

Teachers Institute To Be Friday

Wayne Will Be Host To County Educators

It's battles to the right and battles to the left, battles in front and battles in the rear, any direction you turn today you run into one variety or the other. In Europe they are having the kind that leave in their wake death, destruction, misery, starvation, ruin and suffering. Here in America, we are having our battles, too, but they're political battles, World Series baseball games and gridiron frays. We'll take our battles the American way.

One of our exchange newspapers, however, has uncovered the most pessimistic war view you are likely to encounter. The Shawnee Evening Star, an Oklahoma daily, quotes one of Shawnee's attorneys as warning its readers that we'll be in war with Japan, Russia, Italy and Germany within 18 months and that even the near-sighted and infirm will be in uniform and lucky to get a month's training before they see action. While we haven't reached any such pessimistic conclusion, our hopes for peace seem to be growing more dim daily; the German-Italian-Japanese pact doesn't increase our chances of reaching a ripe old age and settling down by our fire-side with no more difficult task than clipping social security coupons to buy our bacon and beans. One fortunate thing, however, is that we live in a section of Nebraska which can be blasted successfully only from the air since troops, transported on some of our highways, would be too ill to fight by the time they reached Wayne.

Shifting to a more pleasant subject, the Chamber of Commerce committees in charge of the big Fall Opening and Window Unveiling event scheduled for tomorrow night have been working diligently to prepare a program which will please everyone. A total of 81 merchants are co-operating by arranging special displays of everything in every line that's new for fall. They'll be a band concert, the window unveiling and a free dance. You're invited to plan to come early and stay late. It's all as free as a political speech and should be far more entertaining than most such addresses.

If heavyweight champions did half as much shadow boxing as some politicians we know, they would keep in the pink of condition. And, speaking of politics, both parties in Wayne county have been getting their big guns into position for the ballot battle. The democrats have been frying ambitious Wendell to a crisp brown in a series of political advertisements in the Wayne Advertiser during recent weeks and the republicans retaliated Monday night by importing Congressman Dewey Short of Missouri to hurl a few bombs at the New Deal.

As Mr. Carpenter will arrive here near the noon hour, arrangements will be made for a luncheon meeting at which he will deliver a campaign address.

Mr. Carpenter has been conducting an extensive campaign, visiting all sections of the state. He made a brief talk here to crowds attending the Wayne county fair at which time he pledged his support of any program to improve educational facilities of the state. In talks throughout the state since then, Mr. Carpenter has repeated and enlarged on these statements regarding Nebraska's education facilities. Weevils Attacking Stored Grain

Warnings Sounded For County Farmers

More and more complaints of weevils attacking stored grains are reaching the Nebraska College of Agriculture, according to word received by County Extension Agent Chet Walters.

O. S. Bare, extension entomologist at the college, says that while the greater part of the damage is in grain that has been in storage from last year or earlier, heavy damage may be done to grain put in the bin within the last couple of months. This is particularly likely if it was stored in bins that were not well cleaned, or where infested grain is stored in nearby bins.

Examine Grain
Wayne county farmers who have grain in storage are advised to examine it closely, and if treatment is necessary to fumigate with one of the heavier-than-air fumigants such as carbon bisulphide or a mixture of ethylene dichloride and carbon tetrachloride. Bare states, however, that these fumigants may not give

TRAINING SCHOOL NOTES

A number of the eleventh grade students went to Sioux City Thursday afternoon to see and hear Wendell Willkie.

Wayne Prep boys formed a Hi-Y organization Monday evening of last week. The organization is under the sponsorship of the college YMCA and under the leadership of Vernon Jacobs. The following boys were elected as officers: President, Kenneth Whorlow; vice president, Donald Ehtenkamp; secretary-treasurer, Erville Buck; program chairman, Bill Orr; social chairman, James Morrison; music chairman, Warren Noakes.

Donald Miller and Charles Victor enrolled in the ninth grade Tuesday.

The Chrysler automobile is still ahead in the spelling race among pupils of the third grade.

Second grade children are enjoying the stories in their reading books, "It Happened One Day". Mothers of the children came to school Tuesday afternoon to observe the regular work of the afternoon.

Children are experimenting with rhythm band instruments under the direction of Miss Betty Krause.

Miss Larson's group of first graders have finished their new Elson Pre-Primer and they are now ready to begin the next one. Miss Gardner has been teaching music appreciation and rhythms.

