On Tuesday of last week Miss Ethel Robinson of this city was united in marriage to Mr. James F. Kerr, of Omaha. The wedding was a surprise to the parents of both young people as they were both students of Bellevue college. Mr. and Mrs. Kerr arrived home last evening and tomorrow evening at the home of the brides parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Robinson, a reception will be given them.—Cedar County News.

The following special was received from Redfield, South Dakota, by the Sioux City Journal, November 2: "W. E. Winteringer, of Hartington, Nebraska, attempted a balloon ascension and parachute jump here yesterday, but before he could get clear of a building was knocked from the trapeze and fell to the ground, breaking the bones of his right ankle and was bruised considerably. A large crowd witnessed the accident."

C. H. Chase has been upon his Holt county ranch for a couple of weeks and has written home some fabulous tales of his success as a duck hunter. According to his reports wild ducks about his ranch are thicker than democrats in Texas and almost as noisy. Mr. Chase allows no man-rieks to infest his flocks and he is busy rounding them up and branding. He writes that he actually branded a mallard the first shot, and without having it roped or other wise impeded. Then follows something like bringing down seventy-five in a single day. Which all may be true but we haven't seen the ducks. If all these Klondike stories of wealth of ducks unlimited prove to be gospel truth we are going to run away some night go to Holt county, locate the Chase ranch, sneak under the barb wire trossa, penetrate the Buffalo grass jungle and swipe a whole covey of the best brand of ducks the ranch contains. We are getting mighty tired of strong bacon and backhorn beefsteak. But seriously they do say that C. H. has the best hunting grounds in Holt county.—Stanton Picket.

On Monday, October 27, Judge Bridenbaugh issued a license permitting Joe. Adkins and Miss Agnes Burns to wed and Judge Clark, of Hartington, pronounced the words that made them man and wife. The events that led up to this happy occurrence are of themselves of so interesting a nature that by permission of the parties the Mail will detail them to the readers. On Sunday evening Miss Burns attended church and in company with Walter Jones, a young acquaintance, upon her return, stopped to call a few minutes at Mrs. Adkins'. In the course of a joking conversation Walter proposed to Joe that they advertise for a wife, whereupon someone suggested that that was unnecessary when there were so many pretty girls in the neighborhood without husbands. At that Joe challenged them to find one for him and Miss Adkins said, "Here is one," pointing to Miss Burns. "But she would not have me," objected Joe. "I surely would," replied Agnes. "Then be ready to go with me to Hartington at seven o'clock in the morning and we will return man and wife," was the response. The bargain was sealed with a handshake. So bright and early the next morning true to their agreement both parties were ready for the trip to the county capital. Walter Jones and Miss Daisy Adkins accompanied them. When the rumor of the purpose of the trip was confirmed by a telephone from Hartington their friends prepared to give them a royal reception and upon their arrival here late in the evening scores were ready to welcome them, bringing many tokens of regard. After partaking of refreshments at the home of Mrs. Adkins the company repaired to the Woodman hall and spent a couple of hours in tripping the light fantastic. All went home wishing for a wedding every week. The bride who recently came here from Omaha has by her amiable disposition and winning ways made many friends in this vicinity. The groom is well known to all having grown from boyhood to manhood among us. He is a young man of many sterling qualities, honest and industrious. He has the respect of all his friends. The Mail joins with their host of friends in hoping and prophesying that this union so romantically culminated is but the beginning of many years of married blessedness.—Magnet Mail.

- That the largest and finest music stores in New York, Philadelphia, Boston, Pittsburg, Denver, San Francisco and other principal cities are representing the Chickering as their "finest pianos."
- That the Chickering costs the most money?
- That the Chickering purchasers are always satisfied?
- Competitors have spent fortunes in the attempt, yet never been able to duplicate the Chickering Tone?
- That Chickering & Sons made more pianos last year than all the other high grade makers combined?

TO SUPPRESS CRIME

VIGOROUS MEASURES AGAINST FILIPINO LADRONES.

Military Control Not Needed—The Soldiers and Civil Authorities Will Work Together—Three Provinces Disturbed—Bandits Driven Out.

Manila: The government is adopting vigorous measures to suppress larceny in the provinces of Cavite, Rizal and Bulacan. A zone embracing these provinces and surrounding Manila is the scene of constant petty, and sometimes serious disorders. Several armed bands, some of them numbering 200 or 300 men, are operating in the described district, and have committed various depredations. They find a safe refuge in the mountains. The plan of the government consists in completely securing the assistance of the military, which has been inactive since the end of the insurrection. The extent of the army's participation in the work of suppression depends upon developments. It is said that the military authorities will receive a commission to protect the more important towns while the constabulary conduct the field operations. It is thought that martial law in a modified form will be declared, and the privileges of the writ of habeas corpus suspended in Cavite province, which has been the home of the ladrones for ages.

DEATH TO BE THE PENALTY.

Gottlieb Niesenfeld Found Guilty of Murder in First Degree.

A Pierce special says: After being out nearly twenty hours the jury in the case of the state of Nebraska against Gottlieb Niesenfeld brought in a verdict of guilty in the first degree, as follows: "We, the jury in the case, being duly impaneled and sworn, do find and say that the defendant, Gottlieb Niesenfeld, is guilty of murder in the first degree, as charged in the information, and fix the penalty at death.

The jury retired to deliberate Friday afternoon, and it was expected that they would soon bring in a verdict. All afternoon the crowd remained around the court room, expecting every moment that the jury would bring in its verdict. When night arrived and there was no verdict the people began to despair. After the verdict had been read Saturday forenoon at 10:30 o'clock the judge discharged the jury, thanking the members for their verdict.

Niesenfeld received the verdict with bowed head and did not display the least sign of fear. Attorney Kelley filed the customary motion for a new trial and the judge will probably hear the motion some time this week.

It is understood that after retiring the jury took a ballot, standing ten for hanging and two for life imprisonment. After that it was eleven for hanging to one for life imprisonment.

CHILDREN COMMIT MURDER.

Fourteen-Year-Old Boy Shoots Father and Burns Body.

Gerhard Borchers, living a few miles northeast of Humphreys, was killed Friday afternoon by his 14-year-old son, Herman, who had purchased a shotgun for the purpose, holding the muzzle of the gun close to the back of the unsuspecting father's head as he sat in the house and firing the fatal shot. Then with the assistance of his brothers, August, 10 years old, and Joe, 7 years old, he hitched to the body and it was dragged to a straw stack in a field near by, covered with straw as completely as possible and the stack set on fire.

The motive for the crime is that the father, with whom he has lived since the death of their mother, did not treat them kindly, and they decided to put him out of the way.

GOOD NEWS FOR THE INDIANS.

Agent Can Make Payments to Natural Guardians.

A Pender special says: J. J. McCarty Sunday received the following telegram from the Indian agent at Fort Union: "Have just been advised by the commissioner of Indian affairs, which has disturbed the Omaha Indians, has been advised, whereby the agent may use his discretion in paying parents of minors without guardianship papers. This will prevent much distress."

This will allow the Indians of the Omaha reservation, who are about to receive the allotment of $25,000 of the $100,000 to be distributed by the government from the trust fund held in the federal treasury. It will mean a great saving of trouble and expense to the parents of minors.

