A BRAVE COLONEL

Recommends Ferris as a Family Medicine.

A Scientific Spring Medicine. For the relief of all the various ailments, Dr. Ferris' Sarsaparilla is the best medicine in the world.

Colonel Ferris, U. S. Army, is a distinguished officer who has seen much service in the field. He writes in a letter to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People: 'I have used your pills for several years, and they have done me more good than any other medicine I have ever taken.'

Colonel Ferris further states: 'I have never known a person to be cured of any disease by any other medicine, except Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They are the best medicine in the world, and I can recommend them to all who are afflicted with any of the ailments mentioned in the advertisement.'

DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS FOR PALE PEOPLE

For the relief of all the various ailments, Dr. Ferris' Sarsaparilla is the best medicine in the world.

A Bunch of Beauty is the forerunner of a Bunch of Wealth. The flowers that bloom in the spring are the harbinger of the year's harvest.

And not even Nature would allow the flowers to grow and blossom to perfection without good soil. Now Nature and people are much alike; the former must have pure blood in order to have perfect health.

POOR BLOOD. We are all here in a search for a great deal of it. It is the foundation of our health, and without it we are as weak as a reed.

DRUGGISTS. They will sell you a great deal of medicine, but they will not sell you the best. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are the only medicine that will cure you of any ailment.

A ROGUE CAUGHT.

Witnesses of a Newspaper Man's Escape from the Daily to Justice.

Mr. [Name] was caught by the police because of his perjury in a case. He had been accused of a crime, and he had sworn to a false story. The police had been watching him for some time, and they had finally caught him when he was seen leaving the scene of the crime.

The court found him guilty of perjury, and he was sentenced to a term of imprisonment. His defense attorneys had argued that he was innocent, but the evidence against him was overwhelming.

He was released on bail, and he was allowed to return to his home. However, he was still under the watchful eye of the police.

He was eventually caught again, and he was sentenced to a term of imprisonment for a second time. He had managed to escape the first time, but he had not managed to escape the law.

FATE OF AN INDIAN NEGRO.

Over a Century Past, a Negro Slave was Found to be a White Man.

A Negro slave who had been held in bondage for over a century was found to be a white man. He had been captured by a white man and sold into slavery. He had spent most of his life in the hands of a white man, and he had been treated as a slave.

He was eventually freed, and he was allowed to return to his home. However, he was still under the watchful eye of the police.

He was eventually caught again, and he was sentenced to a term of imprisonment for a second time. He had managed to escape the first time, but he had not managed to escape the law.

He was eventually released, and he was allowed to return to his home. He had spent most of his life in the hands of a white man, and he had been treated as a slave.

MARY

A delinquent daughter pays in pain for her mother's ignorance or perhaps neglect.

Mary was a delinquent daughter who had been in trouble with the law. Her mother had been negligent in her supervision, and Mary had gotten into bad company.

Mary was eventually caught, and she was sentenced to a term of imprisonment. Her mother had not been able to protect her from the law.

Mary was eventually released, and she was allowed to return to her home. She had learned a hard lesson from her experience.

Mary was eventually caught again, and she was sentenced to a term of imprisonment for a second time. She had not learned her lesson.

Mary was eventually released, and she was allowed to return to her home. She had learned a hard lesson from her experience.

INDULGENT MOTHERS

Make a young boy's behavior an unnecessary pain at the time of his mother's death.

Indulgent mothers often spoil their children. They give them everything they want, and they do not teach them any discipline.

This often leads to a young boy's behavior that is a source of pain to his mother when she dies. He has no sense of responsibility, and he has no respect for his mother.

Mothers should be firm and consistent in their discipline. They should teach their children to respect them and to take responsibility for their actions.

Indulgent mothers often find themselves regretting their actions when it is too late. They wish they had been firmer with their children.

Novel Dramatic Epitaphs.

Epitaphs are short poems or sayings that are placed on a tombstone. They often contain humorous or witty remarks about the person whose name they bear.

Examples of dramatic epitaphs include: 'I have lived a life of sin, but I have died a death of glory.' or 'I have been a sinner all my life, but I have been a saint for the last few days.'

These epitaphs are often written by the person themselves, or by their friends and family. They are a way of expressing the person's personality and their beliefs.

Novel dramatic epitaphs can be a fun and creative way to express one's personality. They can also be a source of comfort and inspiration for those who read them.

"Spring Unlocks The Flowers"

The flowers that bloom in the spring are the harbinger of the year's harvest. They are a sign of new life and new beginnings.

And not even Nature would allow the flowers to grow and blossom to perfection without good soil. Now Nature and people are much alike; the former must have pure blood in order to have perfect health.

POOR BLOOD. We are all here in a search for a great deal of it. It is the foundation of our health, and without it we are as weak as a reed.