Miss Boeshart's group is studying in the "Real Life Readers". Excursions are enjoyed in the first grade as they aid in drawing. Many interesting lessons have developed from the observations.

The first graders have been playing with two marimbas as Miss McCorkindale has loaned one to them. They can play "May Has Come" and are now learning "Auld Lang Syne".

CITY SCHOOL NOTES

The first copy of the Wayne High Harbinger was published Friday. It is being written under the supervision of an English teacher and is printed as previously in the commercial department. Carl Bader, one of the editors, is moving from Wayne to Holdrege and will be replaced. The other editor is Betty Foster.

Assistant editors are Shirley Powers and Gail Dunning. Eugene Sahs is business manager. Other members of the staff are: Homer Bierman, Robert Haas, Margie Fitch, Betty Pile, Wilbur Ahlvers, John Berry, Paul Petersen, Rodney Love, Joe Kessler, Barbara Heine, Paul Harrington, Duke Derry, Art Lingren, Jack Wright, Ruth Damm, Elaine Rhoades, Josephine Penn, Edna Martens, Myla Thomas, Dorothy Casper and Nancy Mines. Miss Florence Steuteville and Herman Baehr are advisors.

The Science and Mathematics club held its first meeting of the year Wednesday night. New methods of admitting members were discussed. It was concluded that the only requirement for membership would be a real interest in science and mathematics. The student's interest and zeal would be proven by the completion of a suitable science or mathematics project. President Robert Benthack gave three demonstrations on atmospheric pressure, which kept the members guessing. The club members are looking forward to having an active year and hope to induct many new members into the club.

Members of the sophomore English class are completing a unit on short stories.

Traveling in Italy and Sicily is the topic of the Latin stories read and discussed by the second year Latin class. Latin readings were supplemented by the examination of National Geographic pictures of Rome and Italy.

Imgaard Otto of the eighth grade brought a bouquet of gladioli which the students used for a crayola study in art class. Donna Granquist brought a bouquet of zinnias. Gourds and peaches were brought by Cleone Heine to be used in still life studies in both junior high and senior high art class.

Kindergarten

The children are decorating their room with autumn leaves which they draw and cut out. They took a nature walk during which they gathered colored leaves and pine cones. Before the walk the youngsters talked about keeping off the grass and looking carefully before they crossed the street.

Cooler days have made the fireplace a center of conversation. The youngsters are interested in the different colors of flame that wood and pine cones make.

First Grade

Janet Johnson was five years old on Wednesday. She had a party in the first grade room; her mother and Aunt Crystal were guests. She served cakes and ice cream cups.

Mrs. Ed Sala visited on Thursday afternoon.

Many of the children have had loops sewed into the necks or their coats and sweaters. This helps to care for the wraps as each child has one little hook on which to hang his wraps.

Second Grade

The primary typewriter is a great help to the second graders. Punctuation is easy to learn through its use. A word typed several times is easily learned in spelling. Stories and poems are composed and typed, the children taking turns in using the typewriter.

A small toad was kept for a while and observed. Children found stories and poems about toads and read to the class. The group composed a story called "Jumpy the Toad".

Fourth Grade

Fourth graders are starting a unit on communication. This week they started making a postoffice. The Busy Bee club met Friday afternoon and invited the first and second graders. For entertainment Donabet, Bressler told the story, "The Three Silles". It was then acted out by the following people: George Martens, Phyllis Foster, Bernard Nicholaisen, Nancy Perry, Mary Holmes, Eleanor Mae Kay, Tommy Andersen, Betty Lou Hoguewood, Mary Alice Helleberg, Richard Jensen, Claire Mae Simmerman and Philip Bader. Betty Ann Grant directed the play. Phyllis Foster played a piano solo. Mary Holmes sang "In China Town", Mary Alice Helleberg sang "Bill Grogan's Goat". A play "Mother Rabbit at School", was acted by Betty McPherran, Ellouise Stult, Margie Reibold, Dorothy Blison, Marilyn Price and Marilyn Birdsell.

For a geography lesson last Wednesday, Betty Ann Grant told about her trip to the World's Fair and showed pictures and souvenirs.

Fifth Grade

The pupils are putting on a play, the name of it is "Columbus Finds a Way". The leads are taken by the following people: Columbus, Richard Reese; Monk, Kirt Otte; King of Spain, Bob Bathke; Queen of Spain, Carol McIntosh; Sailors, Junior Thompson and Marvin Johnson; Indians, Stanley Petersen and Leonard Jensen.

