EDUCATIONAL

Devoted to the Interests of the Teachers of Wayne County.

To County Superintendents:
Examinations for professional life certificates will be held on June 9 and 10, simultaneously, at the office of the state superintendent, Lincoln, at Omaha, Fremont, Hastings, Norfolk, and possibly at one or two other points. More definite information will be given as to location and program in a short time.

You will confer a favor if you will acquaint this department with the names of persons contemplating taking the examination, so that we may be enabled to accommodate the greatest number with the least inconvenience.

W. R. JACKSON,
State Superintendent.

- NINE PRINCIPLES OF PESTALOZZI.
- Activity is the law of childhood; accustom the child to do; educate the hand.
 - Cultivate the faculties in their natural order; first form the mind then furnish it.
 - Begin with the senses, and never tell a child what he can discover for himself.
 - Reduce the subject to its elements; one difficulty at a time is enough for a child.
 - Proceed step by step, be thorough.
 - Let every lesson have a clearly defined point.
 - Develop the idea, then give the term.
 - Proceed from the known to the unknown.
 - Synthesis, then analysis; not the order of the subject, but the order of nature.

WAYS TO REVIEW NUMBERS.

All teachers, in at least the first two grades, recognize the necessity of drill to fix the facts in number. Our aim should be to present this review in a new and attractive way, remembering that in proportion as we increase interest we diminish repetition.

Let us suppose our class has taken all the addition and subtraction in nine. Distribute to each pupil pegs, not more than nine and as many less as you choose. Then ask, "How many more pegs will you need to make nine?" Fred's answer might be, "I have five pegs so I need four more pegs to make nine pegs." In the distribution of the children receive different numbers of pegs so that all the combinations of nine will be taken up.

Another and good review is to supply each child with the same number of objects, calling them cylinders, birds, icicles or any other name that the children are familiar with. Have the class close their eyes. Tell them to "Play go to sleep." Then take different numbers of objects from each group. Having done this say, "All wake up and tell me what has happened during your little nap." Nellie's answer is, "There were nine icicles on my window when I went to sleep, and now I have but two icicles. The sun has melted seven of my icicles."

Place upon the board for seat-work problems upon the number being studied, using as many as possible of the words found in the reading lesson and let the children act out the problems in this way. Take, for instance, this example. Mr. Brown had nine trees; he cut down one-third of them. How many trees has Mr. Brown? Call to the floor ten children. Nine of these are to represent trees while the tenth is Mr. Brown. The forester now proceeds to cut his trees, which stoop as he touches them. Many problems can be acted out in this way and that inattentive boy and dull girl will be interested and impressed.

New Line of Wilson Bros. NECKWEAR

In teaching a new fact in a number let the last combination studied be the foundation. Thus, if six and three are nine, was the last fact, let the pupils arrange the objects to represent these groups; then remove one object from the "Six Family" to the "Three Family". Now who can tell the names of these new families who live on "Nine Street," or, who has found out a new fact about nine?

There is always the old, but good plan of having the children give original problems, thus giving a lesson in language as well as number; and by a little guiding the children will use in these number problems knowledge gained in science or form study.

A PRACTICAL SPELLING LESSON.

Lay aside for a day the spelling book, and try an exercise like the following:—

Let the pupils take their slates and write their own names in full.

Write the teacher's surname.

Write the name of the county in which they live, the state, their post-office address.

Tell where a Scotchman came from. Tell how old a boy is who was born in 1879.

Write the names of four winter amusements; of four summer amusements.

Write how many days in this month. Write what we plant to get potatoes. Write a definition of a druggist. Write the names of six pieces of furniture.

Write the names of six kinds of tools. Write the names of the seven days. Write the names of the year, month and day of the month.

Write a verse of poetry and a verse of Scripture from memory.

The Teacher's Institute for Wayne county will open April 5.

It is with a feeling of deep sorrow that the teachers of Wayne county learn of the death of their friend and fellow teacher, Miss Maud Buskirk, and the sympathies of each individual worker are given to the bereaved parents and family.

A LAW AFFECTING NORMAL SCHOOLS.

