2,845 applications for books filed in the city of Wayne during the nation-wide sugar registration, last week, complete figures assembled at the county rationing office revealed Monday.

Winside was second among the towns of the county in number of books issued with a total of 425 and 511 applications. Carroll had 428 applications but issued only 259 books.

Majority of Wayne residents signed up for their ration books at the Wayne City Schools where a total of 1620 books were issued and 1727 applications taken.

The number issued at the rural schools which have already reported ranged from 36 at Districts 4 and 69 to 90 books at District 35.

Two families living in the Wakefield vicinity refused to register and so did not receive books and a few other families in the county indicated to officials that they would not register during the registration period but intended to do so at a later date.

Workers also reported that several women were reluctant to reveal their age, asking officials to make their cards simply of legal age.

Dr. Rosenlof, director of admissions and university examiner of the University of Nebraska, will deliver the commencement address at Wayne College, May 29.

Achievement Day Delayed

Program Slated For Monday Will Be Held Thursday

The Achievement Day program for Wayne Project clubs, which was scheduled to be held Monday of this week, was postponed because of muddy roads until Thursday, Extension Agent Chet Walters announced.

The leaders of the clubs will meet at 9:30 Thursday morning at the Wayne City Hall when methods of food preservation, such as drying, canning, brining and freezing and the care and use of canning equipment will be discussed.

At the afternoon session which is scheduled to open at 3:30 and which will be held in the Wayne Auditorium achievements of the individual clubs will be reviewed and a playlet, "Defenders of Democracy" will be presented.

Because some of the club members came to Wayne despite muddy roads Monday, a partial program was staged here Monday and will be repeated for the larger group on Thursday, Mr. Walters said.

Wayne Gets Over Half Inch Rain On Sunday

Rains Sunday and Sunday night, which measured a total of .55 of an inch in the Wayne business district, brought the total precipitation thus far in the month of May to 1.65 inches.

The series of rains since the first of the month have measured as follows with the date listed first in each case: May 1, .43 inch; 5, .50 inch; 6, .12 inch; 10, .55 inch.

The rains were needed since April failed to make its usual generous contribution of moisture this year. Rainfall last month amounted to only .44 of an inch.

The amount of moisture received in recent rains has varied widely in the different sections of the county, some of which have received considerably more moisture than in Wayne.

County's Mortgage Record Listed

The following shows the mortgage indebtedness record of Wayne county for the month ending April 30: Five farm mortgages filed, $24,250.00; thirteen farm mortgages released, $64,897.69; three city mortgages released, $3,450; 24 chattel mortgages filed, $266,416.94; 619 chattel mortgages released, $377,930.50.

About 50 County Men Are Called

Group Will Be Inducted Into Service On May 18

Another large group of Wayne county men received notices last week to report to the local Selective Service offices at 5:30 Monday morning, May 18 for induction into Uncle Sam's army.

While the board could not release the number to be called on that date, it was reported unofficially that this county's quota for May is in the vicinity of fifty. If this figure is correct, it will be the second largest delegation of men to leave this county for the army during this war and follows the largest delegation called into service last month.

The Legion Auxiliary, which sponsored a dance for the men who left in April, are making arrangements for a second dance to honor the group answering the May call.

Meanwhile, the Selective Service board is being kept more than busy supplying men to fill the quotas assigned this county, sending out and checking returned questionnaires.

Letters from registrants who answered the May call indicated that the majority of them have now been assigned to camps in various sections of the country after spending several days at Fort Leavenworth.

Several including Don McIntire, Howard Witt and Terry Zimmerman are in Fort Robinson, Ark., and Byron James is taking telephone training at a large camp near Joplin, Mo. He failed to mention other Wayne county men but it is known that several were sent to other camps from Fort Leavenworth.