Students are also making health posters.

Sixth Grade

The sixth graders are working on a newspaper unit. An editor edits the daily newspaper on the blackboard. Early writing, paper-making and early means of carrying messages are being studied. Thursday the pupils made scrolls illustrating the picture writing of 3,000 years ago and that of today. They are working enthusiastically in order to make this unit a success.

Betty Ann Petersen brought a selection of gourds to make an attractive place on the piano. Don Hogan brought a peanut plant with a number of peanuts on it.

Announcing the big NEW FORD 1941

In some years, some cars take a big jump ahead. The Ford does that for 1941.

It has jumped ahead in size. It's the biggest Ford we've ever built, inside and out. It's wider. It has a longer wheelbase. Its seating room is wider by as much as 7 inches. It has new wide doors and semi-concealed running boards.

You'll notice also a new beauty, achieved by a skillful blending of mass with longer flowing lines. Larger windshield and windows give better vision all around.

One of its biggest advantages is the new soft ride.

New, slower-action springs give a slow, gentle, gliding movement. A newly designed stabilizer helps absorb road shocks, and maintains balance on sharp curves and in cross winds.

More rapid acceleration to match its familiar speed and power makes this new Ford an even livelier car to drive.

These are only a few of this new car's outstanding features. It represents all the rich experience gained in building more than 28 million motor cars.

Any Ford dealer can give you many good reasons for making this your 1941 car.

Parade Of Goblins

"The goblins will get you if you don't watch out!" Step right up, ladies and gentlemen, it's all free and it's all fun, this greatest parade of goblins ever staged before the American people. The big show, which was organized and is being sponsored by the republican party, opened even before the national convention at Philadelphia and is being enlarged with the introduction of new and more terrible goblins with each performance. If the goblins terrify you, pay with your vote as you leave the tent.

Thus far, these monsters, born and nursed to maturity in the wildest dreams of the most imaginative GOP propaganda manufacturers, have frightened only a pitifully few persons. The show has been a flop, but the cast is being increased steadily with larger and more horrible goblins until the stage is becoming so crowded, the whole affair threatens to end up in slapstick comedy, which will at least give the audience a hearty laugh.

Just take a glimpse at these goblins: First, there is dear old No Third Term Precedent, which they painted as a healthy boy at first but has turned out to be quite ill. It seems he almost died during previous regimes of GOP presidents, who were ambitious but not wanted longer in the White House.

Then, there is Dictatorship Fear, a real monster if only some facts could have been found to substantiate the danger of his approach. But the facts were lacking, and try as the GOP would they haven't been able to make him visible to the voters.

Danger of War is always a creature to be dreaded and so he joined the parade. Along with him went Unpreparedness but he wasn't a convincing actor either because the people happened to remember that President Roosevelt had been the one leader in the country who had warned this nation repeatedly that adequate defense was imperative.

There have been other goblins such as Heavy Spending but the show's sponsors have been unable or unwilling to reveal just how they could kill this monster so it, too, has given an unconvincing show. Hundreds of other more minor goblins have been given trial parades but many of these have been more comical than fear-provoking so they have been speedily executed in favor of retaining all major projects launched under the New Deal.

But a goblin must be found. The master minds of the GOP were becoming desperate and then someone had an idea. It was unbelievable but the situation obviously was becoming desperate and polls of the crowds revealed that the show's chief spokesman and hero, Wendell Willkie, was losing support at a rate which exceeded even the speed record achieved by former presidential aspirant, Alf Landon, four years ago.

Here's the new goblin born in desperation. When President Roosevelt is Re-elected, He Will Retire Soon, Be Assassinated, Kidnapped Or Disappear In Some Mysterious Fashion and Henry Wallace Will Be President Unless You Elect Wendell Willkie. If the GOP could just get this strangest of all goblins to scare the voters, then Mr. Willkie could race Mr. Wallace instead of Mr. Roosevelt and even though it's extremely doubtful that he could beat even the second man on the democratic ticket, well you cannot blame a fellow for trying anything when he's already beaten.

This parade of goblins is all very entertaining as long as the voters refuse to take it seriously. It probably will confuse a few but it's rapidly reaching the stage where even the most gullible must be getting suspicious. The GOP will find they cannot halt a landslide with fairy tales, goblins and ghosts. Voters demand support for their goblins and wild tales about a President, who has already served his nation and his people so well for seven years, just do not ring true. As someone remarked recently in this campaign it seems that Wendell Willkie is chiefly interested in President Roosevelt and President Roosevelt is obviously chiefly interested in the American people and the fate of the nation.