COMMERCIAL

New York: "Complaints are increasing as to the tardy movement of freight, miles of cars being stalled by the lack of motive power, and many roads refuse to accept faster shipments until the blockades are relieved. Lower temperature has stimulated retail sales of seasonable merchandise, but frost comes too late to seriously injure agricultural products. Liberal consumption sustains quotations in most lines; domestic demands being supplemented by large exports. The foregoing are from the Weekly Trade Review of R. G. Dun & Co., continued.

Operating expenses of the railways have increased in many cases to such a degree that net earnings are somewhat curtailed, but gross earnings for October thus far exceed last year's by 4.7 per cent, and for the year by 15.5 per cent. Undue significance is attached to an announcement that the Frick Company will not advance next year's price for coke above $3. Although this is in line with other conservative efforts of leading interests to prevent inflated prices, the probable influence on the outside market will be to cause a general advance in prices will go to the various plants of the United States Steel Corporation. Meanwhile sales are being made at $16 in extreme cases, and the scarcity has closed over blast furnaces. The future course of the iron and steel industry will be largely influenced by the general state of the business being permanently lost to home producers, and prices in some departments not diminished, numerous large orders constantly appearing, while the pressure on these is causing large premiums to be offered. The general advance in bridge and ship building are next in point of urgent demand. Agreement on the tin plate wage scale may secure a lot of business that now goes out of the country, and some reduction in prices is expected. Wire mills are also cheaper, but as a rule not to be used in the market.

New England shoe manufacturers are receiving additional orders at fully sustained quotations, and many shops are assured of full occupation well into January. Supplementary orders for winter goods have decreased, indicating that the winter season is closing. As the season is made, and producers are pushing deliveries in order to take inventories. Leather is in better demand, with prices firmer. More interest has been shown in Chicago packer hides at recently reduced prices, but the average of all grades is again lower.

At the cotton miller are healthy, a scarcity of goods being general, while there is no disposition to force transactions. It is early for supplementary buying of spring woolen goods and fall trade is finished, so that these divisions of the market are naturally quiet. Raw wool is very firm at the domestic markets, which are shipping freely to the mills.

Failures for the week numbered 233 in the United States, against 291 last year, and 22 in Canada, compared with 21 a year ago.

Bradstreet's report giving grain figures says: Wheat, including flour, exports for the week ending Oct. 30 aggregate 5,597,747 bushels, against 5,700,417 last week, 6,722,888 in this week last year and 3,312,421 in 1900. Wheat exports since July aggregate 91,428,937 bushels, against 100,728,939 last season and 63,847,564 in 1900. Corn exports aggregate 153,200 bushels, against 54,594 last week, 909,159 last year and 3,920,110 in 1900.

The Northwest welcome a turn of bright, cool weather. Business in the aggregate was hardly up to the mark, warm weather, including covering a portion of the week, leading back retail demand in some degree.

The week in its early part witnessed a rise to 73 1/2c for December wheat, but on later trading a 2-cent reaction was made. This was hardly surprising in view of the almost unintermitted rise for three weeks that carried December wheat up from 67 1/2c. Flour demand has not been so brisk, but the Minneapolis mills are over sold to Dec. 1, and are grinding about 1,750,000 bushels of wheat every week. Receipts there meanwhile are moderate and even with the increase of 101,402 bushels in the first week, and another increase of 903,624 bushels this week, there is a total of only 3,057,133 bushels in Minneapolis elevators, a remarkably low stock for the season.

The transportation situation is, if anything, a little worse, the railroads having hard work to handle the freight. All over the country side tracks are filled with loaded cars, while in the Northwest the grain shippers complain that even after they get the empty cars and load them out it is often seven to twelve days before they reach their destination.

RESULTS OF ELECTIONS

Elections were held in forty-two States Tuesday, the other three, Maine, Vermont and Oregon, having already elected State officials and their representatives in the Fifty-eighth Congress. In twenty-two of the forty-two States a Governor and other State officers and Congressmen were chosen, in eleven the principal State officers were chosen, in the Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, South Carolina, Alabama, Texas, Michigan, Kansas, Wisconsin, North Dakota, Nebraska, Minnesota, North Dakota, California, Wyoming, Idaho, Nevada and Colorado. New Hampshire elected only a Governor. Tennessee and Pennsylvania a Governor and two other State officials. Major State officers or justices of the Supreme Court were voted for in Indiana, Illinois, Missouri, Ohio, Iowa, Florida, North Carolina, Delaware, Utah, Washington and Montana. Congressmen were selected in Arkansas, Georgia, Mississippi, Louisiana, Virginia, West Virginia, Maryland, Kentucky, New Jersey, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Porto Rico.

The terms of thirty United States Senators expire March 1, 1913. Five have already been filled by the election of the Legislature in Republican, but will be a majority of five Populists, two from Nebraska and one each from Montana, Idaho and Colorado.

BENJAMIN B. ODELL, JR.
Re-elected Governor of New York.

James B. McCreary (Dem.), Kentucky; Joseph B. Foraker (Rep.), Ohio; Arthur W. Capper (Rep.), Maryland; W. L. Dickinson (Rep.), Vermont; and Samuel B. McHenry (Rep.), Mississippi. In the following States Legislatures which selected a Senator have been chosen by election Tuesday: New Hampshire, Connecticut, New York, Pennsylvania, North Carolina, South Carolina, Florida, Alabama, Georgia, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Kansas, Idaho, Utah, Colorado, Nevada, Washington and California. The Legislatures of Oregon, Arkansas and Georgia, which also elect a Senator, had already been chosen. Michigan will also elect a successor to the late Senator McMillan.

Forty-three tickets in the field. Aside from the two principal political parties, a dozen others had tickets in the field. Of the minor organizations, the Prohibitionists and Socialists had more than the others. The Prohibitionists made numerous tickets in the States of Idaho, South Dakota, Missouri, Nebraska, Iowa, Michigan, Ohio, Kansas, Tennessee, Wisconsin, Indiana, Minnesota, Colorado, California, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, Connecticut and Rhode Island while the Socialists had tickets in Illinois, Idaho, Wyoming, Montana, Missouri, Nebraska, Iowa, Michigan, Ohio, Kansas, Washington, Utah, Colorado, California, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania and New York.

Republicans Control Congress. As a result of the elections the Republican party will control the Fifty-eighth Congress of the United States with a substantial working majority. It will not be near so large as the forty-one majority of the present Congress, but it will probably be larger than the majority the party had in the Congress before that.

With final returns received from most of the districts, but with a few close districts or districts with scattered rural constituencies, still to be heard from, the indications were that the Republican majority would be about thirty. The returns as coming in early Wednesday morning, show that the Republicans elected 208 members and the Democrats 178.

Republicans were victorious in most of the States in which the Legislatures were in doubt, and in consequence the politics of the next United States Senators from those States make it probable that the Senate will maintain its heavy Republican preponderance, with fifty-seven Republican Senators to thirty-three Democrats, a majority of twenty-four.

ELECTIONS IN STATES. Result of the Balloting in Various Sections of the Country. Following are the results based on early returns of the voting in the various State elections:

New York. Governor—Benjamin B. Odell, Jr. (Rep.), Lieutenant Governor—F. W. Higgins (Rep.), Secretary of State—John F. O'Brien (Rep.), State Controller—Nathan L. Miller (Rep.), Attorney General—John Cunniff (Rep.), Engineer and Surveyor—A. Bond (Rep.), State Treasurer—John G. Winter (Rep.), Associate Judge of Court of Appeals—John Clinton Gray (Dem.).

