Registration Dates Set for Feb. 22 to 26

Instructions for Food Rationing in Wayne County

Announcement was made today of the schedule of time and place for the registration for Ration Book, No. 2 by members of the local ration board and school officials who will supervise the task. The dates of registration have been set for Wayne county for February 22-26 inclusive.

Public sale of canned fruits and vegetables will stop throughout the nation at midnight, Feb. 20 and will resume on a rationed basis March 1. The period during the freeze will be used to register every person in the nation.

The following points are scheduled for registration within the county.

- Wayne city auditorium, 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.
- Winside, high school, 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.
- Carroll, high school, 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.
- Hoskins, high school, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday only, 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.
- Sholes, high school, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday only, 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.

No registration on Saturday at any point in the county. Consumers may register at the most convenient registration site. Faculty members who will have charge of the registration: within Wayne ask that people come to the auditorium in alphabetical order.

Those whose last names begin with the letters, A, B, C, and D should register Monday; those beginning with E, F, G, H, and I should register on Tuesday; J, K, L, M, and N on Wednesday; O, P, Q, R, and S on Thursday; T, U, V, W, X, Y, and Z on Friday.

When registering the applicant must have the following:

1. Book One must be presented for EACH member of the family unit.
2. On your Consumers Declaration you must declare the pounds of coffee owned on November 28, 1942, minus 1 pound for each person included in this Declaration whose age as stated on War Ration Book One is 14 years or older.
3. On your Consumers Declaration you must declare the number of cans, bottles, and jars (8-ounce size or larger) of commercially packed fruits, vegetables, juices, and soups, chili and catsup owned on Feb. 21, 1943, minus 5 (five) for each person included in this Declaration. You will NOT include any home-canned foods.

You MUST have your Consumers Declaration filled out when you register.

The adult member of a family unit should apply on one Declaration of the family. A person not a member of a family unit should apply for himself on a separate Declaration. A family unit includes all persons related by blood, marriage, or adoption who regularly reside in the same household.

No shopper should be inconvenienced during the "freeze" period from Feb. 21 to March 1. Allowance of five cans per person for which no stamps will be deducted, plus supplies of fresh fruits and vegetables, should provide ample food during the week.

Below is the official declaration which consumers will be required to fill out before they receive War Ration Book Two, the point rationing book. To save time at registration, applicants should clip this declaration, fill in the answers and bring it with them to the registration site.

Form Approved. Budget Bureau No. 08-R126-42

One copy of this Declaration must be filed with the Office of Price Administration by each person applying for War Ration Book Two for the members of a family unit, and by each person who is not a member of a family unit. File at the site designated. Coupons will be deducted for excess supplies of the foods listed below according to the schedules announced by the Office of Price Administration.

CONSUMER DECLARATION Processed Foods and Coffee

I HEREBY CERTIFY that I am authorized to apply for and receive a War Ration Book Two for each person listed below who is a member of my family unit, or the other person or persons for whom I am acting whose War Ration Book One I have submitted to the Board;

Class B Cage Tournament Schedule Set

Wayne Prep Will Play Randolph In Preliminaries

Final plans for the district basketball tournament for Class B schools to be held at the Wayne college gymnasium next week were announced today by Superintendent Ray Bryan. According to the new schedule will begin Monday evening, Feb. 22, and with the exception of Tuesday evening, will continue through the week.

Holy Trinity of Hartington, Winside, Hartington high school and Wayne Prep are the seeded teams.

The schedule of play follows: Monday, 7 p. m., McLean vs. Coleridge; 8 p. m., Belden vs. Winside; 9 p. m., Holy Trinity of Hartington vs. Sacred Heart of Norfolk.

After a recess Tuesday evening, play will be resumed Wednesday evening with Pilger meeting Carroll at 7:30; Laurel meets Stanton at 7:30; Hartington high plays Wynot at 8:30. Wayne Prep plays Randolph at 9:30. Concord drew a bye.

The winners of these games will compete Thursday evening with play starting at 6:30 o'clock. Semi-finals will be played Friday evening with play starting at 7:30. The finals will be held Saturday evening with the game for selection of third-place winner scheduled for 8 o'clock. The championship game is slated for 9 o'clock.

Raymond Schreiner and F. B. Decker are officials for the tournament games. J. M. Strahan will be official timekeeper; J. W. Litherland will be official scorekeeper.

Wayne To Meet Bassett In Cage Tourney

Wayne high will be paired with Bassett in the first round of the March 3-6 tournament at Norfolk. If the boys get by Bassett they will meet Plainview in the second round, as Plainview drew a bye.

Little is obtainable on Bassett's record for this season. It is known that they are an in and out team and use a fast-breaking offense almost exclusively. Whatever their record, the Knights will be ready for them.

The first round pairings for March 3 follow:

- Oneil vs. Valentine, 1:30 p. m. Wisner drew a bye.
- Neligh vs. Madison, 2:45 p. m.
- Bloomfield vs. Albion, 4 p. m.
- Wayne vs. Bassett, 6 p. m.
- Plainview drew a bye.
- Newman Grove vs. Pierce, 7:15 p. m.

Quotas for New Farm Equipment Very Limited

Owing to the very limited county quotas of farm equipment, the Wayne County Rationing Committee is following the policy of granting only one purchase certificate for a major piece of farm equipment to each applicant.

Up to this time the board has approved 95 applications and it has disapproved 43 applications.

FOUNDERS DAY PROGRAM

The parent-teacher association of the city school met at the schoolhouse Monday evening. The program, in charge of Mrs. R. M. Carhart, honored the founders of the P. T. A. movement. Dr. J. T. Anderson gave a talk and music was furnished by a girls' trio from the college. Refreshments were served by the kindergarten mothers with Mrs. Arlen Fitch as chairman.

REGISTRANTS LEAVE

A group of registrants left this week for service in the armed forces. In accordance with new rulings concerning press releases, the names of such men will not be published until after acceptance into the service.

Kiwanis Group Hears Plans for Cadet Training

Tentative plans for the training of a group of aviation cadets was discussed by Dr. J. T. Anderson, president of the Wayne State Teachers college at the regular weekly luncheon and program of the Kiwanis club held at the Stratton hotel Monday noon.

Prof. O. R. Bowen, program chairman for this month, spoke briefly on the state tax situation in regard to educational appropriations. He stressed the fact that now would be an opportune time for Nebraska to pull out of a lower educational rank into a higher status, but that such advancement would be made difficult by some of the proposed economies.

Prof. Bowen then introduced Dr. Anderson. Dr. Anderson told of the recent assignment of army men to investigate the possibilities of the teachers' college as a training center for cadets and of the subsequent choice by military officials of the local school as one of a number of colleges to be used for air corps training. Though no official word has been received as to the number of cadets to be located here, telegrams have been received asking if it would be possible for the college to handle 100 trainees by March 1 and another 100 by April 1.

Lloyd Sieberling, who serves as a radio man in the transcontinental air service, was present at the meeting as a guest of his father-in-law, Fred Blair.

SCHOOL TO BE DISMISSED

The city school will be dismissed all of next week, due to the fact that the faculty will be engaged in the rationing registration. The training school will be in session as usual, with student teachers in charge while the regular teachers are busy with the registration.

Declam Contest Winners Chosen For City High

The declamatory contest for the city high school was held last Thursday afternoon and evening in the Auditorium. In the class of interpretative oratory Opal Penn placed first; Nan Nicholaisen won in the dramatic division and Jacqueline Wightman was high in the humorous class. These winners along with Homer Bierman, who was unopposed in the original oratorical class, will compete with winners from other schools in the district contest to be held at the college February 20.

The contests in divisions of interpretative oratory and dramatic readings were held in the afternoon. In the former class, Tom Johnson opened the program with "I Speak for Myself." Opal Penn's winning number was "Solemn Looking Blkes."

"Michael" was the title of Miss Nicholaisen's winning number in the dramatic class. Marsaline Long placed second with "And a Little Child." Third place went to Donna Harder who read "Dark Victory." Other readings in this class were "Blessed Damosel" by Lois Gamble and "White Lilacs" by Wilma Dunklau.

Music by the school band opened the evening program which was given before a large audience. "Double Plunge" read by Jacqueline Wightman was the winning number in the humorous division. "Outtalking the Tallies" by Fern Heseaman and "Why Sunday School Teachers Get Gray" by Edna Foote were the competing numbers in this class.

"We Will Win the War" was the title of the reading given by Homer Bierman in the original oratorical class.

The feature of the evening's program was the one-act play, "Dark Wind," a drama by Evelyn Nuenburg. Sallie Welch, Jacqueline Wightman, Donna Harder and Don Simonin composed the cast. This play was well done and will also compete in the district contest.