One of the laws passed by the last legislature, at least is of importance to teachers, as it gives power to a few private normal schools in the state to grant state certificates to those completing certain courses of study. The provisions of the bill are as follows: "When any college, university, or normal school shall have a course of study equal in extent and similar in subjects to the elementary course of the state normal and shall have instructors competent to handle the courses of study, any graduate from such a course shall be entitled to a state teachers' certificate of the same tenor and effect as the certificate to teach issued to the graduates from the elementary course of the state normal school. If the college has a course of study equal to the higher course in the state normal, graduates from such a course shall be entitled to a state certificate of the same effect as those issued to the graduates of the normal school.

The state superintendent shall determine what schools shall come under the provisions of this act and none shall be so considered unless it be incorporated under the laws of Nebraska, having at least $100,000 invested, with no fewer than five teachers. The state superintendent shall satisfy himself by personal inspection. This act shall not apply to graduates of such schools who graduate before the approval of this act."

POOR SEED-CORN.

The Democrat is in receipt of a letter from W. S. McLaughlin, secretary of the P. V. Elevator Co., worded as follows: "Having heard numerous reports as to the poor quality of the '96 corn crop, we made an experiment with the view of determining just what per cent of that crop would grow. The results shows that twenty-five per cent of the kernels planted have grown.

We give you this information knowing that you are interested in whatever interests the farmers. It would seem to us, however, that if our experiment is the same as others that it would be poor policy for the farmer to use the '96 crop for seed."

Mere Mention.

Abstracting—Guy R. Wilbur. The Democrat for job printing.

Mrs. F. F. Wheeler was in Sioux City Tuesday.

Frank Francis was down from Garfield on Saturday.

Neat, natty, and up-to-date—spring suits—L. F. Holtz.

Ed. Mitchell and D. C. Main were in Sioux City Tuesday.

H. B. Miller was down from the farm last Saturday.

One of the Sleepless Teamsters best horses has the measles.

C. W. Long, Wakefield's hustling druggist, was in our city Saturday.

The Racket pays the highest market price for eggs in trade, seven cents.

FOR SALE.—Two stirring plows and a cultivator for cash.—PETER COYLE

Two good single drivers for sale, good top animals.—J. C. PAWELSKY.

Guy R. Wilbur has a complete set of abstract books, and can furnish you abstracts of title on short notice.

Arthur Miller was down from Randolph last Saturday. He has another month's school yet at Randolph.

Tailor Holtz has just about the smoothest things in spring suit patterns that has ever been shown in Wayne.

Prof. O. L. Taylor, who has held the position as principal of schools at Big Timber, Mont., closed his work last week and arrived home Saturday.

Miss Leta Corbit went to Chicago last Saturday afternoon, having received a telegram to go there at once to fill a position in a millinery establishment.

John Peyson, the noted South Sioux City character, was acquitted of complicity in the Sioux City burglaries, but will be taken to Storm Lake, Ia., on a similar charge.

Not only acute lung troubles, which may prove fatal in a few days, but old chronic coughs and throat troubles may receive immediate relief and be permanently cured by One Minute Cough Cure.—L. P. ORTH.

See our New Spring Suits for Men, starting at $3.50. For $10.00 you can get among the very best. Harrington & Robbins.

A letter from O. B. Kortright, now living at Hurleyville, N. Y., says he is living in a fine residence at four dollars per month rent and has all the carpenter work he can do, at good wages, until next fall.

E. E. Turner of Compton, Mo., writes us that after suffering from piles for seventeen years, he completely cured them by using three boxes of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. It cures eczema and severe skin diseases.—L. P. ORTH.

An unusually timid school ma'am near Winside, who had an inordinate dread of contagious diseases, sent a child home because her mother was sick. The next day the child presented herself at school with her finger in her mouth and her hood swinging by the string, and said: "We've got a little baby at our house, but ma said to tell you it wasn't catchin'." The teacher blushed slightly, said she was glad and told the little girl to take her seat.

The sociable given by the young men of the Catholic church on Monday evening at K. P. hall was one of the most enjoyable affairs that has occurred for a long time. Cards, luncheon and a very pleasant dance completed the program. The music by Richard's string band was excellent, and the young people danced most merrily until two o'clock next morning. Our Catholic friends know how to get up a first class party and all who attended attest the excellence of this social function.

