Books, Stationary, Notions, Novelties, all at Book and Music Store.

THE WAYNE REPUBLICAN.

Subscription, $1 per Year in Advance. THE ONLY STRAIGHT REPUBLICAN PAPER IN THE CITY OF WAYNE. E. CUNNINGHAM, Editor.

VOL. 3. WAYNE, WAYNE COUNTY, NEBRASKA, WEDNESDAY, JAN. 13 1897. NO. 48

The Markets.

The following are the prices of [illegible] Wednesday, Feb. 18, 1892:

WAYNE

Wheat	88
Corn	9
Oats	15
Pork	5.00
Rye	2.70
Potatoes	10
Eggs	12
Live cattle	$3.50 to $4.75

Take jewelry repairing to Mines

A. H. Carter was in town on Monday.

Take watch repairing to J. G. Mines.

Sells to order $20.00. Hoitz the tailor.

The Bond tracks of the Winds at Jo gallic.

M. H. Culleon was in the city on Saturday.

All the season's are now at the Book Store.

Take book binding to J. G. Mines.

Ponts, 45, 50, and 81. Hoitz the tailor.

J. F. Cogalls visited Long Pine during last week.

Sells to order from $18 upwards Hoitz, the tailor

D. A. Jones was at home from Coleridge over Sunday

Albert Berry is attending at the Board at Lincoln

Mrs. E. Kennard, left for Crawford Springs on Monday

T. P. Hall and wife are at home from their lowa visit

J. B. Wilson of Dixon was visiting brethren in town Monday

Geo Hopkins, of Leslie was visiting friends in town on Monday.

Mrs. Hoskins returned to the home of her sister in Omaha

Chas. Bullock was called to Omaha by the illness of his father.

W. L. Stoon the Sioux City Lumberman evangelist, was in town today.

The engineers of range 3 [illegible] to go west in Nebraska at once.

F. A. Smith the Wayne boot and shoe dealer was down to Carroll today

Messrs. Morse Leach, the genial agent of the Diamond match co. was in Monday.

Geo. Bullock [illegible] Mrs. Bullock [illegible] Wednesday.

The Democratic Caucus, the Times Mountain meeting at the Court House on Friday night.

The Meadow Lark issued an Omaha edition on Saturday, and the first [illegible] was filled

The Pacific mineral Springs Hotel was destroyed by fire, Monday night, at Grand Island.

C. M. Strahan of Sioux City, Iowa has been visiting friends in this city for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Wright left for Lincoln and Hastings on Monday morning for a few days visit.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Nuernberger left for Lincoln on Monday morning to visit their daughter.

The remaining [illegible] Hotel Block will be [illegible] Mr. Ellis.

Prof. and Mrs. [illegible] Monday for Lincoln, where they will visit friends for a few days.

R. A. Dickenson, of Sioux City, was in the city on Monday, and was a pleasant caller at this office.

Mrs. Dr. Neely left on Monday for Lincoln and Omaha where she will visit friends for a few days.

The Sioux City Journal of Sunday, Jan. 10, contained a full page write up of Wayne and Wayne county.

Mrs. Sahm of Fremont is visiting the wife of Rev. Sahm at the Methodist parsonage this week.

The Rev. Andrew of Omaha occupied the pulpit at the Methodist church on Sunday morning and evening.

Mrs. Dr. Neely returned to Lincoln on Monday morning after a visit with her husband and friends in this city.

Mrs. Dr. Neely returned to Lincoln on Monday morning after a visit with her husband and friends in this city.

The Sunday School Concert [illegible] Methodist church on Sunday evening was well attended and a good time was had by all present

THE WAYNE REPUBLICAN.

E. CUNNINGHAM, Publisher.

WAYNE, NEBRASKA

AN APALLING RECORD

MANY PEOPLE EVICTED IN NEW YORK CITY.

During Past Four Upwards of 200,000 Persons Found Themselves Without Food or Shelter—Crusade Against Coolies.

Evicted 200,000 People.

During the year recently ended 51,324 families in New York were evicted from their homes. These were never kinder and Judge Goldsmith, who compiled the report, says that upward of 200,000 human beings within the twelve months, found themselves without food or shelter.

"The hand of poverty," said the judge, was laid most heavily on the poor of my district. It is made up of the Seventh, Eleventh and Thirteenth wards and extends from Catherine Street to Fourteenth Street and from Avenue B to the East River. Within the district about 8,625 families were dispossessed, and they averaged at least four members each, making a total of 35,000 human beings.

"I have been in all my experience seen so much suffering among the poor classes as within the year just ended. In the cases that have come before me I have dispensed first of all to secure a stay of proceedings for the tenant, and, to the credit of the landlords be it said I have generally been successful. The statistics I have compiled show that the greatest suffering was in the east side district."

CO-OPERATIVE STEEL WORKS

Carnegie Employes Planning to Build a $2,000,000 Plant.

A Braddock, Pa., dispatch says: Mill workers at the Carnegie plants here and at Homestead, Duquesne and Pittsburg, and employes of the Westinghouse works at White Creek and Wilmerding, are forming a steel stock company to build a $2,000,000 iron and steel plant at Port Angels, on Puget Sound. The company has been incorporated under the Washington laws. The officers are: Morgan M. Kinzer of Braddock, president; Thomas Murphy of Pittsburg, vice president; M. E. George, Braddock, secretary; Wm. J. Webster, Allegheny City, treasurer. Twelve hundred unemployed mill workers of this section have in the past fortnight subscribed for about $1,500,000 worth of stock. The plant will employ 6,000 men and will cover thirty acres of ground. Work on the building will be started in April and the subscription books will remain open until that date.

CRUSADE AGAINST COOLIES.

Japanese Laborers Roughly Treated in California.

A crusade against Chinese labor has been inaugurated at Oceanside, California. An organized army of ex-Japanese on the island and the same night fifteen citizens with gunny sacks over their heads seized the Japanese, hurried a rope around the neck of each and took them to a big oak tree. There they were thrown up and left hanging until life was almost extinct. The Japanese were then lowered, and when they revived the lynching process was repeated several times. The Japanese were then forced to march out of the village and warned never to return on penalty of being hanged until dead.