A trombone solo by Melvin Meyers preceded the play. Miss Margaret Prest was the teacher in charge of the program.

Emergency Loans Ready For Farmers

Finance Program Will Bring Aid To Food Producers

The emergency financing program for war food production through the Regional Agricultural Credit Corporation is now available to farmers and livestock men in Wayne county, it was announced today by Lee E. Sellon, USDA War board and Triple-A chairman for Wayne county.

Sellon said final steps in putting the program into effect were completed at a district meeting which he attended at Norfolk February 12. Also attending the meeting was Ray R. Roberts, who has been designated A. C. C. for Wayne county by the county war board.

Necessary forms for the emergency lending program were distributed at the meeting, which was attended by war board members and Department of Agriculture representatives from six counties in this area.

According to Sellon, over 200 million dollars are now ready to aid the nation's farmers through the R. A. C. C. To assure ample credit for increased war food production farmers should contact Mr. Roberts and make application. In addition to regular loans for increased production, at five per cent interest, funds will also be disbursed through the R. A. C. C. for the production of special war crops, such as flax, soybeans and hemp.

Funds so disbursed are designated as "advances" and the government shares the credit risk with the producer because repayment need be made only to the extent of the value of the special war crops raised. The producer need not pledge assets other than the crop itself to payment of the advance.

Loans and advances through the R. A. C. C. and the county war boards are not intended to supplant credit through existing credit agencies such as local banks, Production Credit associations, Emergency Crop and Feed Loan Office and the Farm Security Administration. The present program is designed to assure the credit necessary for maximum farm production and to encourage the production of vitally necessary, special war crops.

Sellon explained that the emergency lending program would be handled by the various U. S. Department of Agriculture agencies with no increase in present personnel.

Further details regarding the loans and advances, he said, may be obtained by contacting Triple-A committeemen, the county agent, representatives of Production Credit and National Farm Loan associations, Emergency Crop and Feed Loan offices and Farm Security Administration.

R. A. C. C. loan representative Robert's office will be in the Agricultural Adjustment Agency at Wayne.

Knights Lose Close Game To Wakefield

Wayne high was defeated by Wakefield last Friday night 27-26. The game was hard fought all the way, the half ending 17-15 in favor of Wakefield. The Knights took the lead in the third quarter, but in the fourth period Wakefield scored 2 points with only a minute of play remaining. Wayne failed to score again and the final tally was 27-26. Wayne had previously defeated Wakefield 30-20.

Stull led both teams in scoring with 13 points. Benson played a good brand of ball for Wakefield and counted 11 points.

The Knights are now tied for 2nd and 3rd places in the conference. To take the conference crown it is necessary to win the next two games, West Point this Friday and Wisner a week from that date.

Miss Moninger Tells Experiences In Jap War Zone

Interment by the Japanese weeks before Pearl Harbor was the experience of Miss Margaret Moninger, missionary and teacher, who spoke before the A. A. U. W. and a number of guests in the Womans club room at the Auditorium last Thursday evening. Preceding the address, a string ensemble under the direction of Prof. John R. Keith played a group of three numbers.

Miss Moninger was principal of Vitkin Middle School at Klungchow on the island of Hainan, near the coast of China. She had been in missionary work there since 1915.

The Japanese now control the coast of the island of Hainan, but they still do not control the interior, though they are able to harass the entire population with bombs, Miss Moninger told her audience. The island is a tropical one with geographical and climatic conditions similar to those on Guadalcanal.

The first bomb that fell on Hainan came without warning, said Miss Moninger, but served only to increase the patriotism of the Chinese. The school was moved to the interior. It's enrollment was doubled. The students organized amateur theatricals and earned $425 for war bonds.

In February, 1939, the Japs moved into Hainan with their puppet government forcing some respected native to serve as an official under a Japanese supervisor. In general, stated Miss Moninger, the Japanese respected the neutrality of the American nationals during this period. The school then became a refuge for homeless Chinese, causing an acute food and housing problem at times. Guerrillas were helpful, smuggling in ducks and duck eggs.

It was late in July, 1941, that a young and officious Jap army officer prematurely interned the teachers at the Hainan school. They were subjected to considerable mental torture by their captors. They were not brought mail, though the Japs let them know they had plenty of it for them in their possession. In April, 1942 they first heard of repatriation efforts and as Miss Moninger felt she had become more of a liability than an asset to her Chinese friends, who kept insisting on trying to help her, she seized the first opportunity to come home. She arrived in New York last August.

District Declam Will Be Held at College Feb. 20

Contestants from three Class A schools and eleven Class B schools will compete for honors in District No. 3 declamatory contest to be held at the state teachers' college Saturday. Competition will start early in the morning with a series of declamations. This part of the contest will be held in the dining room of the Student Union building. At 1 o'clock in the afternoon six one-act plays will be given in the college auditorium. A small admission charge will be made and the public is invited to attend. Prof. Kenneth Parke is local director of the contest.

Treants will be rated superior, excellent, good and average. Winners of superior ratings in individual events will be given leather covered certificates. The school presenting the winning play will also be awarded a certificate.

Those from the training school who will participate are: original oratory, Robert Shively; dramatic, Mary Belle Samuelson; oratorical, Jimmie Morrison; humorous, Bill Morrison. City high students who will take part are: interpretative oratory, Opal Penn; dramatic, Nan Nicholaisen; humorous, Jacqueline Wightman; original oratory, Homer Bierman. City high school will also compete in the one-act play division.

PAULSON TO AIR CORPS

Leonard Paulson, music instructor on the city school faculty, has received a call to active duty in the air corps. He will terminate his teaching duties here Friday.

Annual Red Cross Drive March First

Plans Being Made For Annual Roll Call For Members

A quota of $4,250 has been set for Wayne county in the annual Red Cross roll call and membership drive which will open March 1. William Beckenhauer, county roll call chairman, announced today. As a preliminary to the drive Madison and Wayne county chapters will cooperate in broadcasting a special program from WJG, Norfolk, from 4 until 4:30 p. m. Sunday, February 28. The Wayne Men's Glee will sing and Prof. Kenneth Parke will speak.

The usual time for the roll call is between Armistice day and Thanksgiving, but because of the special war fund drive held soon after Pearl Harbor, the campaign was postponed from last November until now.

Workers for the drive have not yet been selected but it is the hope of leaders in the campaign to organize through the school districts. Wayne county has been among the most successful in northeast Nebraska in putting over such drives in the past.

Officers for the local chapter include Dave Theophilus, county chairman; Rev. W. A. Gerdes, vice-chairman; Prof. Kenneth Parke, secretary; John C. Carhart, treasurer; William Beckenhauer, roll call chairman.

NEW C. OF C. SECRETARY

Mrs. J. H. Morrison has been appointed to be the new secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. She succeeds Frank Korff who recently resigned in order to accept a position with the United States Revenue office.

Merchant Marine Seeks Recruits For Victory Fleet

A campaign to line up marine engineers and other men with sea experience to man the fast-growing Victory Fleet which is being added to at the rate of three ships a day, is being started by the War Shipping Administration. Because of the necessity of getting men who have had sea experience to operate these ships which must supply equipment and food to our boys on all foreign fronts, the shipping manpower problem is a vital one. By carrying on a campaign in this newspaper the administration hopes to persuade those men in this vicinity who have marine licenses to return to the sea.

Our Merchant Marine is particularly in need of marine engineers, able bodied seamen, mates, cooks and bakers. The War Shipping Administration has therefore made arrangements with the United States Employment Service to carry on a special drive for men for ships. Any man in this locality who has such experience is urged to present his qualifications to the office of the U. S. Employment Service at 9421 Norfolk, Ave., at Norfolk.

The reason the Merchant Marine needs experienced men is explained by the Administration as follows:

"We are building ships at the rate of three a day. By the end of 1943, over 1500 new ships will be added to our Merchant Marine. These ships need an average crew of 42 men, hence, 65,000 men, not now employed in the industry, will be needed this year.

Puerto Rico is hungry because we cannot divert enough ships to feed her. The Philippines fell because we could not ship enough material on time. The African campaign rises and falls, dependent upon how many ships get through. The maintenance of our bases in Alaska, Iceland, Australia, Guadalcanal, depend upon ships. The support that we can give to Russia depends on how many ships get through.

"Consequently, if a man has the skill which the Merchant Marine needs, he should get into the service immediately." (Continued on Page 4)

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Russ Trap German Army in Caucasus; March 15 Remains Tax Deadline as Congress Plans Pay-as-You-Go Later; Labor Demands Increased Wage Scale

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.) Released by Western Newspaper Union.