A MESSAGE FROM THE SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY

SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY
WASHINGTON

May 1, 1942

TO THE PEOPLE OF NEBRASKA:
This week a new campaign for the sale of War Bonds and Savings Stamps is under way throughout the Nation. It is the War Bond Quota Campaign.

It is urgently necessary that you double the rate at which you are now buying War Bonds and Savings Stamps. This will mean the sale direct to individual Americans of War Bonds and Savings Stamps to the amount of not less than one billion dollars every month.

One billion dollars a month is the National quota. It is equal to one-tenth the combined income of all Americans.

This money is needed to buy the tools of war for our fighting forces. It will not pay for all of them. Our war expenditures now are at the rate of about FOUR BILLION a month, and they are growing daily. But a billion dollars a month direct from the people will make all-out production possible. Without it we cannot do our best; without it we cannot put forth our full effort.

It is desperately needed for another reason. We can't fight a war and at the same time live and spend as usual. There are not enough goods to go around — the things we buy with money. If we go on spending at the 1941 scale, we'll be robbing the fighting man to add to our own comfort or pleasure. We'll be driving up the cost of living for all of us. We'll be imposing dire hardships on our neighbors.

What is asked of you is ten per cent of your earnings — a tithe for Liberty. It is not a tax; it is not even a contribution; it is a loan at interest, for your use and protection later.

Your Government asks you to cut down your expenditures, to SAVE — your boys on the fighting line and in the training camps, through your Government, ask you to save so that they may have what they need to win YOUR WAR for you — America asks you to save; to SAVE TO WIN THE WAR; to buy War Bonds and Savings up to not less than ten per cent of your income.

Is Liberty worth 10%? Is Democracy worth 10%? Is America worth 10%? I think I know your answer.

Sincerely,

W. M. Morgenthau, Jr.

The above letter was sent to this newspaper by Secretary Morgenthau in Washington. We publish it in the interest of the War Bond Quota Campaign and earnestly recommend that all our readers do their share in the tremendous job ahead of financing the War effort.

W. H. Sweet who has been confined to his home by illness the past few days is reported as improving.

Mrs. and Mrs. E. J. Huntemer spent Sunday in Humphrey with their daughter, Mrs. Maurice Ternus and family.

Majority of the registrants signed up on Monday and Tuesday as requested but a few workers continued on duty at the Wayne City Schools on Wednesday and Thursday to handle applications which were not received on the first two days. Virtually all rural residents were registered on Monday, when classes were dismissed so that teachers might devote the full time to handling registrants. The task of registering virtually every resident of the county was a great one and required many hours of extra labor on the part of the teachers and volunteers who aided them.

Craver, vice-president; Mrs. A. T. Claycomb, secretary and Mrs. J. G. Miller, treasurer. The meeting closed the year for the group.

Morrison, Mrs. Charles Ulrich, Mrs. Nettie Call, Mrs. Buer Davis, Mrs. C. T. Ingham, Mrs. Mae Young and Mrs. Elmer Jensen.

Today, Tuesday, is Honors Day at Wayne High School, when students will receive their awards for special activities in various departments such as sports, debate and music for the past year. The awards will be presented at a special assembly at 1 o'clock this afternoon.

Plans are being rapidly completed for the Junior-Senior banquet which will be held Friday of this week at the Presbyterian church.

Eugene Sahn, trombone soloist and Dorothy Ahlvers, baton twirler, who were among the Wayne High school students given superior ratings in the District 3 Music Contest at the Wayne college recently, competed Friday in the four-state contest at Omaha. They were accompanied to the contest by Professor Paulson of the music department of the school.

The State Art Fair will be displayed in the activities room on May 11-15. The juniors and senior high school art departments, and the industrial arts department will also exhibit some of the work they have done throughout the year. The airplanes made for the United States governments by the boys of the industrial art class will be shown. All types have been made at the size they appear to be when seen at a distance of one-half mile.

At Parents Teachers' meeting Thursday, May 14, the first and second grades will make living pictures. They will pose for these pictures. Backgrounds will be made by high school art classes.