Rooms, dining-places, necessities in the village, and even a hose was thrown about his neck with a threat to hang him if he patronized or employed any but white labor on the ranch hereafter.

Murdered and Robbed.

The dead body of William Hess, of Peru, Ind., was found Sunday morning lying by the side of the Missouri Pacific railroad track at Setlick, Mo. The unfortunate victim received four bullet wounds, was robbed and rubbed and the body placed on the track with the expectation that it would be mangled and the crime be concealed.

Fire in Stone Apotia.

Fire, which broke out in the Anchor Brush mill, Milton-on-the-Hudson Sunday morning, threatened the entire milling district. The entire fire department was called in the scene and succeeded in confining the flames to the packing department of the Anchor mill. The total loss will reach $100,000, fully insured.

Two Railroads Sold.

The sale of the Oregon Short Line and Utah Northern under a consolidated mortgage was made Saturday. It was bought by the reorganization committee for $6,441,856. The same parties bought the Utah & Southern for $760,000 and the Utah, Northern extension for $976,000.

Rinsurrection in the Philippines.

Official advices from Manilla state that in the Philippines the situation is greatly improved and that the rebels do not dare to approach the capital. All the rebels, about 6,000 insurgents, while trying to cross the Isthmus of Novalces, were repulsed with heavy losses.

Detective Commits Suicide.

Thomas G. Puckett, local superintendent of the Pinkerton detective agency at Kansas City, committed suicide by firing a ball through his brain. No cause for the deed is known.

Long Walk on a Wager.

David S. Power of Aberdeen, Wash. has reached Bellvelle, Ohio, on foot en route to Boston. He began his long walk on a wager of $3,000 that he could walk from Aberdeen to Boston, Mass., within a period of six months and fifteen days. He started on July 7 and must be in Boston January 22.

To Attack Theodore Rats.

Pittsburg will fall in the list of 13 large cities that will be free of rats next month, having the assistance of hundreds of dogs by ladies in theaters.

AVENGING MACEO'S DEATH.

Gomez Begins Reprisals Against Spaniards.

A dispatch from Key West, Fla., says: Gen. Gomez began the work of reprisal against the Spaniards in Matanzas province on March 15, the day he received the announcement of the death of Maceo. The announcement was made by Gen. Gomez to his staff officers in a speech in which he declared that the time for mercy had passed and that the time for action had arrived. He said that the Spaniards among them a sense of their duty to meet promptly. For the years the war has raged on the island. It may thus require time to drive the Spaniards out of the Cuban soil completely. For the years the Cubans have offered the most generous terms of peace to the Spaniards, but they have refused. For the years they have persistently refused to treat with the Cubans on any terms except those which would mean the complete subjugation of the island. Now the Cubans will accept no terms except those which will guarantee the complete freedom and independence of Cuba.

Putting his army in motion he moved south upon the province of Matanzas, the island of Morro. The Spanish garrison at Jagua fled at the Cuban approach and was overpowered after a desperate resistance. The men were mutilated and murdered in the precedent set by the Spanish commanders, they shook people to keep their lives. They were given an opportunity of leaving Matanzas to their friends in Spain and, in groups of fifteen and twenty, were put to death. From the moment that the work was completed, Gen. Gomez made a speech in the open air to the people of Matanzas for a period of

GOLD DEMOCRATS BANQUET

Large Gathering of the Old Line Leaders in Chicago.

Representatives of the gold wing of the Democratic party from all parts of the country, northwest and south, met at the Palmer House last night for the purpose of celebrating the birthday. Four hundred were present, but the long list of names included a considerable share of the absentees were received from Governor Russell of Massachusetts, Governor Morton and Senator Edwin H. Fuller, and a number of Democrats through out the Pacific coast, all of whom expressed their regret at the impossibility of their attendance. In the absence of Governor Russell, Chairman Wilson, of the Massachusetts delegation, presided. Among those who responded to toasts were Governor Black, of New York; Governor Pingree, of Michigan; Governor Boies, of Iowa; Governor Matthews, of Indiana; Governor Stone, of Missouri; Governor Hogg, of Texas; Governor Waite, of Colorado; Governor Rich, of Michigan

THE STATE CAPITAL

WHAT THE NEBRASKA LEGISLATURE IS DOING.

Frank T. Ransom is President of the Senate and James Gaffin of Saunders County Was Elected Speaker of the House.

Legislature in Session.

The first day of business in the senate was accomplished in a very few minutes at Lincoln on Tuesday. Lieutenant Governor Moore called the members to order and Senator Howard, of Douglas, moved that a session of the senate be held for the purpose of electing a president pro tem. Prayer was offered by Rev. H. T. Dale, of Lincoln. On motion of Mr. Howard, a committee of five was appointed to wait on the chief justice. The committee consisted of Howard, Dale, Crow, Jennings and Post.

On the return Dale moved that the senate now proceed to elect the officers selected by the caucus by acclamation and it was done. The result was the selection of Frank T. Ransom, chief clerk; H. E. Fowler, first assistant; A. W. Markham, second assistant; L. A. Fowler, engrossing clerk; John C. Browning, bookkeeper. It was then announced that the enrolling and engrossing clerks had been elected there could be no further organization of the house, and the senate adjourned. But the senate was not allowed to adjourn, for Dale proceeded to elect Rev. F. C. Morley of Dodge City chaplain and Ralph E. Purdy sergeant-at-arms.

Senator Gaffin was then announced to be in readiness for the duties of the office. Following is the roster of the senate: Lieutenant Governor, ex officio president; Frank T. Ransom, president pro tem; H. E. Fowler, first assistant secretary; A. W. Markham, second assistant secretary; L. A. Fowler, engrossing clerk; John C. Browning, bookkeeper; Ralph E. Purdy, sergeant-at-arms; Rev. F. C. Morley, chaplain.