How?

Delivering what had been advertised in advance as a major address on his farm program at Omaha last week, Wendell Willkie endorsed the present farm program and promised the farmers he would improve it by new and additional aids to agriculture. Only explanation of just what these new measures would be was that he would materially increase the national income. Certainly that is a most laudable ambition but Mr. Willkie forgot to explain a rather important point and that is how he was going to increase the national income, which has been and is being materially increased under the capable leadership of President Roosevelt.

Aside from endorsing specific agricultural policies and aids, which were originated and have been operated successfully under the present leadership in this nation, Mr. Willkie apparently has no farm program or perhaps he left it for his running mate to explain later. He did mention that Senator McNary would speak on the farm program later but he forgot to tell the farmers of Nebraska that the republican bloc in congress, which is supporting him, has voted almost solidly against funds for parity payments to agriculture, which he now says will do until he can work out some other system.

Farmers of Nebraska know that they have received nothing except promises from the republican party and they are not going to repudiate the leadership which gave the farmers the program which even Mr. Willkie is obviously afraid to assail.

You're Invited

Wayne will present its big Fall Opening and Window Unveiling event tomorrow night. Principal objective of the program is to give residents of northeastern Nebraska a pre-view of the new fashions and styles in merchandise of all kinds. Everyone is invited to participate in the program which includes a band concert in the business district and a free dance at the City Auditorium.

Wayne football fans may look forward to plenty of good grid-iron entertainment this fall judging from the initial showing made by both the Wayne State Teachers college and Wayne City High elevens. While both teams showed the need of more practice to perfect their plays, the opening games were won and enough fair material paraded to make the outlook bright.

As a part of a tremendous advertising campaign for Willkie, costing millions, which is to start in two weeks over the air, in newspapers and on billboards, real estate dealers will be asked to put signs in vacant store buildings in the big cities: "This place empty because of the New Deal". The obvious answer to that would be signs in the windows of the millions of new moderate price homes built the past few years. "The New Deal made financing of this home possible."—Park Region Echo.

DOLLAR-A-YEAR MEN

Washington, D. C., September 30 — There are 73 dollar-a-year-men assisting the National Defense commission. We had hundreds of dollar-a-year-men in service in 1917 and many of them performed gallant service. Others fell under very severe criticism. A careful study of the new lists of 73 men indicates that they are all individuals of the highest type, and their positions in the business world have been so well established that they will be able to earn a dollar a year. Lest your correspondent be misunderstood in the foregoing "wise-crack" I have to add that these 73 men are likely to prove of tremendous importance to Commissioners Budd, Hillman, Knudsen, Stettinius, Henderson, and other divisions serving by special presidential appointments.

The Machine Age — More Jobs

The machine age started on the day one of our ancestors picked up a club to kill an animal for his dinner. Up to that time he had always used his hands. Then, through a fortunate and perhaps accidental use of his brain powers, he found himself in possession of a new tool — a club — which made the business of acquiring a living ten-fold easier.

With this as a start, man kept adding to his collection of tools. Some made his work easier, some made his pleasure more enjoyable, some increased his prowess in battle. Wars and famines and bad government interfered with progress, but gradually men were able to put their brains to more and more work and their muscles to less and less.

When Watt discovered the steam engine a little more than one hundred and fifty years ago, a whole new set of tools was made possible. Men were able to make familiar goods in larger quantities and they also found it possible to make a lot of things they never had before — luxuries they called them then, although they are common enough now.

All of this didn't take place without a lot of argument. Whenever one machine was set up to do the work of two men, the extra man figured that someone was trying to do him out of a living. What he didn't realize was that when the rest of the people found out that goods were easier to get and could be had for lower prices, he would get a job running a machine himself, making more goods to meet the demand.

We had scarcely learned to use the tools that steam had made possible when electricity came along. Man had a new servant, a new substitute for his muscles. Jobs were multiplied, new high standards of living were established and industry thrived. All because we found ourselves able to make more things for more people in less time and at lower prices.

The demand for more luxuries, more conveniences and more comforts will never cease. Before we shall be able to make all the goods the world wants and needs, we shall have to have many more machines and many more persons to run them. As Charles F. Kettering of General Motors phrases it, "The world isn't finished — at least not in America. So long as we continue to hold fast to the American system of industry that has brought us so many benefits we can look for more developments, better developments and NEW developments that will mean lasting benefits for all."