Congress

As Seen by KARL STEFAN

Clark Galloway of Nebraska, who took leave from the Associated Press to be an officer in Army Intelligence, has advanced to the rank of major. He is doing foreign service. Newspaper men "covering" Nebraska from Washington now are Clifford Sandahl of Oakland who took Galloway's place and Marr MacGaffin who does exclusive work for the Omaha World-Herald.

The farm Credit Administration will move to Kansas City. Grace McGerr of Lincoln is an attorney in this agency and her specialty is Credit Unions. She, too, will go to Kansas City. Her sister Helen is an attorney in antitrust division of the Department of Justice and her sister Patricia is publicity director of the American Road Builders Association. These three Nebraska girls have been very prominent in Washington during the last dozen years.

William Tyler Page, author of The American's Creed, is back in the House after being laid up in his Maryland home for a month with heart trouble. His physician tells him he must take things easy from now on. He recently finished sixty consecutive years as an employee of the legislative branch of the government.

The President and members of Congress were among the thousands who registered here last Monday. Legion men had charge of registering the senators and representatives in the rotunda of the capitol building. Nebraska members requested that their registration information be forwarded to their home county boards.

Leon Henderson tells members that we may never see a real gasoline shortage but the rubber shortage may eventually take all private cars off the roads and streets. He is exploring farther the demand that midwest grain be turned into alcohol and rubber.

If all the distilleries converted their efforts to making industrial alcohol and deducted sufficient whiskey for medicinal and war uses they could turn out 200,000 tons of rubber a year, according to Mr. Newman who claims his company is the largest alcohol producing concern in the world. His plant in Philadelphia is making alcohol from grain and molasses.

Nebraskans believe they can answer the demand for more rubber by building alcohol plants in Nebraska. They believe that they can produce rubber cheaper than it can be produced from petroleum and molasses.

Experts here say fifty million bushels of grain will make 200,000 tons of good rubber. The process is very simple.

Oil companies expect to receive around $650,000,000 to go into the rubber producing business. They will not use grain. They expect to make the rubber from petroleum.

Eastern people say they can make 6 1/2 pounds of rubber from a bushel of corn. Nebraskans believe they can make 8 pounds of rubber from a bushel of corn.

John Blandford, Jr., National Housing Administrator, told a house appropriations subcommittee the other day that 180,000 migrant workers will have poured into the Capital by December, 1942. His job is to house these people. Fifty million dollars is to be voted as a start for these new people.

Ormond Norgaard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Norgaard of Superior, passed through town on his way to an officers' training camp in the south. He took time out to visit places of historic interest here.

Cliff Cunningham, formerly of Wahoo, has been in town several days. He is on his way to do USO work with American troops in New Foundland.

Mr. and Mrs. James Knudsen of St. Edward have been in Washington for several days looking over the historical sites. They have been flying over most of the midwestern and eastern part of the country. Before returning home they expect to see much more of the country from the air. Their son, M. S. Knudsen, is captain of the Transcontinental Western Airlines at Kansas City.

Henk Marsman, a Hollander, who has lived in the Philippines many years arrived here the other day. He says Charley Cotterman of Albion was well the last he saw him which was before Pearl Harbor. Marsman who owned gold mines in the Islands, was in China when the war broke out and was captured by the Japanese in Hong Kong. He escaped, walked eight hundred miles and finally reached Europe and is now in New York. He tells friends the Japs have his gold mines and that to date he has lost millions of dollars. He says the Japs didn't feed the Americans very well in Hong Kong but that they gorged themselves on the European food which they captured. Marsman says he lived on rice and fish several months.

In reply to many questions as to how long the United States has known how to make synthetic rubber, the best information here is that we have known the full formula for the past two years at least—maybe longer.

Robert Flory of Columbus has been in town several days. He reports that he is interested in the procurement of priority ratings on materials for building construction in Columbus.