The house of representatives was called to order by Secretary of State Allen at 12 o'clock. Following is the roster of the house: Secretary, H. M. Soward; assistant secretary, Frank Cooper; enrolling clerk, Miss Ella Cather; engrossing clerk, Miss Ella Cather; bill clerk, Miss Sadie Keenan; journal clerk, Miss Ella Cather; sergeant-at-arms, Ed Gilbert; assistant sergeant-at-arms, Ed Kent; janitor, Frank Cooper; messenger, Ed Gilbert; chaplain, Rev. Dr. Hamilton; stenographer, Miss Ella Cather; pages, Ralph Hall, Omaha, Harry Hall, Omaha, Ralph Hall, Omaha, Harry Hall, Omaha.

Speaker Gaffin was then announced to be in readiness for the duties of the office. He was escorted to the chair by Messrs. Hall and Hall of Douglas. Speaker Gaffin announced the following committees:

Ways and means—Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas.

Judiciary—Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas.

Finance, ways and means—Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas.

Miscellaneous—Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas.

Public lands and buildings—Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas.

Insane—Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas.

Education—Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas.

Agriculture—Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas.

Labor—Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas.

Mines and mining—Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas.

Manufactures—Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas.

Roads and bridges—Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas.

Irrigation—Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas.

Banks and banking—Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas.

Insurance—Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas.

Claims—Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas.

Printing—Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas.

Revision of laws—Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas.

Constitutional amendments—Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas.

Public morals—Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas.

Public health—Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas.

Public buildings—Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas.

Public lands—Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas.

Public property—Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas.

Public roads—Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas.

Public schools—Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas.

Public utilities—Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas.

Public works—Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas, Hall of Douglas.

Public worship

...the editor of the paper referred to, complaining the amount of pay received by the present board with that received by former boards and attempted by this means to prove that the members of the board are a lot of thunderers. It is true that the fees of the board for labor performed last year was in excess of that of former boards but any one of ... If the writer desired to be anywhere near fair he would have told the readers that the additional expense was caused by the fellow that framed the article in question or was the inauguration of it. He would have told his readers that for a series of years our faith officials of the county have been willing to sit sometimes about everything in sight and that extravagance was running wild in the affairs of the county until finally the people elected as members of the board men who not only had the courage to transact the business intrusted to them without being directed how to do it by those officials, but the ability as well. Why didn't the gentlemanly tale a waiting public that a system of "financial flummery" at the receipt of certain offices had been carried on by the gentlemen that presided over their destinies until the shortlings had run into the thousands of dollars and that this board which is now seeks to bring your dirty pelo came upon the scene and said "we will look into the methods being pursued" and that in order to do so an investigation of all the records was had and that this required an amount of labor scarcely paralleled by those not thoroughly conversant with such work. Let him tell the people of the county that this was one of the things that helped swell the aggregate fees of the commissioners. Tell them also you four disinterested individuals (?), that under the system adopted by those "pipedreamers" that are living on the credulous now employed by this "gang of plunderers" are kept up sheets of from $1,200 to $2,000 per year by one official alone will be an utter impossibility. Tell them also that this "gang of plunderers" are the fellows that refused to allow this very efficient official a little over $200 for making a part of a new Numerical Index for the county clerk. It is clearly one of the duties of an auditor to that business for the stipulated salary of $1,200 a year with no allowance of $200 additional for doing this. Tell the taxpayers, whose deer friend you are that this same board of "gang of plunderers" refused to allow this same official from $400 to $600 for extra help to perform the duties of his office for which he is paid his salary, of $1,200 and deputy hire. Tell the people that never in the history of the county here all bills been so closely scrutinized and such sweeping changes been made in the allowance of claims as under this "gang of plunderers." Let the taxpayers know that this "gang of plunderers" are not to be in word of any official as to the correctness of his books, but at the end of each quarter these "plunderers" go over and check up every single item and when they are done and out there will be no necessity for corrections and that suits will not have to be instituted for the recovery of several thousand dollars that "good fellows" have knocked down and used for the carrying of dissolute that are build the ring in place that they may continue their stools. When charging an extravagance to the "gang of plunderers" don't say a word about a saving of about $2,000 per annum in the keeping of the poor of the county, don't tell that the bridges are not being built as new as they reported for $2.50 per day instead of $4.00 as under the old regime when the county clerk was the board whose word was law unto some of them. There are a good many things it is not best for the taxpayer of man who are doing their duty faithfully and who cannot be turned aside by those who seek to make a worthless township, to those who for years robbed the county without hindrance, to tell. If the gentlemen who inspired the article wishes to go into this business in detail, THE HERALD will try to keep it warm enough to suit him.

FREE PILLS.

Send your address to H. E. Bucklen & Co., Chicago, and get a free sample box of Dr. King's New Life Pills. A trial will convince you of their merits. These pills are easy in action and are particularly effective in the cure of constipation and sick headache. For malaria and liver troubles they have been proved invaluable. They are guaranteed to be perfectly free from every deleterious substance and to be purely vegetable. They do not weaken by their action, but by giving tone to stomach and bowels greatly invigorate the system. Regular size 25c per box. Sold by R. W. Wilkins & Co. druggists.

TOM HARTH'S PLUNDERHEAD.

The blank scared head appeared in last week's Democrat over an article attempting to show that the present commissioners were robbing the taxpayers of the county of their hard earned dollars in order to show up their own...

Wanted—An Idea

Who can think of some simple thing to patent? Protect your ideas; they may bring you wealth. Write JOHN WEDDERBURN & CO., Patent Attorneys, Washington, D. C., for their $1,800 prize offer and list of two hundred inventions wanted.

The Duke and the Prince.