WAGES & PRICES: Labor Looks Upward

Organized labor's clash with the government over wage controls drew disquietingly closer as the American Federation of Labor, the CIO and John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers made known their stand.

Conferring at the White House, William Green, AFL president, and Phillip Murray, CIO chief, protested to President Roosevelt that the cost of living was "getting out of bounds" and said that there was increasing dissatisfaction among labor's rank and file.

Previously, bushy-browed Lewis had announced a demand for a $2 a day pay increase in the bituminous coal industry, effective April 1.

The impending crisis in wage control was further emphasized when the War Labor Board beset by increasing demands for pay increases asked Stabilization Director James F. Byrnes whether the "Little Steel" wage ceiling formula should be revised upward. This year's steel which has been applied to numerous industries allowed the WLB to grant wage increases of 15 per cent above the levels of January 1, 1941, and was designed to match rising living costs between that date and May 1, 1942.

This problem was dropped in Mr. Byrnes' lap, because any upward wage revision would have consumer repercussions and jeopardize the administration's entire wage stabilization and price pegging program.

INCOME TAX: March 15 Still Deadline

Neither the Ruml plan to "forgive" all taxes on 1942 income, nor the U. S. treasury department's proposal to double up collections of both 1942 and 1943 taxes will be adopted, members of the house ways and means committee definitely indicated.

One fact appeared certain... Forty-four million American taxpayers will be compelled to file income tax returns by the March 15 deadline, on the basis of 1942 income.

A pay-as-you-go withholding tax procedure will be set up later. Most observers predicted July 1 as the date. This apparently would be a compromise measure embodying some but not all of the Ruml proposals and the treasury's recommendations.

FARM LABOR: Army to Help?

Many Washington officials have been awake nights trying to find a solution for the critical farm labor shortage.

Latest suggestion for relieving the shortage is to apply a method used by Union and Confederate armies in the Civil War—furlough soldiers with farm experience to help with harvests and other seasonal farm jobs.

Observers believed that creation of this farm army would be undertaken jointly by the war department and the War Manpower commission and the department of agriculture. It was estimated that 500,000 soldiers might be detailed for this needed task.

Alternately under consideration by top manpower authorities was a proposal to utilize battalions of army men still on military assignment for farm work.

HIGHLIGHTS . . . in the week's news

CHICAGO: Paying its quarterly dividends in war bonds, stamps or cash is the novel method the Belden Manufacturing company is following to help promote the treasury department's drive. Since Whipple Jacobs, president of the company, introduced the plan last August, stockholders have invested 9 1/2 per cent of their dividends in war bonds. This is well ahead of the national average.

NAZI TWILIGHT: Darkened by Russ

While the strains of Wagner's funereal Gotterdammerung on Berlin radios had proclaimed to the Reich the melancholy tidings of Nazi disaster at Stalingrad, this requiem was regarded by many observers as only a prelude to more woeful news ahead.

For it had become increasingly clear that the German retreat in Russia had long since passed the stage of an orderly withdrawal and had reached the proportions of a rout in many places. Relentlessly the Russians had built up their offensive's momentum, smashing into the Ukraine, narrowing the circle around Rostov and threatening Hitler's harassed Caucasus forces with a Black sea Dunkirk at Novorossisk.

Matter-of-fact Soviet communiques told the story of German reverses. These included the reoccupation by Red troops of Zolotukhino, only 22 miles above Kursk on the Kursk-Orel railroad, thus cutting the main Nazi supply line to the north; the recapture of Kupjansk and with it the control of an entire rail network; and the seizure of Kuschevskaya, below Rostov on the Rostov-Baku railway, the biggest system in the Caucasus.

The loss of Kuschevskaya was particularly bitter to the Nazis. Russ possession of this city which commands a railroad spur leading to the Black sea, threatened to isolate huge German forces already under attack at Novorossisk, the large Nazi-held port on that sea. It had been believed Hitler would try to use Novorossisk for the evacuation of his Caucasian army if Rostov were regained by the Russians.

SOLOMONS: Nipponese Persistent

Only occasionally during the latest air-sea battle between American forces and their Jap enemies for control of the southern Solomons was the curtain of official secrecy raised. First American reports were necessarily noncommittal to keep useful information from the enemy.

The Japs used a "reverse English" technique in reporting the battle. This consisted of radio announcements telling of overwhelming American naval superiority in the Guadalcanal area, of the presence of 10 American warships and 10 aircraft carriers. By employing such fantastic figures, observers believed the Jap high command was preparing the public back home for bad news.

MERCHANT SEAMEN: Heroism Unparalleled

The heroic part America's 70,000 merchant seamen have played in the front line of combat on the high seas was dramatized by a report issued by Rear Admiral Emory S. Land of the War Shipping administration which disclosed that the percentage of losses in personnel due to Axis U-boats and bombers was three times as great as that of the U. S. armed forces in the first year of the war.

Numerically, losses of merchant sailors totaled 3,200 including dead and missing, or 3.8 per cent of the total during the war's first year. U. S. armed forces' losses were 1 per cent in this period.

AXIS STOOGES: Show Jitter Signs

Signs of political and economic crack-up at the northern and southern extremities of Germany's European front were indicated in reports hinting increasing unrest in Finland and Rumania.

Reports reaching neutral Stockholm, related that Finland, fearing further Russian offensives in the north, was growing desperate. The Finns' situation was further complicated because of food shortages and the inability of the Nazis to send them assistance. Public anger had been roused over a statement by Field Marshal Goering that Russia's 1939 war on Finland was only a bluff.

The Rumanian situation was said to be growing more critical because of heavy losses on the Russian front. Turkish sources reported that Marshal Ion Antonescu, Rumanian dictator, had begun to despair of his country's position. It was estimated that Rumania had lost 350,000 men killed in Russia and nearly 650,000 wounded and prisoners.

U-BOAT BASES: Concrete Is Solid

Ten feet of solid concrete separated RAF bombs from the German submarines they were dropped to blast in Germany's super-U-boat base at Lorient on France's Bay of Biscay. But British fliers kept up their dogged attacks night after night, for submarines remained the chief menace to Allied success in Europe.

British reports said that existing pens under concrete at Lorient could accommodate 20 submarines at a time, while another set of pens under construction could take 10 more.

Air warfare against submarine sources was not confined to the bases from which they embarked. Bomber attacks continued to be directed against cities where U-boats parts are manufactured, such as Essen, Dusseldorf and Cologne, as well as Copenhagen, Denmark, where submarine diesel engines are made. In addition, RAF bombers strafed other industrial cities, including Turin, seat of Italy's airplane engine industry.

7.4 BILLIONS SAVED: For Farmers Says OPA

Stung by frequent criticism of its policies by farm bloc leaders, the Office of Price Administration answered back in a statement contending that by the end of 1943 this agency will have saved American farmers $7,400,000,000 or an average of $1,213 a farm.

OPA made this estimate on the basis of a computation of how much money farmers would have been compelled to spend on things they buy and on operating expenses if there had been no government control over prices.

AFRICAN CRITICISM: Ebb-tide Approaching

The tide of criticism over America's handling of the tricky-North Africa political situation had shown signs of ebbing. Significant of this trend was the statement of Foreign Minister Anthony Eden in the house of commons that a "start has been made for reconciliation between Frenchmen and readjustment of internal conditions in North Africa."

FOREIGN SECRETARY EDEN . . . cooperation beginning.

Eden placed full responsibility for settling North African controversies upon Frenchmen themselves. That the French intended to follow this advice was indicated by the creation of a five-man commission by the imperial council in Algiers to undertake internal reforms. One of these was the restoration to their posts of officials ousted because they were Masons. Another was the release by General Giraud of 27 Communist members of the former French chamber of deputies.

A further step toward unity was a blunt memorandum by Lieut. Gen. Dwight H. Eisenhower warning American officers against unwarranted criticism of "any ally."

COFFEE AND BUTTER: Rations Are Slimmer

Less coffee in their morning cups and butter on their bread faced Americans for the remainder of 1943, as the OPA and the Food Distribution administration made known their newest rationing plans.

Coffee rations were reduced from one pound per person every five weeks to one every six weeks. This worked out to about 8.7 pounds per year per civilian.

Approximately 13 pounds of butter will be available for each civilian.

Washington Digest

Changes Scheduled for Manpower Commission

English System Seen as Successful Model; McNutt Unable to Obtain Efficient and Experienced Force of Experts.

By BAUKHAGE
News Analyst and Commentator.

WNU Service, 622 Union Trust Bldg., Washington, D. C.