Wisner Chronicle: Miss Maud Buskirk, the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Buskirk living north of town in Wayne county, died last Wednesday afternoon of congestion of the lungs, following an attack of measles. Miss Buskirk was one of the successful teachers of Wayne county and a young lady who was highly esteemed by all who knew her. Her death brings a double load of affliction to the mother who was absent from home, having been called to Wisconsin last week to attend the funeral of her father. She was unable to reach home until last evening after the funeral which made the circumstances peculiarly sad for her.

Mrs. L. E. A. Smith has put in a china kiln at her residence.

Miss Dalton of Omaha is a guest of her sister, Mrs. Fletcher, this week.

H. M. Carpenter, cashier of the Monticello, Iowa, State Bank, was in the city Monday.

Wakefield Republican: The editors of Northeast Nebraska who have survived the winter will assemble in semi-annual session at Wakefield in May.

"Airship Delight" is the suggestive name of a new brand of Omaha whisky, a too generous use of which always brings the "airship" up.

The Bachelor Girls meet with Mrs. Fletcher this evening. All members are requested to be present as there is important business to be transacted.

A weed in the garden can be easily destroyed when it first starts. Consumption can be nipped in the bud by One Minute Cough Cure.—L. P. ORTH.

E. B. Young was at Norfolk, Dixon and Concord last week, organizing a Sunday school at the latter place. Bush Union district school was also reorganized Sunday afternoon.

The air ship passed over Norfolk one night last week; stopped in mid air over the standpipe, sent a pail down for water, and then passed on in the gloom. This air ship business is getting decidedly interesting.

When a cold is contracted, cure it at once. One Minute Cough Cure will set you on the road to recovery in one minute. It will cure pneumonia, bronchitis, croup and all forms of lung and throat troubles.—L. P. ORTH.

Personal—The gentleman who annoyed the congregation last Sunday by continually coughing will find instant relief by taking One Minute Cough Cure, a speedy and harmless remedy for throat and lung troubles.—L. P. ORTH.

The year book of the legislature of '97 contains excellent photographs and biographical sketches of Representative Jones and C. A. Berry. One of the most intelligent looking old gentlemen in the work is Senator C. T. Muffly, who has been shamefully abused by the republican press.

Stanton Register: Last week's Wayne Democrat, for the third time recently, contained an article clipped from the Pickett and credited to the Register. We have never met Goldie and do not know whether he ranks as a fool, knave, both or neither. Perhaps it does not matter, but his course is not a fair or manly one either to the Pickett or Register.

Uncle Woodall was down from Norfolk the first of the week attending a case in the district court. The old man has dropped off in weight from 305 to about 220 pounds, but his stories are strictly up to date. Mr. Woodall was complaining of the raids old age was making upon his physical abilities, when Grandpa Peter Mears, who was an attentive listener, straightened up his ninety-year-old spinal cord, and said: "Shucks! You are a darned long ways ahead of me!"

Randolph Record: J. H. Fried and brother, who have been working for J. F. Benjamin, living eight miles south of Randolph, while in Pierce a week ago last Monday, had a quantity of clothing, a gold ring and numerous other articles stolen, which were kept in a trunk at the farm house. Upon their return from town the boys discovered their loss and also noted the absence of one of the farm hands, one John Pounds, who is accused of the theft. The Pierce marshal was notified and he wired Marshal Bowles to be on the lookout for said Pounds. Wednesday a suspect was arrested at the Randolph House, who was locked up, but he proved to be the wrong man. Pounds' home is in Pender, and he will probably be found near there.

The Freeman of Vermillion, S. D., sees more "change" than any other country journal on the globe. It is now fourteen years old and has had just twenty-two different managing editors in that time. The publisher of The Democrat carved a niche in its history twelve months long, which now as we look back upon it seems to stretch back into the dim and dust-be-grimed past, twelve thousand dismal years B. C. The Freeman enjoys the distinction of fascinating embryo newspaper geniuses as a talow dip does a flock of moths. Five times in thirteen months has there appeared at the head of its editorial department, strong, glowing, soulful assurances that "the new editor at the helm is here to stay until the type lice become gray-backed and the city a second Chicago." The Freeman is all right and The Democrat extends congratulations to editor 22, and hopes he will be successful in giving the long list of moss-grown Freeman creditors the "frozen face."