Bottlenecks And Prices

Down in Washington the American economists and politicians are talking a good deal about the "bottleneck". According to the dictionary that has something to do with a glass or earthenware, or vessel. Alexander Poe compared "narrow-souled people" with narrow-necked bottles, and declared that "the less they have in them the more noise they make in pouring out".

In the first place the new billions of government appropriations are not intended to carry the new military program of the U. S. through to a final finish. If peace comes to Europe government expenses might taper off a little bit. But producers of farm products, merchantable goods, owners of rental properties, and every business and individual in the country is going to be hit by increased taxes for an indefinite period. They'll all be caught in the "bottleneck" and prices will go up, just as they have doubled and tripled since the World war of 1917. Many business men are being prosecuted for alleged violation of the monopoly laws — many of them because they are jammed in the political bottleneck. The problem is not so deep that it requires experts to figure it out. School children could find the answer.

Ready To Answer The Call

All the symptoms of approaching war are to be found in the selective draft. Elevator operators, parking lot employees and other young men in Washington seem to be obsessed with the idea that outdoors with the army would be better than the "ups and downs" all day long in elevators. Steady employment seems to appeal to parking lot men as an improvement over the way they are now making a living.

These observations relate to remote employments and are mentioned to indicate the wide spread support of the draft law. Quite naturally in such matters every person affected thinks most of his own interests. Popular reaction shows that the majority or young men are friendly with the idea of answering the call of their government.

Pretty Soon It Will Be Pensions

A daughter of a veteran of the war of 1812 is still drawing a pension from the government. One hundred and thirty other dependents of Mexican War veterans are receiving pensions. The only early war that is all finished up is the Revolution of 1776, since no one is drawing a pension as a descendant.

Checks go to 410,747 veterans of the World war for pensions, and compensation for disability. Additional pensions to the number of 116,538 go to survivors of World War veterans. There are other lesser wars of which the Spanish-American in 1898 is included. Totals of all pensions are approximately 1 million checks a month.

Even a large standing army, such as seems to be assured by recent laws, will eventually increase the pension rolls, whether Hitler comes over to see us or not.

Which Way Will You Go?

As a result of State-wide highway planning surveys the U. S. Public Roads Administration has issued a number of "traffic flow charts". One of these charts gives a very clear understanding of the number of passenger cars used on all U. S. number routes and important connecting state routes. Another chart shows motor trucks and bus traffic on these routes.

There you have it — a plain official layout showing how the congestion grows in heavily populated areas in the country because of too many trucks, buses and passenger cars, and vice versa.

Inasmuch as charts give the same prominence to important connecting routes as to the U. S. number routes the motorist has only to examine the official maps to know whether it will pay him to "go the other way".

These charts furnish all the directions about "getting around the traffic" on congested highways between the Atlantic seaboard and points west of the Mississippi.

Apparently, there are a lot of ways that may be selected by the motorists and by the truck drivers between the Canadian border and the southern boundaries of the United States. The maps have been reprinted by the American Automobile Manufacturers Association as a contribution to public service.

He Would, If He Could

The way Capitol Hill regards invasion by Hitler is that he would, and he will, providing he can, and if he could. There is where the argument splits. The theory is that unless the United States is prepared to shoot and blow up the Nazi military force that Hitler may try it or he may not. You can't find anybody in Washington who would believe anything that Hitler says about these matters.

Acting on the above "lay of the land", your government concluded that the best thing to do with Hitler is to fix it so he won't dare try to attack the USA.

For Business And Pleasure

A breakdown of the uses of cars driven by the 40,571,000 drivers who were issued licenses in 40 states last year shows that 30 per cent were women between the ages of 20 and 34 years. Nearly all men between 20 and 34 years of age drive cars, the average being around 90 per cent of all these drivers. By the time men reach the age of 40 they begin to ease up on their activities at the wheel and by 65 there are less than half as many drivers as in the younger group noted above.

Let's Be Reasonable

In July the number of unemployed persons in the country was estimated at 8,235,000. The estimated unemployment for July 1941, according to the National Industrial Conference Board, will be reduced less than one-half, bringing it down to about 4 1/2 million.

The mobilization of the National Guard and Organized Reserves, plus conscription, will open civilian jobs to approximately a million of the idle, and defense orders and accompanying business is expected to employ another 3 1/2 million persons.