Two days before the Office of War Information announced the now famous "work-or-fight order" I wrote:

Strange sounds are coming through the keyhole of the wide door of the office of the federal security administrator, Paul McNutt. They have nothing to do with federal security but they have a lot to do with that other function of the administrator, on whose broad shoulders rests heavily the chairmanship of the manpower commission.

The noises I refer to are the preliminaries to a bigger noise.

"The manpower commission is just about to blow up," said a certain official to me, one who has followed its operations very closely but because of some strange premonition refused to get entangled with them. He is entirely sympathetic with the effort but like others whose duties are affected by the ramifications of the manpower situation, he is chagrined and confused by what is happening and still more by what hasn't happened.

When the manpower situation was first turned over to McNutt, who is known as a good administrator, there was a long and patient wait for something to happen. Nothing did. "No wonder," said neutral observers, "he has no authority."

Then he got the authority by presidential ukase. Earlier, it is true, he had made it plain that he felt that there should be passed by congress, a national service act which would lay upon all civilians the similar obligations placed upon the young men of military age. So many people, who thoroughly disliked the idea of a draft of labor of any kind nevertheless declared such a step was inevitable that I was positive that it was coming and so reported. Now it seems far away.

The substitute was supposed to be the setup under McNutt which would work through the United States Employment service. Selective service was even made a part of McNutt's organization and General Hershey, who had seen that institution through from its inception, with better grace than many would have shown, accepted the subordination of his functions like the good soldier that he is.

More Authority

But many a week has passed since that step was taken, various directives have been sent to the draft boards, enlarging the scope of deferment for essential farm and industrial occupations. But still the system doesn't click. It is now reported that McNutt feels that he needs still more presidential authority conferred upon him.

It was thought when the last reorganization of the manpower agency was made that the United States Employment service would work side by side with the Selective service, the one recruiting labor, the other recruiting fighters and the question would be settled between them under a single head. Then, according to one of the members of the commission, without informing anyone in advance, he did what many feel was a direct violation of the key policy—turned over the question of deferment to the department of agriculture.

This is the step which those who opposed it feel is going to force a change in the setup once more. Administration of manpower recruitment was supposed to be centered in the commission.

Naturally members of the department of labor who felt that recruitment of workers should be handled by that agency, consider that no successful solution will be reached until the entire manpower question is put under a single person of cabinet rank and administered by that head right down to the local setups. They point to what has been done in England where the system seems to be working successfully under the British labor minister. A system has been worked out there where the local administration has wide authority under a firm general policy.

The reason why a similar plan was not followed here is possibly because of the feeling against Secretary of Labor Perkins. Too many people would object if the work were turned over to her and it was believed that the President was about to cut the Gordian knot when the plan was announced whereby Miss Perkins was to be transferred to the head of the Federal Security administration; McNutt would go to interior and Secretary of Interior Ickes would head the labor department.

Ickes' Refusal

That scheme fell through because Ickes didn't want to make the shift. The result is that McNutt has been left to struggle with a problem for which some of his most sympathetic critics say he is not fitted. He has been unable to obtain an efficient and experienced staff—some posts are still vacant—others are said to lack the technical knowledge necessary to McNutt or anyone in his position. Such expert assistance would be available in the labor department for even those who speak least respectfully of "Madame Secretary" admit that she has built up an excellent force of experts in her department.

As one veteran of the labor front said to me: "If the war lasts long enough, we may establish a workable and efficient system like the British. Look for at least one more makeshift experiment. Meanwhile, let's hope we can muddle through."

That was the state of things up until February 2, 1943. Then came the announcement of the list of "non-deferrable jobs." The cynical may still look upon it as a "make-shift experiment"—by April 1 we'll know whether McNutt has cracked the hardest nut in Washington or whether we still have to muddle through.

Nazi Communiques Indicate New Status

When Hitler failed to appear or even to speak to his unseen audience on the tenth anniversary of his accession to power, it was only natural that many people felt that this was part of the peace offensive which it was known the Reich was preparing. The "unconditional surrender conference" at Casablanca was supposed to have pretty well quashed the Nazi peace drive but apparently the Reich still has hopes.

When I learned that Goering and not Hitler was delivering the oration of the day, two pictures flashed vividly into my mind—one I witnessed personally in September, 1939, from the Press-Gallery of Reichstag and the other was described to me. The latter is said to have taken place in the famous hunting lodge of Goering, outside of Berlin. A millionaire American manufacturer sat with him. It was not long before Pearl Harbor. The American had a peace drive of his own. He outlined it to Goering. It was this: Get rid of Hitler, set up a more liberal government, agree to get out of France if England will make peace.

The man to do the job, Goering. The fee, one million dollars.

According to my informant, Goering was willing but the scheme was never put through.

Naves Goering, Hess

The other scene was the occasion of Hitler's announcement that he had invaded Poland. It was then that he declared that he was going to the front and that if anything happened to him, he had decided that his successor would be his air-marshal, who sat at the Reichstag president's desk, resplendent in one of his musical comedy uniforms. And said the Fuehrer, if anything happened to Goering, Hess would be the second choice. The solemn and lanky Hess, dressed in the brown uniform of the party, rose and saluted as had the grinning Goering.

Hess, when things didn't go according to his wishes, painted his toenails, and took wings for England. There has been comment in Washington lately over the different tone in the official communiques issued by the German high command. Experts say they seem to indicate that the generals have taken over.

Recently it was rumored that Hitler had fired his "intuition" which he said directed his military strategy and he was letting the professionals run the army. It is just possible that Hitler will some day meet the same fate of the intuition which he so unkindly purged. Even the most thickheaded Nazi could hardly believe that the Allies would ever make peace with a government with Hitler at the head.

Front Line In New Guinea

By Osmar White
(WNU Feature—Through special arrangement with Collier's Weekly)

Australia's front line in New Guinea is remote and mysterious, the most secret front line in a whole world at war. I was determined to find it.

After a week's canoeing into the interior, I saw the mountains at dawn one morning. They take your breath away. The tallest mountains I've ever seen. One mountain is in the 14,000-foot class. The track leads straight over a 9,000-foot pass.

I pity the men manning this foothill post on the way to the front line. They're tired—jungle-tired to the very bone. They're thin and yellowed and listless. They have had to dig a four-foot deep trench around their camp and block the bridges across it because death adders and rats pester them at night. When not working, they live in a huge mosquito net which covers the space for a table and chairs and a little bookshelf. They get mail once in two or three months.

From here I started the next morning, up the tough slope, through dense, damp jungle. The idea is to get the day's walking over before the afternoon rain sets in. What rain! Straight down, warm and steamy, drenching to the marrow. The first Kunis bridge swayed wildly over roaring rapids 40 feet below.

Where Sun Never Shines. Next day more of the same. Up and up and up and up. The track is a cannibal path now, not nine inches wide. The high air's thin—not half a breath in a lungful. The sun has not shone on this mud in a hundred thousand years. Still up.

Sometimes the trees thin a bit and one can see a glimpse of a breath-taking blue valley, utterly blanketed in treetops, sweeping down 4,000 feet onto the snakelike river, white with rapids and waterfalls. Here one may hold shouted conversation with a man a full day's journey away.

Another day and we're over the crest. Now down and down and down. Dry, comfortable camps overlooking a rolling, grassy valley. Fresh food to make your teeth water. The only fly in the ointment is the rats in the bedrooms. They run up under the blanket with their little cold feet.

Another day and I'm in a valley, hot and magnificent with richness. There are great stands of hoop pine. My boy brought me a spray of creamy orchids a foot long. Met some fellows from the front line, going out sick. Two of them had been in the Salamaua show. They had had bad sores from moka ticks. Moka ticks are scrub ticks that carry Asiatic typhus. They call it Jap river fever up here.

They bit me pretty severely on the way over and this kunai grass is swarming with them, but the iodine bottle keeps them down. The fellows told grim stories of the Japs jubilantly relaxing in neat little grass villages among grinning, well-fed natives.

Ahead are more hills still, wetter and steeper, but this is the last stretch.

Hears a Jap Bomber. I camped under the skirts of a 12,000-foot mountain. About nine o'clock I heard the unmistakable high-low drone of a Jap bomber. I turned off my lantern from habit and went out. The forest was ablaze with eerie light; the ground under the but a flickering mass of glow-worms.

Another day and I reached an army camp—four great huts, now housing a contingent of Commandos going to the front—lean, stooped youngsters already yellowed by fever. They are the first considerable body of troops I have seen in nearly 300 miles of walking.

These are the men who do quiet execution of every Jap patrol that dares poke its nose out. Only one is over 30.