Our New Hats and Shoes are nicer than ever. HARRINGTON & ROBBINS.

BARTLEY BOUND OVER.

Nebraska Ex-Treasurer to Be Tried in May for Embezzlement.

Lincoln, Neb., April 19.—The trial of ex-State Treasurer Joseph Bartley began today in county court on a warrant charging him with embezzlement of $500,000. Mr. Bartley waived hearing, and was bound over to the May term of the district court in the sum of $50,000, which was furnished. Before court opened attorneys for the ex-treasurer visited Attorney General Smyth and asked that a motion for a continuance be not contested. The attorney general declined to grant the request, and was sustained by the county attorney in his refusal. It is now thought the trial, which promises to become celebrated, cannot be delayed longer than May 3.

THE NEW ENGLAND FARMERS.

The goldbugs of the west point with great satisfaction to their yellow-breasted brethren of the rural districts in the east, as being great, big headed, intelligent characters, but the following from the Middletown, N. Y. Forum, contradicts all statements made by the goldbug preachers of Nebraska:

"Why do the farmers hate the wheelmen so? Farmers are very important and very honest and very good citizens of this great and glorious country, but they have more conceit, malice and pig-headedness to the square inch in their make-up than is good for the good opinion that we hold of them. A farmer hates anything new, hates everything, in fact, but whisks and hay. Hates road improvements and hates every vehicle save his own mud-covered lumbering junk. The wheelmen have been harassed by the countrymen more than by the small boys of the city. A farmer is frequently a small child, in his temperament. Childish in his whims, as well as in his information. "Only an awkward child," says the hoosier poet. Nobility springs from the ranks of the farmer—nobility occasionally—the yawp and galoot generally."

MARRIED.

At the residence of A. G. Howard, in Wayne, on Monday evening, April 19, 1897, Mr. Dorr H. Carroll, late of the Winside Tribune, to Miss Gertrude B. Hefner, of Holstein, Iowa. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Theobald in the presence of relatives, and a sumptuous wedding supper followed. Miss Hefner was for some time a resident of Winside, and, therefore there is little consolation for the newspaper boys, as all the advertising they gave Dorr had no part in the match-making. The bride is a most estimable, pleasant lady, who will do much to smooth out the creases and crosses that fall to the lot of an editor. May their union be fruitful in happiness, good health, long life, riches and sweet carolling cherubim.

Will Jastram, the tonsorial artist, went down to Omaha last Sunday where he was united in marriage to Miss Mary Smith, of that city, on Monday, arriving home on the evening train. As chronicled last week, Mr. and Mrs. Jastram go at once to house-keeping in the residence lately occupied by Will Larison. The Democrat joins with Mr. Jastram's many friends in wishing him and his fair bride many happy years of wedded life.

Big bargains in banks.—F. Kruger. Miss Wilkinson was a Norfolk visitor Tuesday.

Mrs. Rayburn went to Wakefield Sunday for a few days visit.

J. W. Rash, of Humphry, has been in the city this week. He called and subscribed for the Democrat.

Charley Stallsmith, who has been steward at the Love all winter, went Omaha last Sunday where he has secured a good position in the round house.

Rev. Robert L. Wheeler, of Omaha, a brother of Editor Wheeler of the Wakefield Republican, will deliver the Memorial Address at Wayne on Monday, May 31st.

Under the head of "lazy little locals" the Wisner Chronicle says: "A hearty little son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Rob. Heiland." That's enough to make its mammy mad.

Bernhard Von Seggern, a farmer near Wisner, was swindled by the Home Comfort Range Co., that was doing business hereabouts last fall. He gave a note for $69, an old stove worth $15 and $10 worth of board to the agent, for a range that can be bought of home dealers for $43.

Rev. Wight preached to a crowded audience last Sunday evening. The pulpit was gorgeously ornamented with Easter flowers, and the Easter sermon a magnificent dissertation.