The idea that the manufacturing business of the United States is going to be scrapped for the temporary purpose of preparing the United States isn't reasonable. No one in the government, or the large industries, figures for a moment along those lines. More than 10 thousand manufacturing plants and business institutions are being classified in order to determine just how they will fit in with the defense plan.

Today's popularity of Doan's Pills, after many years of world-wide use, surely must be accepted as evidence of a good diuretic treatment for disorders of the kidney function and for relief of the pain and worry it causes.

If more people were aware of how the kidneys must constantly remove waste that cannot stay in the blood without injury to health, there would be better understanding of why the whole body suffers when kidneys are and diuretic medicine would be more often employed.

Burning, scanty or too frequent urination, sometimes with disturbed kidney function. You may suffer nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, stiffness under the eyes—feel weak, nervous, all played out.

Doan's Pills. It is better to get a medicine that has won world-wide acclaim than on something less favorably known. Ask your neighbor!

Wildcats Win Upset Victory Over Coyotes, 6-0

Pass Paves Way To Counter In Last Quarter

Although outgained in yardage, Coach Jim Morrison's Wildcats broke a deadlock in the last three minutes of play to defeat the University of South Dakota's football team, 6 to 0, in an upset victory there Saturday afternoon.

A completed pass, which Webb nabbed after it had been batted into the air by a Coyote defender, paved the way for the only touchdown of the game by advancing the ball to the South Dakota's 2-yard line. Bud Best, Wayne halfback, carried it over for the counter. The pass which turned a scoreless tilt into a Wayne victory was originally intended for a Wayne end but was batted into the air and eventually seized by Webb.

Strong Offense
South Dakota demonstrated a strong offensive and in mid-field gained almost at will but found the going too tough when the Wayne line stiffened repeatedly to protect its goal line. The fact that the Coyotes made a total of 18 first downs furnish ample proof of their power. On the other hand, Wayne threatened to score two other times.

The South Dakota victory was the second of the season for the undefeated Wildcats, who had little trouble crushing Southern Normal, 38 to 0, here last Friday night in the opening game of the season.

On Defensive
Wayne played a defensive game throughout the first quarter, opening up its offensive in the second quarter, when they pushed the ball down within a few feet of pay dirt before being stopped. They abandoned their offensive again in the second half, depending on Best to kick the ball back after they halted the Coyotes repeatedly. Best was getting plenty of distance on his kicks and Coach Morrison substituted frequently in the line so that most of the Wayne players saw service during the game. The Coyotes didn't use many reserves and the team was obviously weary late in the final quarter when Wayne pushed across its touchdown.

The Wildcats will clash with the Nebraska Wesleyan team at the college athletic field Friday night.

Prep Team Wins, 36-12

Dakota City Defeated In Six-Man Football

The Wayne Prep's six-man football team opened its football season Friday by defeating the strong Dakota City team, 36 to 12. The game was played at Dakota City.

Good passing played a major role in the local team's victory over a heavier team which had won its two previous games this season.

Several members of the Wayne team were injured slightly in the game. These include Warren Finn, who suffered a sprained ankle and Bob Hughes, whose neck was injured. Bob Hughes and Don Echtenkamp played outstanding games for the Prep team.

Coach Bob Garvin and M. C. Bloss took the following 11 players with them to Dakota City: Don Echtenkamp, Kenneth Whorlow, Dale Bloss, Bob Hughes, Elwin Sprague, Max Gifford, Dick Gifford, Billy Orr, Earl Hughes, Warren Finn and Jack Dale.

The Prepsters will clash with the Homer six-man team Thursday afternoon in the first home game of the season.

City High Team Whips Stanton 13-0

Passing Attack Accounts For One Touchdown

Wayne City High's football eleven added Stanton High to its list of conquered teams this fall by winning the second game of the season here Friday afternoon, 13 to 0.

The game, which was played at the City Athletic Park, was attended by a fair crowd of grid-iron fans.

Improvement Shown
Wayne's players displayed marked improvement over their initial appearance when they nosed out Pierce High, 6 to 0, the Friday previous at Pierce. More passing was attempted and resulted in the second touchdown for Wayne.

The first counter came in the first quarter with Kessler carrying the ball over from the two yard line, where it had been advanced through straight football. Stanton High, which has a fair team, seemed to have difficulty getting either its offense or defense to its peak power and was clearly outplayed in the first quarter.

