WHAT HAPPENED?

In the afternoon, as he was sitting in his room, he heard a knock. He opened the door and saw a woman standing before him. She was dressed in a simple, plain dress, and she had a look of deep distress on her face. She said that she was the wife of a man who had been killed in a recent fire. She had come to the house to see if she could find any of her husband's belongings. She said that she had been told that the house was full of his things, but she had not been allowed to go in. She said that she was very poor and that she needed the things that she had seen. She said that she had been told that the things were in the attic, but she had not been allowed to go up there. She said that she was very desperate and that she was willing to do anything to get the things. She said that she was very poor and that she needed the things. She said that she had been told that the things were in the attic, but she had not been allowed to go up there. She said that she was very desperate and that she was willing to do anything to get the things.

THE SEARCH.

The man who had been told that the things were in the attic, went up there and found them. He found a large box filled with clothes and other things. He took them down and gave them to the woman. She was very grateful and said that she would never forget him. She said that she would give him a letter to let him know how she was. She said that she was very poor and that she needed the things. She said that she had been told that the things were in the attic, but she had not been allowed to go up there. She said that she was very desperate and that she was willing to do anything to get the things.

THE LETTER.

The woman wrote a letter to the man and told him how she was. She said that she was very poor and that she needed the things. She said that she had been told that the things were in the attic, but she had not been allowed to go up there. She said that she was very desperate and that she was willing to do anything to get the things. She said that she was very poor and that she needed the things. She said that she had been told that the things were in the attic, but she had not been allowed to go up there. She said that she was very desperate and that she was willing to do anything to get the things.

THE REPLY.

The man wrote a letter to the woman and told her how he was. He said that he was very poor and that he needed the things. He said that he had been told that the things were in the attic, but he had not been allowed to go up there. He said that he was very desperate and that he was willing to do anything to get the things. He said that he was very poor and that he needed the things. He said that he had been told that the things were in the attic, but he had not been allowed to go up there. He said that he was very desperate and that he was willing to do anything to get the things.

THE END.

The man and the woman lived happily ever after. They were very poor, but they were very happy. They had each other and that was all they needed. They were very poor and that they needed the things. They said that they had been told that the things were in the attic, but they had not been allowed to go up there. They said that they were very desperate and that they were willing to do anything to get the things.

HATS OFF!

Along the street, there comes a crowd of people. They are all looking at a man who is walking towards them. He is wearing a hat, but he is holding it in his hand. He is looking at the people with a look of surprise. He says, "Hats off!" and the people all take off their hats. He says, "Hats off!" and the people all take off their hats. He says, "Hats off!" and the people all take off their hats.

AN OPEN LETTER TO MOTHERS.

WE ARE ASKING IN THE COURTS OUR RIGHT TO THE EXCLUSIVE USE OF THE WORD "CASTORIA" AND "PITCHER'S CASTORIA" AS OUR TRADE MARK.

I, DR. DANIEL PITCHER of Hammond, Massachusetts, was the originator of "PITCHER'S CASTORIA," the name that has become and does now bear the famous signature of Dr. Daniel Pitcher on every bottle of the original "PITCHER'S CASTORIA," which has been used in the homes of the mothers of America for over thirty years. LOOK CAREFULLY at the wrapper and see that it is the kind you have always bought Dr. Daniel Pitcher on the wrapper and the signature of Dr. Daniel Pitcher on the wrapper. As one has authority from me to use my name except the Centaur Company of Witch Chase, B. Fletcher is President.

Do not endanger the life of your child by accepting a cheap substitute which might do you harm, because he makes a few more pennies on the ingredients at which even Dr. Daniel is so proud.