When the Prince of Wales was in America, in 1860, he was a young man of nineteen and unmarried. Naturally, the American press were deeply interested in him, and in spite of the most romantic excitement created, in all the classes. Every paragrapher in Christendom with the young Prince was escorted on a ... journalers of all sorts were bribed to arrange a walk with the Hon. Appetite, and the most unusual expedients were resorted to by girls. His baggage was kissed as it was put aboard the cars, and when he left a hotel room women would rush in and carry away in bottles the water in which he had washed his face. Church people forgot themselves and stood on the outskirts of the press in order to see the Royal visitor. On my hand it was a season of excitement, and Seth Sleeper, fates and receptions ruled. One of the Prince's party was Stephen Fiske, the journalist, who was dangerous by the elder James Gordon Bennett, of the New York Herald, to rascals with the Prince while he was in America. Naturally, Mr. Fiske saw all the incidents of His Royal Highness' tour. Tiring a hiking to the Adirondack journals the young prince saw that he was prospecting upon notorious. Now Mr. Fiske has written up the whole story, and it will form the chief attractions of The Ladies' Home Journal's series of "Personal Pictures." Illustrations of some of the great scenes have been made, and those will be given with the article in the January Journal.

The Nebraska Legislature.

It is a complicated deck against Nebraskans that no matter what other thing jewel they read at odd re times, during the legislative session they must get the Lincoln State Journal if they want to see more. The journal is right on the ground, and get the latest doings of the law makers while frequently gives the news two days earlier than the Omaha papers. The journal's Washington correspondent, Mr. Austin, keeps Journal readers thoroughly posted on matters of interest to Nebraskans that are happening at the national capital. The Journal is owned and edited by Nebraskans, without a dollar of eastern investments within a day. It is a great paper.

ESTRAY NOTICE.

There came to my farm in Plum Creek precinct on or about Nov. 7, four steers that are between the ages of 2 and 3 years. Three of them are red and speckled on the right hip, the other is black. All are "dehorned." The owner can have same by proving property and paying charges, otherwise they will be disposed as the law directs.

JOHN LEVENGOOD.

TIME CARDS.

(NORTHWESTERN.)

[illegible]	Norfolk Passenger,	4:05 p. m.
[illegible]	Sioux City Passenger,	9:45 a. m.
[illegible]	Norfolk Freight,	1:30 p. m.
[illegible]	WAYNE & EMERYVILLE.	Dep.
[illegible]	Passenger,	1:30 p. m.
[illegible]	Freight,	10:00 a. m.

W. MAHER, Agent.

Natural Resources.

Although the Quakers are not, as not fancy inside, regarding it as a proper amusement indulged in by the world's people, there are occasionally stories told which show that the love of sports sometimes stakes its way into a Quaker household in spite of all pulling.

George Thompson, the famous Rugby, and cricketer, while journeying on the way from Philadelphia to Baltimore, stopped one night with a Quaker family. He was a great lover of music, and as they were a good singer.

During the evening he sang "Oft in the Stilly Night," which was taken to by the friends of the family.

In the morning the Quaker hostess appeared ancient of spirit. She refused to hear the song again, but it would hardly do she thought, for her to request its repetition. At last, however, her desire overcame her scruples.

"George," she said, with a faint pink color in her soft cheeks, "would thee repeat the words of last evening to thy mother, please?"—Youth's Companion.

At His Own Expense.

Mr. Bluff—Look here, young man, you're always going about with my daughter, and I want to know what your intentions are regarding her?

Young Man—I really have no intentions. Sir, but as the theater tickets and refreshments.—Pearson's Weekly.

Unchanging Compliments.

"I see that you are your own washerwoman," said Mrs. Spitely, who was looking over people just to gossip.

"Yes," rejoined Mrs. Snapper. "But, thank goodness, I've not resorted to playing mermaid for a dog."—Detroit Free Press.

Time Flies.

There are a great many spiders, especially among the cruciet varieties, which have three eyes, one on each side of the head and the third exactly in the center of the "forehead." This and the other eyes is always the largest.

The book of Job, written about 1520 B. C., describes very accurately several processes of purifying metals.

Trying to be witty is like trying to be pretty.—Philosophe Blatter.

E. CUNNINGHAM,

AUCTIONEER

Horse responsible—Satisfaction or no trade—Office in the Abbott building.

WAYNE, NEBRASKA

A. T. WADDELL,

AUCTIONEER,

I am prepared to do auctioneering for parties desiring services of that kind, satisfaction guaranteed and charges always reasonable. Address,

A. T. WADDELL,

ROSKINS, NEBRASKA

H. G. LEISENRING,

PHYSICIAN & SURGEON,

Latest surgical instruments and X Ray work. Office over Dugmore & Lackey's store.

WAYNE, NEBRASKA

ROE & FORTNER,

WAYNE STREET MEAT MARKET

Fresh and Salt Meats, Poultry & Fish

WAYNE, NEBRASKA

E. E. JONES,

PALACE LIVERY STABLE

On 2nd street, one half block east of the Boyd House. WAYNE, NEBR.

W. A. IVORY,

—DENTIST.—

WAYNE, NEBRASKA.

C. M. CRAVEN,

PHOTOGRAPHER.

—WAYNE, NEBRASKA

A. A. WELCH,

ATTORNEY AT LAW.

WAYNE, NEBRASKA

B. F. FEATHER,

CONVEYANCING COLLECTION & INSURANCE

Office over Herrington & Hopkins store

EDWARD E. BLAIR, A. M. M. D.

Professor of Diseases, Sioux City College of Medicine. Office over Bodwell drug store.

WAYNE, NEBRASKA.

GO TO

HOOVER'S

DEPOT RESTAURANT

FOR OYSTERS IN EVERY STYLE

AND FOR FOUR MEALS AND CHAMBER WORK IN TOWN

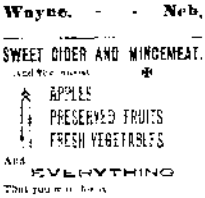
Everything First Class.

J. R. HOOVER, Prop.

WAYNE, NEB.

A. HEWERZL

PROPRIETOR OF THE WAYNE



SHOE SHOP.

Wayne, - - Neb.

SWEET CIDER AND MINCEMEAT.

And the finest

APPLES

PRESERVED FRUITS

FRESH VEGETABLES

And

EVERYTHING

That you want to buy

TO EAT

GIVE US A CALL

BROOKING'S

The Grocer.