The hotel lobbies in Washington are the most interesting places in the world today. A county commissioner from Nebraska may be rubbing elbows with a former Prince or a Princess from a foreign country, or he may be sitting next to a general or even a foreign ambassador or a big capitalist in town trying to get a big contract, but the busiest people seem to be the foreign titled women who are here as refugees and under Uncle Sam's protection. One of them told a hotel clerk the other night that her name was Mrs. Blank, and was complaining because the servants furnished to her by some American Employment Bureau did not address her properly. She claimed her last name was "Dill" and that a fresh American servant called her "Mrs. Pickles"

There are 10,000 rooming houses in Washington. Applications have been made to convert 3,500 other houses into the same category. There are very few vacant rooms in the city so the president has approved allocation of funds appropriated out

A lot of people from the middle west are here trying to get priority ratings on copper and steel. Earl May from Sherandoah Iowa tells friends he has equipment but because his equipment contains strategic metals, he had to come here to life the freeze. The Knox County Board of Supervisors wants a priority rating that will make possible the procurement of a highway grader. Allen Burke, Secretary of Agriculture for Nebraska, wanted a truck chassis to haul the state scales around the state, for scale testing. He got his rating in a short time, but hundreds of other county and state officials are having difficulty, as the war goes on, to get much of the strategic materials unfrozen in Washington, and they are here bombarding priority chief to help them.

After listening to the testimony of government officials who will build or have charge of construction of thousands of new homes and temporary buildings, one cannot escape the impression that when the war is over, there will be a lot of salvage which will give the government considerable concern.

NATURAL GAS goes to war

War Production Board limits natural gas space heating to present users effective May 15 as nation's war industries swing into greater production.

War Production Board Limitation Order L-31, which has been in effect in certain other sections of the country since March, has been extended to this area, to take effect May 15. The order forbids the use of natural or mixed gas for NEW central space heating installations. IT DOES NOT AFFECT THE NORMAL USE OF GAS BY OUR PRESENT NATURAL GAS HEATING CUSTOMERS NOR DOES IT APPLY TO THE USE OF NATURAL GAS FOR COOKING, WATER HEATING OR REFRIGERATION. It does prohibit the USE OF GAS IN NEW CENTRAL SPACE HEATING EQUIPMENT WHERE THE INSTALLATION WAS NOT MADE PRIOR TO May 15, 1942.

Following is an excerpt from the WPB order:

War Production Board—Limitation Order L-31 (excerpt)

(1) "No Utility shall deliver and no Consumer shall accept delivery of natural gas or mixed natural and manufactured gas in the areas specified in Exhibit "A" annexed hereto (of which this State is a part), as the same may be amended or modified from time to time by the Director of Industry Operations, for either of the following purposes:

(i) for the operation of central space heating equipment (or for heating equipment supplying the major portion of the heating requirements of the premises), unless such equipment was installed prior to May 15, 1942, or unless, in the case of new construction, the equipment was specified in the construction contract, and the foundation under the main part of the structure in which the equipment is to be installed was completed prior to May 15, 1942;

(ii) for the operation of central space heating equipment (or heating equipment supplying the major portion of the heat requirements of the premises), which has been converted from other fuel to natural or mixed natural and manufactured gas unless such conversion has been completed prior to May 15, 1942.

(Signed) J. S. KNOWLTON,
Director of Industry Operations.

There is an ample supply of natural gas for all immediate purposes, but the greater need for steel in the manufacture of ships and war supplies prevents the extension or enlargement of present pipelines and carrying capacities cannot be increased while this condition exist.

We feel sure that those who were contemplating the use of natural gas for central space heating will accept this disappointment with a true spirit of self-sacrifice and patriotism. Your dreams of automatic natural gas space heating will have to wait awhile . . . so that the day may be speeded when security and peace will return. Nothing must impede America's industrial war effort. Natural Gas has gone to war FOR YOU in the war plants of this state and nation.