And then finally, the next day, I was at the front. I went up by way of a cedar tree to have a look at the top story. The valley opened out and far off behind a cloud bank was the faint shimmer of the sea. Then, like a cue in a stage play, it came—the distant rolling thunder of machine-gun fire. It was happening down there under that soft canopy of treetops.

I arrived in time to see the patrol come in, torn, caked with mud and sweat and jubilant. The red welt of a bullet coiled over the neck of one of them like a little dead snake. They had fought a patrol of 120 Japs. They stalked them for nine hours, then placed a machine-gun nest in a clearing and slashed them to shreds. The Japs fled through the jungle in twos and threes, howling.

I saw the battlefield by lantern light. Sodden heaps of clothing and equipment; little pools of blood which rain was diluting and blending with the earth.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Felt hats will last longer if brushed with a brush made of hair and not with a whisk broom.

Set a five-gallon pail of old crank case oil in the tool shed, into which small tools may be dipped after using, this to prevent rusting.

Put the wooden salad bowl near the stove after washing, but never over direct or intense heat. Too much heat will cause the wood to warp and perhaps crack, but moderate heat is necessary to dry the bowl thoroughly before putting it away.

Smear soap on the threads of a screw cap of a jar in which odd bits of paint or varnish are to be saved. The joints will be airtight and the cap will not stick.

A small leak in an aluminum pan may be repaired by placing a flat piece of heavy iron on one side and lightly hammering the hole together on the other side.

Clear hot water to which one teaspoon of baking soda has been added for each gallon of water brightens the gloss on enameled woodwork.

Save the water in which you have boiled rice. Pass any small articles through it after washing; it will semi-starch them.

If thawed too quickly meat that has been frozen will likely be tough.

Food Rationing Not So Bad

Food rationing a nuisance? True, housewives will need to count and budget points as closely as they counted and budgeted pennies during the depression years.

But—in Warsaw, the city used as a testing ground for all the sadistic plans of Nazi world conquest, bread is about the only thing the populace can count on eating. This winter there may even be no bread, according to information released this week by the Office of War Information. What bread there is, is 40 per cent sawdust, dark and indigestible. Food cards, when received at all, theoretically entitles Poles to subsistence amounts of a few items. Adults may not receive milk, an adult being anybody older than six months.

There are, of course, black markets, which the Germans have a hand in operating at profits. In such markets, an egg costs 60 cents, a pound of pork around $4.00, a pound of butter between $9.00 and $11.00. Most of us would soon starve at such prices. That is, of course, exactly what the people of Poland are doing, and all according to the pre-conceived plan of the Nazis.

A Basis for Fear

Lincoln Journal: Doubtless one reason why the warnings Goebbels and Goering to the German people that a fearful reckoning awaits them unless they battle to the death are better heeded than the protestations of the leaders of the United Nations that only the war criminals are wanted is that the German people feel there is no escape for them from the punishment the misdeeds of their soldiers have earned.

From every internment and prison camp in Europe, from every part of every country occupied by German troops, from every battlefield have come tales of cruelty, oppression, murder, rapine, barbaric deeds perpetrated by German soldiers. Those who ordered these crimes against humanity were officers, leaders of the people, but the men who perpetrated them and gloried in them came from the loins of the people.

The rank and file of the German army is paying the price of its crimes on the steppes of Russia and on the sands of Africa. It also furnishes the victims of the ambushers and snipers in the occupied lands. The vengeance of the Lord, of which the old Jewish prophets spoke so impressively, is not likely to stop with the defeat of German arms. The hatred that German terrorism has bred in Poland, Norway, Czechoslovakia, Greece, Holland and elsewhere will not be sated until some measure of personal vengeance has been achieved.

The German people know that their soldiers shot, hanged, flogged, starved, bayoneted and slaughtered in various ways non-combatants by the thousands, shamed and ravished their women, bore off into slavery thousands of the defeated soldiers of other nations and tortured thousands of prisoners of war. The non-combatants of Germany may well shudder at the future they face. Perhaps it would be well for them as for the world at large if they heeded the cries of their leaders to defend to their death.

We Think So, Too

Lincoln Journal: Once upon a time it was the expressed ambition of every daily newspaper man some day to own and operate a weekly. The fact that very few of them ever did so never cluttered up the dream of easier toil. The notion that running a weekly was like superintending an automatic mint has been sadly wrecked by wartime conditions. Many a country editor seems destined to spend the next year or two as guest of his wife's folks.

Supervisors Report on Weed Eradication

The annual meeting for Wayne County noxious weed district will be held Friday, March 5, at 1:30 p. m. in the court house. All those interested are invited to attend.

Under the Nebraska noxious weed law that has been in effect for five years, 43 districts have been organized, covering 5,700,000 acres.

Wayne county was the twentieth district to be organized in the state, covering all of the county except the city limits of the towns in the county. The 283,000 acres of the county have been divided into five supervisors districts, covering approximately 56,500 acres each. At the time the Wayne county noxious weed district was organized there were three larger districts in the state and four districts had more noxious weeds.

The five supervisors are all farmers in their respective districts and they are expected to make three calls each year on the patches of noxious weeds noting the method of eradication and the degree of success. They must all take care of their own farm work and with labor being scarce and tires and gasoline being rationed they may not be able to cover their districts as thoroughly as they would like.

Seven hundred twenty-nine farmers reported 2963 acres of noxious weeds in Wayne county when the state survey was made in the summer of 1941. A little more than one per cent of the land in Wayne county is infected with noxious weeds.

One carload of salt and 1925 cans of sodium chlorate have been shipped into the county and sold to the farmers and the county commissioners. The county commissioners have treated many patches along the roads with salt or sodium chlorate.

The AAA is paying $10.00 per acre or 10 cents per pound of sodium chlorate for the eradication of noxious weeds by an approved method.

The noxious weeds were not all eradicated last year nor will they be this year. Many farmers think they have had a good kill and a few think they have completely eradicated their patches.

When clean cultivation or chemicals are used one must go at least ten feet beyond the last plant so as to be sure of getting all of the shoots and seedlings.

A few patches visited by the supervisors last year showed a good job of eradication in the middle but around the edges of the patches there was a good growth of bindweed.

Persons finding new patches of noxious weeds in fields or along roads are asked to report them to the supervisors or county agent so that records may be kept up to date and so that the county commissioners may treat patches along roads.

Every three months the war board grants permission to the factory at Niagara Falls to release a certain amount of sodium chlorate to be used in the eradication of noxious weeds. Wayne county does not know what her allotment will be but hopes to receive as much as she did in 1942.

Anyone wanting information or having suggestions to make, please talk to the county agent or the supervisors.

The state highway department has just reported that it has treated all patches of noxious weeds along the highways in Wayne county.

WARDEN EXAMINATION TO BE HELD SOON

A competitive examination for the position of Conservation Officer for the Game Commission will be held in the near future. The examination is designed to fill the vacancy left by W. O. Monnette of South Sioux City, who was killed in an auto accident last fall. Applicants should be in excellent physical condition, between 25 and 40, at least five feet ten inches tall, and of proportionate weight. Persons wishing to take the examination should apply to the Game, Forestation and Parks Commission, Lincoln.

AAA Notes

Americans must tighten their belts in order to make additional food supplies available for our armed forces and allies, according to Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard. Requirements of our fighting men and our allies will probably double those of a year ago. American food, Wickard said, is a vital factor in keeping Russia on the offensive against the Nazis.

The Department of Agriculture will work with the War Relocation Authority in placing American-Japanese as year-round farm workers within certain boundaries. Farmers will be able to apply for such help thru WRA offices at Salt Lake, Kansas City, Denver, Chicago and Cleveland. Last year 10,000 Japanese-Americans worked as seasonal laborers. The department's over-all labor program is now being completed, and details are expected soon.

Although support prices for growers of tomatoes, peas, snap beans and sweet corn for processing will be higher in 1943, consumer prices will approximate those for last year's pack.

Price control through the end of 1942, saved America's farm families approximately $1,000,000,000 in their purchases of cost of living items, and will save them another $1,700,000,000 during 1943 if present ceiling prices are maintained, according to the Office of Price Administration.

RATION GUIDE

WAR RATION BOOK TWO

Judge Fay H. Pollock was in town on court business last Thursday. He set Feb. 25 as the date for the trial of W. F. Auken et al vs. Bertha Hendrickson et al.

N. W. Bell Elects

Chris J. Abbott, whose headquarters and residence are at Hyannis, Nebraska, was elected a director of the Northwestern Bell Telephone Company at its annual meeting at Des Moines, Iowa, February 11.