WANTED—FAITHFUL MEN OR WOMEN to travel for responsible established house in Nebraska; salary $780 and expenses. 4 million permanent. Reference. Enclose self-addressed stamped envelope. The National, Sheridan Block, Chicago.

F. H. STRAHAN, President. F. M. KORTHROP, Vice-President.
J. M. WILSON, Cashier. MAYBAR CHACE, Assistant Cashier

FIRST NATIONAL BANK,

WAYNE, - - - NEBRASKA.

CAPITAL, $50,000 SURPLUS, $90,000

DIRECTORS.

F. H. Strahan, Frank E. Strahan, Geo. Bogart, J. W. Jones
Frank M. Northrop, Frank Sutter, H. F. Wilson.

WE SOLICIT YOUR TRADE.

WILKINS & CO.

PHARMACY,

HEADQUARTERS FOR

PURE DRUGS AND MEDICINES.

—ELEGANT LINES OF—

Wall Paper.

STATIONERY IN ALL THE NEWEST AND LATEST DESIGNS.

Careful and competent Pharmacists always compound your prescriptions

Customarily headquarters of confectionery and cut flowers

R. W. WILKINS & CO.

Main Street, Wayne, Nebraska

BACK IN THE

OLD STAND

WITH A COMPLETE

New Stock of Goods

TODAY WE HAVE THE VERY NICEST STOCK OF EVERYTHING IN General Merchandise.

BOUGHT FOR SPOT CASH, AND AT PRICES THAT WILL ALLOW US TO SELL

CHEAPER THAN EVER.

BRING IN YOUR PRODUCE.

Furchner, Ducrig & Co.

THE

Central Meat Market.

FRED VOLPP, Proprietor.

All kinds of fresh and salt meats kept on hand. Highest prices for hides, pelts, and furs.

J. W. JONES, President BEN S. LEY, Cashier
C. A. CHACE, Vice President H. B. JONES, Asst. Cashier

State Bank of Wayne.

INDIVIDUAL RESPONSIBILITY $200,000.

Transacts a general banking business. Draws on all foreign countries.

Wayne National Bank,

CAPITAL, SURPLUS AND PROFITS $55,000.

A General Banking Business Transacted. Agency for Steamships. Tickets to all Countries.

W. E. BROWN, President F. S. MILLER, Vice Pres.
H. F. SWAN, Cashier

DIRECTORS—W. E. Brown, Eb Jones, J. H. Pegry, J. W. Bartled, H. F. Swan, W. C. Wightman, F. L. Miller

THE CITIZENS BANK.

(INCORPORATED.)

CAPITAL AND UNDIVIDED PROFITS, $100,000.

A. L. TUCKER President D. C. MAIN, Cashier
E. H. Mitchell, Vice President

A GENERAL BANKING BUSINESS DONE.

Drafts on all Foreign Countries.

Agents for Cunard Line Steamships tickets.

TRAPPING CROWS.

It Is Not an Easy Matter to Get the Wily Birds.

Crows are trapped and sold to sportsmen for shooting matches, usually bringing $10 per 100, but, like other things, when cheap they bring cents.

It is no simple matter to trap crows, for the crow is a wily bird, and to catch him is a art set for that purpose requires skill, and patience as well, but the danger of the crow is always the trapper's greatest aid. One man alone would make but little headway catching crows and would probably sit all day in his little bough house ready to spring his net, but the crows would give his hail a wide berth because they would know that he was there.

After placing the carcass of some animal on a field the pot is set close to it, by breaking holes of sufficient size in which a net is spread flat to the ground, where they are held down by exceedingly large stones placed around the edges. Then a long rope is run from the trapper to the cover of bushes or trees, which is made large enough so that no keen-eyed crows from settling on the carcass and soon satisfying their hunger without going to the net where the trap is. After awaits their danger and the latter of their judgment or lands first, and they gather on the carcass where the net is. This is the opportunity of the man in the bough house, who, with a vigorous pull on the line, springs the net over them. Quick work must be done then by the trapper, who runs up to the net, to keep the trapped crows from crawling out at the ends and the front, where it is not staked fast to the ground. With the same speed with which bookkeepers count, do they throw them in bags ready to be carried off the field. From 10 to 50 are frequently caught at one pull but it is a rare thing to get more than two dozens of the net at one day.—Rock Dolphin Record.

A STORY OF LONGFELLOW.

Miss Fields Tells an Interesting Anecdote of the Author.

Speaking of Longfellow, in the course of literary reminiscences, Mrs. Jane J. Fields says:

"His kindness and love of humanity crowd him through being a lion into captivity. He personally appreciated the fact of the autographs to which men and women resorted in order to get at interviews, and, in keeping his side made as much of their success as possible. Speaking one day of the persons who came to see him at Nahant he said: 'One man, a perfect stranger, came to me sometimes full of fatigue. He unceremoniously introduced himself, then naturally to the sunshine, took out all the ladies, one, two, three, four and five, and a little girl, and brought them in. I entertained them to the best of my ability and they staid an hour. They had scarcely gone when a factory woman in black came up to me on the grass and asked for a dipper of water. I complied, replied, and went to fetch her a glass. When I brought it, she said: 'There is another woman just by the fence who is tired and nursing. I have come that to her.' She [illegible] her head, and passed through the window and against the water on the grass. 'Oh, what have I done!' she said. 'If I had a fine cloth, I would wipe it up.' No matter about the water, I said. 'If you have hurt yourself.' Then I went and brought more water to the lady both and sent them on their way rejoicing and rejoicing.

"It would be both an endless and especially race to rank, even of our own time, respective merit proportion brought down upon him. There is a passage among Mr. Fields' notes over in which he describes an incident during Longfellow's last visit to England which should not be overlooked. Upon his arrival, the queen sent a graceful message and invited him to Windsor castle, where she received him with all the honors, but he told me his brightest tribute received this deserved from the words of an English and excellent man up on the carriage door at Windsor and asked to converse to that one friend of the man with the written the Words of the Night.

The Fall of Troy.