Missouri. Returns point to the election of Leroy B. Vallant, Gavon D. Burgess and James D. Fox, Democratic candidates for judges of the Supreme Court. Indications go to show that the remaining Democratic candidates have been successful. The Democratic pluralities average 28,000.

Massachusetts. State returns from Massachusetts indicate the Republican State ticket is elected by 27,000 plurality. The Republicans have returned ten and the Democrats seven Congressmen. J. H. Bates is elected Governor.

Ohio. Secretary of State—L. C. Baylis; Supreme Court Judge—W. B. Crew; Dairy and Food Commissioner—H. Ankeney; Michigan. Secretary of State—W. Kirtie, Jr.; Ohio has gone Republican by a majority of 80,000 to 100,000. It is a landslide and the Republicans carried all the congressional districts they have at present and cut down the Democratic majorities in the Democratic districts. The Republicans will have seventeen of the twenty-one members in the lower house. The fight in Ohio this year was a political battle for supremacy between Senator Hanna and Mayor Tom L. Johnson of Cleveland, and Hanna won. In 1892 the Republican plurality in Ohio was 1,089 for State officers and one Democratic presidential elector was then elected. The next year McKinley had $1,000 for Governor and in 1894 the Republican record was broken with 137,077. McKinley had an Ohio plurality for elector in 1896 of 51,109 and in 1900 of 69,026, and last year, with which the vote of Tuesday was compared, the Republican plurality was 67,567. With a long record of Republican plurality now is the highest in the history of Ohio on a total vote of less than 800,000.

Michigan. Secretary of State—A. T. Biss; Lieutenant Governor—A. T. Biss; Treasurer—M. Warner; Auditor—Danial Atkey; Land Commissioner—E. A. Wiley; Attorney General—C. A. Blair; Superintendent of Public Instruction—Delos J. Hall; State Board of Education—P. H. Kerk; Justice Supreme Court—W. L. Carpenter.

In spite of an off year and the hard work of the Democrats, Gov. Bliss and the Republican ticket carried the State by at least 30,000 plurality. Michigan will send eleven Republican members to the national House of Representatives. The Legislature will be Republican. The United States Senate to succeed the late James McMillan is thus assured.

Nebraska. Governor—John H. Mickey; Lieutenant Governor—E. G. McGilton; Secretary of State—G. W. Marsh; Auditor—F. P. Mortensen; Attorney General—F. N. Prout; Superintendent of Public Instruction—W. K. Fowler.

Nebraska remains in the Republican column by a plurality slightly below that of last year (22,000), except for Governor, which was considerably reduced, while the Republicans have made a net gain of one Congressman, elected their State ticket, and will control the Legislature. There was a falling off in the Prohibition vote.

Colorado. Menger returns from various sections of the State show an unusually heavy vote for an off year. Republican gains are generally reported. The People's, the Socialists and the Socialist-Labor parties had tickets in the field.

Montana. State returns for Montana point to a Republican plurality for State ticket of about 500. J. W. Dixon, Republican, was elected Congressman at large.

Delaware. There have been Democratic gains in Delaware. The Democratic pluralities are estimated at 1,000.

Wisconsin. State returns from Wisconsin give the Republicans approximately a plurality on the State ticket of $700. De Forest Richards is elected Governor.

Wyoming. State returns from Wyoming give the Republicans a plurality on the State ticket of $700. De Forest Richards is elected Governor.

REPORT OF UNITED STATES TREASURER ROBERTS.

Revenue Receipts Fall Off, While Customs Are Large—Total from All Sources for Year is $1,062,124,037, and Disbursements $969,627,041.

Ellis H. Roberts, treasurer of the United States, in his annual report, says the magnitude of the available cash balance and the unprecedented holdings of gross gold are the striking features of the condition of the treasury at the close of the fiscal year 1902. The net ordinary revenues for the year were $522,478,233, and the expenditures $471,190,567, showing a surplus of $51,287,666. In comparison with the previous year there was a decrease of $23,207,100 in revenues and of $38,776,495 in expenditures. While there was an increase of $16,550,252 in the receipts from customs, the internal revenues, owing to repeal of war taxes, fell off $35,300,341.

The total receipts of the year from all sources except public debt, were $1,062,124,037, and the disbursements $969,627,041. United States notes and treasury notes were redeemed in gold to the amount of $17,482,590 for the former and $1,274,500 of the latter without any payment of the gold reserve of $130,000,000. Bonds of the face value of $56,071,290 were purchased during the fiscal year for the sinking fund, at a total cost of $70,410,230. In September purchases were made of $25,300,000 of the loan of 1904-1905, and in October $1,000,000 of the loan of 1905-1906, and in November $1,000,000 of the loan of 1906-1907, involving the payment of $21,695,230. The interest due Oct. 1, 1901, amounting to $4,712,120, was anticipated Sept. 16. That due Jan. 1, 1902, for $4,630,330, was anticipated Dec. 10. On Sept. 13, 1902, the interest due Oct. 1, $4,501,478.75, was anticipated, and on Oct. 20 the interest due Nov. 1, for $2,233,638, was paid in advance. During October interest to the amount of $3,315,397 was paid in advance, with a rebate of $89,443 under an offer of the secretary, covering all bonds and their earnings up to July 1, 1902.

Decrease of Public Debt. While the accounts of the public debt on their face show an increase of $15,283,532, it will be made for the increase of $67,624,400 in gold certificates, the national obligations will be shown to have been diminished by $42,340,868 during the fiscal year.

The bonds held by the treasurer as security for notes of national banks decreased $2,039,700 during the year, but in the same time the securities held for deposits were $18,953,200 greater, so that the increase in bonds held for both purposes was $16,913,500. The bonds for circulation, which were on Oct. 1, 1901, $330,093,190, fell to $315,754,560 on June 4, 1902, being $14,338,630 on June 30. On Oct. 1 they were $326,022,270, and on Nov. 1 $328,052,270. These changes show a measure of elasticity in notes based on bonds.

To the general stock of money in the country an addition of $80,189,681 was made during the year. This was also an increase of $10,735,259 in standard dollars, and of $7,300,991 in subsidiary silver.

The growth in the volume of money in circulation during the year was $74,952,589, carrying the per capita from 27.58 to 28.43.

The advance in circulation in the volume of gold, including certificates, within twelve years by $423,705,516 is the measure of the greater strength of our circulation. The increase in the future can hardly be less than $50,000,000 to $60,000,000 a year.

The advance in treasury keeps in active circulation as currency the certificates issued against it, and moreover, $246,681,018 in United States notes and $140,000,000 in treasury notes, or over $386,681,018 more than its own value. The question may well be considered whether the United States notes may not prove to be a better and more elastic currency. They have much that quality already, and the change could be gradually made as the supply of yellow metal takes on greater proportions.

There was a net increase during the fiscal year of 368 banks, 437 charters having been granted and sixty-nine surrenders. The total number of banks chartered to June 30, 1902, was 6,325, of which 4,546 were in operation and 1,779 out of existence.

The amount of subsidiary coin outstanding was increased by $3,114,852 to $32,814,940.