Neither team scored again until after the half, when Wayne opened up its passing attack on a more general scale with the payoff coming in a thrilling play when Stull, surrounded by Stanton players, nabbed a 25-yard pass from Berry and then darted around the visiting players to carry the ball the remaining ten yards to the pay stripe.

Threatens In Fourth
Stanton threatened in the fourth quarter, advancing the ball at one time to the two yard line before being held for downs.

Coach Sullivan started Ray Murray, Bob Stull, Kessler and Powers in the backfield and Bob Haas, Paul Harrington, Bob Holm, Jack Wright, Lloyd Pfleger, Harold McPherran and Francis Smith in the line. Berry played much of the game and showed that he is a capable passer. Few substitutions were made in the line during the game as Wayne was never able to build up a safe lead. However, Coach Sullivan has some reserves who are making speedy progress and will be ready for action soon.

Wayne High will face a stiff test next Friday when the team journeys to Hartington to play its next conference game against a strong eleven. Hartington High beat Ponca last week, 25 to 0, and should give the local eleven plenty of opposition.

Weevils Attacking Stored Grain

Satisfactory results if the temperature of the grain is below 70 degrees Fahrenheit. Therefore, he advises fumigation if possible while the temperature is above that point.

Light infestations occurring late in the season will be checked by cold weather and fumigation in such cases may be delayed until spring. But where infestation is heavy enough to cause heating of the grain in the bin, delaying treatment until spring is likely to result in heavy losses.

Directions Given
Full directions for treating weevil-infesting grain with heavier-than-air fumigants are given in Nebraska Experiment Station Circular No. 62 "Control of Stored Grain Pests in Nebraska", copies of which may be obtained from the county agricultural agent's office.

Guarding Hogs Against "Flu"

Fall and winter months just ahead may be a welcome change from summer but they increase the likelihood of swine getting influenza. The disease is acutely contagious, affects swine of all ages, and usually lasts only a short time.

And one of the best ways, Wayne county farmers can protect their hogs from the "flu" is to house them well, successful hog producers have discovered. County Extension Agent Walters points out this will also reduce the number of cases that develop into pneumonia. Sick pigs will drink frequently, and water should be kept available at all times in the shed where they lie. Newly bought hogs, or hogs that have been exhibited at livestock shows, should be kept away from the rest of the herd for at least three weeks.

Swine influenza may be easily confused with hog cholera, according to information received from Dr. S. W. Alford, extension livestock sanitation specialist at the Nebraska College of Agriculture. Flu symptoms usually observed include loss of appetite, high fever, weakness, cough, and faster breathing with a characteristic thump at each breath.

There is no satisfactory or dependable vaccine for swine influenza. Once it attacks the herd it will run its course—usually lasting a week to 10 days for the individual hog. The death rate is usually only two or three percent, D. Alford points out. One attack does not confer permanent immunity.

More COMFORT

WITH this advertisement, Buick ushers in a brand-new automobile model year.

1940 production is history—recording the greatest manufacturing and selling season our company has ever known.

You may be sure we grimly realized we had to accomplish things in our new cars for 1941 that we could count on to continue our advance.

So we've taken our greatest all-time car and steadily and carefully brought it forward to a perfection of action, ease, goodness beyond anything ever offered under our name.

THE FIREBALL DOES IT!

Modern gasoline have high octane ratings to permit higher compression ratios. Note how this piston, which can be used only in valve-in-head engines, fills the fuel charge into the shape of a flattened ball that centers around the new, smaller, racing-curve 1/32 spark plug. Fired at its very heart, this more highly compressed fuel jets go with such heat, this more highly compressed fuel jets go with such heat, "ping-free" wallop that any gasoline of 75 full-forced, (now available at standard-fuel prices) octane rating (now available at standard-fuel prices) may be used in the 115-hp. engine. Any fuel of 80 octane rating serves in the 125- and 125-hp. engines.

Every car in all five series of the whole new line deserves unused fresh-minted language.

Stylewise, their suave and dynamic beauty refreshes the jaded eye as would sight of a hydrant in the desert.

They move and function like young wild things. They're all grace and poise and eagerness. They bring to driving and handling a keener pleasure and a new thrill.

Go see these superb new cars at your dealer's and ask especially about the new micropoise-balanced FIREBALL engines—the 1941 furtherance of Buick's Dynaflex design and kingpin of all the features that make Buick the sensation of the new automobile year.