What brings us all to the end of [illegible] Is it fire, sword or war? An article was launched in board [illegible] speaking theater to its success depended [illegible] leave it to reader to guess what [illegible] cause of the Alexandrian conquest [illegible] the Sorrowful have it is not. There [illegible] this question asked. But there [illegible] heart of Alexandria overpowering [illegible] breast [illegible] feelings [illegible] poison that there was no room [illegible] Taylor [illegible] it is [illegible] such a library it was burned [illegible] time of [illegible] Cæsar. That conqueror's [illegible] universities, and there was a library [illegible] the foreigners [illegible] in number [illegible] cities, but no [illegible] four [illegible] of the opulent or [illegible] there is not [illegible] to [illegible] as if the change [illegible] upon the Arabs owned on [illegible] for [illegible] past expenditures [illegible] Alexandria [illegible] 5 shew on [illegible] of the [illegible] respect of [illegible] foundation, and [illegible] that [illegible] was a library, if not [illegible] by [illegible] time the papers might [illegible] suffered from decay [illegible] to [illegible] the [illegible] to [illegible] state and to [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] through [illegible] —New York Times.

A ROYAL CORNER.

How the Secret Is Kindly Provided With Invalid Royal Abettors.

An American attending a wedding reception to a great house in London congratulated bride and bridegroom and passed the usual compliments with the host and hostess.

There was a great throng of guests, and he could not linger at the entrance of the drawing room where there were many behind him anxious to offer their greetings.

Presenting a quick retreat to the right of the bride where a gentleman and a lady were standing apart from the other guests he went directly to it, apparently unwilling to a stop between two royal personages.

The American was not aware of the fact that he was face to face with one of the queen's daughters and had turned his back upon another member of the royal family. He stood quietly looking about, trying to use some expedient to his discovery when by accident bore a cook and took became uncomfortable consciousness that he was the cynosure of attention and that his position and action were causing uneasy glances in the direction of the party at whom he had turned his back. While the dawning knew was coming, the company of guests with one exception avoided the accident, and those who he and his two royal companions were displayed.

An expressionless to the bowing to perceived his mistake, and coming with in hearing distance mumbled to him. He left his two companions to exchange compliments of the season, crossing his back upon them as he left his way through the throng, while everybody stared at him. When he reached the spot where his acquaintance was waiting for him the stage whisper was breathed into his ear:

"You have been committing an royal treason. You are a privileged character because you are an American, but an Englishman performs at his peril upon a subject of a sovereign. Keep your staring eye out of the ground. Only royalty needs to keep a royal personage, yet they were unable to appreciate you.

The American might have been made that very American is a sovereign of [illegible] or right of any city of [illegible] passage, but it is well to [illegible] a great highness personally to an English drawing room, where social etiquette has a sweep of supreme authority to dimensions gracious.

The American was rebuked by friend for treating him from an entertaining [illegible] and then stood by him marched the remainder where royalty was [illegible] from too close contact with the world of wealth and fashion.

No guest approached the royal pair. Every greeting was by act of condescension to the host and hostess, and they remained on exhibit as the guests of the hour. The king had royal having their carriage announced. Everybody [illegible] not to approach them [illegible] ety, and there was a pause in the [illegible] of [illegible] they departed and [illegible] date for [illegible] of [illegible] and [illegible] was [illegible] —London Telegraph.

NEED FOR SLEEP.

The Most Important Consideration for Any Sufferer of Fatigue.

By far the most important [illegible] the [illegible] of [illegible] Sleeplessness [illegible] the most [illegible] heart, then legislation [illegible] a period of [illegible] off [illegible] could [illegible] of [illegible] Sleep [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

CHAPTER X

"Miss Rendon wants to see me?" said Captain Wynyard audibly, as Angela's maid delivered her message the next morning. "Are you quite sure that there is no mistake?"

"Quite sure, sir," replied Jane. "Miss Rendon told me to see you before you went out, and ask if she could see you."

A few minutes later Angela, in all the grace of her girlish beauty, entered the room. The Captain was a stranger to fear, but he winced before the reproachful eyes of his young guest.

"You want to see me, Angela?" he said, somewhat nervously.

"Yes," she replied, gravely. "I will not detain you long, Captain Wynyard, she began, in a clear, low voice, "but are my mother's husband, and I do not wish to say anything that is disagreeable, but I cannot endure to see my mother suffer as she does without doing something to help her."

"My dear Angela," he said, with just a trace of annoyance in his manner, "your interest in me is most charming. I am grateful to you. But do you not think it would be better that these little matters should be discussed between your mother and myself?"

"No, I do not," she replied, and her courage in speaking completed him to calling. "My mother is not strong, and she is so sensitive that what would not affect another woman is very pain to her. Do you know," she continued, her dignity, "that my mother is so changed as to be ill, so miserable that her very life is in danger?"

Could she be mistaken? There was a flash of light that shone in his eyes, a certain of relief that she noted in his face, a something that came quickly and went quickly, and was rather glimmer than gone? A pang went to her heart as she noticed it.

"You know," continued Angela, "why is so unpleasant for my mother to remain in Brighton; and I want to say that I have requested her to return with me to Rendon."

"Just as you will," he said, evidently. "There," remarked Angela, "my mother will not be made miserable. She will not have children on her bosom every hour of the day that which makes her most unhappy. I shall take her away."

It was well for her that she could not see the look of hatred which followed her. It was well that she could not read the evil thoughts of the man who had so coolly plotted against her mother's life.

Captain Wynyard tried to laugh at what had passed—to sneer at it, but the grave, noble face of the young girl rose before him; the clear, reproachful eyes would not leave him.

Shortly afterward he went to his wife's room, and said, loud enough for the maids to hear:

"Mrs. Lauro, Angela has persuaded you to return to Rendon. I am sorry that Brighton does not suit you."

Lady Lauro, quite as cleverly, saw more than had been intended by the respectful words of the Captain.

"I am sorry that I cannot run down with you, my dear," she continued, "but I have so many engagements, I cannot leave just at present."