Efforts to Discover the Germ Causing Death to Thousands Successful. A rich man's grief over the death of his favorite grandchild has resulted in a discovery which is expected to have a telling effect in the effort to decrease the alarming mortality among children of tender years during the heated season. Two years ago little "Jack" McCowick, the 2-year-old grandson of John D. Rockefeller, died of summer complaint at Mr. Rockefeller's Tarrytown home. Torn with grief, Mr. Rockefeller demanded of the physicians the cause of so great mortality among children from this disease. In reply, they stated that the ailment was caused by some germ, but what it was they did not know. Mr. Rockefeller determined to open the way to their finding the germ, and within a month he had secured $200,000 for the establishment of an institute for medical research. Under the direction of Dr. William H. Welch the work was taken up in earnest at the Wilson Sanitarium for children, near Baltimore, Md. Here each summer from 300 to 500 children are treated.

With the opportunities thus afforded the germ was isolated. Experts are now at work to learn some method of destroying the germ. By another year the physicians now endeavoring to discover a method of destroying the germ of summer complaint, it is expected to be in a position to combat it successfully, and thus to remove one of the greatest causes of infantile mortality.

Palma, Grows Optimistic. The Cuban Congress, which adjourned Oct. 20, resumed Monday and considered the budget and the total budget of $2,618,856. President Palma refers to the good order prevailing in the republic and the good sanitary conditions, which he says is even better than during the American intervention.

Regarding the proposed treaty with the United States, President Palma says that the relations with the United States are especially cordial.

FANATICS IN A FRENZY.

The Russian religious sect known as Doukhobors, or "spirit wrestlers," who have been marching through Manitoba in search of the Messiah, are reported to be in a terrible plight. The pilgrims are falling from exhaustion and hunger, but the religious frenzy that has kept them up has not abated with the majority. No action has yet been taken by the government to stay the progress of the wild march.

This fanatical sect originated in Russia in the middle of the eighteenth century. It was borne in on the crest of a wave of reaction from sumptuous Greek formalism toward Russian puritanism. In 1894 all privileges were withdrawn on the ground that the fanatics had become disturbers of the peace. With the aid of the Empress they procured leave to emigrate. A colony of 8,000 strong, accompanied by Sergius Tolstol, son of the novelist, emigrated to Manitoba. The fanatics contributed materially to their

HAJI MUHAMMED ABDULLAH.

The leader of the religious fanatics in Somaliland, against whom Great Britain is about to begin a genuine war, is about 35 years old. His operations began early in 1890, when he led a raid against a neighboring tribe on the pretext that its members had stolen camels from his people. He was then an ordinary mulah or priest, but after a number of successful raids he proclaimed himself the successor of the mahdi, assumed a fanatical attitude towards the British, and announced that he intended to rule the interior, leaving the coast to the Europeans. Great Britain, with the Boer war on its hands, was unable to furnish sufficient protection to the frontier. Assistant Postmaster General Wynne received from August W. Machen, general superintendent of the service, the remaining 700,000 square miles not now covered by rural free delivery service, according to the report, will require carriage of 20,000 or 27,000 carriers, making the entire force of carriers 40,000 when the extension of the service is completed within the next three years. After this extension is completed the annual rate of increase in the appropriations is expected not to exceed $1,000,000, if no more mail is carried in other branches of the postal service.

To extend the service 12,000 routes a year until it becomes universal, the report says, will require such largely increased appropriations that the annual postoffice deficits for the ensuing two or three years, including the total of $10,000,000, if no more mail is carried, the service is completed the additional revenue derived therefrom will soon reduce the deficits to present figures, if not entirely wipe them out.

During 1902 there were filed 12,043 petitions for the service, making the total on July 1 last 22,440, which exceeded by over 2,000 the total number during the preceding four years. Since July petitions received have averaged over 600 a month. With the amount required for routes to begin Dec. 1 the entire appropriation has been absorbed, leaving on Oct. 1 only $700,000 for which there is no appropriation available. This number probably will be increased by Jan. 1 to at least $2,500.

Twelve Killed by Bombs. Explosion of Fireworks in New York Proves Fatal to Many. In New York twelve persons were killed and more than fifty injured shortly after 10 o'clock Tuesday night, when many hundred pounds of high explosives, composing the magazine of fireworks for the pyrotechnic display in Madison square, exploded with a terrific crash. Thousands of people were massed about the spot in Madison avenue, between 24th and 25th streets, where the explosion took place.

The explosion was heard a mile away. Windows were shattered in the Fifth Avenue Hotel, Hoffman House and in the Barthen Hotel, as well as in residences on Madison avenue facing the park and stores in Broadway and 23d street. The fireworks which exploded were of the most dangerous sorts, consisting of high-power bombs, rockets and "flower pots." There were several tons of these, which had been placed in the middle of the street directly in front of the four-story brown stone house of David Bishop, 11 Madison avenue. The premature explosion of one of the bombs caused the disaster.

Inspector Brooks, who was placed in charge of the police immediately after the news of the explosion was sent to the headquarters, arrested the employees of the fire works company in charge of the pyrotechnics. After the first shock of the explosion hundreds pressed forward to the work of rescue. Many were unable to work of the scene and turned back. The dead were carried to medical centers by the police and the patrol wagons. Many of the injured were unconscious when picked up. The injuries of some were of the most terrible description.

Woodrow Wilson was born in Stratton, Vt., Dec. 28, 1856, a son of Rev. Joseph Wilson, D. D. He graduated from Princeton in 1879, studied law at the University of Virginia and practiced at Atlanta, Ga. Later he went to Johns Hopkins University, where he spent two years' study, he received the degree of Ph. D. For a number of years he taught at Bryn Mawr College, in Pennsylvania, history and political science; being his subjects. In 1888 he was elected to the chair of history and political science in Wesleyan University. He went to Princeton in 1892, where he remained until the retirement of President Patton was chosen as his successor. The variety of his learning is extensive.

Princeton's New President. The alumni and friends of Princeton University recently gathered in large numbers to witness the installation of Woodrow Wilson, the first layman in the history of Princeton to reach the presidency. In years' past the presidency has been held by presidents of colleges and universities, of schools and seminaries; professors noted for scholarship; and authors of able papers on a number of subjects. Leaders in the social, business and political world; men trained in the arts and sciences and men who bear the stamp of culture and refinement in the educational world. Dr. Wilson is the twelfth president of the university.

He graduated from Princeton in 1879, studied law at the University of Virginia and practiced at Atlanta, Ga. Later he went to Johns Hopkins University, where he spent two years' study, he received the degree of Ph. D. For a number of years he taught at Bryn Mawr College, in Pennsylvania, history and political science; being his subjects. In 1888 he was elected to the chair of history and political science in Wesleyan University. He went to Princeton in 1892, where he remained until the retirement of President Patton was chosen as his successor. The variety of his learning is extensive.

Praise Transport Service. Ladington Says Not One Life Has Been Lost by Ship's Defects. The annual report of Gen. M. I. Ladington, quartermaster general, is a review of the work done by his department during the year. The most interesting feature is what he has to say regarding the transports, in view of the fact that some quarters of opinion have been expressed that the ships are fitted up in the best possible shape for the transportation of troops and that representatives of foreign nations have asked for plans of the fittings with a view of improving their transports.

The report mentions a heavy sea which sailing from Manila led on board about 100 sick who were carried to every attention and comfort in the transport hospitals that would be possible. The report also mentions a well-regulated hospital at Manila, where the army medical department has a number of patients who have been treated by the transport service.