Laurel Advocate: Miss Lizzie Gallagher left for Wayne last Monday to attend the Normal college. Cedar county is well represented in the various schools of the state especially Wayne.

Thirty years is a long time to fight so painful a trouble as piles, but Jacob Mitchell of Unionville, Pa., struggled that long before he tried DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, which quickly and permanently cured him. It is equally effective in eczema and all skin affections.—L. P. ORTH.

The Y. M. C. A. meeting for next Sunday will be conducted by Rev. McKim, who will take for his subject the timely theme of "Good Fellowship." Rev. McKim is a very pleasant and interesting instructor and everybody will be well repaid for going out to hear him.

This new-fangled prosperity is raising sheol with property owners. The Chicago Chronicle, goldbug, has a column and a half about rents in that city which have been reduced fifty per cent over rents of last year. Of course the idiotic goldbugs will explain this by saying they have been too high.

Mrs. Bancroft, wife of the great historian, once upon a time purchased a wrapper which was hastily donned and worn to a Bohemian literary meet. Conscious of attracting much attention the lady was horrified to find a tag pinned to the back, which read "very chaste." The only difference between Mrs. Bancroft and some of our Wayne girls is that the latter are sometimes caught.

Some of the boarders at the Love Hotel played a nice trick on Editor Mills of the Laurel Advocate last Sunday afternoon. Mills bought a nice lot of pastry and confectionery to take up to the dear ones at the dormitory and left the bags of sweetness at the hotel for a short time. The whole mass was devoured by the Loveites and the papers neatly filled with cut potatoes and onions. The last seen of Mr. Mills was when he was carrying the dainties up the hill. None of the hotel boys have been looking for the gentleman since.

IS FREE TRADE A FAILURE?

Protection and prosperity are synonymous terms, just as free trade and failure seems to accord with each other.—American Economist.

Some protectionists affect to believe that free trade among all the states of the union is a just and grand thing, but that free trade between this country and foreigners would be ruinous.

St. Louis is growing better. The mayor has instructed the police to round up recalcitrant councilmen.

Col. Frank E. Moore was elected mayor of Omaha in spite of the World Herald's serious charges preferred against him.

There is a big influx of Japanese to Mexico, where they get farms at 10 cents per acre. The Japs can stand any kind of acres.

The republican city ticket at Omaha cleaned up the opposition by some two hundred votes. It was a hard fight, and grave charges of fraud and corruption were made by each party.

The commissioner of Irrigation in South Dakota, says the Sioux City Journal, asks the people of that state to hold on to their water, which has covered the state this spring, to guard against any possibility of a drought during the summer.

Local republican papers are rejoicing in the fact that the price of woolen goods under the Dingley bill will be doubled. They are the same fellows who scream with delight over present prosperity while they continue to stand off creditors, and loaf around, waiting for something to turn up.

There has been an off year for the wool-growers. Wm. Holman, treasurer of the treasury, says that the wool-growers are not doing so well.

RECENT ELECTIONS.

The late elections show very heavy Republican losses and corresponding Democratic or fusionist gains. The fact must be recognized that local and personal considerations always have an important bearing in State and municipal elections.

It is obvious that during the presidential campaign the Republican managers promised too much in the way of an immediate submergence of prosperity, which up to date has obstinately declined to "abst." This has caused a strong reaction in the public mind.

In the late elections that almost irresistible pressure was withdrawn, and the voters cast their ballots according to their own judgment.

Incidentally it may be remarked that Mr. Hanna's campaign fund was not so much in evidence as on the former occasion.

But whatever causes may have combined to bring about these results, one thing is clear: They have greatly strengthened the position of the silver men and filled them with hope for the future.—National Biometalist.

The Greeks and Turks are fighting furiously with honors about even.

To settle a local dispute The Democrat notes that the Sioux City Journal says the Turks despoiled the Christians at Constantinople 150 years ago.

The House knocked out the bill for establishing Indian warehouses at Omaha, St. Louis, Denver and Sioux City.

The M. E. Sunday school gave a very fine Easter concert last Sunday evening to a crowded house.

The Wakefield Republican states that L. Matson of that place has traded for the milligan residence in Wayne.