What an remark fell from his wife. How changed she must have been to the fine, fine figure she had been, looking to and fro in the days of the wedding.

"Wedding, Lauro," he said, somewhat angry at this.

"Good-by," she returned, coldly.

"Have you anything to say to anybody about your daughter's great position as Queen but?" he asked.

"I have nothing to say," she replied.

He was surprised at the change which had come over the wife and had missed so much in her absence.

A short time after Wynyard and Angela left the Chateau for Rendon, and the Captain was left to his own devices.

He had not been left alone a minute before his confidential man came to the great drawing-room. There was a consultation between the two, and then the man left the room, and the Captain was left alone.

"Angela is a fool," the Captain said to himself. "Laura would never have dared but for her she would never have had the courage to oppose such a scheme. And he added his wife's fate among the rest with a hope that was to long unfulfilled.

CHAPTER XI

Captain Wynyard did not find it all smooth sailing at Rendon. Lady Rendon took it for granted that he was to be her companion by the first day he had witnessed the misery of his family in Paris without an effort to bind, while he remained idle at the seaside, gave orders to her servants to say that she was not at home when he called, and from this time she kept a strict watch on Wynyard. She saw the morning in the end of October the gates of Rendon opened to admit the man who was now practically its master.

"It did not write or telegraph to give that I was coming," he said in a pale, silent wife. "I thought my arrival would be a pleasant surprise for you."

"It is indeed a surprise," she responded, adding that she did not find it an agreeable one.

To this the Captain's reason must have been of a disagreeable. He had been treating Hellcreek to her before, and he was perfectly unreasonable. He had no opportunity of enjoying and sensation, nor was his favorite one out of misery was to speak light of the misery of the father who had been so unhappy. He never saw an opportunity of making the best of his position than at this time, the eyes was the great consolation under his misfortune.

"You are ill, Lauro," he said, somewhat kindly.

"I think so, indeed," he replied, impressively, and she knew well of whom he was thinking. "If he really is dying, I do not see how much sincere sorrow."

PARALYSIS, DIABETES AND DROPSY.

SOMETHING FROM SOUTH DAKOTA.

Stickney T. Symonds, of Tyndall, Bon Homme County, Gives His Experience and Advice to Others.

From the Journal, Detroit, Mich.

The following communication is from Tyndall, S. D., and was lately received by Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Tyndall, S. D., Sept. 10, 1895.

Dr. Williams' Med. Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

Gentlemen: I wish to state that in 1894 I began to suffer with diabetes, and for four years, or until 1898, was under the care of a physician, who declared I was cured. Early in 1898 I began to bloat to a great deal, my kidneys were feverish and did not do their work, urination was painful, my heart's action was impaired, and I had a general sense of suffocation and chronic constipation. My dreams were troubled and digestion belog so bad that I could eat but very little, and that I would often wake with my limbs numb, so that as though I were going to die. I was induced by a friend to call on my physician and was assisted to his bed, labor was impossible, and I published unto him, 1898, when I began to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. I had not used them for a few days before I began to get relief and after taking a few more boxed was cured, though as old as I am, I can truly say I am astonishing the use of the pills.

I also among my friends, for the good which Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have done me, and should my name any inquire, shall remain yours truly, (signed) Stickney T. Symonds.

Sworn and subscribed before me this 10th day of September, 1898. (Signed) Frank L. Crandall, Notary Public.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People contain in a condensed form, all the elements necessary to give new life and richness to the blood and restore shattered nerves. They are also a specific for troubles peculiar to females, such as suppression, irregularities, and all forms of weakness. They build up the blood and restore the glow of health to pale or sallow cheeks. In the case of men they effect a radical cure in all cases arising from mental worry, overwork or excesses of whatever nature. Pink Pills are sold by all dealers or may be had by mail from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50. Beware of imitations sold in bulk or by the dozen or hundred. They never benefit and always injure the purchaser.

QUIT WHEN EVEN.

How a Gentleman Squared His Last Account with the Waiter.

Customary law is peculiarly feminine [illegible] of many [illegible] the commercial men of the Lights. He does most [illegible] a while [illegible] to [illegible] unmarried by the [illegible] of the ordinary [illegible] regarding all [illegible]. The great point [illegible] prediction of theology or philosophy [illegible] of life, plenty of meals and short [illegible] theology has [illegible] of [illegible] and [illegible] and [illegible] Rolling. So around the fringe of civilized [illegible] the world [illegible] and [illegible] of [illegible] Gentle [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] poverty stark, disheartened and awful [illegible] [illegible] of [illegible] [illegible] and other less serious [illegible].

If any person wishes to [illegible] down [illegible] the [illegible] of those [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] of those [illegible] [illegible] of [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

We keep and sell the best line of Cooking and Heating Stoves in the market. Chace & Neely.

Carrol Notes.

The little daughter of B Baker is seriously ill.

Mrs. Geo. Bedford is at home from her Belden visit.

Wm. McBride still goes the rest of the winter to Red Oak, Ia.

The Field Bros. have gone to Omaha.

Clyde Conklin and brother returned from Cross County Sunday.

Dakota, the old man, was doing business here on Monday.

Considerable corn is being marketed at nice prices.

Arthur Baker is confined to his home with chicken pox.

The Peavey elevator Co. are still buying car corn; they claim it will not keep.

John Norrie came down from Pilgrim on Monday.

Mrs. M. E. Evans of Wayne visited Carroll friends last week.

Rev. Bagley and wife are at home from their visit in other parts of the state.

Messrs Hoglewood and Winterbure are selling farm implements for the M. W. A. and report twenty five applications last week.

Martin Wadsworth has gone back to Red Oak, Ia.

Ryan Jennings lost 20 head of hogs and D. M. Davis 18 in the late blizzard.

Some parties took exceptions to what we had to say about the Main street plow. No names were mentioned but it appeared to hit very closely.

Radley Manning will have charge of the district room in the schools this winter.