A Bit of Truth

The Lincoln Star last week called attention to Ken Wherry's insolence in an address before a group of Lincoln women who call themselves "pro-American"—aren't we all—in which the republican state chairman and middle western director for the republican national committee delivered a nasty below-the-belt attack on his government. The Star pointed out that Mr. Wherry's statement went unrebuked by the officers of that Lincoln organization. It is heartening to see, however, that there are some republican leaders in the state who recognized the fallacy of Mr. Wherry's charge that "the war department located defense plants in Nebraska for security but the New Deal put them here with a string attached" and repudiated it.

The "pro-American" leaders, whoever they might be, remained speechless but Arch Jarrell, republican editor of the Grand Island Independent, a republican newspaper, made this indirect statement in his column which obviously answers Mr. Wherry:

"One of my good friends in high Nebraska republican circles accused the government the other day of 'dumping millions of dollars into Nebraska in an attempt to destroy the backbone of republicanism'. This no doubt refers to the defense plant. But if the government hadn't 'dumped' these millions into Nebraska, would my good friend have defended that action, or would he have said Nebraska was being starved for voting wrong?"

For anyone who has followed Mr. Wherry's confused political tactics in the past, the answer is so obvious that further comment is unnecessary.

If any doubt Mr. Jarrell's staunch republicanism let us assure them that it dates back many years. Arch is one of the "Writing Jarrells" and has for the past twelve years or so been pounding out good old conservative republican editorials as editor and editorial writer for Oscar Stauffer publications. Mr. Jarrell followed Ben Hibbs, now editor of the Saturday Evening Post, to the position of managing editor of the Arkansas City (Kansas) Traveler, when we were employed as city editor of The Traveler. Mr. Stauffer owns both The Traveler and the Grand Island Independent, along with several other daily publications and played a major role in getting his fellow Kansan, Alf Landon, nominated by the republican party for president. No, you cannot question the loyalty of either Mr. Stauffer or Mr. Jarrell to the GOP, but you can question Mr. Wherry's position in blasting away at the New Deal because Nebraska has received a most generous share of defense plants.

Would Mr. Wherry have preferred that defense plants be located elsewhere so that Nebraska could phatter past records in losing population? His philosophy seems to be to depopulate the state if necessary but keep it republican at all costs.

At Long Last

At long last Wayne is linked with the rest of the state by bus service. It required a great deal of work and evidence to convince the Railway Commission that this city needs such service but the job has been successfully completed.

At almost the same time, testimony is being considered which will probably result in the loss of the city's only passenger trains. Operating at the hours they did, however, the trains will not be greatly missed from the standpoint of passenger service. On the other hand, a substitute mail service will be necessary and doubtless will be provided. While the commission has not handed down its decision on the application to discontinue passenger service, the trend to curtail such service is nation-wide and even those who believe they will be greatly inconvenienced by the loss of these trains admit that the decision will probably favor the railway's application.

It is doubly fortunate, if such should be the case, that the fight for adequate bus facilities has been waged successfully by the Wayne Chamber of Commerce.

Commencement

Commencement time is near. Arrangements for the annual event at the various Wayne schools have been completed and are published elsewhere in this edition of your News.

Certainly the graduates this year do not face a very beautiful world, but Commencement speakers will find in the present war-torn world a great challenge for the best which our leaders of tomorrow have to offer. Certainly the present older generation cannot point with great pride to its accomplishments. They are leaving to the men of tomorrow a tremendous task. We can only trust that the schools have equipped them to restore sanity to a world which seems determined to destroy everything that makes life precious.

The first step in that direction necessarily must be to win this war and so we must sacrifice and then sacrifice some more to accomplish that in the quickest possible time. We owe that much to the graduates of 1942.