Wakefield Republican: Geo. Smith left Monday to assume the responsible position of bookkeeper in the Wayne creamery for which he is well qualified.

Sullivan County Items from the Middletown New York, Forum.

Nobody has died here last week. Armina Jones had the minister for supper a Thursday night.

Many of our farmers' cows will have calves this spring, least ways they expect to.

Benjamin Toogood will set a hen next Sunday. He wants to hatch.

Jerry Slick is round again. He was laid up. He had ammonia and information of the bowels.

Buster Green broke his belly band, on his horse. He can't go down hill no more till it's fixed.

Welcome Avery is still in a comany dose condition all winter. He says he don't expect to live again or work no more.

Increase Jones is proud. This makes three calves he has had this spring, and shows old Sullivan is coming to the front.

Farmers are drawin' out manure with high top boots to keep their socks dry.

There is a donation down to Deacon Smith's for the minister Friday night. Let's help the poor man.

A WEEK'S COURTING.

The case of Sheriff Reynolds vs. Wayne County occupied the court's attention the most of yesterday afternoon. It was an appeal taken by plaintiff on fees cut down by the county commissioners and the court decided that plaintiff was entitled to no compensation for guarding the jail but allowed him mileage and expenses entailed while taking Rash to the penitentiary. Mueller was sentenced to 18 months in the penitentiary.

Court will probably adjourn today. The last jury case is on now, being the Citizens Bank of Norfolk against Kruger.

Judge Robinson has won the admiration of everybody in this term of court even to those defeated in court. The Judge is one of the fairest and most impartial jurists who ever sat on the bench in this district.

John Mundy and E. E. Benson were down from Winsid yesterday.

Rev. Hewitson preached to a large crowd at K. P. Hill last evening. It was a magnificent sermon.

Is it hot enough?

The grass grew almost a foot last night.

Mrs. Frank Fuller entertains the whist club this evening.

Dr. Swan, brother of our townsman, was a city visitor Saturday.

Mrs. W. H. McNeal and children are visiting relatives in Sioux City.

Mrs. John Morin and Anna Lound were down from Winsid yesterday.

R. Woodall bought a thorough-bred colt of Jas. Britton this week and drove across to Lynch.

A. J. Hyatt, who lives southeast of town, had a leg broken last Saturday by a kick from a cow.

Commissioners Harrigfeld and Jacobs have been in the city most of the week attending court.

Mrs. E. M. Smith will entertain her lady friends tomorrow afternoon in honor of Mrs. Baker and daughter Grace.

Gil Harrison purchased a fine horse of Jas. Britton this week, a full brother to Happy Medium. The price paid was $125.

The Catholic Church services were largely attended yesterday in this city. The following Reverend gentlemen conducting devotional exercises: Father Barry of Emerson, M. O'Toole of New Castle, Galvin of Omaha, Waldron of Norfolk, Delbove of Ridgway and Loecker of Hartington.

The republican goes off again this week in a wholly unaccountable manner in regard to the Wan. Miller shortage. The facts in the matter, as they were published in The Democrat several weeks ago, are exactly as they appear in the proceedings of last week. As a news gatherer the editor of the Republican is a brilliant success?

All Jones and John White of Plum Creek are endeavoring to collect damages of the county for a roadway that has recently been laid out through their farms. The commission is paid for a right of way. To all except these two gentlemen, whom they evidently had no use for politically. It is the same old story of rank partiality and damnable meanness that the board continually sows to any one guilty of Cunningham's clique.

Mrs. R. Philico gave a delightful afternoon tea to about sixteen guests in honor of Mrs. Baker, on Tuesday. After a time spent in social converse the guests were invited to the dining room where the table presented an exquisite picture. The single flowers of pink geranium were scattered all over the damask and from the four corners of a pink embroidered centre piece were long sprays of the graceful fern tied with pink satin ribbon. Mesdames E. L. Miller, J. W. Jones, Tucker, Howard, Swan, Crawford, Wight, W. E. Howard, Dressler, Northrop, Smith, Corbit, E. Philico, Williams, Mitchell, Welch, Tower were the invited guests who sat down to elegant tea served in four courses. Mrs. Epler and Miss Baker waiting on the company.