In addition to being the largest producer of range cattle in Nebraska and a large farm operator and cattle feeder in Iowa, Mr. Abbott also has considerable banking and other business interests.

He is a member of the Board of Directors of the United States Chamber of Commerce and of its Department Committee for Agriculture and its National Committee on Business Welfare, and chairman of the Board of the Transportation Association of America.

He is a director of the American National Live Stock Association, of the Nebraska Stockgrowers Association, and of the Nebraska Brand Committee.

The Northwestern Bell Telephone company provides telephone service to 632 cities and towns in the states of Iowa, Minnesota, Nebraska, North and South Dakota, owns and operates about 960,000 telephones, and has a plant investment of more than $200,000,000.

FISH ADDED TO GAME LIST

The fresh water drum, or sheephead, common to many Nebraska lakes, has been added to the game fish list. One of the most toothsome fresh water fish, the drum is a lively fighter on a line, and may be readily taken with a hook and line by using crayfish or shrimp for bait.

MERCHANT MARINE

SEEKS RECRUITS

Marine is now calling for, he can do nothing more important to ward winning this war than to give that skill to his country.

"To keep this war program in operation, we need engineers who hold marine licenses. A. B.'s, Cooks, and Bakers, and Mates.

"We are producing the best ships in the world. These Liberty Ships which we are producing are equipped with the finest protection, the best guns, the best lifeboats and life rafts, and the finest safety devices for our men that our technical skill can produce. In addition to these Liberty ships we are building C-class ships which are fast and well-built. The food and quarters on these ships are excellent. In other words, we are asking these men to return to a Merchant Marine that has charged over night. The Old Merchant Marine that some of these men will remember is gone forever.

"Secondly, these men we are asking for will be well paid. The war-bonus system which is in effect today has raised the wages of the men to a high level. For instance, the average A. B. earns from $230 to $300 per month. This sum is net because he has furnished to him his room and board. A cook makes from $200 to $315 per month. An engineer is paid from $400 to $800 per month. These wages are computed on a man's basic wage scale, plus a 100 per cent war bonus, plus overtime, plus port bonuses.

Story hour for the children at H Have you read "All Night Long" by Erskine Caldwell? When the author came back from Russia last winter, he wrote an eye-witness story of Russia at war. This was a factual account that became a best seller and was entitled, "All-Out on the Road to Smolensk." But Caldwell is primarily a creative writer, and his Russian experience gave him another story to tell—a story of war behind the German lines of the fierce courage and scourging hatred shown by those Russians who stayed on their home soil to take up guerilla fighting against the Nazi invaders. This story centers around a young tractor driver on a collective farm, his wife and their friends. It is human, yet packed with dynamite.

MEAL-IN-A-HURRY

Rationing has taught many British people about cheese—how delicious it is—and how it can be used in hundreds of ways to give zest and appetite appeal to otherwise uninteresting dishes. You see, cheese is rationed there—they are allowed so much cheese per week or month. Well, you know how that works. If we're entitled to something we are pretty apt to see to it that we get it.

For A Meal In Forty Minutes

So far we have not been rationed on cheese—but we can doubtless enjoy the following quick casserole dish just as much. It uses cheese to "extend" some ground meat, and also to add character and interest to this meal-in-a-dish that can be prepared and on the table in 40 minutes. Here is the entire quick meal built around this Savory Casserole Dish:

Crisp Pickles	Savory Casserole	Enriched Bread and Butter
Fruit Sauce		Cookies
Milk		Other Beverage

SAVORY CASSEROLE

3 tbsp. fat
3/4 lb. ground beef
About 1 cup finely cut onion (1 medium-size onion)
About 1 cup cut-up celery or cabbage (small pieces)
1 tbsp. all-purpose flour
2 1/2 cup cooked tomatoes (1 No. 2 can)

3 1/2 cups hominy (1 No. 2 can) (or whole kernel corn), well drained
1 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. pepper
1 tsp. chili powder
1 cup grated well aged sharp cheese (1/4 lb.) (lightly packed in cup)

Brown beef, onion, and celery or cabbage in 3 tbsp. fat in large skillet. Stir in flour, tomatoes, hominy and seasonings. Add most of cheese, and place in a well greased 2-qt. baking dish. Sprinkle remaining cheese over the top. Bake about 35 minutes in a moderate oven (350° F.). Serve hot. 6 generous servings.

Improved Uniform International SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

JESUS THE GOOD SHEPHERD

LESSON TEXT—John 10:1-6, 27-30. GOLDEN TEXT—"I am the good shepherd: the good shepherd giveth his life for the sheep."—John 10:11.

Beautiful and meaningful as they are, none of the other figures or types of our Lord's redemptive work have a stronger appeal than that of the good shepherd. Even those who have never tended sheep nor yet seen them under the shepherd's care sense the telling aptness of the allegory of the Good Shepherd. We know how much we are like sheep needing the tender shepherd's care, and we soon learn to know and to trust Christ as the True Shepherd of the flock.

The center of the picture is the Good Shepherd, and it is around Him that we group our thoughts.

I. He Knows His Sheep (vv. 1-5). At night, whenever possible, the sheep were brought into a fold, a walled-in enclosure with shelters and with a single gate. Many different flocks were kept together under the care of an undershepherd. In the morning the shepherds came to lead forth the flock. They came by the door, not as the thieves of the night, who sought to come in by stealth over the wall.

When the shepherd called, his own sheep responded. We are told that they would not come at the call of a stranger—not being ready to trust him.

The application is obvious, and yet a word is in order. We ought to examine ourselves and see whether we do indeed know our Lord's voice. Do we respond when He calls us? Then, too, let us be on the lookout against those who profess to be shepherds, who call themselves "pastor" or "reverend," and have only one purpose—to despoil the sheep. They are "thieves and robbers"—Jesus said so. They are only interested as long as it pays. The true shepherd cares for his sheep.

II. He Protects His Sheep (vv. 6-15). Not only thieves, but wild animals would attack sheep, and it is said that often the shepherd died to protect them from harm. But the hireling, serving for what he can get out of it, is not interested any longer. When danger appears, he flees. He has not the real shepherd heart and cares not if the sheep be destroyed. Having stolen them to enrich himself, he will not defend them at the cost of his own life.

Note the sharp contrast of "I am the good shepherd" with the dark picture of the faithless hirelings. Not only does it magnify His goodness, but it deepens the blackness of their treachery.

We should recall that the Good Shepherd is able to protect His sheep; for while He lays down His life for them, He takes it again in victory over sin and death (see vv. 17, 18). The Saviour seemed to have been defeated at Calvary, but He arose again, and ever liveth to make intercession on our behalf (Heb. 7:25).

III. He Seeks Other Sheep (v. 16). The other sheep Jesus had in mind were probably the Gentiles. The believers He then had were Jews, but the day was to come when the Gentiles were to hear and believe. His desire for them may well stir in our hearts an eagerness to go out and bring in all—both Jew and Gentile—who will, by believing in Christ, become members of His one fold.

Note the word "must" in verse 16. It does not say "if convenient," nor "when we can raise enough money," nor "after our local debts are paid"; we will go out and seek others. There is a divine imperative here—it "must" be done.

Let us not fail to gather the full significance of the expression "one flock, one shepherd." We are not interested in any manufactured unity of man-made organizations. Certainly we will not accept union which means compromise of essential truth. But unity under Christ, the one great Shepherd, that we want—yes and will have. He makes that certain—"they shall be one flock."

Let us not put hindrances in the way of that kind of unity, and let us not be delinquent about seeking the "other sheep." Now a final word.

IV. He Keeps All His Sheep (vv. 27-30). These words (said after a period of weeks had elapsed) stress the blessed assurance which comes to those who follow Christ. Jesus rebuked the Jews for their unbelief, telling them that they were not His sheep.

Those who are His have been given to Him by the Father—an eternal gift to Him—and He gives to them eternal life.

The power back of this whole matter is evident in verse 30. Christ is God. He who is in Christ's hand is also in the Father's hand, and no man is able to pluck them out of the Father's hand." Instead of trying to modify that statement, or to quarrel with those who believe it, every Christian ought to accept it and shout "Hallelujah!"

Kathleen Norris Says: Don't Be Afraid to Ask Favors of God

Bell Syndicate—WNU Features.

"In wartime we stop our cars and smilingly invite the uniformed lads to jump into them."

By KATHLEEN NORRIS

THE longer I live the more firmly do I believe in the nearness of God and the power of prayer. The rule that was given us by an obscure carpenter, who never wrote a line or had an influential friend, and who died the death of a common criminal, is still the only true rule by which we humans may live in security and peace.