C. M. Andrews was at Sioux City Saturday.

W. Cunningham of Pearl, Ill. arrived Saturday and will make his home here.

Nellie Lorce will continue in our schools.

Alida Manning returned to Logan, Ia., last week. She is principal of schools there.

Mrs. L. Fowler west of town died a few days ago of pneumonia.

Wm. Repp and wife returned to Avoca, Ia., on Tuesday.

W. H. Darby and wife came in from Iowa last week. They have the best wishes of all.

Eli Hines of Iowa will work for Tom Sherry in the blacksmith shop.

Dan'l. W. A. Camp have elected G. G. Garwood, V. C.; J. R. Roach, Clerk; and M. S. Thomas, Advisor.

A girl baby was born to Ed Neare and wife on Tuesday.

D. M. Davis came home from Red Oak on Tuesday accompanied by a sleep who will visit friends here.

College Notes.

The new students enrolled last week are Messers Ells of Allen, Turner of Emerson, Leighe will of Randolph, Chandler of Bancroft, Anderson of Hartington, Davis of Homer, and Dexter of Wakonda, S. D.

Mr. McDonald returned from his home in Dixon Saturday and will again resume his studies.

The students of the vocal music department will give a recital at the college Saturday evening under the direction of Miss Nellie Stewart beginning at eight o'clock sharp. All are cordially invited to attend.

Miss Mae Catlin returned last week from Stanton where she has been visiting friends and relatives for the past three weeks.

The spring term opens Tuesday January 15. All wishing to enroll should do so Monday.

Remember Crescent literary program given next Friday night beginning at eight o'clock. All invited.

The social given after literary Friday was very good. One of the largest crowds of the season was in attendance.

The Crescents will give officers Friday night. All Crescents are requested to be present at business meeting.

James Alpoch, a former student, left Monday evening to take up his duties as principal of the Dixon schools for a term of nine months.

Miss Wheeler, the Penmanship teacher, left for Hot Springs, S. D. where she will teach in the public schools. Frank Doerner will take her place as teacher of penmanship.

Bismark and Wales.

Lord Augustus George H. Spaulding, a leading correspondent and man of letters, gents placed at the disposal of the London Home Journal. His commission was to write over a thick day on "The Personal Side of Bismarck," and "The Private Side of Prince of Wales." But Spaulding suddenly knew both sides and so that he could fully do justice to both subjects would have required considerable shorter. The first installment of which will be printed in the January issue of the Journal. The publishers promise will illustrate the articles.

Commissioners Proceedings.

Warren Kelcey, Jan. 4, 1887.

Owing to conditions of weather, no board of trustees will be found—commissioners being present.

Carroll, Neb., Jan. 5, 1887.

Present—Hon Hank Jeffery, chairman, and supervisors Granquist, Bressler, and Mellor.

Absent—S. H. Russell, Clerk.

Warren, Neb., Jan. 5, 1887.

This being the day fixed by law for the meeting of the county treasurer, the board met with the following members present: Hank Jeffery, A. M. Jackson and S. D. Bressler, chairman.

Mr. Jackson having been appointed board of equalization for the year 1886.

Absent—S. H. Russell, Clerk.

Warren, Neb., Jan. 6, 1887.

Board met pursuant to adjournment, present Hon. A. M. Jackson in the chair, Geo. Gildersleeve, commissioner elect and S. H. Russell, clerk.

No business having been completed board adjourned to meet at 9 o'clock a. m. Jan. 7, 1887.

Absent—S. H. Russell, Clerk.

Warren, Neb., Jan. 7, 1887.

Board met pursuant to adjournment, present Hon. A. M. Jackson in the chair and S. H. Russell, clerk.

No business having been completed board adjourned to meet at 9 o'clock a. m. Jan. 8, 1887.

Absent—S. H. Russell, Clerk.

Warren, Neb., Jan. 8, 1887.

Board met pursuant to adjournment, present Hon. A. M. Jackson in the chair and S. H. Russell, clerk.

The following bills were examined and allowed and orders drawn on the county treasurer therefor:

Warren Kelcey, jurors' services, 3 days ..... $ 6 00
Hank Jeffery, " " 3 " 6 00
Wm. Bressler, " " 3 " 6 00
Geo. Gildersleeve, " " 3 " 6 00
Wm. Granquist, " " 3 " 6 00
Wm. Mellor, " " 3 " 6 00
Total ..... $ 36 00

Board then adjourned to meet at 9 o'clock a. m. Jan. 10, 1887.

Absent—S. H. Russell, Clerk.

Warren, Neb., Jan. 10, 1887.

Board met pursuant to adjournment, present Hon. A. M. Jackson in the chair and S. H. Russell, clerk.

All members present.

On motion the following appointments were made:

Justices Bruce, Isaac overseer Dist. No. 1 and 2 ..... Wm. Granquist
Terry Johnson, " " 3 ..... Wm. Mellor

On motion the petitions of official bonds were approved.

J. M. Strahan	Road overseer	Dist. 1
J. W. Ayers	"	2
Jacob A. Winterbottom	"	3
John Mahler	"	4
Chas. Bressler	"	10
Chas. Hutchison	"	11
J. A. Bressler	"	12
Augustus Gamel	"	13
Peter Jahn	"	14
Fred Siedell	"	15
Henry Meyer	"	16
Jacob Davis	"	17
W. H. Barbour	"	18
Chas. Johnson	"	19
Wm. Mellor	"	20
Geo. Gildersleeve	"	21
Wm. Granquist	"	22
Jacob Hoffman	"	23
Peter Jahn	"	24
Wm. Strahan	"	25
Terry Johnson	"	26
Isaac Bruce	"	27
Wm. Granquist	"	28
Wm. Mellor	"	29
Chas. Bressler	"	30
Augustus Gamel	"	31
Peter Jahn	"	32
Fred Siedell	"	33
Henry Meyer	"	34
Jacob Davis	"	35
W. H. Barbour	"	36

The following official bonds were approved:

J. M. Strahan	Road overseer	Dist. No. 1
W. H. Barbour	"	36
Melvin Cain	"	34