There are in China whole families that have been Catholics, these 300 years. From these faithful Catholic families the church obtains a host of native slaves without whose help the missionaries would not be able to convert Chinese women, and from the same source the church obtains hundreds of native proselytes. The Chinese Government has been very liberal in its treatment of the missionaries.

Roosevelt was upheld in a way that may give the Morgan crowd a shiver.

McCarthy's Dixon county majority of 320 in which county the fusionist elected county attorney and representative shows how he is regarded at home.

Those who laughed heartily over the ten per cent democratic increase in the county didn't reckon in the populist voters who had just arrived back to the old fold after thirteen years in the wilderness.

Roosevelt succeeded in defeating Mercer—he also succeeded in creating a feeling over the state that will not be to Roosevelt's credit in the future. The "make or break" policy may win sometime but there is a last time to everything.

All honor to the loyal old populists who bolted the old parties in 1890 on questions political who arrived in time to save the republican ticket this fall. He is a conscientious old fellow and votes for good government but takes little stock in fusion—no more fusion for him.

The fight on Mickey by the "Personal Liberty League" was a great discredit to the democratic party. Mickey was nominated as a republican not as a prohibitionist. He was elected as a republican and the rights of liquor interests will be in fair hands. Mickey will be governor, sobriety and thrift are still recognized as personal rights, and any credit for vindication as a people of good purposes will accrue to the republican party rather than to the democrats over the result of the issue raised.

When Peggy Came Back. By JANE MEREDITH. Copyright, 1901, by A. S. Richardson.

"Yes, I saw it with my own eyes." "Do tell!" "Who'd 'a' thought it?" "Are you sure he kissed her? Praps he was just picking a leaf or something out of her hair."

"Well, Mrs. Demming, you needn't think that just because I ain't been married no man ever kissed me. I've had as many beaus in my day as ever you had."

"Dear me, Miss Lavinia, I didn't mean anything personal! Only it's quite a step from your porch to Mrs. Burckett's, and I thought—" "I wasn't on my porch," answered Miss Lavinia shortly. "I was right close to the hedge, picking wine currants."

"The last phrase was spoken apologetically, as if prompted by latent shame at thus spying on a neighbor." "Oh, I don't know but it's your duty, Lavinia, to keep your eyes open when there's such doings in the heart of a respectable community like ours," was the unctuous reply of Mrs. Smithers.

"Well, that ain't all I've seen, either," announced Miss Lavinia, rising to this skillfully baited hook. "You know Cousin Sallie left her theater glasses behind, and they're a heap of help. I can stand in my second story front with them and see straight into her parlor."

"Well, if she's so handy, why don't you have her for your maid?" The widow laughed softly. "She'd simply ruin me, Ned. The child adores me."

"I don't believe you could be ruined, and think what it would mean for that child to be taken away from those village harpies. The life must be torture to her sensitive nature."

"That's a nice way for you to speak to your elders, Peggy Smithers, and I'm ashamed of you. If you mean to call Lavinia Hart a liar?"

"No, aunt; but I can't sit here and listen to such dreadful things about Mrs. Burckett. I've worked for her, and I know her a lady through and through, and she's not doing anything wrong."

"You don't need to ask. Worm it out while you're there. You can take up that new set of points you've made. Perhaps Mrs. Burckett might like to wear them with her widow's black."

"The girl stood in a pleading attitude. 'This is a nice way to treat your old aunt that's given you bed and board for ten years now. Now you stop sniveling and trot along.'"

"Poor Peggy! Before those words 'bed and board' she never hesitated. They formed the spiritual lash which her aunt swung with unmerciful hand. The girl never stopped to reckon the mittens she knit for the shop, the lace she made or the interminable days of the sewing as a recompense for the obvious 'bed and board.'"

"Come in, child. You look utterly worn out," she remarked, ushering Peggy into the dim, cool parlor. "What have you there? Oh, such lovely lace collars! I must have one of them. But I'm afraid this sort of work is pulling you down. You're looking badly, Peggy."

"The girl flushed guiltily, and her tongue clung to the roof of her mouth. Mrs. Burckett studied her curiously. 'It is a long walk from the village, and as soon as Ned comes in we'll have some lemonade. He makes fabulous lemonade.'"

"Ned! That must be the awful man. And she called him by his first name with such a proud light in her eyes. A brisk step sounded in the entry, the knob rattled, and Peggy turned dizzy and fainted."

"Ned, dear, this is little Peggy Smithers, who made that lovely lace for me, Peggy, this is—" "Peggy had risen mechanically, and as she caught the next words she raised her eyes, swimming with tears, to Mrs. Burckett's astonished gaze. Delicious little chills were chasing up and down her hot spine. Oh, if only she might rush from the house, down the shady street to the shop. But no; that man stood between her and the door."

"Why, you're looking better already, Peggy. And now, if you won't have any more cake or lemonade, I shall carry you off to my room. I want you to see the beautiful silks and embroideries Mr. Lameroux has brought me from Japan and China."

"The earliest application of the clypeus principle to produce motion was by Tsiang Hung, A. D. 126, who made an 'orery' representing the apparent motion of the heavenly bodies around the earth, which was kept going by dropping water."

In the sixth century of the Christian era an instrument was in use in China which indicated the course of time by the weight of water as it gradually came from the beak of a bird and was received in a vessel on a balance, every pound representing a one-hundredth part of the day of twenty-four hours. About this time mercury began to be employed in clypeus instead of water."

An Englishman who has just returned from an extensive tour through the east tells a good story in which he was one of the principals. He was one of a party at a banquet tendered to five hundred guests, representing nearly every branch of Indian life, were present. As a special guest he was seated on the left of the Indian potentate."

During the meal he noticed that the latter partook of some fine Chulibrahm and, knowing that it was contrary to the Indian caste rules to eat any portion of a pig, he without a thought asked his highness how it was being eaten. The maharajah looked at his plate, then, turning round to his body servant standing at the back of his chair, said: "What am I eating?"

"The servant instantly replied: 'Mutton, sahah.' And without referring to the incident again the maharajah continued his meal. After the banquet the Englishman related the incident to a British judge, and the latter said: 'If that servant had said 'ham,' he would have been headless before tomorrow morning. It is advisable not to notice caste rules when you are with natives of rank.'—Pearson's.

Prince Jerome Napoleon was fond of telling the story of his capture during the Crimean war by which he kept up the spirits of his men. The French army was losing daily large numbers of men through the ravages of the cholera. Marshal Canrobert sent the order to Prince Jerome that he should move his division to Varna. Jerome issued marching orders and added: 'Seek out in every regiment all the actors, comedians, clowns, conjurers and entertainers. I will personally arrange a performance and present prizes to the best entertainer.' During the whole of the retreat these performances took place for the edification of the division. Prince Jerome is not famous for any remarkable military triumphs, but this one act must at least be put to his credit, for it was undoubtedly due to this method of cheering up his men that his division could boast a death roll at least three times as small as that of any other. These performances were the forerunners of the now famous Zouave theater in the Crimea.