When anyone says to me that he would like to have seen a miracle, I think of THIS miracle, that we hold no name in all our history worthy to be mentioned in the same breath with that of Christ. Poor and unknown, yet his words still ring about the world, and his law, so utterly opposed to all natural human law, is the one thing that can save us yet.

When this war is over, and the monstrous evil that darkens the world is suppressed, let us hope that those in power will remember that unless the law of Christ influences their councils, there will be no peace, and that before today's babies are out of high school the whole horror will begin all over again. No matter how they dress their treaties in magnificent phrases, no matter how many willing and unwilling signatories they obtain for them, unless forgiveness and brotherhood become the universal law, there will be no peace. The secret lies there, in the Sermon on the Mount, and it lies nowhere else.

When peace comes let's try to feed our workers as well as they are being fed in war. Let's not forget, and slip back into the selfish old ways. Let's not ever tolerate poverty and idleness, slums and squalor again. Let's hold fast in peace to the generosity, the intelligence, the self-sacrifice and co-operation that we exhibit so eagerly in war.

Constant International Visits. We shall have to keep up an immense army for a long, long time. Even a peace-loving woman like myself, who has suffered a great deal for her championship of the non-intervention cause, can see that. We shall have to have half-a-million men ready to take to the air; why not have them visit foreign countries to bring friendship and help, steadily, as a regular thing, so that the flag that these countries have come to know through war shall become to them a symbol of everything that is loving and helpful.

In war there is a demand for limitless labor, to rush the work of defense and destruction. We pay for it gladly, readily, and what we buy is blown to bits and sunk into the oceans by the hundreds of millions. Why can't we keep up this magnificent plenitude of employment in peace times, paying for roads, schools, bridges, libraries, until there is no hamlet in all America where learning and usefulness cannot be found by the humblest comer?

In wartime we women knit thousands—millions—of warm garments; we gather little coats and boots; we ship them to the far corners of the earth to comfort cold little creatures who, in wartime only, seem so akin to our own. Why can't we keep that up in days of peace? There is no tiny, shivering Chinese child, buttoning a generous wool-lined coat about her, who cannot be told that America has sent her that because America believes in a shining God who said that all men are brothers.

In wartime we take to food restrictions joyfully, and the markets are filled with philosophic women who are quite ready to face any privation if it is demanded by "the boys." In wartime we stop our cars and smilingly invite the uni-

"PEACE I LEAVE— If you haven't done so lately, take out your family Bible and turn to St. John 14:27. Read those stirring words, "Peace I leave with you." Read on a little . . . "For the Prince of this world cometh." Even in the hour of His own sorrow Christ prepared His disciples for the fact of His revelation, just as we must now prepare to make the most of the peace for which we are so fiercely fighting. And we must prepare for peace, not in a militant spirit of spiteful revenge, but with the calm knowledge that with the help of God we can make our world a little more like his Kingdom.

formed lads to jump into them. Clubs are formed for them, so that their evenings shall be safe, sandwiches are piled up by the thousand, cards and games are collected. They must be protected from dangerous amusements, they must be filled with good beef and coffee, warmly clad; there must be music, and girls with whom to dance. But in peace times, more shame to us, hungry and idle and shabby lads roam the streets at night, and fall into all the mischief that idleness and poverty and cold and hunger and shabbiness encourage. And we punish them for it.

Love Is Power Behind Good. It is hard to see the light of God's law through our stupidity and the darkness of our vision. But it lives on; it inspires us in every bandage that we roll, every cookie that we bake, every sweater we knit. Love is the power behind them all, and it is to that love that we must trust. When a sense of helplessness and hopelessness overwhelms you, then remember that stronger than all the leaders put together is the miraculous force of prayer. Remember that no woman, her heart sick with anxiety over the absent sons, her brain bewildered and tired by the problems that loom vaster and vaster above us—no woman ever interrupted her dishwashing or her ironing to kneel down and say the old prayer that begins, "Our Father," without arising from her knees stronger in courage and refreshed in spirit.

Every prayer that goes to God is a spark of light in the dark. It finds some bitter need somewhere, on the cold mountains of China, in the crowded huts of India; it eases some suffering, it softens some blow. Send your gift of prayer, if you like, to today's most heartbroken mother; send it, if you like, to the boy who is lying half-conscious in some base hospital, and have his nurses wonder why he is suddenly better, why he has fallen at last into a healing sleep?

Fantastic to think that we can send prayer abroad, to spread peace and blessing among those whom we never will know, and whose thanks never will reach us? Well, there are many fantastic delusions in this world, such as that money brings happiness, or that a beautiful girl is always a happy girl. We fool ourselves about half the things we know, or think we know.

But not about prayer. Peace and infinite good are as plentiful as the air we breathe, as close as the air we breathe.

In every spare moment enter into the empire of God's peace, spread this union of prayer all over the world and perhaps, when the war is won, and the days of readjustment come, we will find it stronger than we have ever dreamed, we will find ourselves worthy to formulate the plan that shall bring us a little nearer to the Kingdom.

HOUSEHOLD MEMOS... by Lynn Chambers

Tea for You, With Delicious Cranberry Pastries! (See Recipes Below)

... And Cookies, Too!

You may not serve tea, and you may not even have coffee, but you still like that pause in the afternoon with a few good friends, to mull over the happenings of the day, to get philosophical over the events that touch all of us. But have that pause whenever possible, even if you have just fruit juice and a few cookies or cakes. It's as important as the bigger things you do.

Have a hot or cold drink as the climate dictates, flavor them with honey if the sugar supply is low. Some supplies of tea are still obtainable for the hot or iced beverage, if you use the coffee ration at breakfast.

Chocolate and cocoa are obtainable now and then and make excellent hot beverages. Made with milk, they're nourishing, too. And if you make them with canned milk they're delightful. Somehow, the canned milks have an affinity with chocolate beverages.

Fruit juices have been a summer standby, but you should discover their winter uses, too! Hot lemonade is delightful as are combinations of lemon, orange, grapefruit and pineapple juice.

Those of you who like spending cold afternoons in front of the open fire will enjoy a small glass of a cool drink with a few tasty cookies. For this purpose, try mixing equal quantities of cranberry and orange juice or apricot and pineapple juice served in pretty glasses with cookies.

Small cakes and cookies are an attractive accompaniment with refreshing drinks. Our first one today is a sugar-saver, butter-saver, quickly and easily made:

Cranberry Fingers. (Makes 24 fingers) 4 tablespoons butter or substitute 2 cups sifted all-purpose flour 3 tablespoons sugar 1 egg MILK 1 1-pound can jelled cranberry sauce Grated rind of 1/4 orange

Work shortening and sugar into flour, and mix to a light dough with beaten egg and milk, using only moist milk to moisten. The mixture should be dry rather than wet. Divide into two portions. Roll one portion to an eighth of an inch thickness, place on a greased cookie sheet, and spread with crushed cranberry juice. Sprinkle with grated orange rind. Wet edges and cover with remaining dough, rolled to fit, pressing edges firmly together. Brush with milk, sprinkle with sugar and bake in a moderately hot (375-degree) oven about 30 minutes. When cool, cut into finger strip size for serving.

Oranges enter the picture again, this time combined with maple syrup.

Lynn Says: Handy Hints: When a recipe calls for sifted sugar or flour sift the ingredient before you measure it, so you'll get an accurate measurement.

In mixing cakes, add flour mixture to creamed sugar, shortening and egg before adding the moist ingredients, then alternate and add dry ingredients last. You'll get a better grained cake.

Muffins are beaten just enough to blend ingredients together. Don't overbeat.

Greasing cookie, cake and muffin tins with a mixture of pan-coat, made by blending 1/2 cup shortening with 1/4 cup flour prevents sticking.

up to make a drop cookie: Orange Drop Cookies. (Makes 60 cookies) 2 tablespoons grated orange rind 1/4 cup butter or substitute 1 cup maple syrup 2 eggs, beaten 2 cups sifted flour 3 teaspoons baking powder 1/2 teaspoon salt Cream together orange rind, shortening, maple syrup. Add beaten eggs, then flour sifted together with baking powder and salt. Drop the batter by spoonfuls onto a greased baking sheet and bake in a moderately hot (375-400-degree) oven and bake about 10 minutes or until lightly browned.

Molasses 'n apple butter were favorite ingredients of cookies in grandmother's time, and now they come in for a grand encore:

Old-Fashioned Molasses Cookies. 3 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour 2 teaspoons baking soda 1/2 teaspoon salt 1 teaspoon ginger 1/2 cup butter or substitute 1/2 cup sugar 1 egg 1/2 cup apple butter 1 cup molasses Sift together dry ingredients. Cream together butter and sugar, add egg and beat together until light and fluffy. Add apple butter and molasses and blend together thoroughly, then mix in sifted dry ingredients. Chill for 2 hours or more.