What Editors Say---

Something more than wishful thinking, it is hoped, is back of the confident assurance of Russia's vice commissar, Solomon A. Lozovsky, that the German army will be smashed this year. Certainly Russia has the man power and the morale for this task. The only factors in which Germany may outpoint her are in equipment and organization. In both these, however, Russia has made rapid gains and may prove more than a match for the invaders, who are handicapped by the length of their supply lines.

Whatever diversions may appear, Hitler's renewed drive against Russia as soon as the spring mud dries will be the main front of the war, and perhaps the decisive one.—Dallas News.

The nation's electricity shortage is going to be so great within a few months that all light bulbs will be banned, observers say. As new plants are opened and full-scale production started, the need for electricity in the war effort mounts.—Shawnee (Okla.) Star

RIGHT OUT OF THE AIR

By EARLE FERRIS

KATE SMITH was so pleased with two unusual fan letters she received last week that she mentioned them on her daytime program. One, "The only one Old World custom to which Maestro George Sebastian clings. After each rehearsal of his 'Great Moments in Music' program, heard Wednesdays on CBS, he always has a drink of raspberry juice and soda.

Marie Nelson of the cast of "Bachelor's Children," NBC-Rad network serial, noted at a recent rehearsal the speeding up in travel that time has brought. When she learned a U. S. bomber flew the Atlantic in 40 minutes, she recalled that her stage debut was made 30 years ago in a spectacular dance production called "Around the World in 80 days."

Blue Barron, pictured here, determined the theme for the Sunday afternoon "Show of Yesterday and Today," when he coined the descriptive phrase "Music of yesterday and today, styled the Blue Barron way." The program is sponsored by the United States Division of Physical Fitness, and produced by Alton Alexander.

Louis Sobol, syndicated columnist, had the unique pleasure of playing a columnist on Mort Lewis' "Celebrity Department, which is being broadcast over Mutual Thursday nights through June 18. It is to sell War Savings Bonds and Stamps.

National Industries Weekly Review

The Nation's Leading Letter by J. E. Jones. Washington, D. C.

HIGH COST OF LIVING

Washington, D. C., May 11—No one need be told the price of living has increased as a result of the war. The government assures the country that "it is the immediate purpose" to keep the cost of living down to the present levels, and thereby "insure wartime stability." That is the long-and-short of freezing prices on those things that Americans eat, wear and use. Price Administrator Henderson has even guaranteed that from this point on, for the duration of the war, "the ceiling will go no higher."

Mr. Henderson's optimism aids some! Senators and representatives are skeptical and fear that the Office of Price Administration is making a bold stroke that may be overloaded with wishful thinking.

After May 18, retail merchants will be compelled to post plainly in their stores the legal top price, and their own price on most of all commodities. They are forbidden to sell at a higher price.

The President made it plain in his "fireside chat" April 28, that the sweeping order of Price Administrator Henderson would be an important part of the war program. Nobody should blame congressmen for failing to agree with the President, even though congress does not attempt to change the President's program. It must be borne in mind that the President has been designated as master of the entire war situation, and he has been invested with practically all powers and authority by the congress.

The oft-repeated statement that "Congress should do something about it" shows a lack of understanding of the following real facts:

1. The people of the country are solidly supporting "unity." 2. "Unity" is described in exactly the same words by President Roosevelt, and republican and democratic senators and congressmen. 3. It all totals up to prove that the whole American nation is backing the government war program; and that nearly the country is solidly supporting the administration, and that congress is right; because it obeys the will of the country. 4. Nearly all controversial programs are being "put on ice" and will be postponed for future consideration.

In short, the Washington correspondent of The News reports that every order issued by the government must be obeyed. The government admits that there will be mistakes and the government over which Franklin Delano Roosevelt presides, pledges that when mistakes are proven they will be corrected.