Making lace by hand is a well developed art in Paraguay. It was taught the natives 200 years ago by the missionaries and has been transmitted from generation to generation till it is now quite general throughout the republic. Some towns are devoted to making a certain kind of lace. In one town of 8,000 or 9,000 inhabitants almost all the women and children and many of the men make lace collars, ties, handkerchiefs and ladies' ties. Another town makes lace embroidery and others draw thread work, such as centerpieces, try mates, tea cloths and dollies. The designs used in making the lace are taken from the curious webs of the semitropical spiders that are so numerous there. On this account it is called "manduti," an Indian name which means spider web.

Persians in general are not supposed to be the bravest people in the world, but even in Persia the inhabitants of Kashan, a mercantile city, are notorious for their lack of a warlike spirit. Their pusillanimity has passed into a proverb and given rise to many stories. One of the best of these is that when Nadir Shah disbanded his army on its return from India the 30,000 men belonging to Kashan and its sister city of Isfahan applied for an escort of 150 musketeers to see them safely home.

Little Ethel—Mamma, Mrs. Next-door's children are playin' house in their garden. Mayn't we play house in ours? Mamma—Certainly. Little Ethel—That'll be lovely. Then we can quarrel over the back fence just like real neighbors.

"Say," whispered the conductor to the motorman, "that fat slob with the jag says if I want his nickel I'll have to whip him to get it. What'll I do?" "None but the 'brave' deserve the fare," replied that worthy as he peeped full speed in an effort to run over a dog.—Houston Post.

As She Viewed It. Mrs. Dimpleton—Why don't you get your life insured? Dimpleton—What's the use? I'm well enough, and I'll probably outlive you. Mrs. Dimpleton—Well, you always did look on the dark side.—Washington Times.

Professor, I want to ask you a question, if you please. "Certainly. Let me hear it." "I want to ask you if your experience has led you to believe that a person who eats a Welsh rabbit should always get a headache?"—Chicago Tribune.

HINTS FOR FARMERS

The draining of a nine acre field and was found to be discharging at the rate of 450 barrels in twenty-four hours when there had not been any rain for forty-eight hours. This is fifty barrels per acre, and it would require but a few days to reduce a wet and mucky field to a condition fit for cultivation. There is no question but that tile draining enables the land to be worked earlier by making it drier, and yet by keeping it more porous it makes it less subject to injury to the soil by drought; but not all fields of low land can be tile drained with advantage to the owner. There are some where there is not fall enough from the surface to running water to allow draining to the required depth, and there are basins which are so surrounded by higher land and possibly land belonging to other people who would not allow ditching through it that to tile drain in the usual way would be almost an impossibility. But there are many such places by sinking a well or putting a large tile down until it reached a sandy or gravelly subsoil, whether it were four feet or twelve feet. If put in the lowest part of the basin, the water would flow there without trouble, or if the basin was large it might be carried there by lateral drains.

When to Sell Farm Produce. We have frequently written that the best time to sell farm produce is when it is ready for market and a fair price can be obtained for it, even if it is not of the class usually called perishable. The shrinkage often causes a loss that more than balances any increase in price gained by holding it until later in the season. But this does not mean that it should be sold at an unfair price or that undue credit should be given to the taker, but by would be buyers, who wish to obtain the goods at a low price. We think the reports of a large crop of apples this year have been exaggerated by this class of men in order to keep the buying price down. There is probably a fair crop, larger than last year, but by no means a record breaking crop, and as the export demand is good and likely to remain so we would think it wise for those who have good fruit and can pack it in good shape to hold it at least until the fall apples are out of the way. They seem to be more abundant than last season, and sound apples that are likely to keep all winter, and we shall not be surprised to see the prices for the latter go as high as they did last winter. We may be mistaken, but are willing for that to go on record as our guess.—American Cultivator.

Prize Estimates. The government crop report for September says: Of the states having 4,000,000 trees and upward in apples eleven report an improvement in condition during August. All but six of the important apple growing states report conditions ranging from seven to thirty-two points above their ten year average. In Ohio the condition agreed with such averages, while Indiana, West Virginia, Tennessee and Kentucky report conditions below such average.

Reports as to the production of peaches as compared with a full crop in the important peach growing states range from 10 per cent in Illinois to 99 in Oklahoma. In all the states in which the production of grapes is or more than local importance the condition is equal to or above the ten year average.

Mulching Trees. In large orchards it is impracticable to mulch all the trees with hay or straw. The next best thing is to mulch with dust as a protection against drought. For this purpose there are implements made that will pulverize the surface as far under the trees as is desirable. The feeding roots being mostly at a distance from the trunk of the tree it is not necessary to cultivate very close to the trunk. Weeds and especially grasses, should be kept down between the rows and as far under the spreading boughs as they are able to grow. For a small family orchard a good mulch of vegetable refuse, such as weeds or grass or vines that may have been cut in the back yard, garden or fence corners, will greatly benefit the trees and the crops they bear.—Farm and Ranch.

Spacing Hedge Plants. The proper distance apart for the setting of hedge plants is often raised. A correspondent thinks that as private plants grow so rapidly, but it must be remembered that the private is a rather erect grower unless pruned frequently at the commencement and if set any great distance apart it will take quite a while and many prunings to make them broad at the base. If set six inches apart, the spaces will fill up more quickly and the plants be dwarfed to make height. If a very dwarf hedge be wanted, then distance makes little difference, as the frequent sharp prunings will take place anyhow.—Mechan's Monthly.

Plowing by Steam. An exchange tells of an experiment in plowing by steam near Lenawee Junction, Mich. The field was about 80 rods long, containing a little over 30 acres. The engine was attached to a four gang plow, which turned furrows about 16 inches wide and 7 inches deep, and it laid the soil over even and smoothly. It took just seven minutes to make the trip, of 80 rods, with one short stop. The outfit is claimed to turn over an acre in an hour and uses 100 pounds of soft coal to the acre.

Three Letters. Gayboy—A fellow can't be too careful about his letters to women. Henpeck—That's right. A woman got three letters from him once that have kept me in hot water ever since. Gayboy—You don't mean it? Henpeck—Fact they were "Y-o-o."—Philadelphia Press.

Another Keyboard to Be Learned. "Oh," despairingly exclaimed the typewriter girl who was taking her first lesson on the piano. "I don't believe I can ever learn to operate it. The keyboard's so different!"—Chicago Tribune.

The friends of Mr. Lewis were sorry to hear of his resignation as pastor of the Baptist church. Mr. Lewis and family are much beloved by the members of their congregation and will be greatly missed in the community. Joe Jones will put in a first class grocery in the building formerly occupied by Wm. Mick as soon as the building undergoes a few repairs. Joe is just the man for such a store and a good business is predicted by his friends.

The ladies of Carroll met with Mrs. Geo. Bailey Monday evening and organized a club for both social and literary work. They will be known in club circles as the 20th Century Club. He was not able to come but we hope to see him back this week. Albert Budd is going to start in the College at Wayne next week. A number of others are going but we have not found out who they are.

The boys had quite a time last Friday evening. Four buggies were backed under the awnings on the sidewalks on Main street, besides a great deal of other mischief. Gibson's store at Dixon was robbed again while Mr. Gibson was in the store. Six strangers came in and while Mr. Gibson was in another part of the building, picked up what they wanted and skipped. The same parties were in Concord trying to sell the eggs but it didn't work. They also entered Mr. Cantonwin's store but they could not get anything there.