Roll as thinly as possible and cut into large cookies. Place on a lightly greased cookie sheet and bake in a moderate (375-degree) oven for 10 minutes. These cookies are crisp when baked, get soft if stored in tin for a day or so.

Honey and sour cream are an unbeatable combination in a cupcake, and here they are lined up with spices for an extra deliciousness:

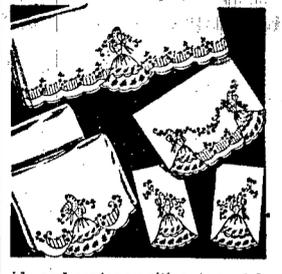

Honey Spice Cupcakes. 1/2 cup butter or substitute 1 cup brown sugar 1 cup honey 3 egg yolks 2 cups flour 1/2 teaspoon salt 2 teaspoons ground cloves 2 teaspoons allspice 2 teaspoons cinnamon 1 teaspoon soda 1 cup thick, sour cream 3 egg whites Cream butter, add sugar and honey, creaming well. Add egg yolks, one at a time and beat well. Sift dry ingredients and add alternately with sour cream, beating after each addition. Fold in stiffly beaten whites of eggs. Bake in greased muffin tins in a moderate oven (350 degrees) 30 minutes or in two greased cake tins.

Your icing for the cupcakes should be a halo of white swirls of honey icing which will not crack—and can be whipped up in a hurry: Royal Honey Icing. 1 egg white, stiffly beaten 1/2 cup honey 1/2 teaspoon vanilla To the stiffly beaten egg white, add honey slowly, beating continually until icing will stand in peaks. Fold in flavoring.

Old Fashioned Charm For Slips and Scarf

ALL the charm of a bygone day is in this colonial girl motif—picture bonnet, bouffant skirt enhanced with a bit of embroidery and scallops, puff sleeved blouse. Gracefully she lends her charm to side and center vanities, to matching dresser scarf and pillow slips. On the larger pieces, a rambler rose fence continues the motifs to the desired length.

You will use outline, lazy daisy, French knots and buttonhole in doing these colonial lady bedroom ensemble designs, and hot iron transfer 28834, 15 cents, will bring them to you. Send your order to:

SNAPPY FACTS ABOUT RUBBER The importance of group riding as a rubber conservation practice has been demonstrated in Pontiac, Mich., where today 20,000 workers roll to war plants in 4,000 cars instead of the 15,000 cars they used daily earlier this year.

2,300 cities and towns with a total population of 12 1/2 millions depend entirely upon automobiles for passenger transportation.

In 1896 The B. F. Goodrich Co. made the first fabric clincher type automobile tire in the 36 x 4 size.

A ton of rubber a year is the collection of the average Brazilian wild rubber gatherer. This explains why man power is the crux of the South American natural rubber problem.

DIALOGUE ON POSSIBLE INFLATION

"Hello, how's tricks?" demanded Elmer Twitchell who was paying 18 cents for a cigar that used to cost a nickel, and addressing Senator Dumm, who had just bought a box of headache pills for twice what they cost a year ago.

"Hello, Elmer," returned the Senator cordially.

"Keeping you pretty busy down in Washington?" asked Elmer. "Do you think we're going to have inflation?"

"I don't think so," said Senator Dumm, as he pulled on a pair of gloves worth about $1.25 which had set him back $3.98 the day before. "How about you?"

"I'm afraid I may get it in a mild form," said Elmer as he shifted to his other arm a box of new shoes which cost him $16.50 as against the $9 he paid for the last pair.

They left the drug store and walked down the street together.

"There's always a chance of inflation, but I feel that we will avoid it in America," continued the senator. "By the way, I think I'll drop in here and get a shave."

"They charge 75 cents for it in there," said Elmer. "There's a shop further on where you can get one for 60."

"As I was saying," resumed the senator, "we are spending a lot of money and we will have to be smart to avoid inflation, but I have every confidence we will do so."

Here they attempted to cross a street and were knocked back by a milk wagon delivering the same milk for 18 cents a quart that cost only 12 not long ago.

"We can avoid it if we are constantly on guard, I suppose," chirped Elmer, as he stopped and paid 15 cents for an apple from a vendor who had once made money by selling them for a nickel.

"Other countries did not take proper preventive measures and so inflation engulfed 'em. We are alert, I am sure," argued Senator Dumm as he dodged a barrel of beer being rolled into a cafe where a glass half the size of the old-fashioned five-cent schooner would be passed out for 15.

"I guess this country sees the danger and has taken steps in time," agreed Elmer, as he stopped to adjust his necktie by his reflection in a window full of eggs selling at about eight cents each.

The bartender rang up a check for $1.20. "Of course it may engulf us before we realize it," admitted Elmer, as they paid, and left.

"Yes, there's always a chance," admitted the senator.

"If we had a decrease of 50 per cent in absenteeism in factories we could get 10 per cent greater production of war needs. The largest percentage of absenteeism is in airplane shops. Much of it is on Mondays and is attributed to Monday morning sickness."—Donald Nelson.

The only cure would seem to be an alarm clock which would touch off, instead of a bell, a record which would scream. "Hey, you fellah! In Guadacanal they work Mondays!"

"There is nothing in the book to confirm statements by starry-eyed vice admirals that one American can lick two Japs and that the war is as good as over."—Book critic of the New Yorker.

Fold-Up Coffee Table Made Without Nails

IF THERE is one piece of furniture for which our own period will be famous it is the low coffee table. Our own generation has discovered that low tables are not only convenient but give a greater feeling of space in a room than high ones.

Here is a little coffee table that is as modern as tomorrow. You can make it yourself from a three by four foot piece of half inch plywood with straight cuts of the saw. It requires not an scrap of hardware. Just cut the three sections according to the dimensions given here; place the slot of the narrow piece of the base through the slot in the wide piece; put the top on, and there you are! When not in use the pieces take up no more space than a large serving tray.

A LETTER FROM OUR SENATOR

The Appropriations Committee of which your state senator is secretary and a member, is hard at work considering the needs of some 36 departments, 5 educational units and 17 confectional and charitable institutions which receive appropriations. Of the total 59 millions appropriated for the biennium of 1941-1943, about 11 1/2 millions came from general property levy, about 30 millions from licenses, fees and cash funds, slightly over 1 million from insane tax fund — special levy and a little more than 16 millions from federal funds. To wisely and carefully provide for all departments and institutions is a colossal task. We are doing our utmost to prevent waste, promote economy and lighten the tax burden. We have succeeded in tentatively agreeing on certain economies that will save considerable money and are considering others.

However, we are faced with the rising costs of food stuffs, clothing, equipment, in fact, almost everything that departments and institutions must use. We know that it costs more to feed inmates and patients in our institutions now than a year or so ago. We also know that salaries and wages have rapidly risen in all other quarters. A total of 18 bills for salary increases have been introduced into the legislature and the senators will shortly settle down to consider them. An omnibus bill is now being drawn so that all bills requesting increases for the various county officers will be included and be up for consideration in one bill. Increases in every department of state government are being asked upon the ground that the cost of living has rapidly risen.

The Appropriations Committee is steadily working and tentatively is about half through. Members are visiting institutions and departments in order to judge the justice of many requests, to gather first hand information, and to check upon money previously appropriated and the results of expenditures. The Committee has paid special attention to the farming activities of various institutions and inquired as to whether some were profitable. With the federal government requiring a sizeable share of Nebraska butter, there is a real possibility that many state institutions will not be able to procure butter for their inmates and patients, for the duration. We find that a saving of approximately $120,000 in the coming two years could be made by using a substitute if the legislature would authorize a change in a statute requiring that butter must be used in all state institutions. Be assured that we are going to save every possible dollar that must come from the taxpayers. Large scale building projects are out for the duration. At the same time, we believe that citizens want the necessary functions of state government carried on in a reasonable way and not seriously weakened by drastic reductions. We think you can realize some of the difficult problems requiring solution.

WILLIAM A. CROSSLAND,
 State Senator.

GUERNSEY SALE ATTRACTS CROWD

Exceptionally good prices were received for the Guernsey cattle offered for sale at the Norfolk Livestock sales company on Tuesday of this week, by James Troutman, who sold his entire herd. The top price for milk cows was $181, the cows averaging $125 a piece. The top price for two year old heifers was $137. The two-year old bull brought $111 and the Yearling heifers averaged $75 each. The sale was very well attended—Winside Tribune.