97 PER CENT IN 10 DAYS

Attesting to the fact that voluntary savings will work in a democracy when properly organized is the record just established in the General Motors Employees Bond Drive for Victory. In the first 10 days of the current campaign to reach a 100 per cent goal, more than 97 per cent of the 234,000 GM men and women have subscribed for U. S. War Savings bonds.

Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau thought so well of the General Motors "Save and Serve for Victory" campaign drive that he sponsored the appearance of representatives of the corporation before the House Ways and Means Committee where for more than two hours the bond drive plan was explained, at the suggestion of the President. The committee heard of the "teaser" approach to inaugurate the campaign, the use of slogans, home window and car stickers, rallies, bands and banners. The plan involves competition between shifts and departments.

Sitting in the hearing was Senator Walter F. George, democrat of Georgia and chairman of the senate finance committee. Previously skeptical of the success of voluntary savings, he had this to say: "The job done by General Motors has been most thorough. I believe that the program should be all voluntary or else all compulsory. If it can be worked out on a voluntary basis and I believe it can, it will be better for the country and the treasury.

WHAT? NO COFFEE

Restrictions on coffee sales will "spoil the breakfast" for countless American families—and good neighbors. Brazil is kicking about it.

LABOR LEGISLATION MUST WAIT

The opinion of the War Labor board in the 10-months-old controversy of the Federal Ship Building and Drydock company case reveals a sharp division in which eight of its members endorse the position of the CIO unions, and four employer members of the board emphatically oppose the theory that every worker must be a union member in good standing, pay dues and remain members for the life of the contract as a condition of employment. Thus, the board commits the government to the principle of protecting labor unions against loss of members due to conditions that have grown out of war. Ask yourself, would it be any more spectacular or amazing for the government to demand of manufacturers that they should belong and pay dues to the National Manufacturers Association?

At the same time a dispute between the CIO Automobile Workers, involving 150,000 workers in 82 plants of General Motors was placed before the War Labor board. Automobile factories have been converted into war arsenals and the demands of CIO for revisions of agreements are actually demands against the government to revise its war production programs.

The CIO has pursued its fixed habits of demanding new advantages in motor employment over a course of a half dozen years. The President has named a succession of labor boards, which have failed. In some instances adjustments have been made by direct rules from the White House.

The explanation is that many board decisions have followed lines which are absolutely in contradiction to the judgment of large majorities in both branches of congress.

PLAN THAT HAS FAILED

Everybody should be able to recall, or verify the conditions under which the 40-hour week became a federal law in 1938. There were millions of unemployed people, a considerable per cent of whom were on the relief rolls. The President and Congress reached an understanding the 5-day, 8-hour-week would spread the work. It was argued in thousands of speeches that if employers were compelled to pay time and a half for overtime that the unemployed would substitute for regular workers a day or more each week.

What actually happened was that the regular man wanted the extra day's work so that he might get 1 1/2 overtime pay for Saturdays and possibly double pay for Sundays—nice tidbits. And the "regular man" got the extra work and pay because the foreman preferred him to the inexperienced worker. Thus the best laid plans of lawmakers and labor leaders turned out like the "best laid plans of (ordinary) mice and men" and came to bad ends. That's the 4-year old history of the 40-hour week. There has been very little unemployment that profited from the 40-hour week.

SAFETY FIRST

The Federal Fair Labor Standards Act restricts the employment of youths, under 18 years of age, in factories manufacturing explosives, or in or about coal mines.

THE BOYS STILL LEAVE THE FARM

In 1917 the boys began to leave the farm to go into the World War. When they got back home they kept right on leaving the farm for a lot of reasons—including getting closer to the movies, closer to jobs driving trucks and automobiles; closer to work and higher wages in the cities. But the boys found that higher wages were offset by higher cost of living, and so a great many of them returned to the farms.