Wilton Little is the genial gentleman who will conduct the Boyd hotel after Monday, the 17th. He says his investment in the hotel business here was somewhat unexpected as he did not know until recently that it was for sale and his coming here is solely on his high opinion of Wayne as a hotel town, as well as its other high-class features. Mr. Little's family will not come for a few days as they are now in Canton, Mo., and it will take sometime to make the move. Mr. Little looks over each inch the man who will be a most pleasant landlord.

Just another one of too much booze and a valuable team of horses are killed, a buggy demolished and several dollars worth of various articles scattered to the winds. Last Saturday evening Wm. Genter, living two and one-half miles northeast of Beemer was put in a buggy by Marshal Steinbaugh started home. But it seems that he was going some distance Mr. Genter turned round and drove back to town. In some unaccountable manner he came in contact with a telephone pole near Baker's lumber yard and broke down one wheel of his buggy. In this condition he crossed the ditch and got up onto the railroad and with just the three wheels to the buggy he travelled straight up the track for about one mile west of town where they struck a bridge, the horses going down, plunging themselves to the bridge, and throwing Mr. Genter out into the ditch, where they were held until about 11 o'clock when a freight train coming in from the east crashed into the helpless horses, killing them instantly and totally demolishing the buggy. On investigation the crew found the driver down in the water almost obliged to death, and picked him up and brought him to town. The night was extremely dark, making it impossible for the trainmen to see any farther than the distance made by the head-light which was used to keep the train in its proper position. The train was stopped and the engine backed up to the bridge. The trainmen were unable to see any farther than the distance made by the head-light which was used to keep the train in its proper position. All diseases and affections of the SKIN

Positively cleared away in a hurry. I vouch for it.

Thousands of wretched people are miserable—imagining they have a bad poisoning of the blood—when in nine cases out of ten it is purely a local parasitic manifestation in the skin which can be cleared away in a hurry.

Such misery now cleared away as surely as the sun shines above. Not merely ATTEMPTED—not a matter of improvement only—but a clearing of it all away absolutely—and quickly, too.

(Case of Sammy Minkey. Cleared away and entirely cured in 21 days. Fully proven to me.)

I vouch for this—absolutely.

It has been proven to me beyond the possibility of doubt that a new medicament known as D. D. D. clears up the worst skin affections quickly. Its work seems astonishing, amazing, almost miraculous. (It is a specific formula which, because of its discovery by Dr. Decator Dennis, is known as "D. D. D."). Its actual record sounds like a story of magic. But there is no room for doubt about it whatever; full proofs indisputable in every respect, have been submitted to me regarding hundreds of cases—among them the one case shown here of the boy (Sammy Minkey), who was cured in 21 days. The results are not only complete, but permanent; in this case it is now nearly two years since the disease was cleared out of the skin, and no taint of it has appeared since.

Each one of the known skin affections is parasitic in nature, and all of them have yielded to "D. D. D." The preparation is being used by most of the skin specialists. It is compounded for druggists solely by the D. D. D. Co., 70 Dearborn St., Chicago.

It is utilized by every family physician who has taken the trouble to investigate the work it is accomplishing. It is used in the Cook County Hospital, Chicago. It will clear away any parasitic break in the skin in from 3 days to 60 days' time. Visit the undersigned and see proofs that will make you a happier human. $1.00 buys the prescription—already made up in sealed bottles, with authentic label on each. The undersigned will fill mail orders on receipt of price.

A scientist says that if the earth was flattened the sea would be two miles deep all over the world. After due meditation a Kansas editor gives out the following: "If any man is caught flattening out the earth shoot him on the spot, and don't be too blamed particular what spot. There's a whole lot of us in Kansas that can't swim."

It was a Kansas man who went to Washington, D. C., to sell horses and reports his luck as follows: "The people travel there by cars run by cable or electricity and do not need draft horses or roadsters; they ride on bicycles, and automobiles and don't need fast trotters; they gamble by wire and don't need race horses; and the government is run entirely by jackasses, so there you are."

A Battle Creek (Mich.) man had a setter dog upon which his heart was set. The dog set on the electric line and the motorman failed to set the brake soon enough, with the result that the car settled the setter. The company refused to settle for the loss of the setter, whereupon the owner set the law on it and recovered $100 and costs, which the company settled for the dear little setter. The man is a better setter again.

One of the new fads is man's sock for women. There is a rumor prevalent that some wives wear the frouzers, but no one imagined that the socks were also to be appropriated. If the women continue the invasion of the wardrobe of the men there will be mighty few articles of wearing apparel that man can call his own. His hat, shirt, vest, coat, collar, tie and socks are gone. He has remaining his chewing tobacco and suspenders—not much of a lay out for a cold day.

A Missouri country editor tells the following sad tale: A small cur dog overran with fleas sat down to think once 'neath the trees. He watched a farmer plowing corn and in his mind a thought was born. "If scratching earth makes corn," says he, "the fleas must thrive if scratched by me. So now I guess I'll scratch no more, and 'praps my troubles will be o'er." A week went by, he kept his word, but ah, too late he found he'd erred, for two fleas came where one he'd had, and soon he died—the dog went mad.

In concluding an account of a quiet wedding a Kansas editor said: "J. J. Anderson, father of the bride, who never before had shed a tear, found several of them rolling down his sun-burned cheeks as he came forward to kiss the bride, remarking that she was his 'last baby.' Immediately several of the ladies began to shed tears, everybody was somewhat excited, and in the slight confusion the writer hereof found himself embracing a lady who stood conveniently near and who proved ed not to be his wife. He immediately apologized to the lady and was forgiven. He apologized again later to his wife with no very definite returns up to this date."

A Platte county (Mo.) young man, who has been an editor just three months, wrote the advertising manager of a railroad for a free ticket. Being "poetically inclined" he penned his letter thus: Dear Sir: No contract have I made with you to advertise your line. But still I've kept its name in print as though the road were mine. Most every wreck the system's had I've played up good and strong and every time you've killed a man my story has been long. I haven't asked for pay for this, it all was free, you know. But now in payment kindly send a ticket to St. Joe." The young editor says he doesn't exactly understand the answer he received. Here it is: "Your note at hand. We're bound to say you've watched our interests well. Just wait—we'll send your ticket when that ice-cream forms in hell."

Rundell Will Move.
J. R. Rundell has posted a banner on the new Midland building that he will occupy the same December 10th. It has been known for some time that the building was built expressly for Mr. Rundell and that a long lease was taken upon the premises by the hustling grocer whose goods are always for sale and who never loses an opportunity to tell the people through the papers what he has to sell. The new building will be one of the finest grocery display rooms in the state and the large stock heretofore more or less cramped will be displayed to advantage. And in the future of Wayne we are assured, among the successful business persons will be counted Rundell the grocer who never had anything to good for his customers and who never failed to tell them of it.

"Last year an infant child of mine had the croup in a violent form," says Elder John W. Rogers, a Christian Evangelist of Filley, Mo. "I gave her a few doses of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and in a short time all danger was past and the child recovered." "This remedy not only cures croup, but when given as soon as the first symptoms appear, will prevent the attack. It contains no opium or other harmful substance and may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. For sale by Raymond's Pharmacy.

Ed Wright just returned today with his horse, harness, buggy and robe that were stolen last week. Sheriff Mears says they took the trail by the horse shoes tracks towards Laurel and again caught the trail near St. James and Mr. Wright finally found his property in a livery barn at Yankton.

It is evident that the party taking the property intended to get away with it and only sharp detective work on Sheriff Mears' part led to so early recovery of the same. The identity of the thief is not clear but suspicion rests on one party pretty strong.

RAILROAD WRECKED CLOTHING!

During the past week we witnessed a sale of so called "railroad wrecked" clothing. The American people like novelties, they want new things and are always ready to patronize anything that has a mystery about it. Very few people are ever satisfied with the purchase they make of anyone selling merchandise out of the regular way, but the spirit of adventure prompts them to try it again when another opportunity presents itself. We are not finding fault with the treatment we receive from the people of Wayne county, nor do we wish to criticize anyone for buying clothing where they please, but we desire to remind everyone that we are in the clothing business. Our trade is much better than we had reason to expect. We are satisfying a large number of the people and while we have nothing about our store that has been "wrecked" or is "mysterious," we have real bargains. You get satisfaction if you trade here, and save money on every purchase you make. Our clothing is the best made. Our method of doing business is the latest, and the only fair method between man and man. We treat all alike and have one price to all. We warrant everything we sell. Your money is refunded if you are not satisfied with your purchase. Our stock is now complete. Why not look at it before you buy elsewhere?

A Magazine Thirty Years Old.

The Christmas (December) number of THE DELINEATOR is also the Thirtieth Anniversary Number.

To do justice to this number, which for beauty and utility touches the highest mark it would be necessary to print the entire list of contents. It is sufficient to state that in it the best modern writers and artists are generally represented. The book contains over 230 pages, with 34 full-page illustrations, of which 20 are in two or more colors. The magnitude of this December number, for which 728 tons of paper and six tons of ink have been used, may be understood from the fact that 31 presses running 14 hours a day, have been required to print it; the binding alone of the edition of 915,000 copies representing over 30,000,000 sections which had to be gathered individually by human hands.

"Incurable" Heart Disease Soon Cured.

By the Great Chicago Specialist in treating weak and diseased hearts, Franklin Miles, M. D., LL. B.

Will send $2.50 worth of his personal treatment free as a trial.

To demonstrate the unusual curative powers of his new and complete special treatments by mail for heart disease, short breath, pain in the side, oppression in the chest, irregular pulse, palpitation, smothering spells, puffing of the ankles or dropsy, Dr. Miles will send $2.50 worth free as a trial, to all who mention this paper.

His treatments are the result of twenty-five years of careful study, extensive research, and remarkable experience in treating the various ailments of the heart, stomach, and nerves which so often complicate each case. So astonishing are the results of his complete special treatments that he does not hesitate to offer all persons a trial free.

Nothing could be more liberal. Few physicians have such confidence in their remedies. There is no reason why all afflicted persons should not avail themselves of this exceedingly liberal offer, as they may never have another such opportunity. No death comes as suddenly as that from heart disease.

Mrs. A. Kronck, of Huntington, Ind., was cured after thirty physicians failed; Mrs. Florea Graeter, of Bristolville, O., after twenty-two; Jas. R. Waite, the noted actor, after a score had pronounced him incurable; Mrs. Frank Smith, of Chicago, after five leading physicians had given her up; Mrs. Julius Kelsner, had given up; Mrs. H. Parker, after sixteen failed.

Why Pay Doctors' Bills?

Inexpensive and never failing in its wonderfully quick and sure results will infallibly cure. Cascarine is the remedy endorsed by thousands of those who have been sufferers from constipation, indigestion, racking headaches and lame backs, catarrh of the stomach, flatulency, nervous dyspepsia, dropsy of the abdomen and all diseases of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. If you are afflicted with any of these ailments, take Cascarine. It will cure you. You will see the effects of one bottle. No matter how obstinate or long standing your trouble has been, Cascarine will quickly cure you. It gets at the root of the trouble and quickly puts the liver, kidneys, stomach and bowels into a healthy state, and unless this is done your ailments will never leave you, but will rather increase than diminish. We have yet to know of one case, no matter how strong a hold it had, taken upon the sufferer, which Cascarine failed to cure. It is recommended and used by some of the most eminent and successful specialists of today.

Get rid of that fetid breath; get rid of that splitting headache; that depression of the spirits; that inability to sleep at night; that belching of wind after eating; that pain in your back and dizziness in your head. They will all vanish and you will quickly become well if you use Cascarine. Buy a bottle of your druggist; price 50 cents. You will quickly see and appreciate its wonderful effects and begin to think life worth living.

Allow me to say a few words in praise of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I had a very severe cough and cold and feared I would get pneumonia, but after taking the second dose of this medicine I felt better, three bottles of it cured and the pain in my chest disappeared entirely. Theodore Roosevelt on "The Presidency."

Before his nomination for the Vice-Presidency Theodore Roosevelt wrote expressly for THE YOUTH'S COMPANION an article on "The Presidency." It will be published in the number for November 6th, this being one of the remaining weekly issues of 1902 sent free from the time subscription to every new subscriber who at once sends $1.75 for THE COMPANION'S 1903 volume. When this article on "The Presidency" no one could have foreseen or dreamed that its author would so soon be called upon to take up the duties of the great office. For this reason alone what Mr. Roosevelt has to say possesses extraordinary interest, and will be eagerly awaited by persons of all shades of political opinion. A twenty-eight page prospectus of the 1903 volume of THE YOUTH'S COMPANION and sample copies sent free to any address.

University News Letter.

Dr. E. E. Blackmar of the Historical Department has just received an unusually large spear head from Dr. Palmer, of Blair, Neb. It was found Washington county by Dr. Palmer several years ago and measures sixteen inches in length and four and one-half inches across.

Mr. A. E. Sheldon, Chairman of the Program Committee for the State Historical Society, which holds its annual meeting next January, is busily engaged in arranging the program for the session. Last year the general topic was "Early Railroads in Nebraska." The subject chosen for this session is "Old Steamboat or Traffic on the Missouri."

Some of the advanced students in botany found some cards recently which were printed eight years ago on the occasion of the celebration of the Quarter Centennial of the University. These set forth the facilities in the department at that time, and the contrast is striking. Then there were about forty-four compound microscopes, now there are eighty; then the herbarium contained forty thousand plants, now about one hundred thousand; then there were thirty-seven periodicals taken in the department, now the number is doubled; then there were ten lines of botanical study, now there are forty open to students, then there were six students doing botanical work, now there are three times that number.

On November 10th the first term of this year's school of Agriculture will open at the University. The attendance promises to be better than at any previous year, for the farmers are beginning to realize the advantages offered and are practically free for the education of their sons in subjects pertaining to farming. The school is open to any young men or women who have completed the work offered in the common schools. Such subjects as the breeding and judging of live stock, general horticulture of field crops and farm management, injurious insects, practical work in butter and cheese making are given the first year. There are also courses in English and mathematics and each student is required to do some shop work. Later in the course veterinary practice is given and special attention to the care of live stock. All the work is very practical in its nature the aim being to make the young farmer most useful on the farm.

The expenses are not heavy. There is an entrance fee of $5.00 and an incidental fee of $4.00 and a small fee in laboratory and shop. Board and room can be had for $2.75 per week. The total expense of a careful boy attending the twenty-four weeks of the school of Agriculture will not be more than $75 or $80.

A bulletin giving detailed information will gladly be sent you by the University Registrar.