But another cycle has overtaken the farm, since the latest official statistics show that 97 thousand fewer workers were employed on the farms of the United States this month than at the same time last year. The Department of Agriculture also finds that farm wages have increased 28 per cent during the year. The Department said that the decrease in employment is attributed principally to the delay in spring planting as a result of unfavorable weather. Nevertheless, farmers appear to be raising more this year than last. Connecticut and Oregon were the first states to call women for farm service.

On 41,000 farms in South Atlantic and North Central Pacific Coast States women already account for 13 per cent of the total workers as compared with only 1 1/2 per cent a year ago. This indicates that approximately 1,250,000 women are now working on American farms.

STOP EVERYTHING

Men may come and men may go but the circus goes on forever. The Romans devoted the circus to racing events, athletic contests, and contests between human beings and wild beasts. Spain and Mexico featured bull fights; in their circuses. In London they call a street or square a "circus."

The American circus grew out of state and county fairs and exhibitions of horsemanship and acrobatic feats, and eventually the managements were added.

More than fifty years ago the Ringling brothers started out through the Middle-west with a one ring circus, and a good show, in which the five brothers were actors. Their circus grew and prospered all through the years and now it is on the road again headed for Washington, D. C., where everybody goes to the circus. Everything will close up for the event except the World War, for the Nation's Capital goes on masse. Ringling brothers broke all records in 1941 and put on the best circus that ever came to any town, and everyone naturally expects that it will be even better this season.

SPENDING, TAXATION, INFLATION

When an individual, a private business firm or the government of the United States spends several times more than it makes over a period of years something is sure to happen. The government has relied upon borrowings and taxation to escape the inevitable "something." The latest remedies have been applied in control over "several hundred thousand" things, the president said in his broadcast to the nation.

The high cost of living—the high cost of everything—has created inflation—it has arrived. That is why the rulers of your government are trying so hard to find a way.

FALSE ADVERTISING

The Federal Trade Commission is investigating false advertisements concerning a multitude of products. Cosmetic manufacturers, distributors of hand knitting yarns, wool trading companies, dealers in domestic and imported leathers, manufacturers of rugs, bath mats and bed spreads, baking concerns, sound-slide-film projectors, manufacturers, correspondence schools, Venetian blind manufacturers and dozens of other business companies and organizations that are taking short cuts in their efforts to sell their goods to an unsuspecting public have been called on the carpet.

HEAVY DAMAGE FROM U-BOATS

So many tanks and ships have been sunk by U-Boats that it is no longer possible to move enough gasoline to the East Coast fast enough under the present arrangements. But the railroads, and highway motor services say they can handle all present needs. Pipe lines are favored by some of the government authorities and opposed by others because it takes a good deal of steel to build pipe lines. The present program is not likely to cure the shortage of transportation.

NEW FASHIONS IN BOOTLEGGING

Bootlegging of rubber tires is attracting official attention and the Price Administrator has given permission for price increases of 16 per cent on retail sales to cover the cost of the Government Tire Return plan.

Registration For Pilot Training Course Underway

Registration is underway for the summer civilian pilot training course at Wayne college. Reduction in educational requirements is expected to result in an increased number of applicants.

Under the new army air corps program, college students may enlist on a deferred basis and remain in school until completion of their college course. Those who enlist in this manner receive the civilian pilot training course without expense.

College students who desire more information concerning this course and high school students who will enter college in June for the summer term or next fall are urged to confer with teachers in charge of the course at the college, Win Swett, Chamber of Commerce secretary, or members of the C. of C. aviation committee for details.

Several Nebraska communities have found that general civilian defense meetings help to develop understanding and cooperation.

Casey County Chairman Elmer Hallstrom supervised a Welter Water gathering of 400. Governor Griswold, Mr. Roberts and J. Francis McDermott, Nebraska American Legion commander who is State War Bond and Stamp sale chairman, were speakers.

Much interest was shown at each meeting. Local people learned about the necessity of coordinating all efforts in the vast general set-up. Visitors had a chance to become acquainted with various "grass roots" problems which communities must solve if civilian defense is to succeed.
